THE ALLEGHENY CAMPUS

Vol. LXXXVI, No. 12 ALLEGHENY COLLEGE, MEADVILLE, PA. Thursday, Jan. 17, 1963

Washington Bound . . .

Juniors Head for D.C. Semester

Three Allegheny juniors, Judy Traskos, Eleanor Veglia and Henry Mathis have been selected to participate in the Washington semester program this year. They will go to Washington, D.C. at the end of January to begin this program, which is affiliated with the American University there.

The basic program consists of several parts. There is the Washington Semester seminar, arranged by American University, in which groups of students meet with government officials. Each student also works on a project of individual research involving personal contact with people in the government, and requiring the writing of a sixty to seventy-five page paper. The student must also take nine hours of courses at American University.

In order to complete the requirements at Allegheny, since the Americans calendar overlaps two terms here, the student may complete a three-hour reading course during the month of January. He should also have taken twelve hours during the first term of the junior year. Dr. Paul Cares, chairman of the committee concerning the Washington Semester Program at Allegheny, cautions that this is an important point for anyone interested in the program. Without planning for a 12-hour first term it is often impossible for the student to complete the number of hours required for the year.

TWO OF THE JUNIORS selected for the Washington program are Judy Traskos (l.) and Elly Veglia (r), with Dr. Paul Cares, one of the originators of the program. Hank Mathis is already studying there.

According to Dr. Cares, this program should give the student an "increased knowledge of the operation of the American Government." In this way, the program can contribute to the individual and the College."

Allegheny students have taken part in this program since 1947 when it was first organized by the original six participating schools. At present there are 76 colleges from Maine to California involved in this program. Each school is allowed to send four students. Last year, Joan Piekema, Jan Seckler, Sandy Spence and Stefanie Ott represented Allegheny.

Panhellenic Rush Week Changed To Third Term

Panhellenic rush week for 1963 and all succeeding years will be at the beginning of the third term of the academic year, it was announced by Panhellenic Council President Sherry Westerland at a meeting with freshman women Saturday, January 12.

The announcement marks a change from the previous system of fall rush for sophomore women. Miss Westerland stated that the change will enable women to join sororities earlier than was previously possible, and therefore to enjoy sorority life for three full years as active members.

The idea of rush in the freshman year is not new, she emphasized. It has been considered several times in the past eight or ten years but was considered infeasible under the old semester system. The three term academic year inaugurated this year offers a natural opportunity for the plan to be put into action, she said. The proposal for the change was initiated early last fall and received unanimous approval by sorority members as well as by Panhellenic Council, the Deans of Students, and President Pelletier.

In accordance with the new program, Panhellenic round robins have been scheduled for January 20 and 27 and Febuary 17 and 24. In each of the two "sets" of round robins, half the freshman women will attend the first and the other half, the second. Rush week will begin Sunday. March 31, and continue through April 4 or 5, depending on Singers and Chapel Choir tours tentatively scheduled for that week.

Miss Westerland was officially installed as president of the Council on Wednesday. Other new officers are Ellen Taylor, vice president; Bette Mitchell, treasurer; Mary Jo Bell, recording secretary; and Gail Claffee, corresponding secretary. Retiring officers are Marianne Buus, Nancy Gill, Linda Jewett, Marg Turrill and Ellen Van Lenten. Initated as new members of the Council were Dale Beier, Twyla Holmstrom, Valerie Meliotes, Peggy Peters and Carol Woodside.

Distinguished Cadet

Cadet Lt. Col. Benjamin L. Harrison of Meadville has been named distinguished AFROTC cadet of the 1963 graduating class.

The designation as distinguished cadet is based upon attainment of excellent academic standards and demonstrated leadership potential.

John L. Fuller To Speak Tonight

Tonight Dr. John L. Fuller will present the Chester Darling lecture in Ford Memorial Chapel at 8:15. The topic will be "Heredity and Behavior in Animals and Man."

Dr. Fuller is presently a senior staff scientist and assistant director of training at Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, Bar Harbor, Maine. His research interests include physiology of plankton, genetics of psychology of behavior in dogs, association of audiogenic seizures and psychoprarmacology.

He received his B.S. from Bates College in 1931 and his Ph.D. from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1935. He has since held various positions at Sarah Lawrence College, Clark University, University of Maine and currently Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laborratory.

Also he has been the recipient of the Guggenheim fellowship in 1955-56, fellow of the Oceanographic Institute at Woods Hole in 1935 - 36, biologist for the State Fish and Game departments for New Hampshire and Maine.

The Chester A. Darling Lectureship was established in 1947 when a gift of $4,000 was given by friends and former students in commemoration of the retirement of Dr. Chester Arthur Darling. Dr. Darling, now living in Los Angeles, California, is Professor Emeritus of Biology and Geology, having served here from 1913 - 1947. He was Acting President from 1947 - 48.

North, Hampton Present Recital In Chapel Sunday

Mr. W. S. Wright North and Mrs. Marian Hampton will present a Song Recital in Ford Memorial Chapel Sunday afternoon. Accompanied at the piano by Robert B. Lynn, this threesome will be making its third annual appearance.

Mrs. Hampton will present a varied selection of contemporary songs by Paul Hindemith, Aaron Copland, and Francis Poulenc, and opera arias by Mozart and Verdi.

The Copland songs are setting of poems by Emily Dickenson: "The World Feels Dusty", and "I Felt a Funeral in My Brain". "Banalites" by Apollonaire comprise the Poulenc group, and Hindemith is represented by "Echo."

Mrs. Hampton's arias are "Pace,

Major Revisions Slated For New ASG Constitution

by Julie DeFrancois

Completion of the revised form of Allegheny's student government constitution is now near, and the revised form is expected to be presented to the executive council of ASG for approval within two to three weeks, according to Constitution Revision Committee Chairman Hank Drucker.

Major changes in the new form include the reorganization of the vice presidencies and a revised representation system. Still to be debated by the revision committee when it meets this week is the exact position of Associated Women Students in relationship to student government, according to Drucker.

Provisions for giving each vice-president one general function plus providing for the equal division of functions between the three vice-presidents, has resulted in the dissolution of the vice-president of national and international affairs and the creation of a vice-president in charge of communications. The new post entails automatic chairmanship of the communications board and the responsibility of the election committee. Both the educational affairs and the student affairs vice-presidencies have been left intact, but their major functions have been reorganized.

The vice-president in charge of educational affairs will be concerned with the academic committee, the assembly and public events committee, the foreign student committee, and the foreign ambassador program. The student affairs vice-president will be responsible for the fund drive, the traffic committee, the student activities committee and the student affairs committee. The most important addition to the student affairs vice-presidency is the appointment of the newly-created post of president of the college union. The president of the college union will be in charge of the coordination of all college affairs. The

AUC Approves Library Hours

At its meeting Tuesday the AUC approved a recommendation given by Betsy Donelson, chairman of the Academic committee, that library hours be extended to 5:45 p.m. and to 11 p.m. on weeknights, and from 6:30-11 p.m. on Sunday nights. Curt Fee, ASG president, will now notify President Pelletier and Mr. Benjamin of this recommendation by the student body.

In discussing the resolution, several members suggested that the ASG push at this time for an even further extension of hours. One possibility was to have the library open continuously from 8:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.; another was to have continuous hours near the end of the term and during exam periods when the library is needed most for research and study. It was decided that the initial extension could later be increased if necessary.

It was pointed out that there is a correlation between the report of the Housing committee on the insufficient study facilities in most dorms and the need for the library as a place of study. Although Quigley can be used at night, it is not available for study during the day.

No definite figures on library attendance at various hours were available.

Graduate Record Exams Given January 19

Graduate Record Examinations will be given Jan. 19. The departmentally required tests will be administered in Henderson Auditorium, Quigley and the individually-applied-for "National" tests will be given in the White Room of the CU, not in Alden as the tickets direct.

Students taking the aptitude tests in either program are to report at 8:30 a.m. Those taking advanced tests only will report at 1:15 p.m.

Lew Fisher "Campus" Editor

Lew Fisher, '63, was named Editor-in-Chief of The Allegheny Campus for the second term and part of the third term by the Undergraduate Council at their meeting Tuesday night. AUC acted on a recommendation from the Publications Board.

Fisher was formerly Associate Editor and had earlier been promoted to Editorial Assistant of The Campus after a brief term as News Editor. He succeeds Bill Townsend, '63, who resigned after a year's editorship.

He is currently serving as president of the Allegheny chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism society, is an Independent representative on the Undergraduate Council and a member of the Independent Council, and is a member of Publications Board. He has also been working on the ASG special committee investigating college housing.

An English major, Fisher plans to go into newspaper work after graduation. He won a Penn-Ohio Press award for The Campus in 1960 and received an award for reporting for a Rochester, N. Y., paper when in high school. He served as school reporter for Victor, N. Y., Central High for two years, and last summer was a reporter for a chain of suburban newspapers near Rochester.

Lew Fisher

Seven new appointments to positions on The Campus staff were announced today by Editor-in-Chief Lew Fisher.

They are:

Dotty Craig, feature editor. A sophomore history major and member of Alpha Gamma Delta, she has been on the news and copy staffs of The Campus since the beginning of her freshman year, and is also on the Script Dept. staff of WARC. She was an AWS senator last year. Miss Craig was editor of her school newspaper at Parkville High in Baltimore, Md., was active in scouting, and has been a camp counselor. She is the recipient of a National Merit Scholarship.

Andy Shapiro, sports editor. Currently serving as vice president of Phi Kappa Psi, Shapiro is a junior and an English major. He has been on the sports staff for the past year. He is a graduate of Scarsdale, N.Y., High, where he was president of his senior class, a student council member for six years, and a sports-writer for the school paper. He also lettered in baseball and basketball.

A Term For Decision

During the next several weeks, Allegheny students will make two decisions which will have a great impact upon all student bodies of the future.

Adoption of the compulsory honor program, which aroused much controversy when proposed two years ago and was not approved by a large enough majority last year, will obviously have much significance for future students.

As the honor program would affect the academic area of future student life, so the proposed ASG constitution would affect their social life, with many changes in student government structure.

Whatever the vote on either issue, the outcome will have great significance for Allegheny College, and all students must become well informed of the consequences of their decisions.

Top Jazz Band

The Ahmad Jahmal trio, one of the top jazz bands in the country, may perform on campus this term, according to Rich Weiner, chairman of the Student Activities Committee.

The success of the Lettermen concert last term allowed the Activities Committee to plan for this additional concert. The date and further information about the concert will be published later. Admission will be charged for this event.

Sorority Correction

The Campus wishes to appologize to Alpha Xi Delta for an error in last week's article concerning new sorority pledges. Sally Clark, Dawn Goodridge and Gwen Terhune were pledged to Alpha Xi Delta, not to Alpha Gamma Delta as reported.

Other new pledges who have accepted bids during the last week are Judy Biscan and Lynn Herrick to Alpha Chi Omega and Kaye Wynn to Kappa Alpha Theta.

ON CAMPUS... YESTERDAY

10 years ago: Feeling that General Dwight D. Eisenhower's nomination "may well be one of the happiest headlines of the new year," "The Campus without reservation gives its support to General Eisenhower . . . . as the next President of the United States of America."

25 years ago: "There has been discussion of Allegheny's need for a suitable auditorium where old-time melodramas might be shown."

40 years ago: Due to a ruling which prohibits dancing in college housing, the Junior Promenade, biggest social event of the year, is held at the Armory downtown.

Five Alleghenians In Peace Corps

Five Allegheny graduates are now members of the Peace Corps, which is described in a special four-page supplement in this issue.

They are, with addresses:

Miss June G. Bedell '61, an American Studies major- c/o American Embassy, Tunis, Tunisia. (General style for all letters addressed to a Peace Corps member would be: Miss June Bedell, Peace Corps Volunteer, c/o Peace Corps Representative, c/o American Embassy, Tunis, Tunisia.)

Ralph R. Cole '09, an engineering major and at 76 the oldest member of the Peace Corps — c/o American Consulate, Lahore, West Pakistan.

Miss Evelyn A. Vough '61, an English major — c/o American Embassy, Monrovia, Liberia.

Miss Kristin L. Westfall '61, a geology major — c/o American Embassy, Yaounde, Cameroon.

Matthew P. Wright '59, also a geology major — c/o American Embassy, Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika.

Allegheny students interested in applying for Peace Corps membership may take a placement test Jan. 26 in Room 209 of the Post Office building downtown. Further information is available there.

Newman Club To Hear Lecture On Catholic Mass

Delivering the first lecture of this term's Newman Club lecture series will be Fr. George L. Groucutt, Vicar Assistant at St. Agatha's church, on Tuesday evening. Fr. Groucutt, who is known to many students at Allegheny, will speak on the Catholic Mass, using color slides to illustrate his talk. The Newman Club hopes that both Catholic and non-Catholic students and faculty members who are interested in understanding "this, the most important service in the Catholic Church," will attend.

The talk will be given at 8:15 p.m.; the place will be announced. Refreshments will be served at an informal discussion following the talk.

Sno-Ball Set Jan. 26

The music of Walt Harper and his modern Jazz orchestra will highlight The Sno Ball, a formal dance in Brooks Hall on January 26 from 9 p.m. to 12:30.

The event is sponsored by ASG student activities committee. Refreshments will be served and one o'clock permissions will be granted for the evening.

NORTH, HAMPTON

Pace Mio Dio" from Verdi's "La Forza del Destino" and "Ach, Ich Fuhl's" from "Die Zauberflote" by Mozart.

Mr. North will sing two extended works, Bach's Cantata for bass solo: "Ich Habe Genug", which is based on the "Nunc Dimittis"; and Schumann's song cycle to poems by Heine, "Dichterliebe", or "Poet's Love".

Added enticements include English translations provided for those who find this sort of thing helpful; and according to an an nouncement received by "The Campus," those who are tone-deaf will be helped by the discovery that Mrs. Hampton was Miss Illinois in 1955.

The repeat performance of both of Mr. North's selections later in the spring has been purposely arranged on the theory that unfamiliar music is made meaningful and enjoyable through repeated hearing.

Second Term Finds ASG Committees Reviewing Successes, Planning More

To get a perspective on the accomplishments of ASG during the first term, the AUC representatives summed up the committee's activities before the Tuesday AUC meeting, and reported Tuesday night.

The Fund Drive Committee is sponsoring the penny drive—a new idea this year to eliminate the personal solicitation method which has not been successful in the past. A carnival is planned for the middle of next term when equipment from Conneaut will be used to help make an even better show. The committee is hoping for an extra day free of classes to hold the carnival.

The Cultural Committee and Foreign Students Committee have been working together and are planning more off-campus trips such as the ones to the Karamu House and the Bolshoi Ballet in Cleveland. The cultural films series was reported popular so far.

The National and International Affairs Committee members have written articles in The Campus on various topics of current interest. Discussion in AUC indicated that these articles, purposely one-sided to stimulate student interest and response, were worthwhile and should be continued, it was felt.

The Elections Committee, in addition to conducting the elections this term, will present dining hall speeches and articles by the vice-presidents to familiarize the students more thoroughly with the functions of ASG.

The Publications Board has been writing by-laws in connection with the proposed new constitution and working closely with publication problems.

The Traffic Committee reported a decrease in revenue — there have been fewer infractions of the rules since the new registration system has been effected. Registration fees have been reduced to $5 for the first term, $4 for the second, and $3 for the third term. The committee has worked to get the new parking lot built and plans a new system of registering cars through the dean's office. New stop signs will be put up when the weather clears.

Allegheny will appear on College Bowl on April 3 and final tryouts will be held in two weeks. Movies were taken by Meadville photographers Tuesday morning for the show. The Academic Committee is investigating the faculty advisor system and moving to extend Quigley study hours. Its resolution on extending library hours was passed at the ASG meeting.

In addition to its normal number of ASG dances, the Activities Committee has coordinated the over-all planning for Thanksgiving festivities. Its highly successful Lettermen concert almost met its costs and allowed for an extra concert to be scheduled for the second term.

CAMPUS STAFF

Bill Burkhart, photography editor. Also a junior and an English major, Burkhart is a member of the staff of the Literary Magazine, an advanced ROTC cadet and a pledge of Arnold Air Society, a member of the Independent Council, a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary, and has acted in Playshop productions. Editor of his school paper at Ridgewood, N.J., High, Burkhart was also president of the school photography club. He has worked with Jerry Cooke, well-known photographer for Life, Time, and Sports Illustrated, with Jack Glenn, a noted commercial motion picture director and has had his work featured in an issue of Better Homes and Gardens.

Barb Bunn, secretary. A junior history major and member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, she is a member of the Angel Flight and a representative on the Undergraduate Council, presently serving as secretary of the special committee investigating college housing. She is a graduate of Jamesville-DeWitt High, near Syracuse, N.Y., where she was secretary of the Student Council, her class, and several other organizations.

Carolyn Mayo, assistant copy editor. A chemistry major, she is a sophomore, a member of Cwens, and an AWS senator. She was a member of The Campus copy staff last year. She was editor of her high school paper at Ravena, N.Y., near Albany, was a member of the yearbook staff, and held various club offices.

Annette Gilliland, assistant make-up editor. An art major, she is a junior and social chairman of Alpha Xi Delta. She has been a member of the make-up staff for the past year, is a member of the ASG activities committee, and has sung in Chapel Choir. She was art editor of her yearbook at Amherst High in Snyder, N.Y.

Buck Smith, advertising manager. Now serving as president of the sophomore class, Smith was treasurer of his freshman class and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He was on the advertising staff of his yearbook at Bay Village, Ohio, High School, where he was also a member of the Class Council and won a varsity letter in football. He has spent summers working as a salesman.

ASG CONSTITUTION

post is divorced from that of the director of the college union.

The constitution committee has also created a finance committee whose chairman will assist the treasurer of ASG in the supervision of the expenditures of various ASG committees. At the beginning of each academic year both the treasurer and the chairman of the finance committee will recommend the amount of money to be appropriated to each club and committee.

The basis for the revised representation system will be that of one representative for every 70 students. This system, therefore, provides for seven fraternity representatives, five sorority representatives, five independent representatives, five freshman representatives, and a representative from AWS. In addition to abolishing the two representatives from each upper class, the system has dropped the representation of the president of the Panhellenic Council in ASG. Previously the representation system had included one representative from each fraternity, one from each sorority, five independents, three freshmen, two from each other class, the President of AWS, the President of IFC and the President of Panhell.

The constitution revision committee, in addition to Drucker, includes Dave Graham, Mike Staren, Jan Seckler, Stefanie Ott, Sandy Spence and Joan Piekema. It has met seven times since the beginning of the 1962-63 college year. Each committee member was assigned a specific area of the constitution to investigate. The basis for their revisions lies in the 30 to 40 student government constitutions provided through the National Student Association, the executive council of ASG and the various committees of ASG.

Sixteen Dancers Join 1963 Orchesis Group

The new 1963 Orchesis group was chosen by Miss Thompson, advisor to the group, and the officers: president, Anne Wait; vice-president, Diane Shafer; secretary-treasurer, Joby Corl.

Members from previous years, Ann Fowler, Betsy Burr and Karen Kuchta are joined by thirteen new dancers: Sue Samuels, Jo-Ann Johnson, Madge Ewing, Betsy Miller, Pat Dearborn, Jan Allgeier, Diana McKeon, Paula James, Meg Gleuck, Vi Lui, Trudi Miller, Retha Heigele and Bob Warbin.

Newly-Equipped Lab To Open For Photo Fans

All students interested in working in a newly-equipped photography darkroom in the CU are asked to sign up on sheets that will be posted today, or call Roy Patterson at 5-5406. Experience is not necessary. The lab will be opened by the end of February.

Thirteen Degrees Given Last Term

Thirteen seniors graduated this December, eleven with a Bachelor of Arts and two with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Those completing the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts were: Jean Welch Barry, Judith Ann Berges, Katherine Graham Bird, Jean Ann Clarance, Mary Carolyn Cubbon, Carol Miller Gould, Marilyn Boyd Hiwiller, Judy Lee Keck, Kirkwood Spencer Platt, Donald Clair Smith, Jr. and Priscilla Kerr Stewart.

Paul Rice Boyer and Loren Edwin Exley completed the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Science.

Rosenberg Will Lecture

Dr. Seymour J. Rosenberg, Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at Georgetown University Medical School, will speak in Ford Chapel next Thursday, at 8:15 p.m. on the subject "Why We Behave as Human Beings — a Psychoanalyst's Point of View."

ARC Head Appointed

Dave Query will head the announcing department of Radio Allegheny, it was learned today from Jocelyn Jordan, Director of Personnel for the station. Query succeeds Jack Bittner in the position.

The duties of the position involve responsibility for all people heard on WARC, as well as screening applicants for announcing positions, and serving in an advisory capacity to the "voices" of the station.

Honor Committee Cites Growth, Functions, Aims

This article is the second of a series by the Honor Committee preceding the student referendum which will decide the fate of the student body's own Honor Program. It describes the forms which the Program and the Honor Committee have taken within the spirit of the Honor Code.

When Allegheny's student leaders of 1960 had finished their talks about an academic Honor Program, they were certain that such a Program would be desirable, but they were uncertain as to the best methods of achieving this goal. The development of an interim voluntary Program and its later conversion to a Universal system were left to the judgements of the successive Honor Committees. The guidelines for development contained in the Honor Code were intentionally general so as to permit planning which was realistic in the light of experience.

During the past three years the Honor Committee's administration of the Program has evolved into three chief functions. First is the attempt to make the Honor Code an integral part of Allegheny's academic atmosphere. In light of the difficulties facing any innovation, the success has been amazing. Whereas over two-thirds of 1960's student body was wary of the innovation, almost three-fourths of the present student body has elected to be part of the Program. There is every evidence that an Honor Program has become a desired part of Allegheny's academic life.

The second function, that of providing Honor conditions for examinations, has been doomed by the limits inherent in a partial Program. Seventy-five per cent of this academic community wants the freedom of Honors examinations, and this large majority is being completely cheated.

The Honor Program may exist as a spirit and a desire for academic responsibility, but there simply is no Honor Program in practice. The Honor Committee has provided Honor conditions "wherever possible"; but this "wherever possible" is so limited by physical facilities that a partial Program cannot even be totally successful during final examinations. It is this discrepancy between the desires of the student body and the actually existent conditions which most clearly illustrates the need for further progress. The Honor committee wishes to administer a satisfactory Program, but to be satisfactory it must be Universal.

The third function is too little-understood by the college community, although it is the only one of the three which will be unchanged in a Universal system. This is the investigation of an alleged case of cheating.

The all-important point is that the Honor Committee investigates reports, but it never decides innocence or guilt, and it never decides the sentence imposed in the latter case. The Committee protects Program members against accusations; but, when it finds an accusation to be substantial, it asks College Court to conduct the hearings. The Committee furnishes whatever evidence it has to the Court, but, in all cases,the Court is solely responsible for the decision.

The Honor Committee has done what it can to achieve the goals of an academic Honor Program as outlined in the Code. The student body has done a great deal to indicate that it wishes to work under Honor conditions. Final success, however, is dependent upon the adoption of a Universal Program.

Counseling Applications Available for Qualified

Applications for those upperclassmen interested in becoming Student Counselors for next year are now available and may be picked up at the Counseling Center. They are to be returned by Febuary 11.

The qualifications desired of applicants are generally: sincerity, scholarship, loyalty, discretion and ability in handling person-to-person relationships.

John Bugbee, head of student counselors urges that, "In applying, each man is asked to remember that as he thinks about assuming the position of a Student Counselor, certain demands and responsibilities are presupposed. The duties are carried out, as much as possible, within the main purpose of the group, which states that the Student Counselor shall act to further the welfare of the Freshmen in all his work with and concerning them. The purpose is a high one and requires of the Student Counselor an attitude of responsibility."

It is hoped that those qualified and willing to serve will continue such a service in the coming year, stated Bugbee.

W&J and Bethany No Help Next Week For Losing Gators

"The two toughest games of the year for the Gator hoopsters are coming up this weekend." These were the words of Allegheny basketball coach, Robert Garbark.

Both Bethany and Washington and Jefferson, Allegheny's opponents Friday, Jan. 18, and Saturday, Jan. 19, are undefeated in the Presidents Athletic Conference. Both teams are loaded with returning lettermen, and each team has returning members of the PAC All-Conference Team.

Bethany was last year's PAC champion, and they have all but one man returning from last year's championship team. Harrison, standing in at 6-4, is the big man on the team. He was leading scorer and rebounder in the Conference last year, and he was the unanimous choice on the PAC All-Conference Team. To go along with Harrison, Bethany has Cipula, small sophomore who was on the All-Conference second team his freshman year.

According to coach Garbark, "W and J has the best balance of any team in the Conference."

They, like Bethany, have their whole team returning this year. To supplement this Cooper, a big man at about 6-5, who was ineligible during the second semester last year, is returning to the squad. Dziak, measuring 6-2 is W&J's pick on the All-Conference team. He was second string All-Conference last year.

Bethany and Washington and Jefferson are well balanced and "star - studded" ball clubs who haven't been beaten in the Conference. Allegheny will be playing both teams on their home courts. Bethany, who just edged out Allegheny on our home court will be hungry for victory and W&J will be looking to keep their Conference record unblemished.

Campus Clashes

With the addition of 122 freshmen rooters, the fraternities resumed the Intramural race with the conclusion of the volleyball tournament begun last December. Phi Kappa Psi took first place points by capping an undefeated season with victories over second place Phi Gamma Delta and third place Delta Tau Delta.

The opening of the basketball season this evening gets the Winter Sports program into full swing. The Fijis open their defense of the tournament against the Delts while Theta Chi battles Alpha Chi Rho.

Upcoming events in bowling, handball, ping pong, badminton and swimming will keep intramural participants busy throughout the second term.

The point standings are as follows.

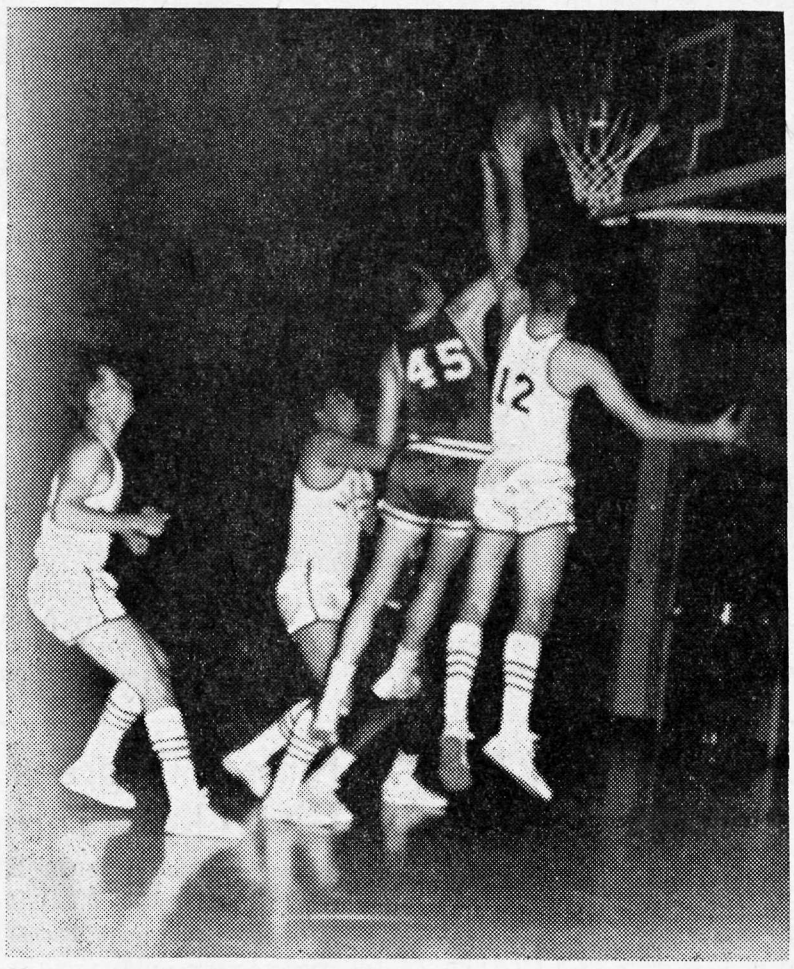

Phi Kappa Psi	122
Phi Gamma Delta	105.5
Delta Tau Delta	87
Theta Chi	82.5
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	75.5
Phi Delta Theta	72.5
Independents	72
Alpha Chi Rho	61

Tartars Trounce Gator Five

The Allegheny basketball team on Saturday evening, January 12, was soundly defeated 64-55 by an unimpressive quintet from Wayne State University. Unable to score during the first four minutes of the contest, the Gators finally penetrated the basket on a field goal by Jim Marquis. But this was not enough to spark a comeback and the team was never within range to challenge the Tartars.

Although Allegheny's point production was more than doubled in the second half, the Tartars riddled the Gator defense to stay in command of the game.

Coach Robert Garback cleared his bench in an attempt to find an effective combination to quell the Tartar surge but his efforts were to no avail. Only freshman Dick Alfred displayed a sign of merit as he bucketed a quick seven points in the final minutes of the game. Kachelriess led all scorers with 23 points.

Tartar height too much for Gators.

WRESTLING

Grapplers Toppled

The Gator wrestling squad evened their record at 1-1 when they were defeated Saturday afternoon by Grove City. With the score tied 9-9 and two matches remaining, the Grovers registered a pin, putting them out of reach of the Gator Grapplers.

The Grove City pin was the only one of the match. However, Denny Andrews, Eben Jones, John Bernhard and Gil Gray all collected decisions to keep the Gators in the contest.

Allegheny's first home match is against Thiel on January 16. This will be the first chance for students to see the 1963 squad.

SWIMMING

Mermen Victorious
Swimmers Sink Reserve

The Gator Mermen used seven firsts and five seconds to soundly trounce the swimmers from Western Reserve by a score of 53-31.

Eric Reimann, Ron Harris, Dave Ludwick, Pete Holt, Jim Beatman, and Skip Shaffer all walked away with individual honors in at least one of the events. Bob Schultz, Shaffer, Beatman, and Bob Wilson composed the 400 yard medley relay which was the other first compiled by the Gator tankers.

In the 200 yard freestyle event Harris took top honors in 2:11.8 with Reimann close behind in second. Holt won the 160 yard individual medley with Bob Sook right behind him in second. Holt's winning time was 1:58.0.

In the 200 yard butterfly event Beatman was the only Allegheny swimmer to place. He won the event with a time of 2:44.3.

Schultz and Ray Lewis of Allegheny finished first and second respectively in the 200 yard backstroke. Schultz's winning time was 2:42.0

Reimann's first place finish came in the 500 yard freestyle event. He negotiated the grueling race in the pace-setting time of 6:50.5

In the 200 yard breaststroke race Shaffer turned in his victory for the day with a time of 2:36.4.

Allegheny's next swimming meet is on Saturday, January 19, with Carnegie Tech in the Gators' home lanes.

Phi Psi's Give to ARC

Phi Kappa Psi fraternity has joined the growing list of donors helping to put Radio Allegheny "on the air." Bill Dolde, President of Phi Kappa Psi, today gave WARC chairman Norm Greene a check for $100. The money has been earmarked by the fraternity for the purchase of records to add to the station's library.

This check is the fifth gift received from campus social groups, and is in keeping with ASG President Curt Fee's expressed desire that campus organizations actively support WARC.

Lifeless Gators Easily Beaten By Techmen

An uninspired Allegheny basketball team was outshot and outfought 78-47 by Carnegie Tech at the Field House Tuesday evening.

The quintet from Pittsburgh rolled up a quick 8-0 lead before Jim Sample put the Gators on the scoreboard with a jump shot from the corner. But an outbreak of sloppy ball handling by Allegheny aided the sharpshooting Techmen in rolling up a substantial lead, and the first half ended with the Gators behind 39-23.

The second half began ominously for Allegheny as the opening tap was turned into a well executed Tech basket. For the remainder of the contest, the Gators could not cope with the aggressiveness and cool ball handling of the Techmen.

Team statistics showed Carnegie Tech hitting on 32 of 66 field goal attempts, while Allegheny was 16 for 53 from the floor. In the all-important rebound total, the Gators were out-hustled 39-22 by Tech. Weak fundamentals cost Allegheny as they handed over the ball 16 times.

High scoring honors went to Tech's Joe Laird, who bucketed 17 points. Hank Kachelriess was top man for Allegheny with 15 points, followed by Larry Katz with 14 and Jim Sample with 11.

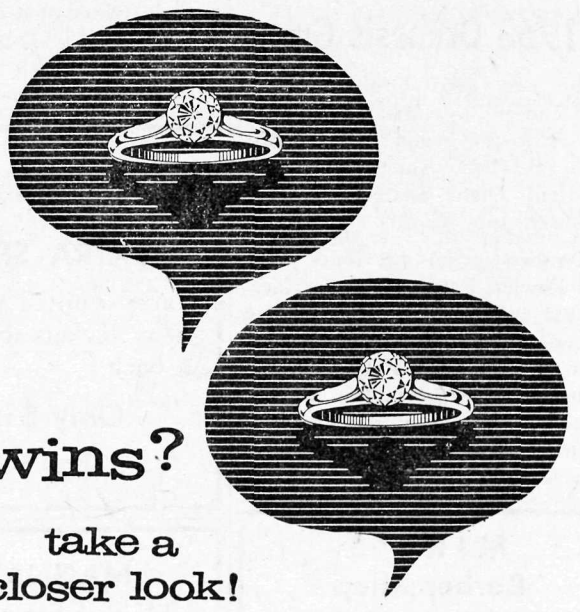

Freshman Sample played a fine game for the Gators. Along with his point total, the 6 feet 3 inch center grabbed five rebounds and stole the ball several times for the Gator cause.

The Allegheny defeat makes them 1-3 for the season as they prepare to embark tomorrow on their two difficult PAC games at Bethany and W and J.
