To

Miss Beatrice Cotton

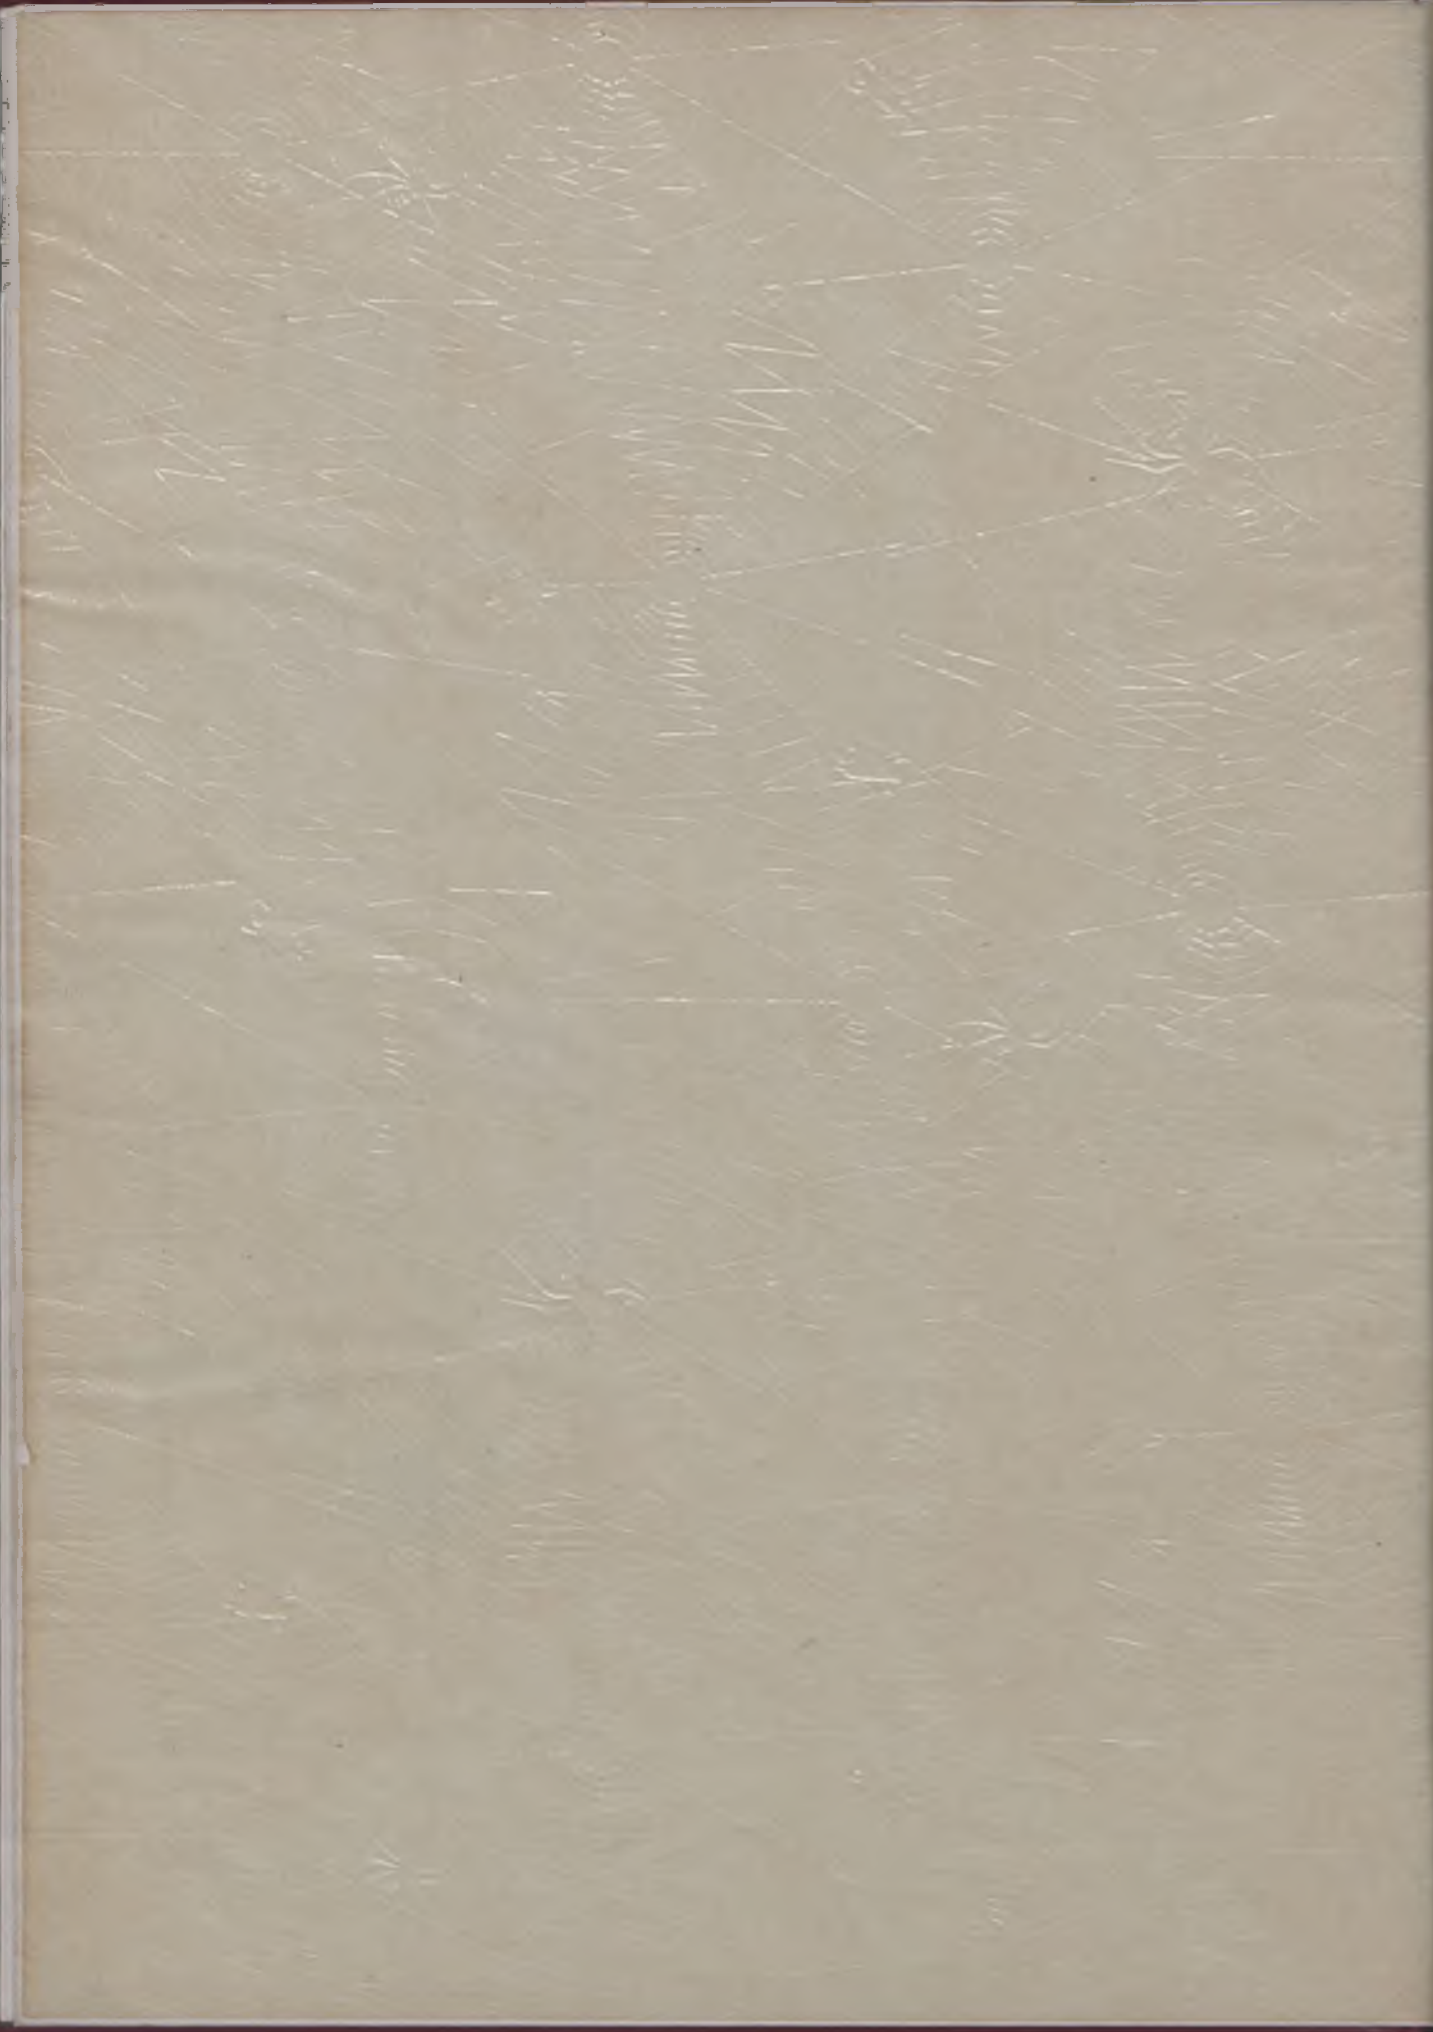

As students we have grown to respect her because of her un-failing good humor; we have admired her for her unerring memory. Her efficiency has been a source of wonder to all who know her. During the years of her service she has become an indispensable part of Allegheny College life.

The faculty committee, the main cog in Allegheny's amateur athletic policy, has been functioning for the past year and so is ready to step into full swing with the opening of school in the fall of 1932. The past year has been a very successful one in intercollegiate circles, but even more outstanding in intramural sports. It is the hope of everyone that this committee may do even greater things in the year 1932-1933.

Managerial Staff

No small part of the success of the 1931-1932 football season is due to the managerial staff.

Don Williams, the sole senior manager, was ably assisted in his work by three junior managers, two of whom will be senior managers for 1932-1933, and the other one of whom will be Freshman football manager. The athletic policy is expanding and a larger staff will be carried henceforth, to take care of the multitudinous duties which fall to the managerial staff in football.

FOOTBALL

1931 Football Squad

Allegheny's standard-bearers for the past season are deserving of all the praise they have received and have done a years work which all of us will remember. It is especially fine to bring one system to a close with such a remarkable record and to embark on a new plan with all the glories of the past in mind. Success in the new plan is practically assured with such a culmination of the old one. School spirit, that old bug-a-boo, is at high tide and student co-operation is a foregone conclusion.

CLARION NORMAL 0

Opening the season at home against Clarion Normal State Teacher's College, Allegheny didn't find much opposition and consequently eased through a 45-0 score. Although the score would seem to point out an easy victory the 'Gators didn't show much in the way of a defense or offense against the team from Clarion. Most of the squad broke into the game and all in all it was merely a typical opening game to show what Allegheny could hope to produce in the way of football material for the remainder of the season.

EDINBORO NORMAL 7

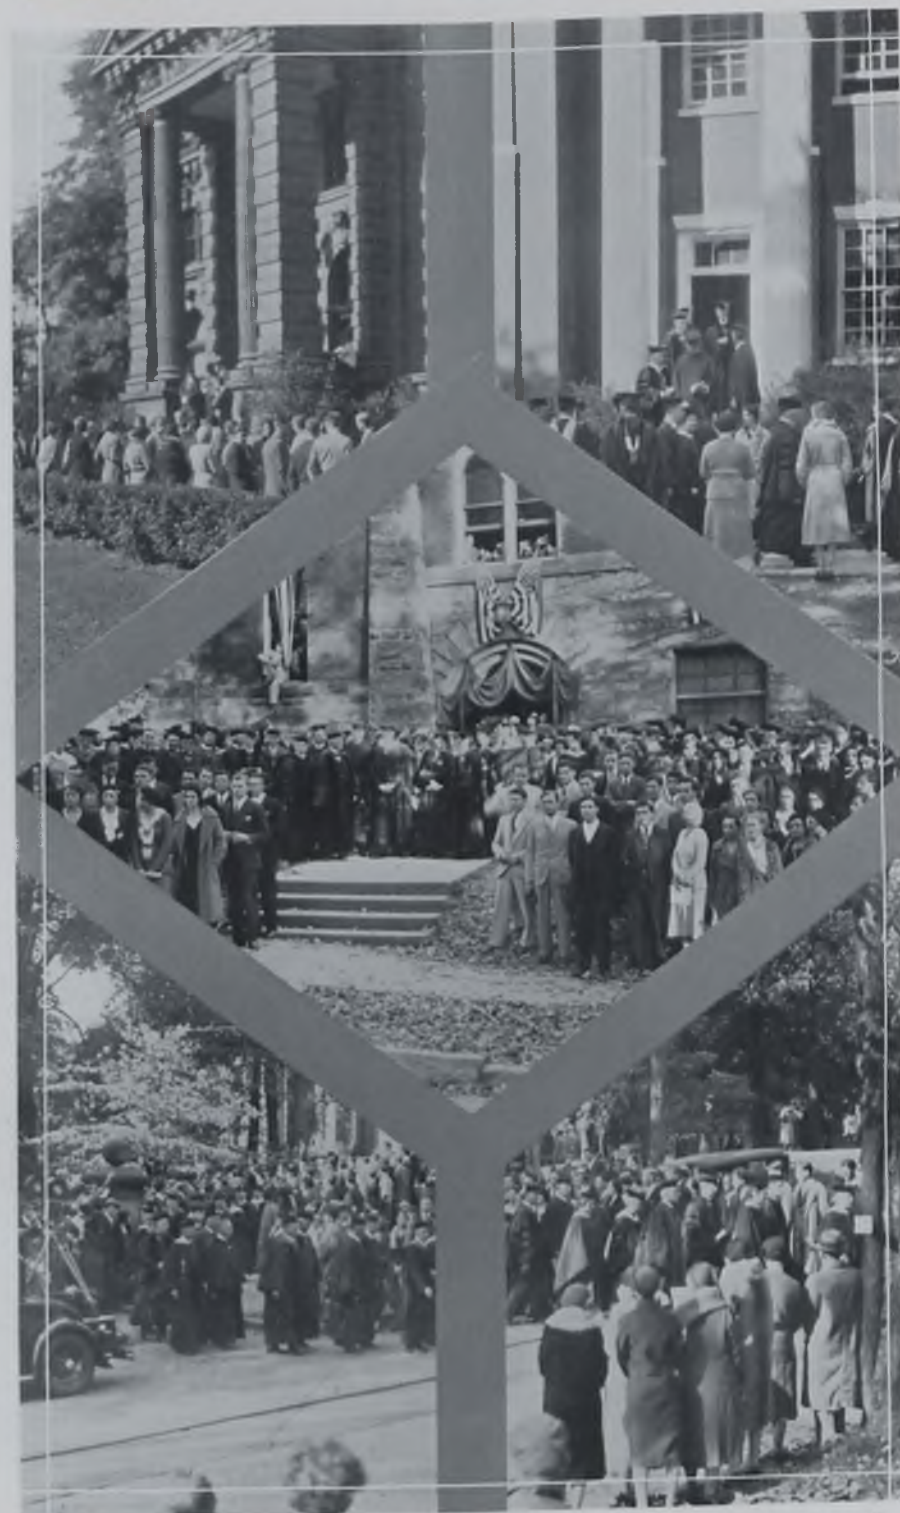

Encountering Edinboro State Normal in the second game of the season, Allegheny found no trouble in handing out a 27-7 defeat to the teachers. The game was mostly one of frantic forward passes made by Edinboro while the 'Gators were content to take things easy and merely condition themselves while adapting themselves to new plays and formations. Edinboro threatened to score more than once, but a strong defense, when needed, was enough to keep the teachers out of the running.

WESTMINSTER 7

As the feature of the Annual Homecoming Day, Allegheny met and defeated very easily Westminster College, 39-7. The onesided score came as a surprise, even to the most staunch of Allegheny supporters. Westminster, rated highly by football critics, was never in the running and was unable to produce anything of power or versatility against Allegheny. The 'Gators started out strong against the Titans and never seemed to let up once until the goal line was successfully crossed.

THIEL 0

Allegheny, playing their first game away from home, ran into the stiffest competition yet experienced during the season by meeting and defeating Thiel College 20-0 at Greenville, Pa. The Lutherans, having the reputation of one of the strongest defensive teams in the district, fully lived up to this honor and had it not been for masterful playing by the 'Gators the score might have been different. It was the Blue and Gold's first experience on a wet field, but this fact didn't seem to hinder them from playing heads-up football.

Back on the home field again, Allegheny attempted to give their regulars a rest by starting a reserve squad against the fast moving team from Michigan. However, Adrian flashed such a snappy offensive and threatened so many times that it was necessary to send the regulars in to complete the game. The Michigan boys showed a scrappy team and one which gave the 'Gators plenty to worry about. But once the regulars broke into the game it was practically "sewed up" and Allegheny emerged victor 20-0.

What was probably one of the hardest fought contests on the gridiron for Allegheny during the entire season, was that which took place at Grove City. Both teams highly rated in regards to their football ability seemed unable to turn the other back. Both teams were held scoreless for three periods, but finally in the last 10 minutes of play Grove City scored. The game seemed practically lost, but Allegheny came back with plenty of fight and spirit to equal the score by the forward pass route. Both teams played a hard game of football and are deserving of a lot of credit for their excellent performance.

Coming through with a one point win, Allegheny chalked up their sixth win of the season, turning back St. Bonaventure 7-6. Badly battered and bruised as a result of the Grove City game, the 'Gators were highly pleased with the result of the game at Bradford. The Bonnies had a stubborn defense which hardly ever seemed to give way, but yielding way enough for Allegheny to put over their one touchdown. The Bonnies threatened to win during the closing moments, but with Allegheny showing just such a stubborn defense then as St. Bonaventure had in the first half, the 'Gators were acclaimed victor by a slim one point margin.

GENEVA 0

The game with Geneva proved to be just one of those battles, ending in a scoreless tie, in which a strong offensive team attempted to beat a strong defensive team. The Covenanters flashing all kinds of forward passes and trick plays were unable, however, to cross the goal line which was protected by the stubborn defense of the 'Gators. The game was hard fought and both teams threatened to score several times, but when the opportunity came the extra punch was lacking. The 'Gators, badly wrecked as a result of a previous two weeks campaign, lacked the stamina they usually were able to produce and as a result found themselves at a loss when attempting to score. It was the only time during the season that Allegheny was held scoreless.

WEST VIRGINIA WESLEYAN 38

Playing their final game of the season at Buckhannon, W. Va., the crippled Allegheny team was handed its only defeat of the season by West Virginia Wesleyan, the score being 38-7. Wesleyan proved to be more or less a one man team, but that one man, carrying the name of Battles, was enough to wreak a lot of havoc in the 'Gators lineup. Wesleyan is deserving of the victory and there are no alibis to offer, but had the game been played earlier in the season the score might have been quite a bit different. This game brought to a close one of the most successful seasons that Allegheny has had on the gridiron for some time, and it is with a feeling of pride and satisfaction that we look back over the season's record.

The Inter-Fraternity Council was organized in the spring of 1931 as the result of action taken by Omicron Delta Kappa for the purpose of fostering more cordial relations between the fraternities and for the study of mutual problems and the relations between the fraternities and the College. The membership is composed of a senior and a junior member from each Greek letter fraternity. The junior member is elected by the fraternities at the end of each year from their sophomores. These men automatically become the Senior members for their respective fraternities upon the graduation of the preceding senior member. There is only one permanent office, that of secretary, which is filled by Dean J. R. Schultz. Meetings are monthly.

The Council was represented at the National Inter-Fraternity Conference held in New York City on the 27th and 28th of November by Dean Schultz and William Boetcker, and at the Pittsburgh Fraternity Conference by Harmon Gilbert.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The cause of it all! The intramural plaque now in possession of Phi Gamma Delta is causing a heated race in intramural athletics.

VOLLEYBALL

Winning eight games and losing none, Sigma Alpha Epsilon retained possession of the volleyball plaque this year for their second championship in that sport. Beta Upsilon made a strong bid for it, but had to be satisfied with a second. Phi Gamma Delta finished in third place.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

TURKEY RACE

The second annual Turkey Race was won by Phi Gamma Delta with a total of fifteen points gathered by Gregg, Nichols, and Gilmore. First to cross the finish was Jack Hershelman in the time of 11:49.4. His team, Alpha Chi Rho, placed second, with 28 points, and Delta Tau Delta came third.

SWIMMING

Strong competition and good times in the races characterized the swimming meet, which was won by Phi Kappa Psi. McKim, DuMars, Johnson, and Levere were the strength of the team. Phi Delta Theta and Phi Gamma Delta tied for second place with the same number of points apiece.

FORENSICS

Intercollegiate Debate

The department of debate this year has further developed the policy of providing experience in public expression to as large a group of students as possible. Considering that intellectual honesty is more important than numerous victories, all debates this season have been of the informal, non-decision type. In regular classes the question, "Resolved: That Capitalism as a System of Economic Organization Is Unsound in Principle", was carefully analyzed and debated by the various class members. Approximately twenty-five students participated in varsity debates with the following schools: Grove City, Thiel, Westminster, Geneva, University of Pittsburgh, University of West Virginia, Ohio Wesleyan, Oberlin, Wooster, Western Reserve, and Brothers College.

FORENSICS

Extension Debates

With the desire of providing additional experience in public speaking to those enrolled in the debate classes, the department this year greatly augmented its schedule of extension debates. Twenty-five members of the two classes appearing under the title of "Allegheny Speakers", represented their college in nineteen debates before various service clubs and high schools in the vicinity of Meadville. These appointments included the following towns and cities: Franklin, Greenville, Oil City, Brookville, Zelenople, Corry, Kane, Jamestown, N. Y., Erie, Geneva, O., Conneaut, O., Hubbard, O., and Youngstown, O.

Wakefield Oratorical Contest

In the annual Wakefield Oratorical Contest held in the Playshop Theatre, Thursday evening, December 3, William Olson was awarded first prize. His oration entitled: "The Merry Go-Round Has Stopped", vividly pictured psychological changes accompanying the present economic depression. Harry Thompson was awarded second prize, and third place went to Douglas Marks. The other contestants were Robert Blair, William Boetcker, and Harold Loyal.

WILLIAM OLSON

Extemporaneous Speaking Contests

BRAMMER CARLSON

On Friday, October 16, Brammer Carlson of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, speaking on the subject: "What Is the Value of Intra-Mural Athletics?", won the sixth annual men's extemporaneous speaking contest sponsored by the honorary national forensic fraternity, Delta Sigma Rho. The other speakers were, Charles Shaw, George Johnson, Donald Williams, Arthur Crawford, Frank Helfrich, Jack Worrell, and Paul Teaman.

DOROTHY HOLSINGER

Friday, October 23, Miss Dorothy Holsinger, representing Alpha Chi Omega, and speaking on the subject: "Razzing of Freshman Women Should Be Abolished", was awarded the Delta Sigma Rho loving cup in the second annual woman's extemporaneous speaking contest. Jean Holman, Eleanor Page, and Edith Fox were the other contestants.

Things I Never Knew 'Till Now and Still Don't

That W. P. Tolley chews his finger nails.
 That "Bill" Elliot trims his own whiskers.
 That "Frisbee" Ross can't read a word of Latin or Greek.
 That "Dad" Ling passes every girl who ever took a course under him.
 That "Pop" Akers can't tell red from green.
 That R. E. Lee isn't as famous as I thought.
 That "Ches" Darling coughs seven times as much per hour lecture as all the inmates of Denver.
 That Henke puts sugar on his lips so they will taste good.
 That "Richie" Shultz reads the "New Yorker" for all those wise cracks.
 That Dr. Church can't read a note. (They can't all be good.)
 That McLean uses ah— on an average of 30 times every ten minutes.
 That there are 1198 steps on the Allegheny Campus and in our buildings.
 That the average age of college professors is 30,679 years, which proves that all you have to do to teach is to grow up.
 That 5 girls in school are color blind.
 That Dr. Beiler has really read the Bible.
 That Swartley can stick his fist in his vest pocket.
 That no one was expected to pass the Carnegie exams.
 That Woodring can't remember his birthday.
 That Luvaas can't hit a golf ball.
 That Miss Spaulding can't understand a thing Alfred Emanuel Smith says.
 That Miss Rowley hasn't read all the books in Reis Library.
 That Miss Chevret did not have a good time in Paris back in '08.
 That Miss Schafheitlin can walk ten miles without resting.
 That Way can not see a dog without wincing.
 That Miss Potter is really not a foreigner.
 That Julian Ross knows more about English Literature than about English language.
 That Lavelly holds to an obsolete philosophy of life.
 That Dean Bowie, if you please, really likes golf.
 That Harley Morris spends more hours at work than any other faculty member.
 That Buckingham really believes these Carnegie "exams" mean something.
 That Hurst Anderson won't like this column.
 That Benjamin is going to Europe this summer.
 That Skinner learned medicine in summer school.
 That Beisel makes mathematics interesting, but you don't learn anything.
 That Giddens is a famous author.
 That gold weighs oh so much more per cubic inch than water.
 That Zemple dislikes Irving Fisher.
 That Miss LeRoy does not like men. (Give her a medal, will you?)
 That Coe learned his "math" carrying a surveyor's instruments.
 That Roessing really likes French.
 That Howes gets excited and cannot play bridge very well.
 That Miss Ludwig forgets to comb her hair some mornings.
 That McDermott likes to read books with rare passages in them.
 That Nesbitt is a college graduate.
 That Mrs. Spann likes the young people.
 That Seely doesn't like fast dance music.
 That Hulburt gets lonely quite often.
 That Finney likes to walk in his stocking feet.
 That Daniels really comes from New England.
 That 10 minute quizzes are just for the effect.
 That students "crib" on examinations.
 That I may graduate from Allegheny next year.
 That the faculty will probably compare slams in this column.
 That I don't care anyhow.
 That Locke belongs to a social fraternity.
 That Carpenter knows more physics than "Dad" Ling.
 That O. D. K., Student Senate, Inter-Fraternity Council, Pi Delta Epsilon, Pi Tau Epsilon and Kappa Phi Kappa have justified their existence.

Handwriting on the Wall

Someone told us school had started and then along came "Ed" and said you are on the Kaldron Staff. At last we get recognition of our worth, but the devil of it is we have to write something to fill up pages, so here goes.

We ran into a nice girl in French class and complacently said to ourself, "That girl is the one I'm going to chase." Imagine our embarrassment when we met her at a fraternity party as Mrs. Bla blah, wife of Bla blah, whom the brothers had attached for the evening as a necessary chaperone.

We see G. B. is back in school. We wish she would hang a crepe on that fraternity pin which appears periodically.

Then we heard of a freshman who had four pledge pins at one time.

To date we find 11 fraternity pins gracing what corresponds to lapels in Hulings Hall. We say, give the frosh a chance.

Then there was the worldly upper classman who strolling with a freshman maiden as he passed a fraternity house, "That is a national." The innocent age is not all gone.

We see a lot of F. B. and K. S. together. What happened F? At least you're consistent as to which sorority party you'll go to.

The good little old girl who asked the third fellow who came into the library to go to her party. This one is hard to guess because of the one above.

Then the girl, (one of last years 11a pin affair, who was let down easy by the fellow '31 who just did not write. This repetition is fast "getting me."

Delinquencies. How do the rest of you like having the "screws put to you"? We will get used to anything if we last long enough.

Reports reach our ears that a certain fellow, ex-'34, corresponds regularly with two different girls at Hulings. Everything was rosy until he forgot to disguise his writing on a letter to the second girl. Such things will out even in a quiet place like Hulings.

Wonder where "Ed" got the black eye? Believe it or not, ye who doubt readily, he ran into a door.

Who was the fellow who invited a girl from home to his fall party and when she was unavoidably detained he took a Hall girl, but swiped her favor and sent it to his true love at home. Page Dorothy Dix.

This is involved. A woman, not of the faculty, but connected with the college who is well known as a "boy-crazy female" saw that her latest acquisition was being drawn away from her. New technique was obviously needed and here it is. She approached the girl and tried to fix up dates for her with other boys. Nice wasn't it?

There was a famous fellow who left a certain sorority party with a formal, "pardon me." So far so good, but the time was intermission and he has not come back at this writing.

One half of a last year's romance, who consistently denies the pin affair business, spent Thanksgiving with the other half of the romance at his home south of Meadville, with the blasé remark, "I have no statement for the press."

Seen in Our Wanderings

A prominent musician and a tall thin blonde.

A story about these two is too good. It seems the blonde had a date with a certain dark handsome fellow better known as "Duke" and went with him to his chapter party. After the party she went with this musician to a dance hall where "Duke" also was in attendance. The denouement is yet to be written.

A campus departmental manager and a small dark girl.

We saw M. K. K. at a Phi Psi party. Sigs had one too, M. K. K. What's wrong?

We see Karl Klicka and Miss Whitfield together a lot.

Speaking of Phi Psi's. It was alright for the boys to be vaccinated, but I object to seeing plasters on so many girl's arms.

We see our blonde adonis and Madame ——— around a lot.

How about our new football end and the tall girl whose last name begins with the first letter in the alphabet.

"Ed's" girl seems to be saying, "It so happens that I don't date, but I notice more of my girl friends are dating Sigs."

I wonder how "Oke's" girl is?

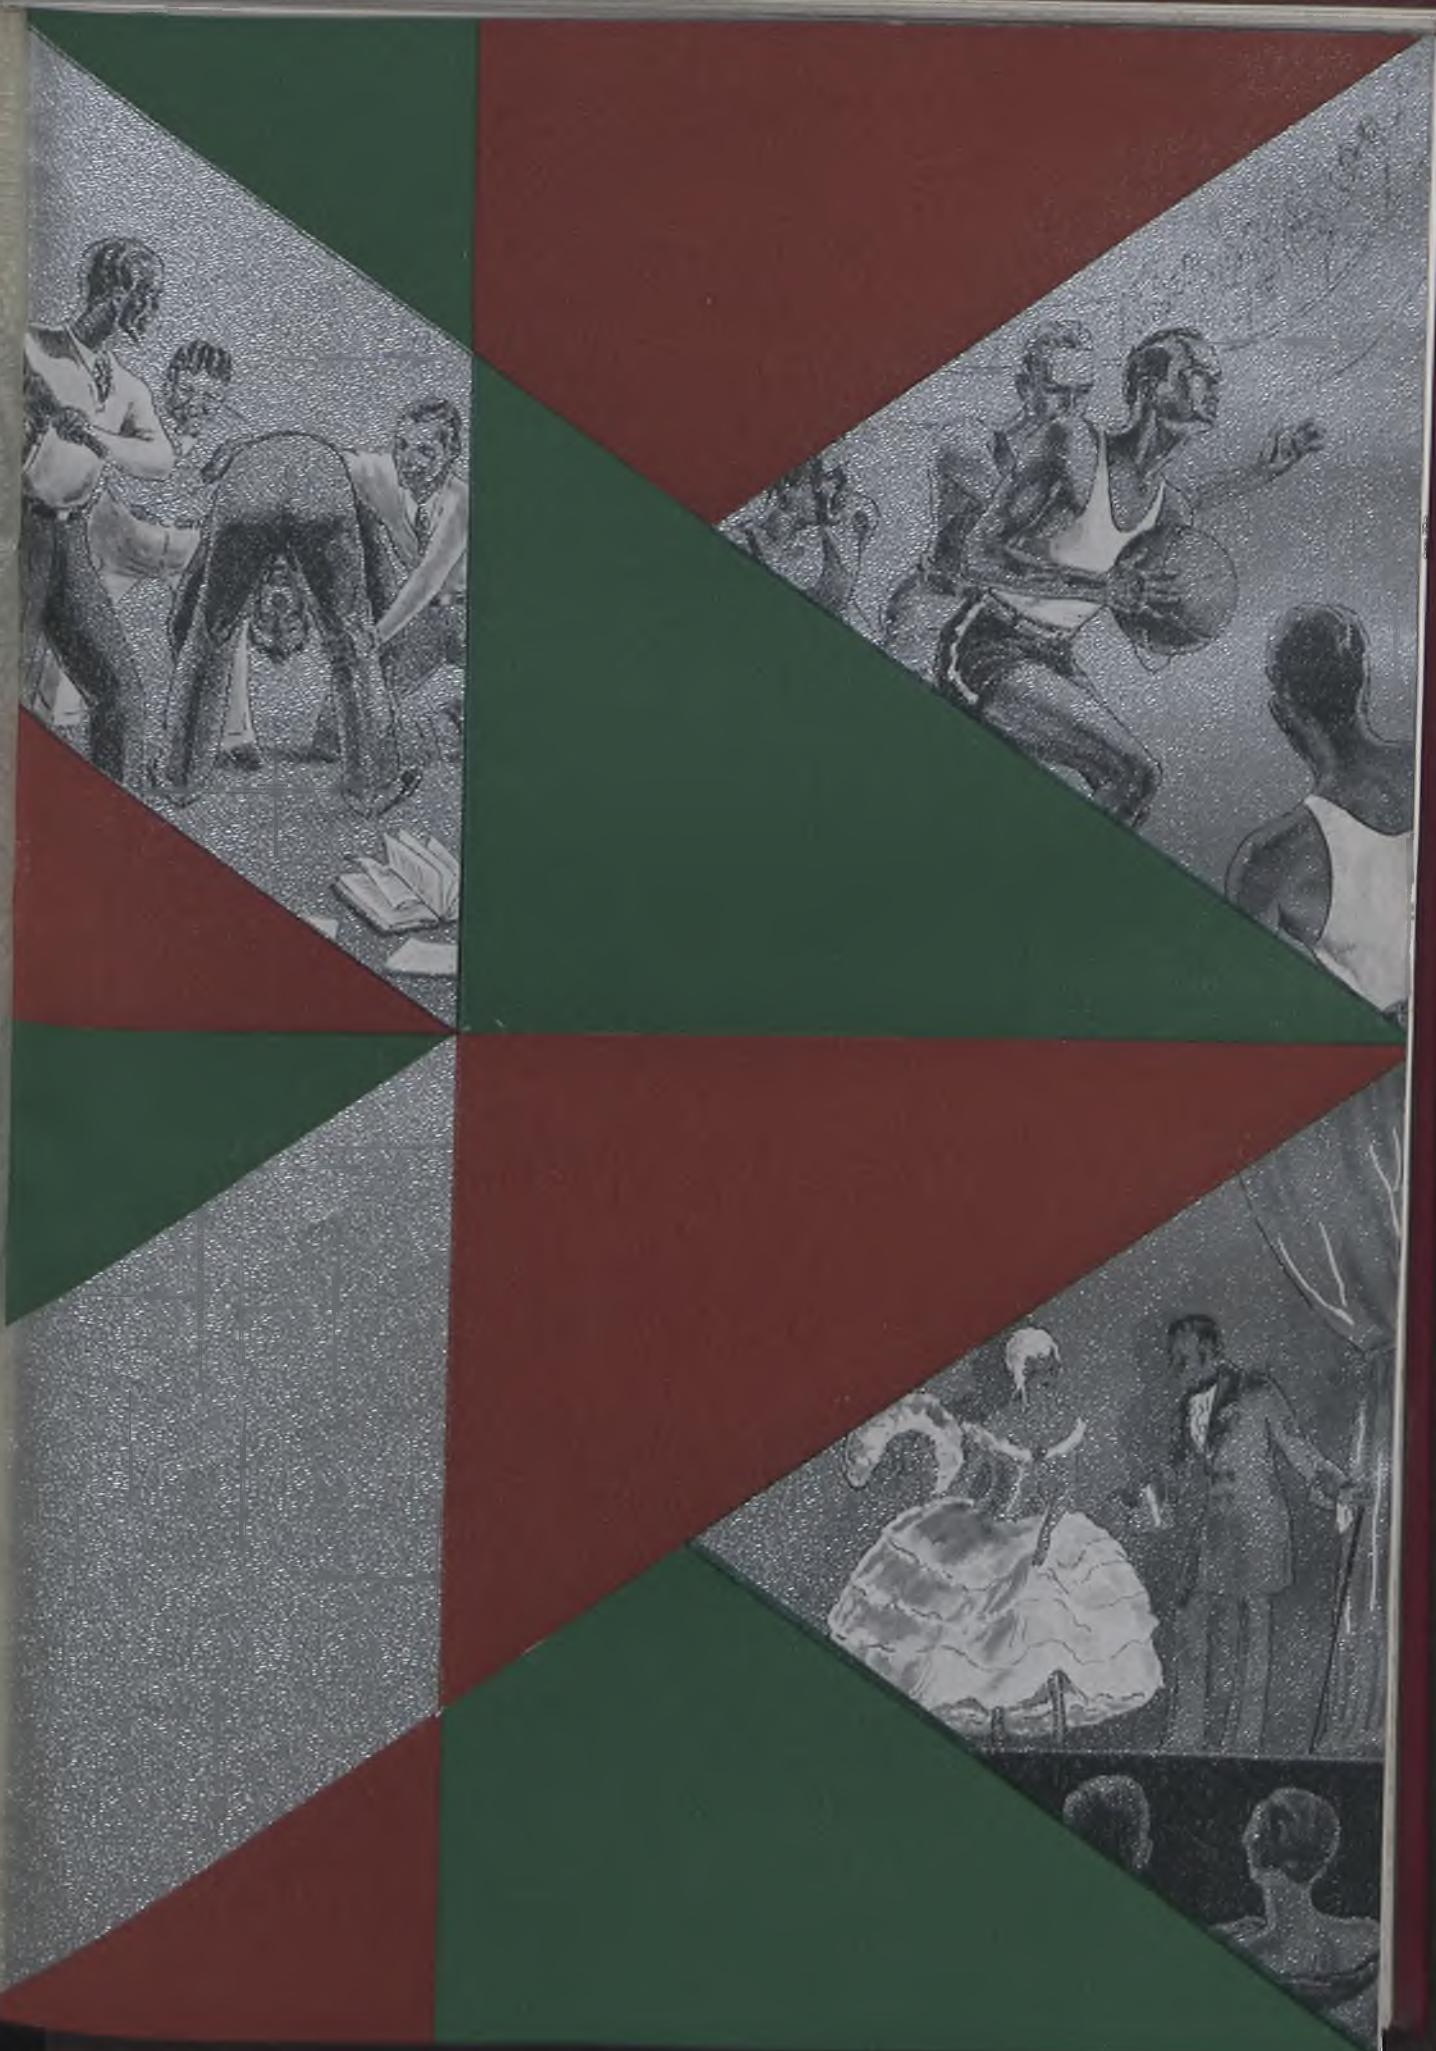

The Phi Delt boys who came here to the convention liked our co-eds. Oh! well the grass is always greener over the fence.

Special bulletin of the Daily News.

We saw A. D. and B. B. in the happy hunting grounds and have seen them together quite often. What ho! John.

Saw H. H. at the hall the other night. The old gentleman looked pretty good, considering. I guess someone is coming up from Monessen.

We know we have missed someone, but don't feel hurt, we'll get you in Winter Section, but we must mention the fellow who had a girl's car Sunday afternoon and evening and drove around with another girl all that time. You Rotter.

COACH C. D. BAKER

Clarence D. (Dick) Baker, coach of Allegheny basketball teams for the past ten years, ended a decade of successful coaching when the last opponent was played on March 9th. During his career as a coach, Baker's teams from 1923 to 1932 won 93 games and lost 69. In his regime Allegheny has stayed close to the top of Tri-State basketball.

CAPT. HARRY DENNISON

Coach Dick Baker will always be remembered as a gentleman and a real son of Allegheny. He has won the lasting commendation and respect of both players and students, and of all those with whom he had any contacts.

ALLEGHENY SINGERS

Allegheny has come to look upon this singing group as one of its finest means of advertising. It brings the name of Allegheny before those who may become interested in Allegheny as an educational institution. The service of the group to the College, therefore may be considerable.

But the value to the individual who participates is, to my mind, of still greater importance. There is a deepening of emotional life, an appeal to the finest feelings, an appeal to the beautiful, all of which are of life-time value to members of The Singers.

The 1932 Spring Tour of The Singers included three distinct trips, as well as several single-night appearances. On March 13 and 14, in spite of a severe snowstorm, the chorus went to Warren, Pennsylvania, and Jamestown, New York. During the week of April 3 to 10 inclusive, they toured the Pittsburgh district, presenting a total of twenty-two church and high school concerts and two radio programs. The climax of The Singers' service to Allegheny came when they sang before two sessions of the General Conference of the Methodist Church, which convened in Atlantic City on May first. The chorus was privileged to sing on May 8 and 9 in the famous auditorium on the Board Walk. Enroute to and from Atlantic City, The Singers presented evening concerts in Johnstown, Harrisburg, Carlisle, and New Castle.

The Women's Athletic Board in keeping with the new college policy has discontinued intercollegiate basketball and is stressing intra-mural activities. In order to encourage participation in at least one sport competition is based on a point system. Points are awarded on the basis of quality of achievement and at the end of the year a leather jacket, bathing suits, and book ends are being awarded to the girls securing the highest number of points. With the promise of a bigger budget and more equipment for next year the Board hopes to encourage interest and bring about a greater recognition of Women's Athletics.

MAY DAY

MARGARET WOOD
Queen May, 1931

The inauguration of May Day three years ago proved to be such a success that it was established as an annual event. Now every May one day is set aside for the Spring Festival presented by the Women's Physical Education Department which is climaxed by the crowning of a Senior Co-ed elected by the student body as May Queen.

The program of events for May 20, 1931 was as follows:

3:00—Archery Contest		Freshman Girls
3:30—Baseball Game of the Gay '90's.
4:00—Ice Cream Served on Lawn		Cwens in Charge
6:00—Women's Athletic Dinner		Hulings Hall
7:20—"Ile", by Eugene O'Neil		Student Playshop
8:15—Dance Festival		Procession of May Queen
9:00—Interclass Lantern Sing		Library Hill

Directed by Mr. Luvaas

A Confession

A feeling of premonition has pervaded my carefree disposition for the last year. Just yesterday I slipped on a banana peel and narrowly escaped being run over by a truck, coupled with these facts is the general feeling that maybe I am not "getting away" with as much as I might think. It seems I get blamed for everything that happens around here and so to preclude the possibility of being falsely accused I do hereby make formal confession of a few activities of which I was author and perpetrator. These are excerpts from my diary and are in the form in which I jotted them down at the time.

Jan 6, 1930—I went over to Elliotts early this morning and got there just as "Doc" Bill was leaving for class. I kicked him down his front stairs and broke his arm. No more Greek class for a week or so!

Jan. 26, 1930—That Greek exam was an awful mess. Wish I hadn't incapacitated Doctor Elliot. I guess I flunked the exam.

May 12, 1930—"Nick" Varano, "Babe" Underwood, Morse, and I got together to put out a paper. We have let the printing contract for it.

May 18, 1930—The paper came out. We "chiseled" some ONE stamps for it and it seems to be quite a topic of conversation. I'm through with such things!

Sept. 17, 1930—Told some freshmen that old story about the "Sig" House not being paid for. Wonder if they believed it?

Sept. 20, 1930—The "Sigs" are awful sore, someone must have let pussy out of the sack.

Apr. 3, 1931—Got up early this morning, 4 o'clock to be exact. Put a "stiff" in the chapel balcony. Everything was fine to that point, but "Doc" Shultz walked in on his way up the hill from "Guses" and said he thought that since he was speaking in chapel I might put some alarm clocks in the organ loft. Gee, he was funny, so he hooked the clocks and I put them in.

April 6, 1931—Schultz certainly pulled a good gag on the alarm clocks, but then knowing what I did it wasn't so funny.

May 25, 1931—Frisbee Ross and Dick Lee and I were having a little party and Fris said he was cold. We were all a little top heavy and could not find any wood to build one so we hunted around the campus and finally found some. We lit it and all of a sudden the sirens started to blow. We ran and the exercise got "Fris" warm.

May 26, 1931—My God, that was the rustic bridge that we lit! Shaw is hinting an expose, but we are well protected.

Sept. 16, 1931—Told some more freshmen about the Sig House not being paid for. The story seemed to go over big.

Sept. 20, 1931—I guess Ted Harper heard about the story. Boy, is he mad? Oh well it's still a good story.

Oct. 9, 1931—Way and I were fooling around the Gym and he suggested we light the bonfire to show our school spirit. It was a little early, but the fire burnt well and people finally came; so it was all right.

Feb. 29, 1931—Miss Bowie met me downtown about 1 A. M. this morning and over our beers she said that the Hall was open and I could get in without anyone seeing me. I came up and got one of the stiffs and got "Doc" Skinner to help me lay it out in the Hall.

Mar. 1, 1932—Miss Bowie was awfully frightened when she saw the stiff and carried on for some time. I thought she was expecting some prank, but maybe she meant something else. I wonder if I muffed something?

These events cover my activities and misdemeanors while in Allegheny. Accusations hence forth can be placed according to this record. Any future happenings are left to future times. These pranks are my offenses to date and are herein mentioned because of the aforementioned feeling of impending doom.

The Mollusc

The mild success which characterized the presentation of "The Mollusc" in the student playshop theater on several nights in March is easily understood by the unfortunate few who saw the play. "The Mollusc" as a play has been done well before and Mr. Davies has really a rather good play. Perhaps the greatest difficulty in the performance was the impression that the actors were striving to do something way beyond them. There is nothing more tiring than a mediocre and amateurish presentation of a good play. Sets and effects were excellent and Mr. Hulbert did his best piece of work to date, but with all his work he was unable to bring the play out of the distinct failure class. It is a blot on an otherwise good reputation which our players guild has enjoyed.

Handwriting On The Wall

Well here we are again folks. This is not Floyd Gibbons although this may read like his newspaper announcements. (But I assure you we are much funnier).

G. B. lost that pin we talked of in the fall section. That is better than the crepe we suggested.

We are verging on redundancy or something in our old age. This G.B. person also had a funny experience. She and G. S. each had a certain noticeable rash on their faces when they were going together. First one had it then the other. The rash has a name which we can't spell and so we'll let you guess.

Speaking of pins, Miss Dale found one and announced that the girl to whom it belonged could have it if she called at her office. Lloyds are giving 1000 to 1 odds that it was not a Phi Psi pin.

The pin report for winter is 13 pins and one diamond ring. Someone isn't fooling or maybe he is. Spring is what we are waiting for.

The intersorority was a great success, but we only got one good story out of it. It seems Klinger and Pore had a scrap and Klinger got someone to get her another date for the party. Then Harry and Mary decided to agree and so Harry got the fellow, who was to take Mary to the dance, to break the date and we all saw Harry and Mary at the dance and thought nothing of it.

This Beighley boy doesn't fool and both of them know about the one back home too. Well we ask you.

We wish someone would start an oblivion column for rotten gags. We'll start it with Gerry English who has one. This is it, "How's business?" Answer. Roses are red violets are blue and my father bought a horse.

A suggestion to the Theta's. Next year why not hold a chapter party on the night of the pan-hellenic ball so that the rest can have room to dance.

Martha Bernard says the affair of last year and years before is off so far as she is concerned. We gathered that, Martha. How is Bill anyhow?

Helen Morrow had no trouble keeping the names of her boy friends straight. She just said Bill and could not miss.

Did all of you hear about Libby Van Kirk's black list. It seems each osculation indulged in meant a black mark and the list got to looking like the stygian darkness we read about and she finally quit. But of course you had heard so forgive me for repeating.

What happened to Sleeman and Sutter at the intersorority. Is anyone else wondering?

I guess Mary Wishart is trying to see if the pins are the same size this year. Don't worry Mary it will still fit the holes in your dress from the last one.

Winnie Ober is moving up. Now it's the Phi Gam house. Looks like the Odd Fellows home will be her next stop.

Seen In Our Wanderings

Carl Klicka and Jane Blair.

Engle and Sankey.

Harry Hill and Whitsett arguing about Mother Love. Oh well it is something to talk about anyhow.

Betty Ashe and "Stan" Hibbs.

We must be watching the Sigs rather closely.

Joe Sterling and "Ellie Hughes." Hello Glee Club.

Howard Lauffenberger looking sleepy. Wonder why? Oh yes Dot Holsinger has moved down town and so Howard has farther to walk, or something.

Jack Utley and Miss Bloom are quite clubby.

Say Smith, you dog, we see you a lot with Ruth Lininger. What's the idea.

We wonder when the Princeton flash is going to start to go with some girl.

It hurts us to know how funny this is and to realize you won't like it at all. We wish we could find something in the line of common gossip that you didn't know already. We had a fine story about an elopement, but the two concerned got cold feet and didn't elope. We hate people like that.

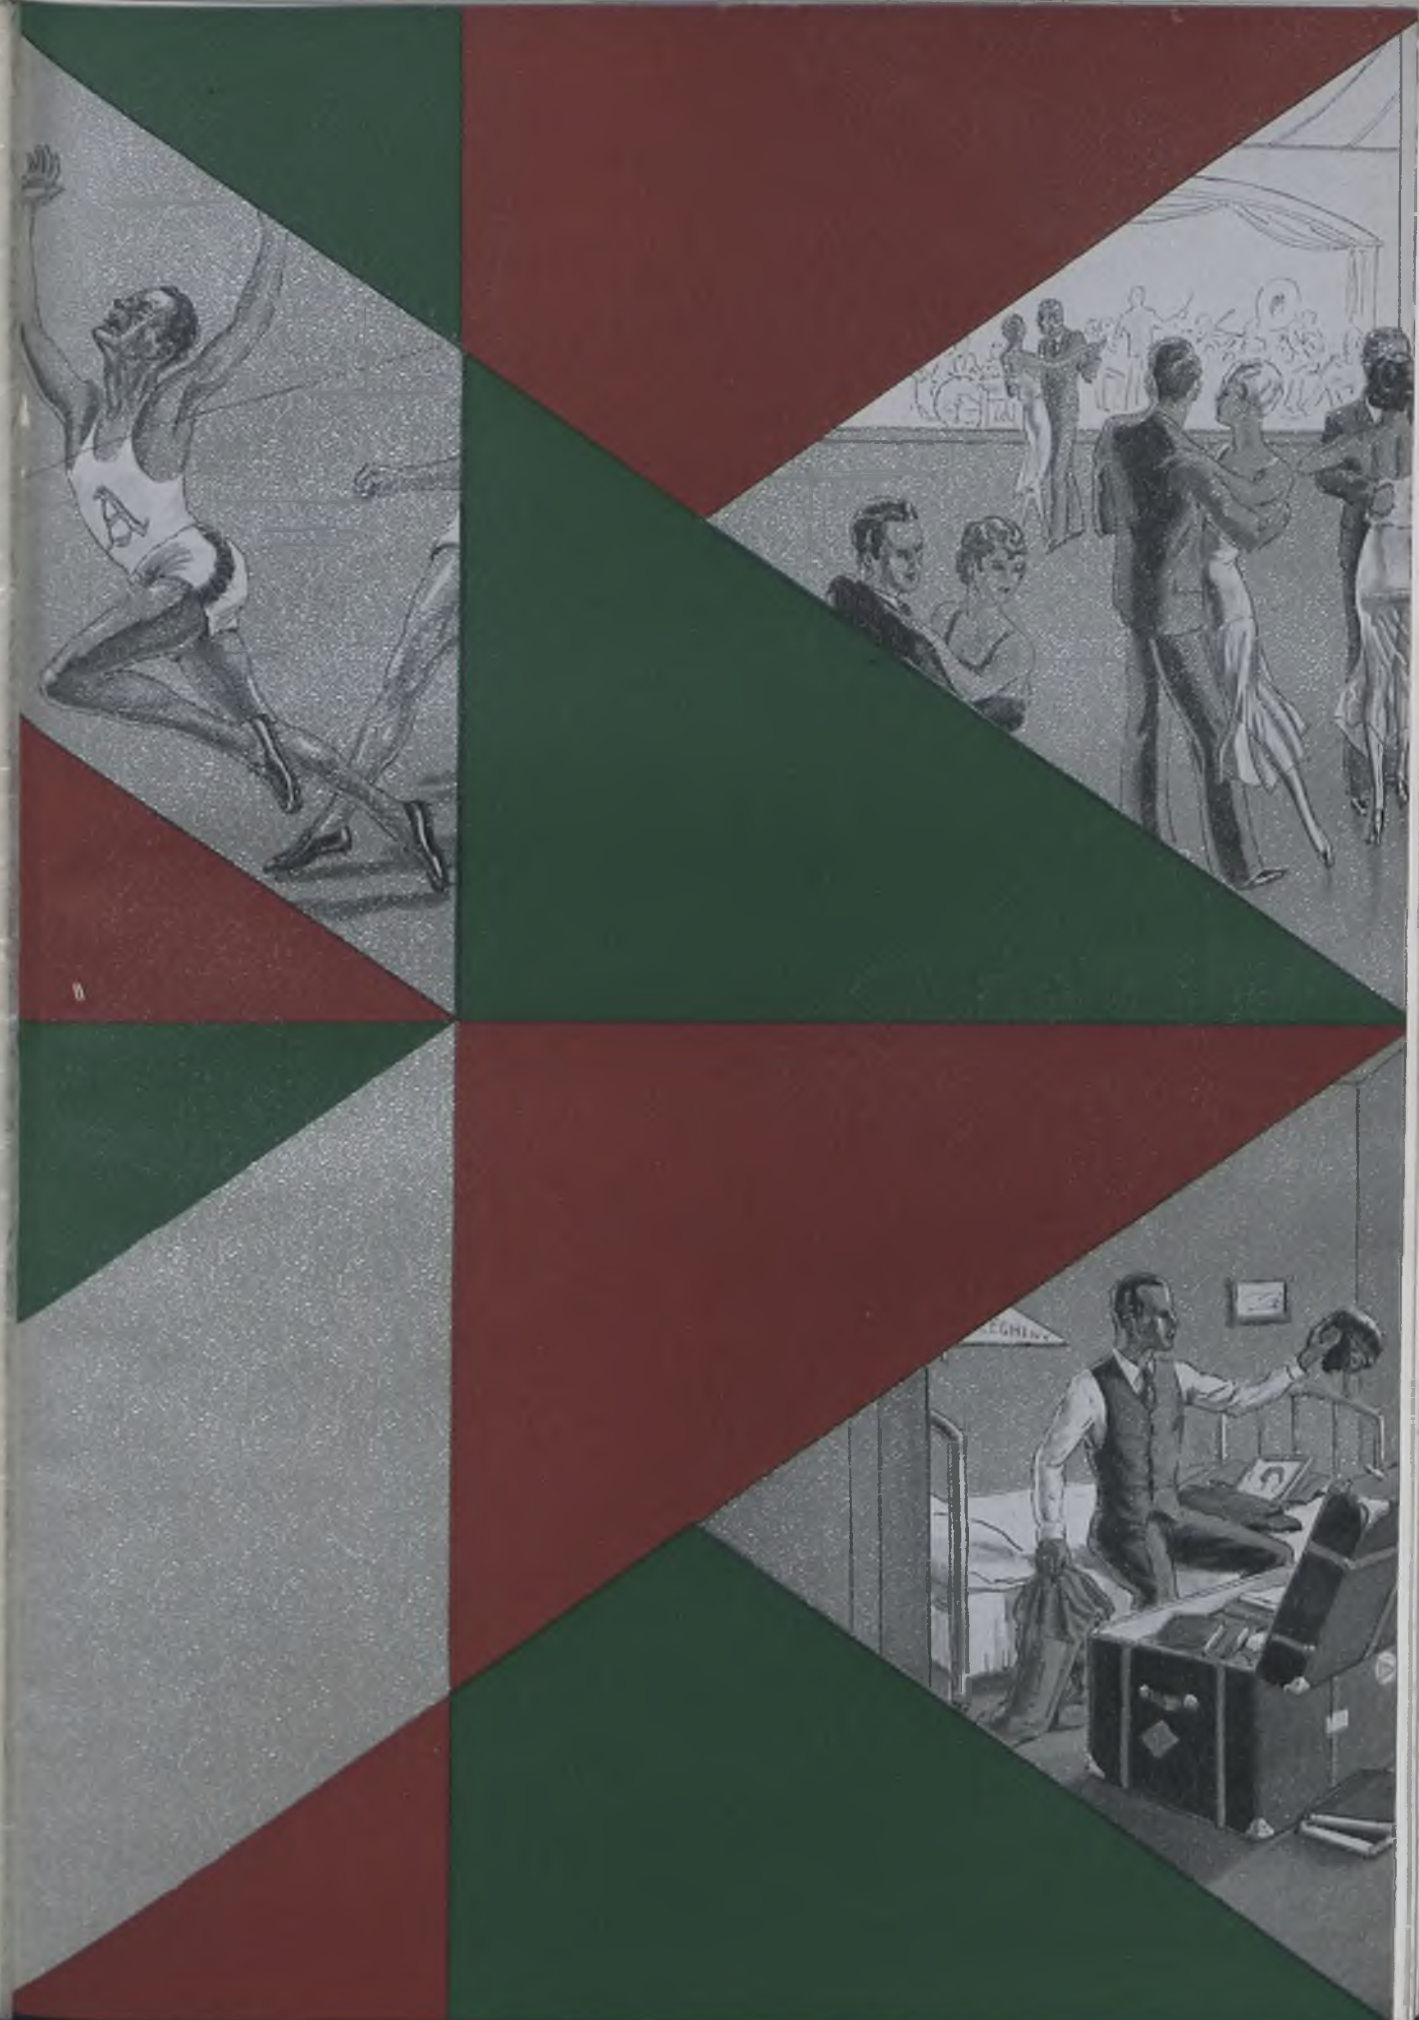

They had a quiz in zoology not so long ago and Helen Walker got permission to study at Rose's. She came in at eleven o'clock with a date (you know who) but the catch is she didn't sign out for the date.

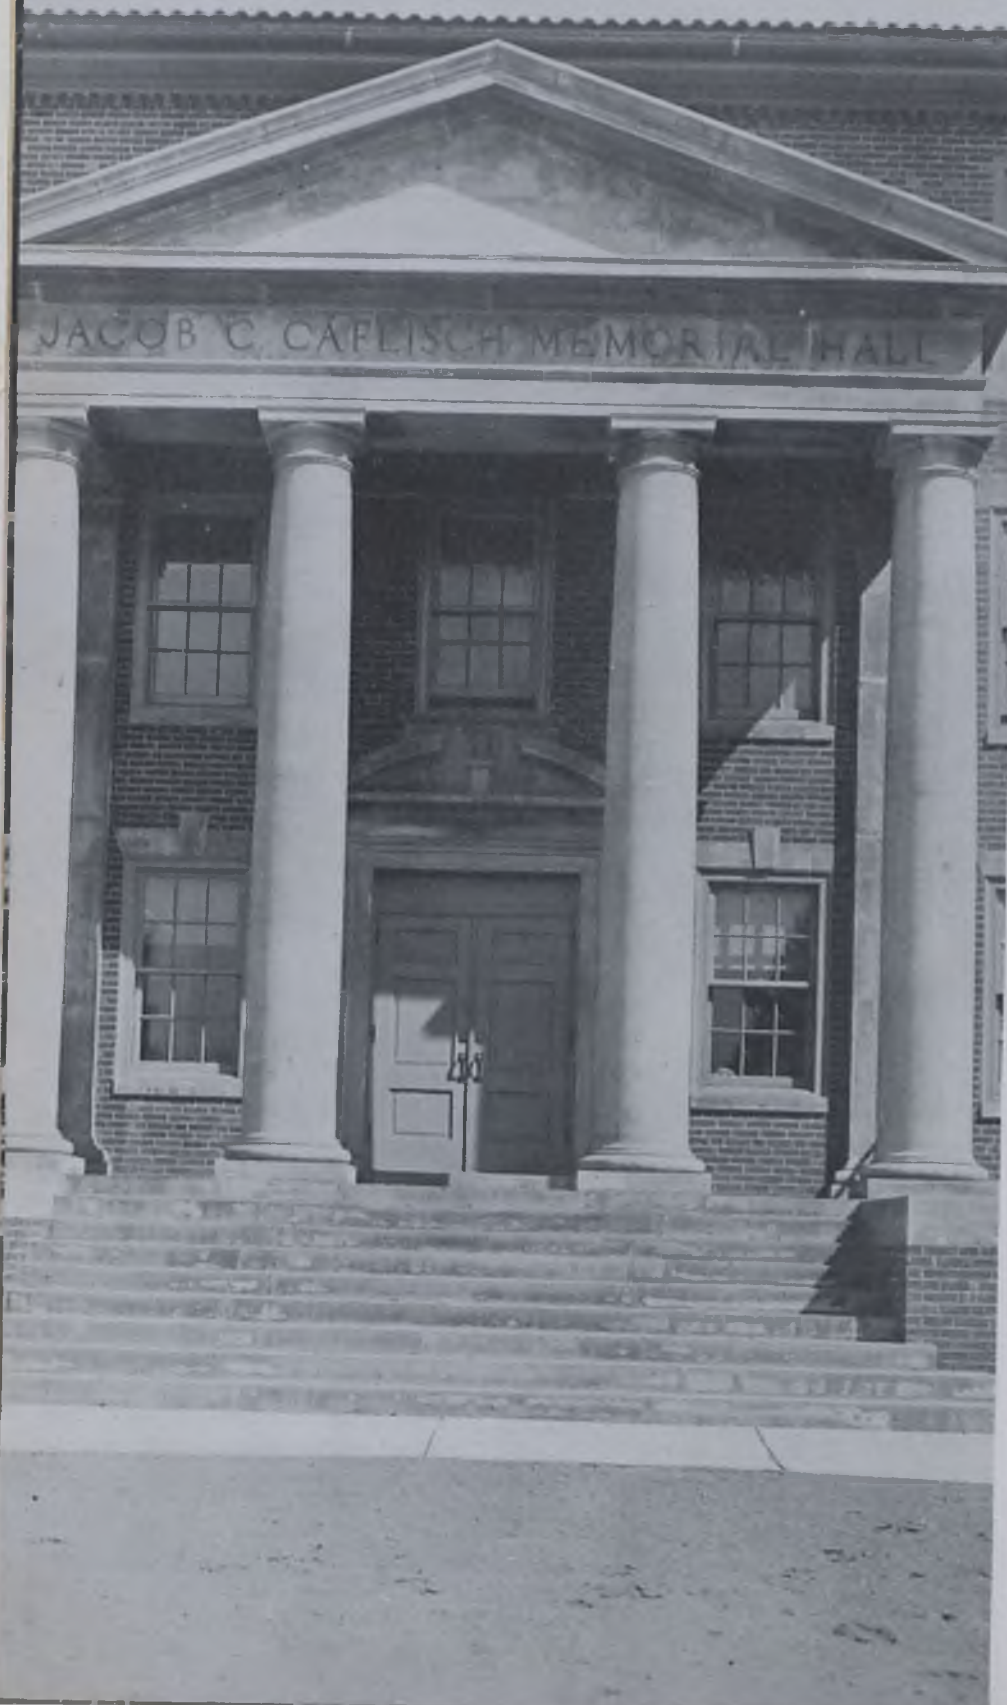

They tell us the opera in Cleveland was quite a hit. Munroe and Underwood looked bad for a week and Helfrich and Unversagt didn't look too good. Some of the professors didn't fare so badly, but then the opera is more or less old stuff to them.

We feel sure that we passed up a lot of you, but we'll get you yet. We still have the spring section to check up in.

Handwriting On The Wall

Spring is here with all its customary results. One is almost prone to refute those famous lines of "The Mikado" about "The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la have nothing to do with the case tra-la." Everything is connected with what happens. Well we must get down to work.

We find 12 pins in Hulings Hall and the same diamond. We may have missed a few fair damsels who are bound by the sacred bonds of a fraternity pin, but some cases were so dubious as to preclude the possibility of being included (nice sentence). Our purpose is to enumerate the ones concerned so we have excluded all who do not strut about openly with aforesaid insignia.

1. Bloom and Utley have an understanding and a pin.
2. Van Kirk and Davidson also have a pin.
3. Herr and Bates again have that pin.
4. Lois Gratz has a pin from a Pitt medical student. The pin must be lonesome over in the Hall.
5. Fritz still has Patterson's pin.
6. Of course Pat Henry has "Will" Smock, the clothier's, pin.
7. Staples has Hamilton's pin.
8. You can all guess this one—"Lovey and Dovey." Is any one else tired of this?
9. Smith has Moody's pin.
10. Klingler had Pore's pin when we started to write this, but it oscilates between them so fast we sometimes wonder.
11. Gardner has Greer's pin, we think we are right in this.
12. Cappe has Hershey's pin. That makes a round dozen and seems to wind up the pin affairs.

There are therefore: 5 Phi Gam pins, 3 Phi Psi, 1 Delt, 1 Chi Ro, 1 Sig and 1 Phi Delt pins in the Hall which seems to figure out well on the normal frequency curve. Conditions are just about normal.

The diamond if you didn't know it is Rowena Baker's and was a gift from Tom Gill.

Did you all notice we called the Bloom Utley affair in our last section. We think we will take W. W.'s place on Broadway for the mere quarter million he makes.

This boy Willard Conn is changing again. He seems to be going steadily with Janet Fleming. They tell us Willard has more than one pin out. How about it eh?

Not meaning to be repititious, but this is so delicious. Davidson carried Pore's pin back to him when Mary returned it. You see she has two. A plain one and a jeweled pin. Harry got the plain one himself.

We wonder why Koehler and Cobaugh never made the pin list. It seems strange that an affair lasting as long as that one should not culminate in a pin, if that culminates things.

This Lindsay girl seems to be the sweetheart of S. A. E. It doesn't seem to matter who it is just so he is one of the boys from the "big house".

The Glee Club trip to Pittsburgh was a great thing, but we didn't get many good stories out of it.

Edna May Bruggerman did return with Lauffenberger's socks in her grip. Well it's all in the same lodge anyhow.

"Bruggie" also fixed it up for her spring party while in Pittsburgh. It seems Allegheny's boys just aren't good enough or maybe they are too good.

Martha Bernard has the movie craze at least so far as Johnny Weismuller is concerned. Having seen "Tarzan, The Eight Ball," she remarked that Johnny could use the floor under her bed for a shoe rack any time he wanted to.

We just found the most popular man in school. W. Berger (Willard if you hadn't guessed.) He had 4 invitations to the Kappa party, 3 to the Theta and 3 to the Alpha Chi party. Why don't you girls get together and find out who you are taking?

Seen May 3 behind Arter Hall "Libby" Kirkland and Carl Borg. Still eligible for K. N. "Libby"?

Rumors (and idle ones too) assail our ears that Miss Sleeman better known as "Zep" likes "Dee" better than Ed. Well, comparisons look bad, but how well do you like Ed, Marion?

Can you beat this? "Duke" Wallace didn't make any of the spring parties this year. A "bid" to the Theta party is forthcoming, but he doesn't know it yet.

It seems Peg Robinson has settled down (I don't like that phrase) definitely to J. M. Underwood (Mr. Babe to you!) We wish you luck Peg.

Caroline Smith and Beighley both put that oil is to toil as love is to hate when answering the question on the Carnegie examination. It is easy to see what they think of.

Don Clark and Charlotte Merwin are through. It has been a long time, but everything ends. At present Clark is dating George Buckham (our nomination for the college widow) who is returning to her freshman "steady" (in the form of Bill Shaeffer) for her Spring party.

Mary Jane Anderson gets elevon o'clock permission more often now that she is on the student government. Speaking of student rackets, we know where we can "swipe" a good dog.

We nominate ourselves for oblivion. We are only saving time and trouble because you will do it for us anyhow (Really this is the funniest thing in here).

Look at the pictures of the Glee Club trip. Whitsett certainly is enjoying his trip. What ho! stevedore. There is nothing like a tenor for trunk carrying.

What's this we hear about Miss LeRoy? We just pointed out in Winter section how she disliked men and we hear she is seeing a man quite often.

For more oblivion we nominate Mrs. Woodward because she listens in on telephonic conversations in the Hall and consistently denies it.

The Sam Johnson and Kiebert affair is now a triangle. The third angle is Mary Agnes Miller. Will someone help Sam with his cosines?

Mary Wishart is making this column too frequently, but a columnist must correct his mistakes (not that Mary is one of them.) She (Mary) imported a date for her party and we were "booming" her affair with one Gilmore. Are we sorry!

Notice: The word affair as used here means steady company and is not used in the usual and bizarre sense of the word. Thangew too much.

I only wish we could have a nervous breakdown too, so someone could "sub" for us. Nothing like a rest now and then even if one has to be nervous to have it.

Seen In Our Wanderings

"Chuck" Stanton and "Kate" Miller (you guess which one) quite frequently seen together. Nice couple don't you think.

Wayne Hibbs and Betty Ashe. Well we ask you, isn't that just all right.

Serene and Kitty Roos make a nice pair and they agree with us. At least we see them together quite often.

Gloekler and Pringle the long and short of it. Our name for this pair is Ducky and Wucky if you like it it's yours we don't want it.

Goldsmith and "Oke". Seen quite often. Oh yes oftener than that and nearly always on the Rustic bridge. We hear Sally is importing for her Theta party. Oh, well it's the fashion this year.

Helen Morrow and Bill Ritts. Although we saw Helen out with Frank Butters (His middle name is Ellsworth) during leap-week, but then all the better girls date Frank so why not Helen. Think nothing of it, rest assured we forget it.

Ralph Stone and "Kay" Earnest are together a lot although most of you don't see them. Trust old snoop to give you straight "dope".

"Eddie" Kemble and "Betty" Blake seem to be hitting it off in a fine manner. We hope it continues to bloom as well as it budded.

"Chuck" Mills, who incidentally takes too long to think while playing bridge, is seen with Cleo. Duffield rather frequently.

This is our finale, our work is done
We hope we have not hurt you,
Really writing poetry is more fun,
But our idea, if clever, is not new.

We hope you will forgive a columnist gone mad
And coping with rhyme schemes and meter
'Twould be better if he used what he had
And left the results to the reader.
If years from now you want to know
Just who went with who and what and how
Pick up this book and read it slow
It will tell you as well then as now.

I have often witnessed a play in which awkward situations arose and, due to the clumsy conventions of the theatre, were solved or smoothed over in a rather amateurish way. I have devised a plan whereby certain difficulties might be alleviated. My idea is a common method of getting a character off-stage with the least amount of trouble. Some such arrangement as unpacking a bag or better still washing hands. I will give a play which demonstrates this principle. Just see how much simpler it is than the conventional type of play.

AT MRS. COARLAND'S DINNER

Characters:

Mrs. Coarland—A middle class matron.

Mr. Coarland—A genial host.

Louise Dithridge—A young woman who is liked by all.

Carl Swanson—A pleasant dinner guest.

George Abercrombie—An old rake.

Adele Lauthie—George's partner for the evening.

Butler and maid.

Setting:—Mrs. Coarland's formal parlor. As scene opens, Marie, the maid is puttering about in the parlor.

Marie: More guests tonight. Goodness, but the Mrs. certainly does put on the dog for these guests.

(Enter from the left Mrs. Coarland, dressed for evening.)

Mrs. Coarland: Marie, is everything ready for tonight? Are the chairs arranged as I said?

Marie: Yes mam.

Mrs. Coarland: Send James to me and then go wash your hands.

(Marie leaves the stage, right. We are thus rid of her very neatly and nicely.)

(Enter James from right.)

Mrs. Coarland: James.

(James stiffens perceptibly and faces Mrs. Coarland.)

Mrs. Coarland: James, there will be only four guests this evening. Admit them to this room and then announce dinner at seven o'clock.

James: Yes mam, is that all mam?

Mrs. Coarland: Yes, James. Now run off and wash your hands.

(Exit James to the left. A short interval during which Mrs. Coarland inspects the room. Then voices off-stage left, and James announces Louise, Carl, Mr. Abercrombie, and Adele. They enter and greet Mrs. Coarland.)

Louise: Hello, Charlotte, so glad to see you again.

Mrs. Coarland: Come in and sit down; we have a few minutes before dinner.

(Looks at Louise rather carefully then, looks again. Mr. Coarland enters.)

Mr. Coarland: Hello, everybody. Come have a cocktail, George and Carl.

Mrs. Coarland: Yes, you boys run off and wash your hands.

(Exit the three men to the right.)

Mrs. Coarland: Adele, don't you want to wash up before dinner? Exit Adele.

Mrs. Coarland: Louise, I wante dto tell you something. Your—

(Enter James, left.)

James: Miss Dithridge is wanted on the telephone.

(Louise rising and going out left. Soon returns and sits down.)

Mrs. Coarland: You have spilled something on your hands.

Louise: Oh, that fountain pen must leak.

Mrs. Coarland: Oh, just run up and wash them, darling, there is some good soap in the front bathroom.

Mrs. Coarland goes over and picks up the decanter. Looks at her hands which are stained.)

Mrs. Coarland: Oh, goodness, now I'll have to go and wash.

(Exit, left.)

The stage is now empty and we must draw the curtain. You see everyone is given an excuse to leave and the action is rather spirited. I think it's a good idea, don't you?
