Dear Miss Tarbell:

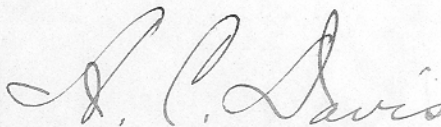

During the latter part of October, 1920 will occur the regular, annual meeting of the Washington Educational Association. It becomes my privilege to secure some persons of national reputation to address the teachers of our state at this gathering. As you have spoken so acceptably throughout our country and as our teachers are very familiar with contributions which you have made to current literature a popular demand has been made that I endeavor to secure your services on this occasion.

Accordingly, I take pleasure in extending you a most hearty invitation to be present at the gathering which will probably be held in Spokane or in Yakima, and speak to our teachers giving two or three addresses as may best suit your convenience.

If it seems at all possible that you can arrange to be with us on this occasion will you kindly indicate to me the entire expense to our Association incurred in connection with your visit?

I shall appreciate a reply at your convenience.

Sincerely yours,

President of the W. E. A.
