Chivalry!

Our family code was what was called "helping the poor". There were always those in relation to the family from whom we felt responsibility. There were the class we called tramps - beggars we did not support. But the tramp was an institution in itself. As long as I can remember back in our home in Titusville the coffee pot in hard periods when men were out of work and took to the road, the coffee pot was kept on all the forenoon. There was bread and butter and doughnuts and anything extra left over from breakfast ready for anybody who applied at the back door. It was a theory in Titusville that while you fed the tramp you should for his own good make him work it out, that is you shouldn't allow him to be a beggar. There ~~was an idea~~ was an idea that if you had nothing else to do you should keep a pile of stones in the back yard and transfer it. My father would have none of that, but he agreed that you ought to

 It is always a question whether there is suddenly available to a new set of ideas - would have grasped them if placed with them. Any system of ideas must stand the test of actual application in some way as it is before it is worth more to the individual who has adopted it.

Coming out of my prison upbringing I had formulated a plan of life different from that which was given about me desired. It was my plan - I was not happy about it - because it was different - I was a little afraid as a matter of fact - I did not feel in the best position to live upon it - I was questioning - I simply was going to ask my way, I disagreed it - had an attitude - I am sure to earn my living - and it by

Of course I must not ^{forget} the fact that I have in the spring of 1854 - now he wanted a home - a homeland for after many migrations he had selected Iowa - largely because members of his family were already in the state.

Learning my father in the spring of 1857 he had made his way by train & water to South ~~early~~ Iowa - where he lived to the end seeing land He had worked 100.

no money meant no relief in Sutherland and 220 in the fall he started eastward in part to find a relief - He walked 180 miles before he succeeded, ~~at~~ in Illinois - at least the man commanded himself & there in the spring of 1859 he arrived - after incredible difficulties. The most trying long months of illness - the fever and pain.
