Dear Mr. Mathews:

How kind of you to attend so promptly to my telegram asking for the copies of the Star for February and March. Your letter came this afternoon and on its heels came the papers. I have not had time to look them through to see whether you were able to find a full file or not, but it does not matter at all that it should be full, since it is so nearly so.

I want the papers to sharpen up certain impressions that I got of your part of the world while I was there last Spring, and which I would have sharpened on the spot had I not been ill so much of the time.

You did not send me a bill with the papers but I am enclosing my check for $5.00. I do not know whether this will cover the postage or not but I beg of you to let me know if it falls short.

Thank you for your wish that I return to Tucson next winter. Nothing would please be better, if it were possible, than to go down and just play awhile, but I am not sure at all about it. We poor writing people have to stick pretty closely at our desks you know; but I shall be down some of these days if I can manage it.

With hearty thanks for your kindness in the matter of the file and best wishes to you and to all on the Star, believe me

Very sincerely
