

TWO VICTORIES FOR ALLEGHENY.

Western University of Penn. and Grove City College Defeated.

The Former By a Score of 40 to 21, the latter 45 to 25—Baker, Giesey and King did Good Shooting—Nelson Improved What Opportunity He Had.

At W. U. P.

Allegheny's raid into the country of the enemy resulted in decisive victories. On February first W. U. P. met defeat at Duquesne Gardens Pittsburg by a score of 40 to 21. Such a victory in a measure wipes out an old score. Allegheny was redeemed in the eyes of her Pittsburg admirers.

After a preliminary game between departments of the University, Capt. Giesey and his quartet took their positions. The floor was unusually large and very slippery. W. U. P. had the advantage in the knowledge of the floor, but immediately Allegheny showed her superiority in team work and shooting. The slippery floor made the game slow and erratic at times.

Capt. Giesey carried off the honors. He won his spurs and was dubbed "Big Man" by the audience. Baker's reputation had preceded him. Edgar stuck to him like a leech. King came down the floor in lightning sprints to cage four field goals. Two beauties were thrown from deep center. Nelson was played the last six minutes and made two goals. The whole team played a heady game.

A band of loyal Alleghenians cheered and spurred on the braves with hearty yells. Among them were Misses Ball, McAllister, Gaston; Messrs. Wilson, Shields, H. Stockton, Evans and Phonse Wilson.

The lineup:

Allegheny—40. W. U. P.—21.
Baker F..... Goldsmith
Maxwell-Nelson .F..... Westover
Giesey C..... McCandless
King G..... Edgar

Goals—Maxwell 4, Nelson 2, Giesey 7, King 4, Stockton 1, Westover 4, McCandless 1, Goldsmith 1, Edgar 1.
Fouls—Baker 4, Westover 7.
Official—Kerr.
Time of halves—20 minutes.

At Grove City.

Manager Gill with his sharpshooters, arrived in Grove City, the afternoon of February 2. Coach Werner kept his men in rigid training and as a result they faced the Grove City five in perfect condition. The result of the royal battle was a score of 45 to 25 in Allegheny's favor.

In the eyes of Grove City it was one of the most hotly contested games of her season. It was her first defeat on the home floor. The game was fast and furious at all times. In the second half Grove City took a brace and made a flying finish but the rally was to late.

The game was a magnificent exhibition of basket ball. Allegheny's perfect team work in the first half won the admiration of the audience. On goals thrown Maxwell, Baker and Giesey split even with four cages apiece. King did splendid floor work while Perry guarded the basket like a watch dog.

In the second half Baker got his wings in motion for a repetition shooting equal to the first half. Nelson playing the last ten minutes caged three and King two. Giesey played a giant game of blocking, while Stockton covered the basket. The work of Baker and King was exceptionally brilliant.

The lineup:

Grove City—25. Allegheny—45.
Dermitt F.. Maxwell-Nelson
McCurday F..... Baker
Brown C..... Giesey
Cridder G..... King
Hartwell G..... Berry
Goals—Giesey 4, Baker 8, Maxwell 4, King 3, Nelson 3, Ketler 2, DeArment 2, Beckwith 2, Brown 3, Cridder, Hartwell 2.

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS BANQUET

AT RIVERSIDE HOTEL, CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS.

A New Function in College Circles—Hartung Acts as Toastmaster—A Good Dinner Served.

Last Thursday night the Seniors inaugurated a function which will in all probability be perpetuated as one of the traditions of the college. In place of the annual Senior-Sophomore banquet, they substituted a Senior dinner. The class in a body departed for Cambridge Springs on the six o'clock car, at which place they were carried in sleighs to the Hotel Riverside, where the dinner was served at 7:30. After discussing an excellent menu, President Hartung introduced the toast list in a few well chosen words.

O. C. Jones responded in his characteristic style to the toast "The Last Semester" and Miss Berkeley spoke most interestingly on "Class Reminiscences. R. B. Kightlinger in a happy and jovial vein discussed the future of the class in the toast, "Class Prophecy," and C. W. Gill

THOBURN CLUB MET WEDNESDAY

IN FORD MEMORIAL CHAPEL.

At Four O'clock—Dr. Chase Spoke on "The First Things in the Ministry."

On Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock the Thoburn Club held its regular meeting and had a very helpful talk from Dr. Chase of the Park Avenue Congregational church. There were about twelve members of the club present and as there was no business to transact, Dr. Chase occupied the entire time.

Dr. Chase said he wished the meeting to be informal. "First," he said, "the minister must be real. There must be no sham about him. People are trusting him and he has no right to deceive their confidence. Then, as ministers, be positive. Don't be negative. Preach what you believe and know. Get the said 'If you believe anything tell me that.' Negative things never make the world go. You should have also a sense of the eternal fitness of things. A man in the ministry has the paramount opportunity to be an artist of all professions. His services should always represent a harmonious whole. If it is a possible thing the minister should be a musician. Use tact. Drink in all the culture you can. Remember that we are both wells and cisterns. We are bubbling up with new thoughts and feelings but we must also be filled with new thoughts and feelings."

HON. E. M. SPENCER, '55,
The Mt. Vernon Bar, of Posey Co., Indiana recently adopted appreciative resolutions congratulating the Hon. E. M. Spencer who had just passed the fiftieth anniversary as member of the body. Mr. Spencer was a graduate of Allegheny in 1855, and this recognition comes to him after a life time of valuable service to his public duties.

ENGINEER'S SOCIETY MET TUESDAY

IN ITS ROOM IN RUTER HALL.

Anderson Acted as Chairman—Officers Were Elected—Short Program Given.

The Society of Applied Science held its regular business meeting on Tuesday evening in its room in Ruter hall. Anderson was chosen as chairman, and, after transacting certain business, officers were elected. Hilborn was elected as chairman of the executive committee, to act with Dr. Ling and Prof. Dutton; Irwin was chosen as secretary; Donaldson as treasurer.

After the business session, a short program was given. Abbott read a paper on "The Relation of the Bitholthic Pavement to Street Building." Penman gave the Current Events. On the whole the meeting was interesting and instructive to the members of the society.

HANDSOME GIFT FOR OBSERVATORY

TRUSTEE GIVES $1,200 FOR NEW EQUIPMENT.

Newton Observatory, Under Dr. Charles Ling, to Become One of the Best Working Plants in Any College—By Slight Additional Expense the Elegant Equipment Now Installed Will Be Brought Most Efficient for Work.

Many of the students have noticed for more than ten days past that Dr. Ling has been wearing a new smile. A reporter for the Campus decided he would find out the cause. In the course of his investigation, he happened upon a bit of paper on which there was penciled a list of supplies for an Astronomical Observatory. Faced with the paper, the Doctor was asked where he expected to get the money to make so handsome an addition to the Observatory equipment. The new smile became even more pronounced, as the Doctor said, "I think I know where the money is coming from." Through an intimate friend of the Doctor, who is a member of the faculty, it was learned that the College has actually come into possession recently of some $1,200 to complete the equipment for the Newton Observatory, and make it just what Dr. Ling has wanted it to be.

Thinking that the President must know something about it, he was visited. He frankly admitted, when questioned, that the money named had been received, but said that the donor had requested that his name should not be published. Thinking that a little jollying might bring out the desired information, the President was asked a whole lot of questions, relevant and irrelevant. The reporter had at last three facts. First, that the donor was a trustee of the College; second, that he was one of the newly elected trustees, and,

The Banquet.

Everything seems to be tending toward the most successful Washington Birthday Dinner that the college has ever had. Classes are busily at work on songs and stunts. Committees are working night and day. The faculty members begin to act as though they had some neat surprises up their sleeves. Everybody is going to be there.

We mention this thing in passing, not to tell folks to keep on doing what they already are doing, but to show that everyone has got the spirit and is feeling happy and tickled.

A Square Deal.

We have in mind a genial teacher of geometry. It was the custom of this wise teacher, in the moment of suspense that often comes before the final summing up of the obvious result to which Q. E. D. might fittingly be affixed, to cry out to his victim in shrill voice, "If one cat costs two cents what will two cats cost?" His method was effective. Likewise an exasperating condition that has been noted by a large part of the student body compels us to ask, "If one man can throw three goals in ten minutes of heated play, what do you suppose that man could do if he had a chance to play a full game?" We maintain that apart from all party and factional interest, natural curiosity would lead us to ask such a question. We simply wonder if the man in question would make good.

We abhor the spirit of the muck raker, but we do say plainly that there seems to be an adverse criticism to be placed somewhere. We do not presume at present to say where. But, the Campus will print any truth that may arise upon investigation. In short, the suspense is getting on our nerves. Its time for the final leading up to "Quod Erat Demonstrandum."

Oratory.

The oratorical interests of the college have come to such a place that there is need of enthusiastic support from the entire body of students. To night the first section of the Wakefield contest will be held and tomorrow evening the second. It is the duty of every Alleghenian who is worthy of the name to be present at both of these contests. They will represent interests of the college that are just as vital as any of our athletic contests that are so well supported, and will represent interests of the college that are as old as Bentley herself. The man who sneers at the contests that will be held this week and yet roars in oratorical frenzy about a fellow who would cut an athletic event, may be put in the same class as the fellow who roars for oratory and carries himself serenely indifferent to athletics.

Besides the duty of attending the contests the student will soon be asked to give the magnificent sum of twenty-five cents to the Oratorical association. This is to be used in supporting two inter-collegiate contests that are being arranged. Anybody that carries a seven dollar athletic ticket in his pocket and has the coolness to answer this request with the cold glance of disinterest ought to be given a drop kick, to put it mildly.

The senior class at Yale has adopted an absolute Honor System in which the undergraduates are put upon their honor both in regular class room exercises and in examination, without student committees and without necessity of reporting an infringement of the rules.

At the University of Minnesota, the students have petitioned the faculty to compel the "co-eds" to attend lectures without hats, as they interfere with the view of those who have the misfortune to sit in the rear.

The rowing clubs of Oxford and Cambridge have declined the invitation of Harvard and Yale to race on American waters next year. Until American colleges produce a team which can meet them successfully on their own course, they will not come to America.

Harvard and Yale are preparing for a debate in French. A silver cup will be awarded to the victor.

Rowing activities at Cornell ran up a bill last year of $9,600.

A theological seminary will soon be in operation at Michigan.

Wisconsin expects five hundred candidates for her track team.

Carlisle and Syracuse have scheduled a dual track meet for the middle of May.

HANDSOME GIFT FOR OBSERVATORY.

third, that he did not live far from Meadville.

It developed on further inquiry that the only new trustee living not far away was Col. John J. Carter, of Titusville. It was evident to the reporter that he had the advantage of the President, and had actually secured the desired information. In fact, the President finally admitted, in a hesitating sort of way, that Col. Carter was actually the man. This is not the first handsome gift Colonel Carter has made to the College. When the additions' endowment was being raised five years ago, he gave $5,000. President Crawford was in Titusville about three weeks ago, and without doubt it was then that Colonel Carter made the donation for the Observatory.

The Newton Astronomical Observatory of Allegheny College contains in its equipment one of the finest of the smaller glasses in this country. The equatorial telescope in the dome room is a nine inch refractor, the objective of which was made by Brashear and the mountings by Warner and Swasey. This telescope is very complete in its mountings and is fitted to do excellent work within its range. The observatory equipment further includes a sidereal clock, Meridian circle, sextant, and chronometer, besides a seven and one-half inch telescope suited for ordinary observation of stars by students of descriptive astronomy.

Through this handsome gift of Col. Carter, if he be the actual donor, it is possible to add to the equipment of the observatory so that it will become one of the working astronomical plants. The present donation will make it possible to purchase a filar micrometer to attach to the telescope, which will be modeled after one of the finest and best appointed micrometers in use in this field of work. At the same time a micrometer and level will be fitted to the meridian circle which will put this instrument in service. The equipment for work strictly within the observatory will be further completed by the addition of an excellent chronograph. With these instruments and the electrical and other apparatus necessary to install them, it will be possible for the director to begin personal research work at once, the publication of the results of which in the astronomical journals of this country and Europe will place Newton Observatory among the working astronomical plants.

In addition to the equipment for work within the building there will

In Appreciation.

A mighty echo of gratitude ought to resound even unto the ears of the Smoky City press for their splendid and magnanimous recognition of our two big victories of last week.

To be sure their protegee was one of our victims, but could that fact affect their sense of justice and fair play? Thrice no! Skill and general ability must ever be recognized, and receive the generous tribute of fair minded foe-men. How beautifully did those non-partisan journals respond to this sentiment. With this added equipment the Newton Observatory will be enabled to offer to students a wide range of work in practical astronomy, which will include determination of latitude, and time by various methods; determination of position of planets, comets and other heavenly bodies; the accurate observations of eclipses occultations; a study of parallax; proper motion of stars—in short, a wide range of astronomical work which will be comparable with that offered in any observatory with like equipment, and with not a few boasting of instruments of greater capacity.

THE RUNTS.

The Runt basket ball team has organized and is ready for all comers. There was some difficulty at first in securing a coach. H. M. Nelson, who has gained a high reputation as coach of the Fat Men's team, expressed his regrets in saying that his binding contract with the aforesaid team prevented all possibility of his accepting. Dr. J. H. Werner, who was next tried, refused a very flattering offer on the ground that it would lower his dignity after being connected with the fast Allegheny five which he is coaching at present. In spite of all these difficulties, however, the Runts have been very fortunate in securing the services of E. M. Giesey, a big man in basket ball circles, who will also act in capacity of manager.

The outlook for the team is indeed promising. It contains such men as A. D. P. etc. Miller, the giant center, F. Buster Brown, the big guard, and several others who, though not so large, make up in speed what they lack in size.

Manager Giesey is endeavoring to draw up a strong schedule. Games have practically been arranged with the Fats, the Reds, the Skins, and the Odd Fellow's home team. With such teams before them, the "Undergrowths," as they are termed by their admirers, will have to undergo rigorous practice.

FUNERAL OF DR. W. C. PICKETT

OF THE CLASS OF 1892.

On Highland Ave., Meadville—Dr. Crawford Conducts Services.

The funeral of Dr. Will C. Pickett, '92, of Philadelphia was held from the family residence on Highland Ave., Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. Crawford conducted the services and spoke in part as follows:

"We are gathered here in this home to-day under the shadow of an unusual bereavement and sorrow. We are come to pay our respects to an exceptionally brilliant and promising man. It seems appropriate, rather than otherwise that death should come to the aged. But when death comes to a young man it is then no gracious guest, but seems rather to be hard, cruel, and unjust. But it is not for us poor people of narrow vision to complain of death, but rather thank God for the noble, true Christian life which he lived who has gone before us."

Dr. Crawford then spoke of his character and said, "All who knew him in school, college, or church, bear testimony to his earnestness, his fidelity, his noble ambitions. He never trifled. There was no place in his nature for sham or hypocrisy or double dealing. He was clean and genuine, wholesome and manly, intellectually honest and morally courageous."

William C. Pickett was born in Meadville, November 16, 1870. He graduated from Allegheny in 1892 and from Jefferson Medical in 1895, after which he became resident physician at the Philadelphia hospital; January 13, 1902, he was elected examiner of the insane at the hospital; in 1904 he was elected professor of mental and nervous disease in the Medico-Chirurgical college, Philadelphia, which position he held at the time of his death.

Dr. Pickett died of heart trouble and was laid to rest in Greendale cemetery.

Phi Gamma Delta Enjoys Sleighride

On Monday evening, Feb. 4, the boys of Phi Gamma Delta were entertained by Max Hiernell at his home north of Saegertown. The party left on the 6 o'clock car, and was met at Saegertown by "Hick" with horses and sled. After a jolly ride, the Fiji's sat down to a 7 o'clock dinner. The evening was passed merrily with songs and typical college stunts. In spite of the fact that there were no co-eds present, the event was one long to be remembered by members of the fraternity.

PREPS LOSE FIRST GAME.

Erie Wins a Fast and Exciting Game by Single Point.

In a fast and exciting game, the Erie High school basketball team defeated the Preps 24-23 at the college gymnasium. The game started off with a rush and it was anybody's until the time-keeper's whistle brought a close to the contest. The Prep. rooters, under the leadership of "Byron" Ford, gave their favorite's loyal support. The home team shot in hard luck.

THE LIT.

The January Lit appears to-day with a choice collection of literary gleanings from college sources.

Mr. Lewis' story "The Passing of the Ten" is decidedly clever, and attractive. The author has a faculty of expressing himself very happily.

"A Malignant Masterpiece" by Mr. Dennis, is in this issue developed to an interesting issue.

"The Passing of a Cloud" from the pen of Mr. Alken is artistic and beautiful, in conception and phrasing. We would suggest further contribution.

"The Heart of the Rose" is well worked out, and portrays with sympathetic pathos a life story. The selection is wholly human, and testifies anew to the rare taste and faculty of interpretation possessed by its author.

The "Lit" is especially fortunate this month in the poetical contributions. "In the Wood Fire Gleam" pictures vividly the warmth of winter, the cheer of a warm fire-side and weaves in a beautiful touch of sentiment.

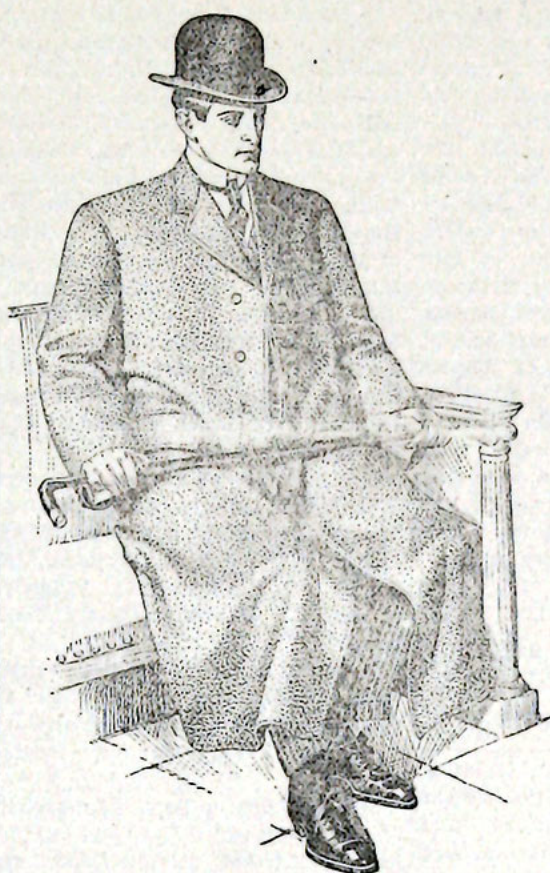

"And He Watched Alone," is delicately written and brims over with truth and feeling.

Mr. Mackey's contribution "Romeo and Juliet" is a scholarly production.

Shortly after the Christmas jingle had died out of the winter air, and the holiday atmosphere was still rife, a splendid collection of deer, were placed in the Museum through the kindness of B. L. Singley of this city.

The several members of the group are beautifully mounted and preserved, and will prove a most valuable addition to the museum stock.
