Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
120 East 19th St.,
New York City.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

The enclosed letter shows - what you no doubt already knew - the futility of my suggestion of going to the old newspaper files for information about the Herndon story. Mr. Pasfield, one of several old-timers in Springfield whom I have talked with on the subject, kindly volunteered to look the matter up. The only remaining idea I have from the lawyer's point of view, which is also the historian's, is the issuance of a marriage license, if there is any reliable record, or contemporary letters; no doubt there are enough of them in existence if they could be found.

- Very truly yours,

T. A. Frank Jones
