FIGHTING ALLIGATORS DOWN STIFF WESTMINSTER TEAM, 7-6

Allegheny Reverses Score of Last Year's Encounter; First Year Men Show Up Well.

Playing a consistent, fighting game all the way, Allegheny 'Gators handed the Westminster Titans a 7-6 defeat last Saturday, October 11, at New Wilmington, Pa. Rated as the underdogs by critics, Allegheny proved to the spectators that they were rightly entitled to the victory. The game was not marked by any brilliant playing or long runs, but merely two teams that fought with every thing they had in order to earn the victory.

If Allegheny could have had that extra "punch" the score would probably have been much more, as the Alligators had numerous chances to score, but failed to take advantage of them. On different occasions, one within five minutes of the opening of the game, Allegheny had the ball within striking distance, but couldn't quite put it over for the touchdown.

As for stars on either team, it would be an injustice to the other players to name some and slight others. However, as one could expect, Garbark turned in his usual stellar game, and the two charging backs, Varano and Balsar, along with Anderson and his punts were big features. On the line Tuffy McManus, Boylan, Francis, and Waite carried the brunt of the work, their fine playing breaking up many runs for the opposition. Although Allegheny scored their lone touchdown on a pass, their passing attack was not working as well as it should. Time after time Allegheny failed to complete passes and as penalty lost quite a few yards. The Titan touchdown came as a result of a steady march down the field. They were not to be stopped as they hammered away at Allegheny's line, and ran the ends. It was the one bright spot in the afternoon for Westminster and they seemed to realize it and act accordingly. Fighting, smashing their way through the Allegheny defense it was just a matter of time until they scored. Their try for the extra point through the center of the line failed by only inches, and due to Anderson's beautiful kick for Allegheny, the score was 7-6. Allegheny seemed to wake up a bit after this attack, and from then on held them to the end of the game.

McManus kicked off for Allegheny, the ball going to the 5 yard line where Michaels took it and ran it back to his own 22 yard line. At this point Allegheny had its first chance to score. Westminster was off side on the first play, and on the second fumbled, with Brown recovering for the Alligators on Westminster's 20 yard line. Garbark made a yard and 3 yards off tackle in two plays with Varano picking up 2. Garbark was thrown for a loss and Allegheny had failed to score. Hamas picked up a few yards, Shaffer getting one through the line for a first down. On the next three plays Westminster was held for no gain and Michaels then punted to Allegheny's 30 where Morse ran it back to his own 37. Allegheny was penalized 15 yards for holding. Anderson punted right away to Westminster's 39. After a line plunge for 2 yards, Westminster fumbled and it was recovered by Boylan on the 41 yard line. A pass failed, but Varano picked up nine yards, and a pass for six yards was good for Allegheny's first down. Allegheny lost the ball on downs after incompleting a couple of passes, and the Westminster backs picked up 4 yards on two plays and the Titans were held for no gain on the third down. They punted to Allegheny's 30, and were penalized 15 yards for unecessary roughness. Garbark made a first down, and Westminster was penalized 15 yards again for the same thing as the preceding play. No gain for the first play, but a pass completed put the ball on

DR. CURRY ADDRESSES STUDENTS ON FRIDAY

NOTED THEOLOGIAN SPEAKS ON "THE INHERITED SYSTEMS"

"My confidence in college students is based on the minority who dare to sit down in cold blood and have an idea, who devote themselves to mankind and God," declared Dr. A. Bruce Curry of the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, addressing the students at the chapel exercises Friday, Oct. 10th.

Speaking in clear, crisp tones, Professor Curry presented frank, rapid-fire views on the subject of "The Inherited Systems". The clear-cut personality and the ability of the speaker to accurately express his ideas impressed members of the student body.

Life is the primary interest of college students, the speaker said. The inherited systems — home, church, state, business organizations, and social organizations are of interest only as they bear on life. Loyalty to these inherited systems should not be a blind devotion based on foolish sentiments, but rather a willingness to take an unbiased view, see the flaws, and take the steps needed, the speaker pointed out.

For a person to make the world a better place than he found it, Professor Curry recommended foresight, the facts of a college education, and work, coupled with the idealism of Christ.

Social improvement programs which overlook the idealism of Christ are about as foolish as a study of electric light which overlooks the contributions of Edison. Edison was an expert in electricity, and Christ was an expert in human ethics, it was stated.

Professor Curry referred sarcastically to the "bovine" level as the aim of many college students. The "bovine" level, an allegory on human wishes, is the desire of a cow for enough green grass and pasture, a dry barn at night, a barnyard lot to kick up its heels in, and the chance to chew the cud and raise a few calves.

HOMECOMING CELEBRATION ON NOVEMBER 1 TO BE ELABORATE

Plans Are Completed for Entertainment Throughout the Entire Day; Play is Added Feature.

Arrangements for an interesting program have already been completed for Home-Coming Day on November 1. Although the football game between Allegheny and Grove City will occupy the spot-light of the day, many other diversions will serve to keep the Alumni who return well occupied.

A reception program is scheduled in the morning at Arter Hall followed by a cafeteria luncheon in Cochran Hall at noon. The football game will be played in the afternoon, after which the fraternity alumni dinners will take place. In the evening the annual Home-Coming dance will be in full swing.

The program for Home-Coming Day is as follows:

11:00 A. M. A reception program is to take place in the Student Playshop in Arter Hall. The program consists of several selections: the Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Luvaas, will sing a group of College songs; the Honorable Frank P. Miller, class of '97, is to extend greetings to the Alumni members in a short message; in the Student Playshop will be presented Lord Dunsany's "A Night in an Inn". The cast of the play, ably coached by Miss Alice Huntington Spalding, director of college dramatics, have been striving hard to produce a presentation which will do credit to such an important occasion. Although no admission will be charged, tickets will be issued for this performance. Upon request, they will be mailed from the Alumni Office of the College or may be called for at that place.

12:15 P. M. A cafeteria luncheon is to be served promptly at this hour in the dining room of Cochran Hall. No charge will be made for the luncheon. An informal reception committee consisting of many Meadville and faculty alumni will be on hand to greet their old friends.

2:30 P. M. The football contest between Allegheny and Grove City will commence. The outlook on this game, as yet, is rather dubious, but the "Gators" are expected to give the old foes a pleasant surprise. So far Allegheny has appeared in wonderful form and has tucked away two hard-fought battles. Since Grove City has won three victories already, the Alumni can look forward anxiously to a thrilling game played by a well-organized and fighting crew which will surely remind them of "the good old days." The general admission for the game will be $1.50. As in former years, a section will be reserved for the Alumni. Those of Allegheny's former students who desire tickets in advance of the game may write to the Alumni Office for reservations. This game is to be broadcasted play by play by remote control through Allegheny's studio of station WLBW, Oil City.

6:00 P. M. At this time, the various fraternities are to hold home-coming banquets for the alumni. Each fraternity will be in charge of its own program.

8:45 P. M. The Home-Coming dance for Alumni and undergraduate students will be held. The admission will be $1.50 per couple. Kress' Olympians will furnish the music. A good time is assured everybody who attends this annual social event.

All Alumni are urged to attend this annual Home-Coming Day celebration. On October 17, cards will be mailed to all Alumni announcing the program and requesting that the cards be returned promptly with events they expect to attend checked. Alumni should attempt to remind all their Allegheny friends o fthe event, and urge them to attend the greatest of all Alumni Home-Coming Celebrations.

Committee Making Plans for Inter-Fraternity Dance

Although the date, place, and plan of the Inter-Fraternity Dance has not been definitely decided upon, it is generally understood that the committee, consisting of the social chairman from each fraternity, has attractive plans for the best dance of the year, the feature of which is to be the fact that it will be held in one place and that a large orchestra of a good reputation, such as Tal Henry's of Cleveland, will be brought to Meadville.

This type of dance has a distinct advantage over the previous idea of having a migratory dance, for, in regard to the latter, plans were not satisfactory to all. Now, however, the committee has worked out a plan which will give everyone a chance to enjoy an evening of the best entertainment at a small admission price. Since the dance is to be sponsored by the fraternities, its success is thought to be assured.

A NEW FRENCH CLASSIC EDITED BY DR. CHURCH

Dr. H. W. Church, professor of Romance Languages, has recently edited another of the novels of Romain Roland, "Antoinette" from the author's famous work, "Jean Christophe". This new edition of Romain Roland's was inspired by the exceptional success of "L'Aube", issued two years ago by the same publishers, Henry Holt & Company. After the first draft of the new edition Dr. Church submitted the work to the author who gave it his highest praise. The publishing of "Antoinette" marks the occasion of Dr. Church's seventh success in this field since his coming to Allegheny.

A REMINDER

The Editor of the Kaldron, John Gregory, wishes to remind the members of Beta Upsilon, Beta Kappa, Alpha Xi Delta, and Delta Alpha Theta fraternities that they are scheduled for sittings at Wetherby's studio this week, and urges those members to attend to this matter promptly. For the week of October 20, the members of Alpha Chi Rho, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Upsilon, and Alpha Gamma Delta are scheduled to arrange sittings. Please be prompt.

BOOKS AND PAINTING OF ALLEGHENIAN DISPLAYED

MISS EVELYN WATSON GIVES SEVERAL OF HER BOOKS TO QUILL CLUB

An oil painting of Evelyn M. Watson, poetess-author, and former Allegheny student, is in the showcase at the library this week along with a display of some of her books given by her to the Quill Club. The painting is by a friend. Milioncion, by name. The artist himself described the painting as a delicate representation of "A Poet."

Miss Watson was born in 1886 at Eden, New York. She graduated from Eden High School in 1904 and entered Allegheny College in 1906. Her sophomore year she was elected to membership in the Quill Club. However, Miss Watson left Allegheny after her third year and became a teacher of commercial typewriting. Due to her typing ability she was able to continue with her writing after she became blind a few years ago. At present her home is at Buffalo, New York.

The writings of Miss Watson have been accepted by editors of most of the magazines that print poetry, and her friends and those who appreciate her work comprise many of the well known literary names of the day. The following are a list of books of poetry written by Miss Watson, copies of which are now possessed by the Quill Club:

"Divine Fire," 1922.
"Kingdom Beautiful," 1923.
"Niagara" (verse), 1923.
"Flames of Stars," 1924.
"Inner Radiance," 1926.
"Lifted Torches," 1927.
"Flame Wings," 1927.
"Candle Gold," 1928.
"Happy Heart Songs," 1928.
"Book of Rainbows," 1929.
"Poems of Niagara Frontier," 1929.

Lee F. Heacock, editor of "Arts Journal," commented upon Miss Watson's poetry, saying, "Miss Watson's poetry has long been likened to that of Emily Dickinson, the New England mystic, who because of love is said to have separated herself from contact with the outer world".

The short poem below is an example of her whimsical touch and unusual comparisons:

The Moon

"The moon is a Cheshire motif, please
It's sometimes cat, sometimes cheese
(Oh round, pressed curds, or something like that
Or does it resemble a round, white cat?

Student Senate to Furnish Money For Athletic Trophies

It is announced by Mr. Way, in charge of Intramural Athletics, that the Student Senate has offered to furnish the trophies for all event competitions. The money is to come from the proceeds of All-College dances.

Various means of disposing of the money were discussed by the Senate, and this was the one which was chosen as the most feasible means of reaching the most students. The appropriations for the first year of the Intramural Program is barely sufficient to cover the equipment, and will be used exclusively for that. The money derived from the dances will not be spent for equipment, but for trophies, thus putting the money back where it came from—the student.

Member of Faculty Speaks to Students At Monday's Chapel

At the chapel service on Monday, October 13, Dr. Guy E. Buckingham briefly addressed the student body concerning the values of a liberal arts education. He stated that this course is not chosen from tradition, but from a careful introspection into the knowledge necesary for a successful career. Moreover, it does not specialize in a few branches, but develops a general understanding from which may be derived the ability to cope with any situation that may occur.

Dr. Buckingham divided the results of a liberal course under several main headings. He believes this system instills in the students a higher specific appreciation of many and various arts, promotes a more active life, and tends toward the strengthening of physical and mental health. He specially stressed the need of the young people to become more familiar with correct foods, diets, and domestic economy. Finally he suggested that instruction in the science of genetics should have its place in this course. Dr. Buckingham's address was not a long, bombastic lecture based on theory, but a short and pithy expression of facts as he saw them.

MUSIC ORGANIZATIONS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

In an effort to find available talent for the regular Thursday afternoon broadcasts over WLBW by the Music Department, Mr. Luvaas is particularly anxious to have all students who either sing or play musical instruments to get in touch with him. Special talent although desirable is not necessary. Band or chorus practice periods will be suitable for trials.

Recently the Women's Glee Club held its first practice, with about thirty girls attending. Rehearsals will be held regularly on Mondays and Fridays at 4 o'clock.

A mixed chorus, selected from the best material in the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, and called the Allegheny Singers, will meet every Wednesday night. In the future, however, the organization hopes to meet more often.

Allegheny's band is making plans to attend a few out-of-town games. From all indications, the band hopes to attend the Thiel-Allegheny game at Greenville next Saturday. If sufficient funds can be raised, the band will go to the Dartmouth game.

A CHALLENGE

Considerable comment has arisen lately as to the varied content of The Campus. Quite a few would-be critics have stated that this paper is wandering away from its purpose as a newspaper.

We all know that there are at the present time but three publications on our campus. The Alligator, enthusiastically received by the student body and issued for the purpose of enlivening the daily routine drudgery, of portraying the humorous aspects of college life, and of forgetting for a while the strict formalities of cut-and-dried stories and reviews, was forced to the wall from the lack of support and contributions of the students. The Kaldron, a fine publication, arouses interest but once a year. The present Literary Magazine is in a period of transformation and experiment. What is there left to interest the student body and alumni but The Campus?

To give the readers variety in an attempt to shadow the memories of the Alligator and the laxity of the Literary Magazine, the present structure of The Campus is necessary. It is true that Campus Clippings, Scrubbing Brush, etc., are not news, but do we not enjoy reading them?

Much destructive criticism comes from uninterested or prejudiced persons. The students are very lax when it comes to reporting meetings, gatherings, or notes of general interest, to members of the staff. We do not belong to all of the clubs and societies; we cannot hear all of the scandal. Why criticise an institution that is head and shoulders above water? Why not try to salvage some driftwood?

If a majority of the readers of The Campus would devote a few minutes of the valuable time they spend in criticising to contributing materially, either in the form of material for publication or suggestions which would benefit the paper, the staff and those who are regular readers of The Campus would certainly appreciate and recognize their efforts.

HOMECOMING DAY

On November 1, Allegheny College is to celebrate the greatest Homecoming Day in her history. On that day, the football team is going to defeat Grove City for the first time in several years; a very elaborate program will extend throughout the entire day; the fraternities will welcome back their alumni to sumptuous banquets at the houses; everybody will celebrate the football victory at an all-college dance in the evening. In short, everybody is going to enjoy a day full of unsurpassed pleasures.

It is not only the duty of every alumnus to come back to attend this celebration, but he will be afforded a rare pleasure in being given an opportunity to be thus entertained. For several weeks the play production staff of the Little Theater has been working diligently on the play that is to be presented. One of the most famous one-act plays ever written has been selected for the cast. Most capable performers have been selected to portray the characters.

In the afternoon the annual Allegheny-Grove City football game will be played on Montgomery Field. The team that is to represent our Alma Mater is one of the strongest in years. A successful season has been started, and the players are intent upon keeping the record free from any defeats. A fighting team will enter the game and with a spirited crowd will emerge with a victory for Allegheny.

In addition to these events, there will be afforded to all visitors a chance to see ALLEGHENY once again, the old Alma Mater, the scene of the most enjoyable years in the life of every alumnus. Old friendships may be revived. The fraternity houses will be open with everybody ready to welcome back the returning alumni. One can dance in the evening or spend his time with several of his old friends.

We wish to urge all the alumni who possibly can to return for this mammoth celebration. It has been possible for many of the events to be presented free of admission charge in hopes that the alumni will realize the intense desire on the part of resident Alleghenians for their return.

The date is November 1; the place is Allegheny College. Every alumnus MUST come back.

They live in Corning, N. Y., where Mr. Miller is head of the science department in Corning Free Academy.

Hiram A. Jones, '22, is now in New York City, 110 Bancroft Hall, doing work in Columbia University for his Ph.D. degree.

Ruth Greenwood, '26, completed her work for graduation from the one-year course in Kennedy School of Missions, Hartford, Conn., last June, and is now in Lima, Peru. She is teaching science in the Girls' High School there, under the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

PEP-MEETINGS

We had another so-called "pep-meeting" in front of the Gymnasium Saturday morning just as the players were departing for New Wilmington. The team won in spite of, and not because of this meeting. The crowd was small, and the cheers were correspondingly weak. If the purpose of this assembly was to cheer up the players and inform them of the students' loyal support, then that assembly was, in common parlance, "a flop".

Now, if we intend in the future to express our college spirit through the pep-meeting, let's have a wholehearted outburst of enthusiasm and not a spiritless exhibition which will send our teams to the battle wondering whether, after all, the whole affair is worth their trouble.

Society

It was "all quiet" on the steps of Hulings this past week-end; not even a five couple party disturbed the peace. Sorority banquets were held last week honoring the girl pledges. Two fraternity parties are scheduled for this week, the Beta Kappa Bowery Brawl on Friday evening and Sigma Alpha Epsilon's party on the following night. Plans for the All-College following the Adrian game are not yet completed.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Alpha Gamma Delta gave its dinner to new pledges at the Lafayette Hotel at seven o'clock on the evening of Monday, October 6. Twenty-five student members, including pledges, were present. It was an informal affair, and the tables were decorated with pink rose buds. Shoulder bouquets of roses were worn by the new pledges, and place cards were in white and gold. Of the alumnae, Miss Edith Rowley, Miss Madeline Crowe, and Mrs. Josette Dennis were present.

Alpha Xi Delta

On Monday evening the pledges of Alpha Xi Delta enjoyed a formal dinner at the Riverside Hotel. Alumnae who attended were Mrs. F. G. Henke, Miss Ruth Hammond, Miss Clare Minium, Miss Mina French, Miss Dorothy Jelbart, and Miss Martha Hodge. The party was seated at one long table decorated with nut cups shaped like roses, in which were the place cards. Corsage bouquets of pink roses were presented to pledges.

Theta Upsilon

Theta Upsilon entertained its new pledges at a formal dinner at the Homelike Tea Room, Diamond Park. Decorations of iris and place cards were very attractive. Short speeches of welcome to the pledges were given by representatives of the three upper classes. Alumnae guests were Mrs. J. L. Ross, Mrs. Hodgkinson, Mrs. K. P. Williams and Mrs. L. D. McClean.

Delta Alpha Theta

Delta Alpha Theta's pledge dinner was at the Hostess Coffee Shop at eight o'clock last Monday evening. The party was formal, and corsages of roses were worn by the pledges. Guests attending were Mrs. Evelyn Nelson, Mrs. Hazel Kerr, Miss Jessie Smock and Miss Helen Miles, of the alumnae.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta brought its pledging season to a close with an informal dinner at the Kepler Hotel last Tuesday evening. There were 39 present, including the active chapter, pledges, and alumnae members of the sorority. The tables were lighted with candles and bore center pieces of pansies and attractive place cards. Each pledge received a corsage adhering to the color scheme of the sorority, gold and black. There was no formal program, but a number of sorority songs were sung and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Alumnae attending were Mrs. Edward I. Bates, Miss Ruth Moritz and Miss Dorothy Riddell.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Kappa Kappa Gamma held its pledge dinner at the Bartlett Hotel, Cambridge Springs. The active chapter, pledges and many alumnae attended. The new girls received corsage bouquets of roses, and there were three out-of-town alumnae present. The party was informal. Meadville alumnae at the dinner included, Mrs. John Kent, Mrs. Herman Fahr, Mrs. Leland Culbertson, Miss Eleanor Gill, Miss Helen Eiler, Mrs. E. A. Walton, Miss Helen Easterwood, Miss Elizabeth Dulin, Mrs. S. S. Swartley, Mrs. Warren P. Norton, Mrs. W. C. Carpenter and Miss Martha McKeever.

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi Omega celebrated bidding day with dinner in the private dining room of the Lafayette Hotel. With the exception of Miss Mary Mull, who is a patient in the City Hospital, all the active chapter attended, and all the pledges. There were a'so, of the alumnae: Mrs. Berger, Miss Lyda Houston, Mrs. C. C. Laffer, Mrs. M. O. Brown, Mrs. A. I. Eldred, Miss Eleanor McKay, Mrs. Wallace Davis, Mrs. T. D. Ballinger, Miss Virginia Siggendal and Miss Katherine Welsh. The party was formal, and the Freshmen received corsages of sun-burnt roses. Table decorations were of the sorority flower, red carnations, which afterwards were sent to Miss Mull. Following the dinner the entire party enjoyed a theatre party at the Park Theatre.

Phi Kappa Psi

Phi Kappa Psi held a smoker for Freshmen men at the house, Thursday evening at 9:45. It was a get-acquainted party, and bridge was a diversion of the evening. The entertainment consisted of the singing of college songs by the group and of instrumental selections by several of the guests.

Paul A. Siple Speaks To Kiwanis Club at Monday Luncheon

Speaking before the Meadville Kiwanis Club at the regular Monday noon luncheon, Paul Siple, Erie Boy Scout who was a member of the Byrd Polar Expedition, gave an intimate account of many adventures of the expedition at the South Pole.

Siple stated that there were 85 persons with Commander Byrd, 32 being "in the ice"; meaning they lived in the shacks built on shore, and the others on the ships. He explained how they built the shore winter quarters from celotex. Two walls with an air chamber between were built and covered with snow, which soon was transformed into solid ice.

Many other intimate details of the daily life of this expedition to the South Pole were told by Siple, who has returned to Meadville this winter to resume his studies at Allegheny College. It was announced that Putnam & Company, of New York, will soon publish a book by Siple telling the complete story of "A Boy Scout at the South Pole".

ALUMNUS ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Stanley Smith, 945 Grove Street, Meadville, was hostess to the alumnae chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta on Thursday evening, October 9, and had as her assisting hostess Miss Cora LeRoy of the Allegheny College faculty. About fifteen members of the chapter were present.

The business of the meeting had to do with making plans for the visit of the national inspector, Miss Margaret Dow, this week. It was decided to give a dinner in her honor at Mrs. Smith's home this (Wednesday) evening, with a meeting combining both business and social features. The active chapter is planning to give a tea in her honor on Thursday afternoon.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses and an enjoyable social hour was spent.

Eta chapter of Theta Upsilon announces the pledging of Virginia Slacum, Warren, Pa., Ola Rex of Ingram, and Betty Kemp of Hollidaysburg, all of the class of '34.

Delta Alpha Theta announces the pledging of Helen Titsler of Meadville, and Ruth Wright of Butler, both members of the class of '34.

Phi Delta Theta announces the pledging of Ernest Rossell, '34, of Falknor, Pa.

Phi Iota chapter of Alpha Chi Rho announces the pledging of Edwin D. Frost, '34, of Cattauragus, N. Y.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

Everyone admired the respectful consideration which the Westminster players showed ours. When our boring halfback had his shirt torn from his back, a Westminster player immediately fell forcibly upon him, to shield him from the gaze of the spectators. And then again, after United Presbyterian fists had refused to behave, the Blue and White, out of a contrite spirit, apologized by giving Allegheny the ball on downs, instead of trying for a touchdown.

They don't believe in making the freshmen work at Westminster—a Boy Scout wigwagged the yards gained to a companion at the scoreboard. By the time he finished flapping his flags for one down, four had been played. This system should be tried at Allegheny—to break the fans of the bad habit of looking at the scoreboard for information.

Allegheny rooters outnumbered the New Wilmingtonites—in spite of the attraction of a Saturday chapel here. The Allegheny players, as they paraded onto the field resplendent in their gay new uniforms, shocked the Mennonites. One Westminster wit explained the meaning of the colors: Green jerseys signified the team's experience, the yellow letters signified the team's fighting qualities, the blue headgear represented the team's post-game mental attitude. A nice explanation, but it didn't work.

Campus Clippings

At a meeting of the trustees of Middlebury College last spring, it was decided that all graduating classes, beginning with the class of '33, would be required to pass an examination in Bible before the senior year. This action is similar to requirements of many other colleges. Harvard graduates must pass an examination requiring at least two years of German, while at Columbia all students must pass a swimming test.

One freshman reporter of the Campus Staff, publication of the University of Rochester (N. Y.), has started on to the field of journalism in a big way after an interview with Colleen Moore, famous cinema actress. Miss Moore, it seems, was a guest of one of the hotels in that city when this "frosh" was fortunate enough to be able to interview her. She saw no relation between the movies and college trained students, but heartily endorsed college dramatics as the possible saviour of the legitimate drama.

Dean Gauss of Princeton University says that the two reasons why many students fail to make good in college are insufficient preparation in high school and an unwillingness to work in college. Insufficient preparation in high school will soon cause the student to lag in college and he will soon take on an attitude of defeat which takes years or a life-time to master.

Social probation for fraternity houses not attaining a scholastic average of at least 65% for two consecutive terms is the new method employed at Lehigh University to induce the groups to study. Inasmuch as social life is a large part of campus life, the fraternities are expected to take a turn for the better in the field of studies. That just means a clamor for more snap courses in the curriculum.

ALLIGATORS WILL MEET LUTHERANS SATURDAY

STRONG GREENVILLE TEAM IS EXPECTED TO PUT UP TOUGH BATTLE

Allegheny will encounter a squad of fighting Lutherans in the game at Greenville this Saturday. Wardle, Thiel's dangerous little back, will lead a squad that is not veteran, nor even greatly experienced, but a squad that puts everything it has into the fight.

The fighting spirit is certainly reflected in the three games Thiel has played this season. Temple U., a consistent producer of strong teams, was held to 13-6. The Lutherans were, of course, swamped by Carnegie Tech, but they nevertheless scored, 52-6. In the third game they held Geneva powerless in close scrimmage, and lost 13-6 only because Geneva's passing attack was a bit more successful.

Allegheny, meanwhile, has shown up better in game scores. Especially in the victory over Westminster, classed as a strong team, the Alligators showed fighting strength. The results of the season so far give Allegheny a "dope" advantage. Even so, it must be admitted that Thiel's showing has been made against stronger teams.

For the last two years Allegheny's advantage over Thiel has been more evident than this year, but the records show two ties, 6-6 in '28, and 0-0 in '29. If breaks are in order, they are due Allegheny, but the margin of victory in this game should not be breaks. It will be a fight one way, or experience the other.

Pitt Badly Defeats Harriers in Meet Held Last Saturday

Allegheny's harriers lost decisively to Pitt in their first meet of the 1930 season, at Pittsburgh last Saturday. The strong Pitt team came within one point of a perfect score. Worrall taking fifth place from Caesar for the only Allegheny place within the first five. The score was 39-16.

The majority of the Allegheny squad were inexperienced men. The first year men put up a good fight, but lost places rapidly to the Pitt men at the end of the run. The order of finish was Clise, Pitt, first; Smoyer, Pitt, second; Mozzi, Pitt, third; Tapp, Pitt, fourth; Worall, Allegheny, fifth; Caesar, Pitt, sixth; Ish, Allegheny, seventh; Marks, Allegheny, eighth; Rockey, Allegheny, ninth; Church, Allegheny, seventh; Marks, Allegheny, eighth; Rochey, Allegheny, ninth; Beiler, Allegheny, tenth.

Some indication of the strength of the Pitt team this year is given by the fact that Caesar, a star runner last year, took but fifth place among the Pitt squad of this year.

Guest of Y. M. C. A. Speaks at Chapel Held on Saturday

Dr. Bruce Curry of Union Theological Seminary, New York, in continuing his interesting talk at Chapel, Saturday, spoke on the subject, "Jesus and the Quest of Life". Dr. Curry in presenting his subject pointed out the need of youth in accepting Jesus as the One whose spiritual and moral leadership had established Him as the truest, purest and best example for mankind to follow in order to attain the precious secret of life.

Dr. Curry stated that among students, generally he had found an extreme reverence and belief in the personality of the Christ. Often times there was an erroneous substitution of Jesus for a God by the students. Jesus criticises the political, industrial and international competitions, these philosophies of mixed up life and the corruptions of conventions.

The value of organizations such as the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., the speaker showed, was nothing if the association did not try to help better the corruptions of the age.

In concluding, Dr. Curry expressed his faith in the good properties and abilities of those who elected themselves to follow the ideal leadership of Jesus and thereby redeem this life.

This and That

Watching the Enemy

GENEVA 13—THIEL 6

Geneva, again resorting to a passing attack, downed a fighting Thiel team, 13-6. A 27 yard pass, Graham to Aultman, put the ball to within scoring distance for the first points. Thiel tied the score early in the fourth quarter. Wardle threw a 31 yard apss to Garthwaite on Geneva's 23. Myers made 2i through right tackle, and the remaining two in two tries. Geneva won the game on another pass, 30 yards from Knapic to Aultman, on the 5 yard line, who then dashed over. Neither team could do much through the line, and it was only Geneva's superior passing that decided the victory.

ADRIAN 30—ST. MARY 0

Adrian rolled up its second victory in taking over St. Mary 30-0. The Michigan team scored points in every quarter.

GROVE CITY 6—JOHN CARROLL 0

The Grove City Crimson had things pretty much its own way over in Cleveland. It ripped holes through John Carroll's deefnse almost at will, but seemed powerless to push over for the last few yards. After taking the ball twice to the two-yard line, the Crimson made their sole touchdown after a 50-yard pass brought the ball to the five yard line. There it took two rushes to place it over. These Grove City Reds seem a bit unstoppable this year.

DARTMOUTH 74—BOSTON U. 0

Even without Al Marsters, Dartmouth seems to be having a little difficulty. Boston U., though, isn't much by which to gauge a big team. Wait for the Columbia-Dartmouth game this Saturday.

VOLLEY BALL OPENERS PLAYED OFF LAST WEEK

First competition in the volley-ball league, and incidentally first competition in the Intramural Program, got under way Wednesday night.

In the first match Beta Kappa defeated Alpha Chi Rho 2-0. Game scores were 15-7, 15-6. In the second match Delta Tau Delta took three games to defeat Beta Upsilon, 15-8, 11-15, 15-10, making the match score 2-1.

In the only match played Friday, Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated Phi Gamma Delta 2-0. Game scores were 15-6 and 17-15. Competition was keen in both games. The game between Phi Delta Theta and Phi Kappa Psi, scheduled for that night, was postponed and will be played on Thursday evening, tomorrow, at 7:30 p. m.

It is also announced that, due to the party at Beta Kappa, the Beta Kappa-Beta Upsilon game, scheduled for Friday, will be played on Thursday evening.

The Non-Fraternity men have as yet made no indication of intention to enter the Intramural competitions. If they will organize and select a group leader, they are still invited, in fact urged, to enter teams in the events.

Journalists Elect Members at Recent Business Meeting

Pi Delta Epsilon held a meeting in Ruter Hall a week ago Tuesday noon for the purpose of selecting new members. After the regular chapel on Monday, pledging of those newly elected members took place. The following is the list of pledges: C. Robert Burr, Thomas F. Lawry, Hugh E. Elliot, Charles Shaw, John Werle, Harmon Gilbert, Austin O. Baltz, Elmer Reed, and John Rumsey.

Qualification for membership to Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary journalistic fraternity, is based on at least two year's participation in the editorial or business department of one or more of the college publications. And only those of the highest standing are chosen. At present, it is the policy of the fraternity to meet every two weeks and hold open discussions on international relations and current news of interest and importance.

WESTMINSTER GAME

Westminster's 20 yard line. Varano hit the line for 3 yards and here the first quarter ended.

At the start of the second quarter with the ball within the 20 yard line, Westminster threw Allegheny for a five yard loss. A pass was good for 6 yards, and Garbark picked up 2, but it wasn't quite good enough for a first down, and it was Westminster's ball on their own 8 yard line. They tried running, but were stopped dead; so they punted to the 32, and Morse ran it back to his own 39. Varano made a first down, but on a fumble during the next play Tweedy recovered for Westminster. On the first play the Titans were offside for a five yard penalty. Westminster tried two passes, but the second was intercepted by Balser, and returned to Westminster's 40. Allegheny made five, but were penalized 15; so they punted to Westminster. Allegheny retained the ball, however, due to Westminster touching it, but on a fumble Westminster took it on their own 39. Titans penalized 5 yards offside. Westminster then threw pass after pass, but finally lost the ball to Allegheny on downs, and Allegheny also failed to complete a couple of passes. Garbark made a beautiful run of 23 yards as the half ended.

Both scores came in the third quarter, and Allegheny's was first. With the ball on Westminster's 39, Varano made 7 yards on 2 plays, Anderson making first down. Varano picked up nine more, whereupon Garbark took the ball to the 7 yard line. Allegheny was held for no gain on the first play, made a couple on the second, but was thrown for a 5 yard loss on the third. On the last down a pass to Garbark was good for 6 points, Anderson raising it to seven on his kick.

However, Westminster, not to be outdone, returned the ball from the 20 yard line on the kickoff to the 30, and then started its more dramatic advance for its tally. Michaels made a first down, and the next play was also good for a first down. It took only two more plays for the Titans to make another first down. Shaffer made six, but was held for no gain on the next two plays. On the last down they made another first down. Nine more yards came on the next play, with Michaels taking four on the second down. The third down was good for a touchdown, Shaffer scoring. No extra point; score 7-6.

The rest of the game was a battle with Allegheny trying to keep a fighting Wstminster team from scoring. The Alligators did, but they had quite a time doing it. Westminster had the ball within scoring distance a couple of times, but, just as Allegheny in the earlier part of the fracas, they failed to make the goal. The game ended with Allegheny making a first down, and the ball resting in the middle of the field.

German Club to Hold Election of Members at Meeting Tuesday

Der Deutsche Verein, which is composed wholly of second and third-year students in German, will hold its first meeting Tuesday, September 21, in Hulings Hall.

At that time, the club will initiate new members. About sixteen, according to Miss Ruth Sundback, chairman of the Verein Committee, will be taken into membership this year.

The purpose of this organization is to promote and maintain an interest among the students in German customs, literature, songs, and "ways". This may or may not include the ancient custom known as "Biertrinken".

Drs. Anna Schafeitlen and Elizabeth Spann will have charge of the initiation ceremonies which will be given in German.
