

ALLEGHENY DEFEATS THIEL—SCORE 41-0

Team Shows Results of Excellent Coaching—Munhall Secures Three Touchdowns.

By winning the opening game against Thiel College in a 41-0 contest, the Allegheny College football eleven opened the season more auspiciously than in any recent season. Coach Hammett's warriors were not entirely at their best in the game of last Saturday, yet they showed such superiority over the Greenville eleven as to convince all the spectators that a successful season is in store for the Gold and Blue. The presence of a second team on the field made every 'varsity man work hard in his position for fear of being replaced by another man. It may be said to the credit of the Thiel team that they played a good game in the first half, although considerably outweighed by the local gridiron men. The visitors' line held their opponents to a standstill in the first quarter, but at the same time were unable to open up any holes for their own backfield. As the game progressed, the Gold and Blue improved in their playing to such an extent that soon Thiel was forced back over the field by line bucking, forward passes, and costly fumbles. Every play which the Allegheny eleven executed showed the results of excellent coaching. The game was without a feature, but the Thiel team failed to make a first down during the contest, and rarely did they make more than two or three yards in the allotted downs.

Munhall, the 'varsity fullback, easily proved himself to be a star in offensive work by repeatedly tearing through the opponent's line for large gains. Capt. Gilbert and the ends, Thomas and Pierson, distinguished themselves by their defensive work.

At the beginning of the game Thiel kicked to the Allegheny team, which had chosen to defend the east goal. Graham received the kick and ran the ball back 30 yards. After a series of good gains by Arnold and Munhall, the ball was lost to Thiel, who immediately lost the ball on another fumble. After the Gold and Blue had carried the ball well down the field, a penalty of fifteen yards was inflicted, which forced the locals to punt. After a series of exchanges in carrying the ball between the two teams, in Thiel's territory, the visiting eleven was forced to punt. Ricker received the kick and made the first touchdown of the season after a pretty thirty yard run through a broken field. Gilbert kicked the goal from the field. This ended the scoring for the period. In the next quarter the playing was entirely in Thiel's territory, but frequent fumbles on the part of both teams kept the ball from crossing the goal. Finally, after a series of gains by Ricker, Graham and Munhall, Munhall crossed the line for the second touchdown. Gilbert missed the goal. This completed the scoring for the first half.

In the second half an exchange of punts took place after Thiel failed to gain the allotted distance. When the visitors had the ball on their own thirty yard line, Capt. Gilbert captured a fumble made by the visiting halfback and ran thirty yards for the third touchdown. Gilbert kicked the goal. Immediately after the kick-off, Pierson scooped up another fumble, but was tackled on the 5-yard line. Munhall took the ball over the line. Gilbert kicked the goal. After a few more plays the quarter ended. In the fourth quarter another exchange of punts took place in which Dotterrer easily outdistanced his opponent. When Allegheny had the ball on the 25-yard line, Trace made a clever run through the opposing tacklers for the fifth touchdown. Capt. Gilbert kicked the goal in this quarter. One forward pass netted 40 yards for the Gold and Blue. This was probably the largest gain made by this play during the course of the

SOPHOMORES PROVE VICTORS IN STRUGGLE FOR CLASS SUPREMACY

Class of 1916 Aided by Experience in Last Year's Contest—Reports of Various Events by Members of Each Class

(A Freshman Account.)

The center of interest on Saturday morning was the Freshman-Sophomore field day. As this annual affair is always the object of a great deal of attention on the part of the school, a large crowd was present at Montgomery Field to witness the events. Mr. Fegely, the president of the Senior class, was at the head of the committee in charge.

The first event, a relay obstacle race, furnished a great deal of excitement and no small amount of interest. Twelve men, representing each class, took part in this contest. At intervals along the course were the customary obstacles and directly in front of the grand-stand the runners were obliged to stop, eat a soda-cracker, and whistle before continuing the race. For the first 11 laps the Sophomore team had a lead of nearly half a lap, but on the last lap Frishkorn, of the younger class, defeated his opponent at the cracker-eating obstacle, winning the race for the Freshmen.

The second event, the tug of war, was won by the Sophomores. The superior weight and system of the second year men won for them both of the contests in this event.

A very novel and interesting event followed. Two teams representing the classes engaged in a game of soccer football. As neither team had played before, there was practically no team work. However, the game fulfilled its purpose by arousing a greater interest in soccer and giving a knowledge of how the game is played. Both teams scored in the second half, the score remaining a tie at the end of the game.

The rope-tying contest, which followed, was the big event of the day. Each class was represented by 43 men, as that was the total number of Sophomores present. In the ten minutes which were allowed for the contest the Sophomores tied up 20 men, and the Freshmen eight. A committee of upper classmen acted as judges of this event.

The results of the meet as a whole were as follows: One event was won by the Freshmen, two events won by the Sophomores and one event tied—the soccer event which counted two points. This gave the victory in the meet to the second year men.

(A Sophomore Account.)

Last Saturday morning witnessed the settling of all points of dispute between the classes of 1916 and 1917 in a contest consisting of four parts; an obstacle relay race, tug-of-war, soccer game, and rope-tying contest.

The obstacle race was conducted in practically the same way as last year. Each runner had to crawl through two barrels, jump over several three foot hurdles, and struggle under tennis nets staked to the track; but there was one addition which gave the race an even more ludicrous aspect. The runner who ran the second half of the lap had to halt in front of the stand, eat a dry soda cracker and then whistle before he could go on. The game. Following a series of forward passes, which failed, Allegheny tried another exchange of punts which again proved successful. By using this play the ball was brought near the opponent's goal line, where it was taken over by Munhall. Gilbert kicked the goal from the field.

class of 1916 had the race in their very grasp and were half a lap in advance when one of their runners was disqualified, thus forcing the Sophomores to run a complete lap more than their opponents. Even then the representatives of 1916 managed to catch up to them and were beaten by a matter of mere seconds. Thus the Freshmen earned their first and only blood.

But in the tug-of-war the poor Freshmen never had a chance. It was a shame how they fought and struggled, pushed and pulled, but to no end. They were no match for the superior weight, strength and skill of their opponents. At one time it was suggested that the whole Sophomore team should let go of the rope and leave merely their anchor man, Van Slyke. Had this suggestion been carried out, the contest would, undoubtedly, have been closer. In the first trial the Freshmen were pulled 20 feet down the field. The Sophomores entered into the second trial with a strong determination to pull the Freshmen through the gate and if the neophytes had been able to hang on to the rope they certainly would have been furnished free transportation out of the field. As it was, the Sophomores were obliged to satisfy themselves by simply pulling the rope through the gate.

The soccer game was interesting and close, to say the least. As there were four contests and there was the possibility of a tie in the final counting, it was decided that this contest should score two points for the winner. This was the first appearance of the game at Allegheny and from the reception which it met it is evident that it will be a fixture among the sports of the college. Each side entered with a strong desire to win, for winning this contest meant winning the whole day's fight. The playing on both sides was very close and fast considering the fact that not more than two players on each side had ever witnessed a game. The class of 1916, of course, was the first to score through a neat kick by Harper. Then, in order to give the Freshmen a chance, one of the second year men obligingly fouled and the score was soon even. The Freshmen can certainly consider themselves lucky in getting that one point for the play was in their territory seven-eighths of the time. Ten minutes were allowed to play off the tie but neither side was able to score. Thus the classes went into the rope-tying contest with an equal number of points to their credit.

In this contest the Freshmen made a last desperate but unsuccessful effort to retrieve their fortunes but were as usual outclassed. But what is the use of rehearsing all the bloody details—how the Freshmen fought, how the Juniors urged them on but all in vain, and how the Sophomores carried man after man over the goal line? Modesty as well as respect for our opponents feelings permit us to say no more than that we tied up 20 while they were able to tie up but eight of our men.

SOCCER FOOTBALL

New Game Has Been Introduced At Allegheny—Class Contests Will Be Held on New Field.

Plans for the use of the new athletic field, purchased last year, have already been made. Work is now being done in preparing the grounds for the various activities which will occur on the new field. The plans involve something quite new to athletics at Allegheny but are such as will delight the underclass men, who will be permitted to use the new field in their required classes in physical training.

By October first two soccer football fields will be laid out on the new plot of ground. It is the intention of Professor Hammett to introduce the English game as a substitute for gymnasium work. Two classes a week instead of three will be required and if practicable these classes will be held in the afternoon. A large number of men can work in a short time since four teams of 11 men each can play simultaneously.

Soccer is fast becoming a most popular sport among the American colleges. This is shown by the fact that a large number of schools now support 'varsity teams. Professor Hammett's project aims toward the development of a capable team within a few years. In accordance with his plans soccer will become a minor sport at Allegheny and a small "A" will be given to team members. At least Sophomore and Freshman teams will be organized this fall and they will meet in a match game for a prize banner.

The game is a combination of basketball and football, but probably resembles basketball more closely. The method of passing the ball and sweeping down the field at the same time is very similar to basketball.

Passing is done by kicking the ball which is spherical in shape. The body is used to check or divert the ball but the hands must not come into contact with it. To make a score the ball must be kicked beneath a crossbar, eight feet high, on posts 24 feet apart.

A game like this in which it is possible to have such a large number of participants will, undoubtedly, appeal to the men and will be the means of stimulating the athletic life of the college.

HIRAM NEXT

Coach Expects Hard Game With Fast Ohio Team—Few Changes In the Line-up.

On next Saturday the Allegheny College football team will go to Hiram, O., to meet Hiram College for the first game of the season on foreign territory. Last year the Ohians appeared on Montgomery Field in the opening game, which they won by one touchdown. Coach Hammett expects a hard game at the hands of the Ohians this year as their team is composed almost entirely of the same men as the team of last season. With the improvements the coach hopes to have in the team work by next Saturday the Gold and Blue will put up a fine exhibition against their old rivals. Up until the contest of last year, Allegheny was generally successful against the Hiram College team and it is the intention of the team, as well as the coach, to atone for last year's defeat. The line-up will probably be almost the same as used in the Thiel game, although the return of John Pierson, '14, the veteran tackle, might necessitate some change in the line. Pierson has been working in the West and arrived in college in the best of condition. With his return the line will have another experienced player who is especially strong on defensive work.

By an action of the trustees of Bryn Mawr, the number of students is limited to 400.

ACTIVITIES OF THE MEMBERS OF 1913

Many Are Teaching in High Schools—Several Are Doing Graduate Work.

It will be of interest to Alleghenians to know what the class of 1913 is doing in the busy world. The majority are either teaching or attending graduate school, although several have entered other vocations.

Miss Ruth F. Baldwin is teaching in the high school at Wellsville, N. Y.

B. H. Ball is teaching science in the Grand Prairie Academy, Orango, Ill., and also has the athletics under his charge.

Miss Annie G. Bishop is teaching in the high school at Collins Center, N. Y.

J. C. Blucher is a fellow in chemistry at New York University, New York City.

C. V. Calvin has now entered his second year at Harvard Medical School.

Miss Edith DeLand is the principal of the Frewsburg, N. Y., high school.

W. D. Dotterer is the assistant superintendent at the Public Water Works, Centerville, Iowa.

A. N. Dunsmore is the principal of schools at Sagamore.

C. A. Eckles has entered Columbia Law School.

T. R. Fitzgerald is at present laboratory assistant in chemistry at Allegheny College.

V. W. Fugate is engaged in engineering for the Baltimore and Ohio R. R.

W. F. Galbraith is studying law in the University of Pittsburgh.

H. J. Gordon has entered his second year at the Western Reserve Medical School.

Miss Beulah Grauel is staying with her sister in Meadville.

Miss Florence M. Griswold is teacher of German and English at Meadville High School.

E. J. Hall is fellow in English at State College, State College, Pa.

H. P. Hart received his M. D. at Western Reserve Medical School and is now engaged in active practice.

C. C. Hasely is teaching chemistry in New Castle High School.

L. L. Hawk has a good position with the Fostoria Glass Company at Moundsville, West Virginia.

W. G. Hayes is teaching English in the Polish College at Cambridge Springs.

Gordon Hinckley is teaching the sciences at Connellsville High School.

Miss Clara R. Hutchinson is teaching history and modern languages at Turtle Creek High School.

Miss Elizabeth D. Lord is in the Wilmington High School.

Miss Fawn MacDonald is in the high school at Shepard, Pa.

Evans McKay has charge of the chemistry department at Meadville High School.

Miss Eva McKinney is connected with the high school at California, Pa.

O. C. McLean is studying law at Columbia University.

Miss Foresta Maynard is assistant principal of the high school at East Randolph, N. Y.

MEADVILLE, PA., SEPT. 30, 1913.

With the decisive victory over Thiel College on last Saturday, Allegheny opened another football season. 100 much credit to the Team. It can not be given to Professor Hammett and Mr. Lamke for their efforts in producing a winning team. Although the team showed some weaknesses at various points in the game, their work might well be considered phenomenal when it is remembered that only one week's practice has been held.

Now that the coaches and the members of the team have shown their worth, a duty presents itself to the students of Allegheny. College spirit would demand that Alleghenians support even a losing team; but with a winning eleven there can be no excuse for a lack of interest. And how can Allegheny students express this interest? In two ways—by enthusiastic rooting and by financial support.

Although the rooting on last Saturday was, at times, up to the old standard, it was not the rooting that should be evoked by a 41-0 score. The students were scattered throughout the bleachers, resulting in a lack of concerted action, as well as making the work of the cheer-leader far more difficult. In spite of the efforts of the cheer-leader many students seemed indifferent, while others merely moved their lips as though attempting to whisper an "Alle-geru." That is not the kind of rooting that will win a hotly contested game.

But a football team can not be equipped by rooting and applause. Something more material is needed, and that something is financial support. No matter how loud the rooting may be or how often the cheering reaches the ear of the player, he can not do his best until he is well cared for when he travels and well equipped when he enters the game. Last year the students of Allegheny pledged themselves to assist in meeting the financial questions of athletics in a businesslike way. But many students have evidently forgotten that pledge. To date only a small part of the students have purchased their tickets. Now is the time that the team needs support. Buy that ticket today.

Many students who expect to enter into competition for places on the staff of The Campus are losing an opportunity to obtain an excellent start. There is no other period in the college year when it is so easy to obtain news with little effort. The Freshman competitor will find a large field for gathering news in the various receptions and class events which occur at this part of the first semester.

The requisites for successful Campus competition are consistency, accuracy, a good "news sense," and willingness to work. The competitor who works one week and then rests during the next two weeks can not expect to win a place. Accuracy in grammar and rhetoric, as well as a certainty that all the information in the article is correct, must be regarded as fundamental rules. The third requisite—a good "news sense"—may be largely an innate quality, but, nevertheless, it can be cultivated by a study of each issue of The Campus. Most competitors fail because of their disregard of the last essential—willingness to work. Competition may seem a drudgery after several weeks of consistent work; but a similar feeling of drudgery enters into the work of the college orator, debater or athlete. Without a real intention to do hard, consistent work, entrance into Campus competition is mere folly.

Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION.

The annual Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. reception was held last Friday evening in the gymnasium, which was pro-lar to accommodate the large attendance. The room was filled with crowds of students during the entire evening making the event one of the most successful that has been held in recent years.

The gymnasium, which was profusely decorated with university, college and high school banners and pennants, made an ideal reception hall. Punch bowls, in charge of a number of the young ladies, were popular centers of attraction.

The program of the evening was as follows:

Invocation—Dr. W. A. Elliott.
Welcome—J. R. MacGowan, '14.
Solo—Miss Marian Whipple, '15.
Address—Dr. Camden M. Cobern.
Solo—E. S. Weidle, '14.
Music was furnished during the evening by the Allegheny College Orchestra.

In addition to the regular program, Mr. McClellan, of Ohio Wesleyan University, who is a Student Volunteer secretary, gave a short, interesting talk on foreign mission conditions.

ALUMNI.

C. E. Hilborn, '11, was recently elected superintendent of the Kane High School.

Harley Gould, '10, is at Princeton this year taking a post-graduate course in Biology.

E. P. Kennedy, '11, who will take a post-graduate course in medicine at Western Reserve the coming year, has been visiting at Allegheny during the last week.

R. E. Boyd, '10, was recently married to Miss Caroline Parsons, '10, at South Fork, Pa. After a short wedding trip they will take up their residence in Pittsburgh, where Mr. Boyd has been engaged in settlement work.

Thomas Hughes and Miss Margaret West, both of the class of '12, were married recently in Jamestown, N. Y., at the home of the bride. They are living in New York City, where Mr. Hughes is engaged in Y. M. C. A. work among the students of Columbia University and University of New York.

The many friends of Roger H. Motten, '01, will be pleased to hear of his marriage to Miss Jessie Barclay, at Yonkers, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Motten will live in Colorado Springs, Col., where he has been on the faculty of Colorado College for several years and has recently been given a full professorship in English.

One of the prettiest weddings that Meadville has seen in a long while took place in early August, when the nuptials of Miss Myra A. Wilson, '11, and Arthur C. Collom, of Sharon, were solemnized. The wedding was held at the bride's home on Locust street. Mrs. Collom has been taking a pharmaceutical course in the University of Pittsburgh. Mr. Collom is also a registered pharmacist and is successfully established in business in Sharon where they made their home after a short wedding trip.

Announcements were received in August of the marriage of Miss Mary Georgiana Crane, '00, of Butler, to Dr. Edward Mueller, of South Bend, Ind. While in college Miss Crane took an active part in college activities, having been on The Campus staff as well as being a member of Quill Club and Classical Club. Since graduation she has received her A. M. degree from Radcliffe. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Dr. Mueller is at present assistant professor of chemistry in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Excellent Lecture

Son of Famous Evangelist, Gypsy Smith, Speaks in Ford Memorial Chapel.

A large audience was present at Ford Memorial Chapel on last Tuesday evening to hear Gypsy Smith, Jr., son of the famous evangelist, deliver his lecture, "From Gypsy Tent to Pulpit." Mr. Rodney Smith is a man of striking appearance and inspiring address, who is rapidly following the foot steps of his father in the religious world. Mr. Smith's lecture, which was under the auspices of the combined Christian associations, was one that not only appealed to those in attendance but impressed them with the great work which one man has wrought. It was largely through the influence of Bishop J. M. Thoburn, '57, that this promising young lecturer was brought to Meadville. He is a personal friend of the bishop and probably will appear again in the city to hold evangelistic services.

After J. R. MacGowan, '14, president of the Y. M. C. A., had presented the speaker of the evening, the audience was soon held spell-bound by the interesting as well as instructive introduction of the lecture. Mr. Smith first gave some reminiscences of Gypsy life, in which he especially impressed upon those in attendance that this nomadic race is much misunderstood, much slandered, and that they are not all thieves and beggars as most people commonly think. Although, he said, they were in the habit of "finding" things, which was quite different from common thieving. As a race they had no religion, but believed in a God as a Supreme Being. In their profanity and their drinking they were hard to excel, but in chastity and in the keeping of the Sabbath they were far superior to their Christian neighbors. The lecturer, in the course of his address made an eloquent plea for his race, especially emphasizing the fact that no missionaries, nor any attempt in any way had been made to reach these people with God's Word.

Later the speaker attempted to show that this nomadic tribe is a lost tribe of Israel. In the first place, the numerous Biblical names found among the people, although they know nothing of the Bible, furnishes an excellent proof. Secondly, the manner in which they respect the Sabbath, although not Christians; yet they keep this day as holy as the Orthodox Jews. As a third proof, the carefulness with which all the properties of a deceased one are buried, also in accordance with an ancient Jewish custom; and fourthly, the careful courtships among the young. After this introduction the lecturer of the evening related in a most vivid manner the conversion of his grandfather after the sad death of his wife. This bringing of the Gypsy father into the church finally brought about the conversion of Gypsy Smith himself. At first Mr. Smith, who had spent all his life up to this time in a Gypsy camp, had to learn the manners and customs of the English, as well as to read and to write. From such a meagre beginning the world famous evangelist came. After preaching a short time Gypsy Smith was noticed by the late General William Booth, of the Salvation Army, and he was installed as the 35th officer by General Booth. He soon became one of the most successful evangelists in the whole of England. After a disagreement with the leader of the Salvation Army, the young evangelist started out for himself to preach among the poor and oppressed. His reputation in a short while spread to all the world, so that today Gypsy Smith has preached in every land where English is spoken, which means almost the whole world.

Several amusing incidents were brought out by the speaker, especially when he related the manner in which Gypsy Smith discarded his native clothes and assumed those of one preaching the gospel. Fifteen of the descendants of the Smith family are now engaged in the active work of the ministry, nine of those being college graduates. This, the speaker said, was due to the transforming power of the gospel.

After the lecture Bishop Thoburn asked those to rise who wished Mr. Smith, Jr., to conduct a series of revival services later in the year. The whole audience rose immediately.

On Wednesday morning the members of the various classes were assigned regular chapel seats. The same seating arrangement was used as in former years except for the fact that the men of the various classes were seated in front of the women. As the chapel was not large enough to accommodate all of the students, a large number of Junior and Freshman women were assigned seats in the gallery.

The College Men's class at the Stone church was reorganized last Sunday morning under the leadership of Professor C. F. Ross. The class has been highly successful in the past years and judging from the large attendance on last Sunday morning there is every reason to expect even greater success in the year just begun. Professor Ross, as a man of remarkable ability as a teacher and leader, will make the class interesting as well as helpful and instructive.

The first social gathering of the faculty was given by the "Campus Dames,"—an organization of the ladies of the faculty,—to the new members at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Mulfinger, on Loomis street. All the newly elected faculty members and their wives were present to enjoy a delightful social hour as well as the refreshments served later in the even ing. An interesting letter was read from Mrs. O. P. Akers, who is now in Europe with Dr. Akers. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Mrs. C. E. Decker, Mrs. G. E. Snively and Miss Shepard.

Last week two tryouts for new voices on the Glee Club were held at the Pennsylvania College of Music by George D. Rose, '14, leader of the Glee Club. Both try outs were well attended by Freshmen and other college students who have not competed for places on the club before. The large attendance at each try out showed that this college organization will have the usual amount of good material from which to fill the vacancies made by men who graduated last year and by those who have not returned to school this year. The results of the try outs are to be announced at some time this week.

Hulings Hall

Miss Elizabeth Sykes, '17, spent the week-end at her home in Franklin.

Miss Ruth Browning, '14, was the dinner guest of Dr. and Mrs. Lee Sunday.

Miss Agnes McMahon, '15, was called home Sunday on account of illness.

Mrs. M. Barns, of Albion, was the guest of Miss Georgia Roberts, '16, on Monday.

Miss Marian Whipple, '16, was the dinner guest of Miss Dorothy Dashiell, '15, on Sunday.

Miss Thelma Weisenborn, '14, returned Sunday and will register the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland and daughters, of Erie, spent Sunday with Miss Rachel Cleveland, '17.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Seeley, of Conneautville, were the guests of Miss Anna Dean, '17, on Saturday.

Mr. C. J. Roberts, of Albion, was the guest of his daughter, Miss Georgia Roberts, '16, on Saturday.

The Misses Marian Carroll, '14, and Florence Downing, '16, were Sunday dinner guests of Miss Jeannette Ferguson, '16.

Miss Bernice Thoburn, '16, was initiated Saturday evening by Gamma Rho chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Several of the alumnae, including Miss Bess Ling, '12, were present at the initiation.

The young women of Hulings Hall held a rally Saturday afternoon in order to arouse enthusiasm for the football game. Misses Mary Sansom, '14, Rose Platt, '15, and Marian Carroll, '14, told the girls what the girls had done for athletics in the past and the spirit that we should show for the team. Miss Spalding also urged all the girls to be present at the game with all the spirit and loyalty of a true Allegheny woman. The girls then practiced some Allegheny songs.

Y. W. C. A. MEETINGS.

The first Y. W. C. A. meeting of the year was held Wednesday evening in the association room. The leader, Miss Alice H. Spalding, gave a very significant talk on college life. She defined it as "a life of routine and ideals," which demands purpose, ambition to persevere and integrity. Its purpose is the acquirement of knowledge, friendship, training, wisdom, vision and truth.

The Sunday Y. W. C. A. meeting was led by Mr. McClellan, who is a member of the Student Volunteer Association. His subject was, "What am I to do With Christ Jesus?" Under this topic he answered the questions: "What is this man whom we call Christ Jesus? What is His supreme message to the world? What am I in my prayer life? What am I as a soul winner? What am I in regard to my personal conduct?" closing with an appealing plea for workers in the foreign field.

FOOTBALL RESULTS.

The results of Saturday's most important games and those of greatest local interest are given below. In nearly every case the score is one-sided, indicating the policy of the stronger teams in choosing the weaker schools for practice games at the beginning of the season. Among the list of games only one team that Allegheny is to meet appears. That is Buchtel, which lost to Case 36-17. W. & J. showed her strong condition again this year by defeating Mt. Union 35-0. Carnegie Tech, Hiram and Geneva were not in action.

ATHLETIC ELECTION.

Next Saturday comes one of the most important athletic elections of the year, when candidates for the offices of base ball manager, assistant base ball manager, assistant basket ball manager and secretary of the Athletic Association will be voted for. All nominations of candidates must be in the hands of some member of the Athletic Board by 12:30 p. m. today. The requirements of nominees are Junior or Senior classification for base ball manager and for secretary of the association, and Sophomore or Junior classification for both the assistant managerships. The polls will be open as usual in the Treasurer's office in Bentley Hall from 10:30 a. m. to 12:20 p. m. Saturday. Those who have purchased the five dollar athletic tickets have the right to vote.

The University of Chicago has appointed Toyokichi Iyenaga, Ph. D., a Japanese, professorial lecturer in Political Science.

CLASS ELECTIONS.

The election of officers of the four college classes was held last week at the various class meetings, called by last year's presidents. The newly-elected Junior president, however, presided at the meeting of the Freshman class. On last Tuesday the Seniors elected the following members of the class for the ensuing year: President, W. H. Fegely; vice president, Miss Mary Sansom; secretary, Miss Ruth Browning; treasurer, Jontar A. Nicholls.

The Junior class election, held on Wednesday afternoon, resulted as follows: President, George A. Ricker; vice president, Miss Rose Platt; secretary, Miss Josephine Singley; treasurer, Hartley J. Hartman.

The Sophomore election was held Thursday, and the following officers elected: President, Albert F. Munhall; vice president, Miss Leone Rial; secretary, Miss Bernice Thoburn; treasurer, Seeley Campman.

On Friday the Freshman class, with the Junior president presiding, elected as their officers: President, H. D. Emery; vice president, L. C. Drake; secretary, Miss Esther Stone; treasurer, Robert Yost.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

The first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. for the new college year was held Wednesday evening with an attendance that crowded the rooms in Cochran Hall. On the occasion President MacGowan called upon Dr. E. A. Smith and Dr. Crawford for short addresses. Their brief talks were full of inspiration to greater work and service for the association. Dr. Smith told of a recent meeting of association men at Princeton University at the unveiling of a certain statue, significant of the modern student, and expressive of the finest and highest spirit of Christian civil life. The statue is a memorial to Cleveland Dodge, who first conceived the idea of a Y. M. C. A. branch for college students and who formed the Student Y. M. C. A. Federation. Dr. Smith placed especial emphasis on the facts that the Y. M. C. A. is the greatest factor at work in college toward sending a man away from the school better than when he came and that the great body of alumni are watching to see that the men who come out from the college from year to year remain true to their own as well as the school's ideals.

Dr. Crawford in his talk called the attention of new men to the great number of men who, while being the leaders in the Y. M. C. A. work, were also the leaders in all college activities ties and who since graduating have been great forces for good in the world. The three things he emphasized for the coming year were: that each man shall be an "out and out" Christian; that Christian ideals shall permeate the whole life of the college and so far as possible the life of each man; and that each member shall do his best to bring in a chum or friend who may be indifferent.

Following the regular meeting a reception for the new men was given in the parlors of Cochran Hall. At this time they were given an opportunity of becoming acquainted with the men of the upper classes.

The membership campaign carried on during the reception resulted in a larger enrollment than in any previous year, between 80 and 90 names being secured at this first effort. The Y. M. C. A. cabinet is very much encouraged and looks forward to a year of great usefulness in the college and vicinity.

ASSEMBLY MORNING.

The chapel hour last Friday morning was given over to an athletic assembly of the men of the college, under the leadership of the newly-elected Senior president, Mr. Fegely. As the first step toward the maintaining of enthusiasm for athletics, E. A. Robinson, '15, was elected cheer-leader for the year.

Coach Hammett then spoke briefly concerning the track work at Allegheny, outlining the policy which will be pursued in the required physical training in the under classes. After Professor Hammett spoke in complimentary terms of Allegheny's track team, he asked for at least 20 men to begin training at once for the long distance runs. In order to create an interest in distance running and make the work agreeable, he proposed the organization of a cross-country club and a series of inter-class cross-country runs.

Three hours a week of physical training will be required from all men of the two lower classes. This work will be begun on October 15, when it will take the form of soccer foot ball and other outside sports, as long as the weather permits. Regular indoor gymnasium work will be assigned during the winter weather, but as soon as possible in the spring outdoor work will again be resumed. An effort will be made to establish soccer as one of the most popular sports at Allegheny. It is planned that a series of interclass games shall be played, culminating in a formal interclass meet on the Saturday following Thanksgiving.
