NEW YORK April 14, 1910.

Dear Miss Tarbell:-

I have put pencilled [] about a short passage in your proposed letter to Mr. Mackenzie. I suggest your substituting for that part the following:

("the things which have no connection with this dispute, that is the copyrights on the other books, i.e. Madame Roland, the Life of Napoleon and the Standard Oil ~~of the New Jersey~~ ^{of the New Jersey} if you consent to the termination of all our contracts on the books except those relating to the Life of Lincoln. I will give like consents.")

With this slight modification I find the letter admirably adapted to the situation.

Yours faithfully,
Selden Bacon

Miss Ida M. Tarbell.
