Miss Ida Tarbell,
120 East 19th St.,
New York City.

Dear Miss Tarbell:-

I have had an interesting talk with Mr. Dunlap and am hoping that we shall ultimately get together on some cooperative proposition with reference to the new "Women in Business" book. I am to prepare certain estimates and send them to him. I will keep you posted on the progress of affairs.

I talked over with Mr. Brett the possible publication of your Lincoln stories, the three published ones and the one to which you referred which has never been published in book form, in one volume. He agreed with me in thinking this a good idea and I would like to plan for it for next year. Perhaps you would wish to write an introduction to the book. I think that would help.

I understand that you will send me the miscellaneous magazine articles which you spoke about.

Yours very truly,

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY
