Dear Mrs. Grant:

Of course I recall Mr. Shean's portraits of Lincoln. His effort interested me deeply and I always hoped that recognition would come to him.

Now as to the portrait which you want to show me. I am sorry that I can neither go to see it nor have it brought to me just at the moment. I am preparing to go away for three or four weeks and every moment is taken. When I come back, however, sometime in December I will write you again and we will make an engagement, though I hope before that time you may have found the purchaser you seek.

Very sincerely yours
