CONTRACT FOR ALLEGHENY'S NEW CHEMISTRY PLANT RECENTLY AWARDED

Ground Broken For the New Building Yesterday Afternoon=It is Expected that Mr. Andrew Carnegie will be Present for the Corner=Stone Laying Excerises in June

Announcement was made during the past week of the successful bidder for the contract for the new Carnegie Hall of Chemistry. The firm to whom the contract was awarded by the building committee of the Board of Trustees is Cutherbert Brothers, a well-known company of Pittsburgh. The building must be ready for occupancy by October 1, which will mean that work will be started at once and rushed as fast as possible through the summer months.

About two weeks ago the building committee received bids for the contract. Eight firms—two from Meadville, two from Erie, two from Pittsburgh, one from Philadelphia and one from New York—submitted bids and all proved satisfactory to the committee. Owing to a slight misunderstanding as to the equipment and furnishings included in the contrast, it was decided not to announce the successful bidders at once.

Mr. Henry D. Whitfield, the New York architect, was in the city at the time, having just completed the drawings and specifications to be sent to the contractors, and it was decided at the committee meeting that Mr. Whitfield should confer with the firm that seemed to have made the lowest bid. This is as far as the action of the meeting of the building committee of April 16 went.

Since this meeting Cutherbert Brothers, who had put in the lowest estimate, have been in communication with Architect Whitfield in accordance with the instructions of the building committee. When everything had been arranged, announcement was made through the newspapers that the contract had been awarded to the firm of Cutherbert Brothers of Pittsburgh.

The price of the contract is understood to be $40,253.50. In this amount is included most of the furnishings of the building; these will not be included in a special contract, as some of the accounts lead to believe. The original bid included the entire furnishings of the building, including everything, and provided for the expenditure of $44,545. The building committee decided to take out of the contract provision for some of the more central features of the furnishings, as, for example, the electricity system, and to put them under a special contract. Cutherbert Brothers, with this understanding, reduced their original bid of $44,545 to $40,253.50.

The special contract calling for bids on the installation of the electric system, etc., will be let in the near future.

There will not be, as seems to be current opinion, an amount equal to $10,000 saved on the building. President Crawford, in an interview, stated that the amount to be expended on the construction of the building, including the furnishings, will fall within the $50,000 appropriated for that purpose, but that practically all of it will be used up. In addition to the $40,253 for the contract, allowance to the extent of about $4.000 is made for architect's fees and contractor's contingencies, thus leaving about $6,000 for apparatus, etc., in the special contract.

Work is to be started immediately on the building. The contractors had men on the ground yesterday and the excavations were started. The formal breaking of the ground was in the hands of Alpha Chi Sigma, the honorary chemistry fraternity. A picture of the proceedings was taken and copies sent to Mr. Andrew Carnegie, chief donor of the building, whose name it bears, and to several of the newspapers.

Everything is to be in readiness to lay the corner stone on June 23, when Mr. Carnegie will be here to officiate. The contractors will have a large corps of workmen on the ground for the next few weeks and there is little doubt but that the time specifications will be met with ease.

GIRLS GLEE CLUB GIVES SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Large Audience Present to Hear the Annual Concert.

The Allegheny Girls' Glee Club gave one of the most successful concerts in the history of its organization last Thursday evening in Ford Chapel in the first appearance of the club this year. This musical club has given a concert annually before college audiences for several years, but it is safe to say that in point of finish and artistic interpretation of the work presented, none of the concerts has been more successful than the one this year.

The personnel of the club is made up of twenty-five voices under the leadership of Miss Alice Hawkey, '16, and these with the assistance of Mrs. Helen DeArment Minium, a well-known soloist of Meadville, and an orchestra of five violins and piano, presented the program of the evening. The club has been under the direction of Miss Mary Thorpe Graham, of the Pennsylvania College of Music, and her work in directing the girls' voices added much to the success of the evening.

The main number of the program was a cantata for women's voices, "Three Springs," by Bliss, in seven parts and including three soprano solos. The various parts, The Three Springs, The Pool, The Brook, The Three Little Falls, Midday on the River, The Great Waterfall, and the Finale, were all admirably rendered with especially pleasing interpretation in the different characters of the numbers. The solos were well sung by Miss Bessie Preston, '17, Miss Adelaide Singley, '18, and Miss Florence Downing, '16.

Mrs. Minium was not a new artist to a college audience where her work has always found a very appreciative reception, and her singing Thursday evening was up to her usual pleasing standard. She appeared in three numbers, two of them being group numbers, and each one of them was enthusiastically encored by her audience. Her first number, "Welcome, Sweet Spring," by Cadman, was especially good.

A violin duet by Miss Esther Emery, '18, and Miss Arline McKinney, '15, and a violin solo by Miss Edith Sutton, '15, were both well received. The work of Miss Pearl Mondereau, '18, who accompanied the Glee Club, was good and deserves especial mention.

ORATORICAL ASSOCIATION PLACED ON A NEW BASIS

Whole Student Body Votes to Accord Financial Support.

Assembly morning last Friday in chapel was given over to the Oratorical Association. A matter of considerable interest to the student body and of very great importance to the association was brought up and carried to a successful finish. By this action of the Assembly, the oratorical and debating interests of the college are put on a permanent financial basis which will enable student activity in these lines to assume the proportions that they really deserve. The measure passed was a motion to add twenty-five cents to the term's tuition of each Allegheny student for the support of the Oratorical Association just as the fee for the Athletic Association is collected. This will put a department of the school which is itself very valuable in training and as distinctively a student department as athletics on as independent and firm a footing as athletics have been placed by the vote of the students themselves.

The meeting on Friday was in charge of W. J. Armstrong, Jr., '16, president of the association. He outlined briefly what the oratorical committee wished to bring before the student assembly and announced the final plan to make every student a member of the association. This membership will entitle every one to vote in the spring election of officers of the association, and will ensure financial support to the activities of the association during the year.

Professor Swartley was called on to tell just why such support was needed and in what way the proposed system would keep the men active in debate and oratory. He said that the activity of the debaters had been considerably hampered this year and in former years by not being able to purchase the reference books necessary for the working up of the debates. He also said that more money was needed to send an alternate with each debating team that goes away from home, and also to procure better judges for our home debates. At present the association is limited in selecting judges to the business men and friends of the college in nearby cities, whereas if the present system were adopted, professors from larger schools, who are interested and experienced in debate preparation, could be procured for the home contests.

Miss Rial, '16, was called on to give the girls' point of view in regard to the matter. In a very clever and enthusiastic talk she showed that oratorical interests were fully as important as athletics and that if the girls were willing to pay three dollars a year to have their voices trained by the cheer leader at athletic events, they ought to be willing to pay fifty cents a year to have their minds trained in oratorical and debating contests.

H. S. Taylor, '15, also spoke in enthusiastic support of the proposed system from the standpoint of the men of the student body. After these speeches, Professor Swartley presided and recognized J. E. Burns, '16, who made the motion that the Board of Trustees be requested to add twenty-five cents each semester to every student's tuition fee for the support of oratory and debate at Allegheny. The vote was almost unanimous in favor of the motion.

In speaking of the matter Professor Swartley says:

"The action taken by the students on last Friday marks a most important advance for the Oratorical Association. Debate and oratory at Allegheny are now virtually upon the same basis that they are in the majority of our best colleges and universities. Up to the present time the association has been continually hampered by lack of money with which

APRIL LITERARY MONTHLY REVIEWED

April Number of The Lit Has Many Well Written Contributions.

The April number of the Literary Monthly has made its appearance this week and is especially interesting in the war spirit that permeates the entire number. In fact, three of the four larger articles are based directly on the war atmosphere, varying in setting from Ireland to Italy and Belgium. One is a one act playlet by E. W. Hickman, another a two part serial by Helen R. Adams, '16, and the third an Italian story in the nature of a historical sketch.

The magazine is opened by a poem by Miss Elizabeth Best, '16, a short verse in a peculiarly vivid atmosphere, with especially well chosen phrases in color and realism that adds greatly to the effect of the whole.

Miss Best's Italian story follows next. It is a very unusual work, short but well told and features a phase of modern life influenced by the great war that is absolutely new in the pages of the "Lit." A note of explanation tells the purpose of the Misericordia, an Italian benevolent society that features in the story. The members of this society care for the sick and bury the dead, obeying the orders of the unknown head implicitly, whether the order be to a man of high or low rank. It is in a mission of this kind that the characters of the story are engaged in the episode told here. The title is "Ognun per Se e Dio per Tutti," "Every man for himself and God for All."

"The Iron Cross," a modern war play in one act, by E. W. Hickman, '16, pictures the life of a peasant family on the border line between Holland and Belgium. The action of the plot is fast and well handled by the various characters of the play.

A short verse by J. C. Weaver, '17, entitled "The Divine Circle," follows, a simple poem with love as the dominating theme, comprising in itself a circle which reaches through all the walks of life back to God himself.

"The Other Hero," by Miss Helen Adams, '16, is the third of the war-time stories. With the scene laid in Ireland and the atmosphere that of the Irishman discussing the war from his point of view, the author has woven a delightful story, fresh and amusing in style and content.

A new feature in this number is "The Chronicles of Mary Ellen," being extracts from a small girl's diary. The author remains anonymous, although she belongs to the Senior Class. The part appearing in this month's "Lit" is very enjoyable and reads as though it might have been a real chapter in the author's life.

The editorial is a very clever argument for support of college publications. The medium the editor has chosen by which to make the appeal is strikingly new and is a very strong way of dealing with a common college question.

Potpourri includes a clever parody-playlet entitled "George and the Flag." The author is signed "1915," but it is not hard to read between the lines the personality of a well-known and clever Allegheny writer.

Book Talks department is given over to a review by J. C. Weaver, '17, of "The Street of Seven Stars," by Mary Roberts Rinehart. The review is well written and tells in an interesting way of an interesting modern novel.

The Y. W. C. A. service on Wednesday evening was given over to an Eaglesmere rally, which was presented in the form of a play given by Mrs. J. P. Trickey, Miss Marie Howell, '15, Miss Margaret Simpson, '15, Miss Ruth Nebinger, '15, Miss Jeanette Robinson, '15, Miss Martha Kelley, '16, and Miss Hazel Ross, '16, who attended the conference at Eaglesmere last summer. Several scenes taken from every-day life at Eaglesmere during the conference week were shown.

ANNUAL INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET TO BE HELD SOON

Many Secondary School Athletes Have Entered the Competition.

The Annual Interscholastic Track Meet scheduled for Montgomery Field, one week from Saturday, bids fair to surpass all former meets of this character in every respect. Manager Hutchinson, '15, is constantly receiving entries from all the high schools and preparatory schools of this section of the country. Already five more schools have signified their intention of entering than appeared last year. Its success is more than assured.

This annual track meet is looked forward to as the most important event of the year in high school athletics. Entries are made from the schools of New York, Ohio, and Pennsylvania, as far south as Pittsburgh. New interest is added this year by the participation of a number of preparatory schools.

A feature of this year's meet will be the presentation of special Centennial medals to the winners. A description of these medals, which have already been received, will appear in the next issue of The Campus.

As usual the preliminary events will be run off in the morning and the finals in the afternoon. The admission for the morning will be 15 cents; for the afternoon 25 cents; or 35 cents for the whole day. This meet always draws great crowds, not only from Meadville, but from all of the neighboring towns, which send teams. Erie is expected, as usual, to send a big delegation.

MISS IDA M. TARBELL, '80, AN ELECTOR, THE HALL OF FAME

Distinguished Honor Conferred Upon Well Known Author.

Announcement was made on April 28th of the new electors chosen for the quinquennial election of famous Americans to the Hall of Fame for Great Americans on University Heights, New York. Twenty vacancies in the electorate of a hundred were filled, one of the new electors being Miss Ida M. Tarbell, '80, Allegheny's most famous alumna.

Among those chosen to serve with Miss Tarbell are President Hibben of Princeton, Alexander Graham Bell, Col. Geo. Goethals, Justice Hughes, Justice Day, William H. Taft, Walter Hines Page, Henry VanDyke, Champ Clark, John Wanamaker, Elbert H. Gary, ex-Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, Oscar S. Straus, and others almost equally noted. Miss Tarbell is one of two women named.

Frederic Bright, '10, principal of schools at Ambridge, Pa., was a Meadville visitor over Sunday.

Miss Mary Barkley, '15, conducted the Y. W. C. A. meeting Sunday evening. The topic was "Gardening—Does It Pay?" A special feature of the meeting was a vocal solo by Miss Bessie Preston, '17.

The members of the Commons Club entertained their friends at a "house warming" party in their new club house, on North Main Street, Friday evening. During the evening several selections on the piano were given by George Mulfinger, Jr. Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Mulfinger were the chaperons.

The active members of Alpha Chi Omega gave a delightful dinner party for their friends at the Riverside Hotel at Cambridge Springs Friday evening. The party left at six o'clock on a special car and returned at eleven o'clock. Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Akers and Professor and Mrs. J. P. Trickey and Miss Merchant were the chaperons.

MAY 4, 1915.

It is not the privilege of every college generation to witness the ground breaking ceremonies for a new college biulding, as we have had the pleasure to do on last Monday. May the progress and completion of the beautiful building be attended by circumstances as propitious as those at the ground breaking!

Carnegie Hall of Science.

In the hearts of the Senior Class there was regret mingled with satisfaction while the ceremonies were going on,—regret that the joy of working in the beautiful rooms of the new edifice and making use of its superb equipment shall be denied them; satisfaction that those coming after them shall have these privileges and that it shall all redound to the success and glory of their alma mater.

With the Oratorical Association now placed on a sound financial basis, every student contributing toward its maintenance, another step forward along this line has been taken, which is only in keeping with the progress made in other departments of college life. Oratory and debate have long suffered from a lack of both financial and personal support on the part of the student body. With the adoption of the budget system for oratory and debate, we may expect a renewed interest, a rebirth, as it were, of the old spirit of enthusiasm in and devotion to forensic activities which was exhibited by students a generation ago. It is conceded by most critics of our college activities that the thing most needed in our college life at this time is just such a revival of interest in debate and oratory. Alumni returning after years of absence always seem to regret that what they regarded as one of the essentials of their college training is now considered of minor importance. May the enthusiasm engendered on last Friday morning not be ephemeral, but may it continue for years to come until we have reached the high standards of enthusiasm for debate and oratory that former students used to boast of. May we realize, as they did, that practice in oratory and debate are fully as valuable an asset for practical life in almost every calling as the knowledge and accomplishments which we have obtained in the class room and in other college activities.

Oratorical Progress.

Campus competition for this year closes with the issue of May 18th. It is hoped that the new staff will be announced the week following. The competition submitted by the members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes has not made the Centennial year an epoch making one in the newspaper life of the college, as we had hoped. There has been no increased interest; in fact, the interest shown heretofore has not even been equalled. At the present time, consequently, we find very few members of the two under classes competing in the real sense of the word. Consistency and accuracy are qualities essential to success in competition. If any members of these two classes can convince the judges that they have these qualities, providing they have done some work throughout the year, their chances for securing a place on the staff for next year are very good.

DUTTON—UTLEY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Christ Episcopal Church at two o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, May 1, when Miss Bessie May Dutton, '04, of this city and Mr. Joseph C. Utley of Greenville were united in marriage by the Rev. Arthur Seiter. in the presence of a number of invited

Before the ceremony the organist played Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose;" and during the playing of the Lohengrin Wedding March, the wedding party assembled at the chancel, Mr. Utley and the best man, Mr. Howard K. Hartsuff, coming from the vestry, while the bride on the arm of Dr. W. H. Crawford, and preceded by her attendant, Miss Helen Anderson of Meadville, approached from the rear of the church. The familiar and impressive ring service was used, and the bride was given away by Doctor Crawford.

Miss Dutton was dressed entirely in white, with a long veil and train, and carried a boquet of white roses. Miss Anderson wore a dress of white lace and yellow satin and carried a boquet of yellow daisies.

After the ceremony a reception was held from 3:00 to 5:30 at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. T. Dutton, on Locust street. The house was attractively decorated with flowers in white and yellow, and dainty refreshments were served in which the same color scheme was carried out.

Among the guests were relatives and friends both from Meadville and out of town, the members of the Allegheny College faculty with their wives, the local chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta, of which Mrs. Utley is a member, and the senior men who had taken engineering under the late Professor William T. Dutton.

The out-of-town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Howard K. Hartsuff, Wampum, Pa.; Mr. Charles P. Utley, father of the bridegroom, Elmira, N. Y.; Mr. H. C. Utley, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Henry Sneider, Erie; Mrs. Robert S. Breed, Geneva, N. Y.; Miss Belle Limber, Geneva, Ohio; and Miss Hattie Spencer, Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Utley received a large number of beautiful wedding gifts in linen, silver, and cut glass. Mr. Utley is a graduate of Lehigh University, and Mrs. Utley of Allegheny College, class of 1904.

The bride and groom departed on the 5:30 train Saturday and after their wedding trip will be at home in Greenville, Pa.

COLLEGIATE ANTI-MILITARISM LEAGUE RECENTLY FORMED

The Collegiate Anti-Militarism League, which was formed recently among the students at Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton and other colleges to combat the activities of such organizations as the American Legion and the National Security League, is undertaking an investigation to discover the exact strength of the militaristic spirit among college men.

Two hundred letters are being sent to the editors of college dailies, to find their attitude towards summer training camps, military drills and lectures on military tactics. The letters say in part: "An agitation for military service has been started by the National Security League. It is our belief that such a movement is unnecessary and to the highest degree vicious. Its advocates may declare they are opposed to militarism yet they are really fostering its spread. The proposal strikes all college men very close to home. We desire to get your opinion on this subject as we wish to publish a symposium of student opinion on military camps, drills and lectures."

Eight hundred letters are being sent to instructors and professors in colleges and universities to gauge their personal inclinations as to increased armaments and a larger army, recruited among college students. Blanks are also being sent to four hundred colleges, including every state in the Union, for the purpose of obtaining an actual poll of the students themselves. Each institution is provided with a list of questions to be submitted to individuals.

The Collegiate Anti-Militarism League professes a belief that the trend of undergraduate thought is against the growth of militarism, and will publish the returns as an answer to the arguments of the American Legion and the National Security League. The officers of the League are Karl G. Karsten, president, Columbia; Arthur Fisher, vice-president, Harvard; John Temple Graves, Jr., secretary, Princeton; A. L. Trachtenberg, treasurer, Yale.

"TO ALMA MATER,"
A POEM BY AN ALUMNUS.

[Editor's Note.—Allegheny's Centennial has inspired many of the alumni to write words of praise. The following verses have been contributed anonymously by one who is well known to the present generation of Alleghenians.]

To Alma Mater.

Far across the widening track of time,
From thy high throne that crowns our sacred hill,
Like a deep and low religious chime
That on the loyal heart strikes a thrill,
Comes thy call to homage and communion,—
Thy scattered sons and daughters to reunion.

To thee, O Mighty Mother, most tender and most dear,
High thy children raise adoring hands;
While from echo to re-echo sounds their cheer,
As up they rise from many lands,
And to the music of thy praise and song
A countless pilgrimage, to thy worship throng.

Forgive, O Mighty Mother—Carissima—
If I like a drowsy worshipper hang my head
And join not in the paean of thy praise.
Forgive—if, as cloyed with heavy lead
Of hate or fear, my feet seek not thy shrine,
And seem to spurn the blessing that might be mine.

For, O Mother, fain would I heed thy call,
Fain would I climb again thy hill,
And see once more thy pines, guarding and tall,
And linger beside the dark ravine with its trickling rill—
But the world says No! A world that loves not me,
A world, O Mighty Mother, that knows not thee.

O dearest Mother! in youth my guide,
Epitome in mossy brick and ivied stone
Of all ideals that life has glorified,
Believe, though exiled, far from thee I roam,
Of all thy sons that come from west or east,
My love for thee is surely—not the least.

About thy brow I'd help to twine the wreath,
Symbol of thy virtues through a century's duration.
Upon thy great altar, thy green and gentle heath
I'd pour to thy eternal worth a rich libation.
Winds of the morning, breath of the night,
Carry for me, this message in thy flight.
—By one who would gladly return but cannot.

Y. M. C. A. CABINET ENJOYS BANQUET IN COCHRAN HALL.

This year's Y. M. C. A. cabinet banquetted last year's at Cochran Hall last Thursday evening. Covers were laid for nineteen, of which six were members of last year's cabinet, but not of the new one, eight of last year's and this year's cabinets, and six new men. After the dinner provided by Steward Klingensmith, President Burns, '16, called upon the six men who are retiring from active college Y. M. C. A. work for short talks. Each had some valuable bit of advice to give to the new cabinet.

The W. C. T. U. of Kentucky has offered a prize of $25 for the best illustrated poster made by a college student. Any college student is eligible.

ALLEGHENY LOSES FIRST GAME AWAY FROM HOME

Duquesne Defeats Allegheny By 11 to 5 Score—Many Errors.

Captain Campman's baseball team took a decided fall from grace last Wednesday afternoon when they allowed the Duquesne University nine to trot off with the long end of a 11-5 contest. The Gold and Blue showed an absolute reversal of the form that they exhibited on Montgomery Field the Saturday before when they took over the much-touted Pitt team.

It requires but one glance at the error column to show the reason for this defeat from a comparatively weak team. No less than 10 boots, fumbles and bad throws are chalked up against Allegheny and every man who touched his hand to the ball, except E. Gilbert in center and Drake catching, bungled at least once. Duquesne likewise sinned often, making six errors in all, but theirs did not come at such inopportune times. A large number of Allegheny's errors figured directly in the score column.

Allegheny has a sort of an alibi in the weather conditions. The field was in bad condition from rainy weather for several days previous and the whole game was played in a steady rain. As a result the ball was naturally hard to handle, but it is doubtful whether this fact can excuse the majority of the errors.

In hitting and pitching Allegheny did hold up their work to the standard set in the Pitt game. The Gold and Blue is credited with nine hits as against their opponents' six. C. Gilbert contributed three hits, keeping up his good batting average. Townsend also found the ball three times, one of them being for two bases. E. Gilbert was responsible for two hits and Drake for the ninth.

Brookmire pitched another strong game and deserved to win. Beyond question, with the proper support he would have been able to bring Allegheny a second victory. In only one inning was his delivery touched up to any extent, that one being the third when Duquesne scored six of their eleven runs. Duquesne found him for only six hits in the nine innings, were forced to fan eight times and received three passes.

Another member of the team who is deserving of mention is Townsend, who played an exceptionally fine game at second. He fielded nine chances with but one error. When it is borne in mind that the ground about his sack was in especially bad condition thus forcing him a number of times to stop the ball with his body, his record stands out all the more brilliantly. Townsend was equally strong on the offense. Three hits and two of the five runs were his contribution.

Both teams ran wild on the bases. In all there were nine pilfered sacks, three of which stand to Allegheny's credit and six to Duquesne's. Neither Mellon nor Drake, who relieved him, seemed to be able to stop the procession around the bases. Each team had five men left on bases.

Drake played a good game after he took Mellon's place catching. He got on base twice and both times deposited runs at the plate. His speed on the bases enabled him to steal once.

Duquesne put up a good game against Allegheny. While they made few hits, they made what they had count and these hits coupled with Allegheny's errors gave them a comparatively easy victory. Three men stand out prominently for the Pittsburghers. Capt. Harenski engaged in a pitching duel with Brookmire and honors were about even. The Buffs hit Brookmire more often than the Gold and Blue did Harenski, but they managed to hit safely less often. Harenski forced nine Alleghenians to retire on strikes and issued but a single pass. He hit one man—Robinson.

Sweeney performed well at the first sack. He accepted all of his eleven chances without an error. Tracey bungled only one of his nine hard chances at second. Duquesne pulled off three double plays that helped at crucial moments. Two were Tracey to Sweeney and the other Harenski to McClorey to Sweeney. Allegheny made one double—Robinson to Shenefelt.

PITT WEEKLY'S COMMENT ON ALLEGHENY-PITT GAME

Commenting on Allegheny's victory over the University of Pittsburgh baseball team a short time ago, the Pitt Weekly has the following to say:

"Saturday the Gold and Blue nine lost to the Allegheny team by the close score of 2-1. Most of the credit of the winning of the game goes to the Allegheny pitcher who was in fine form and practically invincible. Pitt only hit safely four times. Peck poled out a triple and Dillon secured a double. Hastings and DeHart were the other two men to hit. Allegheny played errorless ball and batted well. With the class of ball that Brookmire was pitching the two tallies that the Meadville boys secured were enough to put the game on ice. The boys clearly showed that they suffered from over-confidence and they will have to show more than they did Saturday if they expect to make any kind of a showing on their eastern trip.

"The next time Pitt sends any kind of a team against Allegheny, we hope they keep their fingers crossed. This Meadville jinx is getting to be something else than funny; its an odd sense of humor that can appreciate that 2-1 blow last Saturday. Still, as Mrs. Noah said to her husband, 'The rain may be a good thing for the crops'."

MOVING-UP DAY EXERCISES TO BE HELD ON MAY 25TH

May 25 has been selected for Moving-Up Day, the big student holiday. As usual classes will be suspended and the day will be given over to celebration by the students.

The two big things in connection with the holiday will be the chapel exercises and the parade. In the Chapel each class, through a representative, will ask the class above for their seats. The class petitioned will respond through a speaker, granting the request. The Senior and Freshman classes will each have one speaker, and the Juniors and the Sophomores two. These speeches are always filled with jokes, clever "knocks" and reviews of the class history, especially those parts that deal with their victories over other classes.

The parade is undoubtedly the most amusing part of the day's program. Ordinarily it forms line in front of the Chapel, at about 11 o'clock, and then marches through the town, returning about noon. In the parade are to be seen all sorts of wonders—Adam and Eve restored to life, missionaries, cannibals, Gold Dust twins, Indians and desperadoes of all kinds.

Each class and each fraternity is expected to provide at least one stunt in the parade. Plans are under way now to make this parade the biggest ever. Within the next week or ten days the classes will be expected to elect their representatives for the Chapel exercises and to start preparations for their stunts. More notice will appear in a later issue of The Campus concerning this big day.

Two students at the University of Kansas are working their way through college by catching frogs and turtles and selling them to the university.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT NOW CENTER OF INTEREST.

Easily the center of interest this week has been the tennis tournament. The continued good weather has made it possible to play off a number of matches, which have been well attended and followed with close interest. This week should see the contestants pretty well lined up according to their ability.

The drawings were made last Monday and their appearance on the bulletin board in Bentley on Tuesday was the signal for a great number of challenges. During Wednesday alone no less than thirteen matches were played off. At least twenty-five have been played off since, so that there is little question but that the number played last year will be reached, if not surpassed, this year.

The tournament shows a strange contradiction this year. In spite of the fact that there are but 36 entered as against over 50 last year, the interest manifested is by far more general. Practically every match, at least in Class A, has been watched by a band of appreciative enthusiasts, and the brand of tennis exhibited is exceptionally high. The reason for this is the fact that with but one or two exceptions all of the men who were close contestants for places on the team last year are out again this year. In addition to these a good deal of fine material has entered from the Freshman class, foremost among them being the Castle brothers, Bianchi, and Hutchison. All of these are proving themselves real Class A men.

The Castles are working their way rapidly toward the top. J. Castle, the better singles player, drew second place, immediately challenged and defeated W. J. Hutchinson, '18, in first place, and has held that place so far against his one challenger, Doane, in number three. H. Castle has moved from number 13 to number eight. W. A. Brownell, '16, has moved from number nine to five. These are about all of the important gains made during the week. Class A now reads as follows:

1. J. Castle, '18.
2. W. J. Hutchinson, '18.
3. Doane, '17.
4. Cox, '16.
5. W. A. Brownell, '16.
6. Arnold, '16.
7. H. B. Kahle, '17. . .
8. H. Castle, '18.
9. Bash, '16.
10. H. F. Brownell, '15.
11. Bianchi, '18.
12. Dunbar, '15.
13. Ricker, '15.
14. Holmes, '18.

The tight playing isn't alone confined to Class A. Some close matches are being fought in Class B. Wiley, '18, ousted Reider, '17, from first place and is now defending his position there. Phillips has crossed over from Class D, especially created this year, to Class C.

The rules followed are those used in tournaments of other years. Any man is privileged to challenge and play either the man directly above, or two above him, provided that neither man has another match already scheduled. The challenger furnishes the balls and the challenged chooses the court. Arrangements for the playing off of the match are expected to be made as soon as possible. Three days, counting the one on which the match is made, are allotted for the playing off of the match, due allowance being made for bad weather. If the match is not played in this time, the party responsible must forfeit. The results must be posted within six hours of the time played or the match is considered not played. If the challenger wins, he moves up into the challenged's place in the list, the latter taking the former's place. If he fails to win, no change is made. The first two men in Class A become members of the team.

The drawings for doubles were made yesterday by Coach Hammett. The positions in Class A are:

1. Brownell and Brownell.
2. Holmes and Hutchison.
3. Cox and Arnold.
4. Dunbar and Bianchi.
5. Bash and Doane.

3. Doane, '17.
4. Cox, '16.
5. H. B. Kahle, '17.
6. Bash, '16.
8. Arnold, '15.
9. W. A. Brownell, '16.
10. D. M. Dunbar, '15.
11. Bianchi, '18.
12. Ricker, '15.
13. H. L. Castle, '18.

BASEBALL TEAM TO MEET EDINBORO AND BUFFALO UNIV.

Allegheny will play two baseball games away from home this week when she meets Edinboro State Normal at Edinboro tomorrow afternoon, and the University of Buffalo at Buffalo Friday afternoon. These will be the third and fourth games, respectively, of the season.

After the game with Duquesne last week the team has been working consistently every afternoon. Aey, '16, has done especially good work in practice games and in all probability he will start the Edinboro game tomorrow.

One or two other positions on the team are still unsettled definitely. Drake, '17, has decided to devote his efforts entirely to track and this will remove him from the baseball squad where he was doing good work as sub-catcher.

'VARSITY AND SCRUBS ENGAGE IN PRACTICE GAME.

Owing to the fact that there was no base ball game scheduled for Saturday, a five-inning practice contest was played, which resulted in a victory for the 'varsity by the score of 2-0. Aey, '16, who was on the mound for the Scrubs, had his curves breaking in fine form, and demonstrated his right to pitch against Edinboro tomorrow. Six hits, at least two of which were of a "scratch" variety, were gleaned from his delivery, while not a man received free passage to first by the four-ball route.

The scoring of the first string men was done in the fourth frame. E. Gilbert led off with a three-base hit to center, and after Campman had struck out, scored on Shenefelt's single to left. Shenefelt stole two bases, and scored when Wilber threw wild to the plate.

CARNEGIE TECH TO MEET GOLD AND BLUE

The first of the two intercollegiate track meets scheduled for this year will take place next Saturday at Schenley Oval, Pittsburgh, with Carnegie Tech as the opponent. This school has been met in dual meets for the past two years, a victory resulting in 1913 and a defeat last spring. The Plaid team is reputed to be fully as strong this years as last season, and the coming event is being looked forward to with much interest. The strength of the downstate institution is principally in the sprints, the distance runs and the pole vault, but Coach Hammett believes that he has an organization collected which should give them a hard run for their money in these as well as in the other events.

For some time past tryouts have been held for the purpose of selecting the team to make the trip. Last Tuesday the 100-yard dash trial was run off with five entries, and resulted in a victory for Kinney, '18, with Drake, '17, second. The 440-yard run took place on Thursday with McKinney, '17, and Witter, '17, the only entrants, the former winning. The same afternoon the mile race was held, and was won by Ling, '16, R. F. Kahle, '17, being second, Shryock, '17, third, and Powell, '17, fourth. The points from these two last events are added to the Indoor Meet totals, and so make the scores as follows: 1916, 32½; 1917, 30; 1915, 22½; 1918, 10. The results of the 880-yard and two-mile runs will also be added to this to determine the Winter Meet champions. A tryout for the hammer throw took place yesterday with Dotterrer, '15, Coulson, '18, and Curry, '16, as candidates.

The selection of the team to go to Pittsburgh will largely depend on these tryouts. Drake and Kinney will run in the short dashes, with a possibility of Captain Fahr, '15, being in the 220. Fahr and Drake are the pick of the quarter milers, and McKinney, '17, and Ellis, '17, of the half-milers. Ling and Kahle are best in the mile, while one man will be taken from Powell, '17, Curtis, '17, Phillips, '18, and Shryock, '17, to run the two-mile. Fahr, '15, and Long, '15, are hard men to beat in the hurdles. McKay, '16, and Kramer, '16, will take care of both the high and broad jumps, while Tarr, '17, and Powell, '17, will be seen in the pole vault. The weights will be handled by Dotterrer, '15, Coulson, '18, and Kramer, '16.

W. A. BROWNELL, '16, ELECTED ASSISTANT TENNIS MANAGER

As the result of the athletic election held in Bentley Hall last Thursday morning, W. A. Brownell, '16, was elected assistant tennis manager and will automatically become manager next year.

The vote polled was rather large considering the fact that the election was a special one and had not been given the usual amount of advertisement and publicity. Hereafter the election of the assistant tennis manager will be a part of the regular spring election. This year, owing to the lateness of the amendment to the constitution of the Athletic Association, this election could not be held at the regular time. It is the part of the assistant manager of tennis to take charge of the tournament which picks the college team, and W. A. Brownell has now assumed this duty.

GIRLS ELECT OFFICERS OF ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The annual election of the members of the Girls' Athletic Board for 1915-1916 was held Friday noon. The results were as follows: President, Marguerite Beatty, '16; vice-president, Ethel Roach, '16; secretary, Helen Baum, '18; treasurer, Eva English, '18; assistant basketball manager, Hildur Johnson, '17; assistant tennis manager, Olive Dowdell, '18.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM PRESENTED WITH A'S.

Tuesday evening, Miss Harriet Basset, '15, as president of the Athletic Association, presented block A's, which were earned during the basket ball season, to the following girls: Captain Mildred Hazen, 17; Manager Marie Jones, '15; Louise Gould, '15, Jeanette Robinson, '15, Hildur Johnson, '17, and Marie Olson, '18.

The Journal is a very expensive one and especially valuable in the work in Chemistry.

A book entitled "Religion and Drink" has been received as a gift from the author, the Rev. E. A. Wasson, rector of St. Stephen's church of Newark, N. J. A number of biological pamphlets have been received from the University of Indiana, and a copy of the "Industrial Magazine of Meadville" has been placed in the Library. This latter publication is a very attractive magazine published in 1912 by E. H. Norris, of Meadville, father of Miss Evelyn Norris, '15. It is a Meadville "booster" number and figures a number of Allegheny alumni prominent in the business affairs of the town.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Mr. Walter M. Small, '11, recently sent some fine invertebrate fossils for the college collection from Coleman, Texas. Mr. Small's home is in Tulsa, Okla., but he is doing geological work, and is temporarily in Texas.

In writing of his work to Professor Decker, Mr. Small says: "It is a wonderful work and fascinates me beyond anything else. It is school, occupation, travel and recreation all combined." And of the college, he says: "I must keep up my interest and not become a dead one yet awhile. She's been a good alma mater to me."

GERMAN CLUB ENTERTAINED BY DR. AND MRS. MULFINGER

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Mulfinger entertained the German Club at their home on Loomis Street last Tuesday evening. A large and appreciative number of the members of the club were present. After the singing of a number of German songs by the club, Dr. F. G. Henke delivered a short address on "The Contribution of Germany to the Theory of Education." Dr. Henke's talk was exceedingly interesting as well as educative.

Miss Anna Rosalie Bork rendered in her pleasing manner several German songs. She was accompained on the piano by Master George Mulfinger, who also played a number of piano solos. Mr. Fahr gave a little talk in German, expressive of his enjoyment of the evening and his hearty endorsement of what Dr. Henke had said concerning the German educative system. Light refreshments were served.

EXAMINATIONS TO START ON JUNE 1—ONLY IN THE MORNING

Examinations for the second semester are to begin on the first day of June. This much has been definitely decided upon. The schedule will not, however, be ready for publication for a few weeks, when as usual, it will appear in The Campus.

As arranged at present, no examinations will be given in the afternon but all will be given in the morning. This year there will not be as great an effort made to distinguish between the classes in the arrangement of the examinations so that the Seniors will get through first. In some cases the Seniors will get through before the Juniors, but probably not as a class.

THE NEW THINGS FOR SPRING AND SUMMER WEAR

Just as fast as the trains bring in the new things to The Criterion they will be rushed to the counters and cases. To see the real genuine Spring Styles, you need to come to The Criterion. Our buyer spent some time in the Eastern markets and he bought just what our trade requires.

It matters not what price you desire to spend this spring for your outfit, The Criterion can meet the demand.

It is no trouble for our clerks to talk over matters with you and show you the latest things. You are always welcome, no matter whether you purchase or not.

Watch for our opening announcement in this paper in a few days. Souvenirs to all. Be sure and get one for yourself.

Pi chapter of Phi Gamma Delta entertained at a dinner party last Saturday evening at their chapter house on North Main Street. Twenty-eight couples were present. The party was chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Wood, and Dr. E. A. Smith and Miss Edith Rowley.

A very enjoyable "stag" dinner was held last Friday evening at Saegertown by the members of Alpha Chi Sigma, the chemical fraternity. An informal toast list was responded to by W. H. Fegely, '14, H. F. Brownell, '15, and G. A. Ricker, '15. George Shaner, '15, acted as toastmaster.

During the past week invitations were received by members of the Senior Class for the annual reception which is tendered the graduating class by President and Mrs. W. H. Crawford. This year the reception will be held at the home of President Crawford, on next Thursday evening.

Friday evening J. W. Tear, '16, was called home by the sudden and serious illness of his mother, Mrs. F. S. Tear, of Painesville, O. From last information Mrs. Tear was not improving as rapidly as might be desired. It is understood that heart trouble is the cause of her illness.

Dr. W. H. Wood was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. His talk, which was one of the most interesting as well as helpful of the year, was well received by a rather small crowd.

CENTENNIAL ALREADY CELEBRATED ACCORDING TO PAPER.

Allegheny has already celebrated its Centennial according to the notice which recently appeared in a well known Sunday School publication. The item is as follows:

"Allegheny College at Meadville, Pennsylvania, not long ago celebrated its centennial anniversary. The celebration was to last three days, and to insure the college against loss in case of rain, a policy for five thousand dollars was taken out.

The Evans Museum and College of Dentistry has recently been dedicated at the University of Pennsylvania. This new building, which stands upon the site of the birthplace of Dr. Evans, is valued at one million.

KEPNER, '16, TO REPRESENT ALLEGHENY AT DELAWARE

Delaware, Ohio, will be the scene of the annual contest of the Intercollegiate Civic Oratorical Association, of which Allegheny together with four other colleges—Colgate, Pitt, Wooster and Ohio Wesleyan—is a member. Last year, it will be remembered, P. H. Nichols, '14, was Allegheny's speaker at the contest which was held here. This year L. D. Kepner, '17, as winner in the Wakefield Oratorical Contest, will go to Delaware to uphold the Gold and Blue.

News comes from Professor Fulton, Wesleyan's oratorical coach, that big things are being planned. He confidently asserts that Wesleyan's great Chapel, with a seating capacity of fully 1,600, will be crowded to the limit. Wesleyan is one of the colleges that has the method of charging a regular fee for oratory and in this college at least the results are clearly apparent.

No less a personage than the governor of Ohio, the Hon. Mr. Willis, will be present to have charge of the evening's program. He will make the speech of welcome and introduce the speakers. Professor Fulton is bending his efforts to the obtaining of some really big men in oratory to act as the judges, but it is impossible at this time to announce them.

Mr. Kepner will speak on the subject, "A New Day for the City," the same oration, practically, that he used in the Wakefield contest. Mr. Kepner can safely be trusted with the responsibility of upholding Allegheny's honor in oratory, if his appearance at the earlier contest be taken as a basis for judgement. His delivery is clear and impressive, his enunciation flawless, and his expression and interpretation excellent. His oration is an unusually powerful treatment of the problem of city government and will be well delivered by him, without question.

In accordance with tradition, Mr. Kepner will speak once before the student body before he leaves for Delaware. One day this week, probably Wednesday or Thursday, he will deliver his oration in Chapel.

ALLEGHENY TO BE REPRESENTED AT EDITORS' MEETING

Allegheny will be represented at the annual journalism conference of "The Middle Atlantic Association of College and School Papers," which is to be held at the University of Pittsburgh, May 14th and 15th. The program committee of the Association has selected C. L. Mulfinger, '15, to read a paper on "The Importance of the Sporting Page in a College Newspaper." The colleges that will have representatives at Pittsburgh include Ohio Wesleyan, Penn State, Ohio State, University of Pittsburgh, University of West Virginia, Washington and Jefferson, Bucknell, Dickinson, West Virginia Wesleyan, Carnegie Tech and Wooster University, besides many secondary schools.

The sessions are to last two days and the college editors are to be addressed by a number of prominent journalists.

INTERCOLLEGIATE.

Brickley, Harvard's great goal kicker, has been offered $2,500 to coach Ames College in football next year.

Francis Dunn, Dickinson star football player for several years, and a graduate of the school, has been elected coach for next year.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity of Dickinson has voluntarily pledged themselves for an honor system in examinations.

Liquor interests are working the colleges with arguments in favor of license to offset the work accomplished by the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association.

Seventy-one colleges are giving credit courses on the liquor problem. Of these 46 are in the West and Middle West, 10 in the South and 15 in the East. Of the 15 in the East, 9 are in Ohio, 3 in Massachusetts, 2 in New York, and only one in Pennsylvania.

The University of Pennsylvania develops a greater international influence than any other institution in the United States. At the present time Dr. L. S. Rowe, a member of the faculty, who is on a leave of absence, is visiting the universities of Argentine, Chile and Peru to bring them into closer relationship with the University of Pennsylvania.

COLLEGE MEN AWARDED PRIZES OFFERED BY HART, SHAFFNER & MARX

Harvard men have just been announced winners of two out of four prizes offered in the 1914 economic prize essay contest endowed by Messrs. Hart, Schaffner & Marx, of Chicago.

Other prizes were: Five hundred dollars to Albert H. Leake, Ontario, Canada, subject, "Agricultural Education;" and two hundred dollars to Niles Carpenter, of Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois. Carpenter's paper was entitled "A Comparison of the Financial Operations of the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company during the Panic of 1907 and the Period Preceeding."

The contest was the tenth of a series of annual competitions. Harvard is now tied with Oberlin in the standing for the ten years.

In that time Chicago University and Northwestern captured 5 prizes each, Cornell and Washington and Lee took 4 each, Oberlin and Harvard 3 each, University of Illinois 2, and Yale, Columbia, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin took 1 each.

The committee in charge of the contests is composed of:

Professor J. Laurence Laughlin, chairman, University of Chicago; Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Professor Edwin F. Gay, Harvard University, and Horace White, Esq., of New York City.

to provide some of the most necessary things. The income assured for the future—provided, of course, that the Board of Trustees approves the action of last Friday—will put oratory and debate upon a sound financial basis. It will not give us any luxuries, but it will enable us to make provision for the things that are absolutely necessary for efficient management of the public speaking interests. Nor will the larger income guarantee the winning of our debates; it will, however, give us real help. We shall not be hampered by lack of reference books upon the subjects that our boys will debate. We shall be able to pay the expenses of the most experienced judges of debate. And because it will be the association of all the students in the college and not of merely a few, I expect to see a renewed and widespread interest in our public speaking contests."

IN THE COLLEGE WORLD.

The band of the University of Wisconsin will take quite an extended trip next summer, giving concerts at seventeen different places, including St. Paul, Washington and San Francisco.

Meredith ran the fourth quarter of a one mile relay race, indoor track, in 49 2-5 seconds, the fastest time ever made for this distance on an indoor track. It will not stand officially, however, as it was not a quarter mile race.

A new dance was inaugurated by the students of the University of Minnesota. It is known as the Sunlight Dance.

Upsola College at Kenilworth, N. J., has received a valuable collection of books on education and science from Mr. F. O. Fernquest, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Co-eds at Northwestern University, Chicago, are to play baseball for the first time in the history of the institution. The games will be seven innings in length.

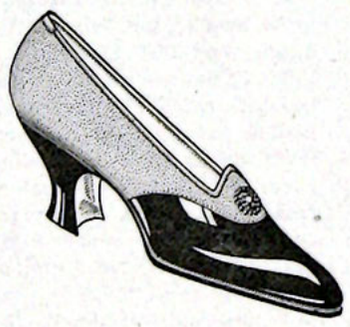

The University of Kansas boasts that it has the biggest department of economics in the United States. The four members of the department faculty average more than six feet in height and each tips the beam at more than 200 pounds.

A one per cent. club is in process of formation among the alumni of Michigan University. Members of this club pledge that they will leave one per cent of their property to the university in their will.

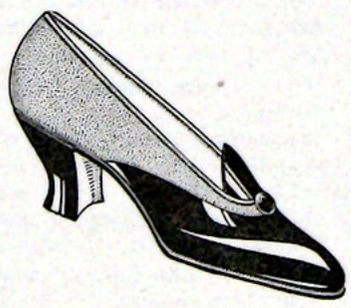

So much interest has been aroused for the preliminary oratorical contest at Muhlenberg that a pre-preliminary contest will be held on account of the large number of candidates.
