My dear Mr. Page:

I am most glad to have the name of the photographer, and I am writing him today with a list of the things that I want. I am telling him to see you about the silver, and that if he has any doubts about the records in the town clerk's office, to consult you, although I am warning him that I know you have your hands full, and that I do not want to bother you unless it is necessary.

I want a good picture of the church as it stands now. The one on your postcard and including the towers as it does, is very charming, and I could use that. I should like, if I could to get hold of the original.

I should like a picture of the old high benches and of the negro gallery. There must be photographs of these in existence. If not, Mr. Woodside can probably make them.

I am asking him to go to Cohasset for me and do some pictures of the Mordechai Lincoln house.

You are very good to speak of the Two Hundredth Anniversary volume. Mr. Lunt found the duplicate and has sent it.

Please believe, my dear Mr. Page, I do appreciate your kindness. My love to the chaperone, and kindest regards to Mrs. Page.

Very sincerely yours,

Rev. Houghton Page,
Hingham, Mass.
