Beaver Falls Wins the Game

BY PITTING RUFFIANISM OF PLAYERS AND BOLD-FACED ROBBERY ON THE PART OF THEIR OFFICIALS AGAINST SCIENTIFIC BASKET BALL PLAYING, GENEVA SUCCEEDED IN STEALING A GAME FROM ALLEGHENY.

Beaver Falls, March 2.—Special.—In one of the most remarkable games ever played Allegheny was defeated here to-night by the score of 13 to 11. From the first to the last it was a battle royal in which the Geneva men, out-pointed in every department of scientific basket ball, resorted to a system of play which for unsportsmanship of dirty play has never been excelled in this city. Finding they could not win by fair means and exasperated by the clear cut work and superior playing of Allegheny the home team put all their foot ball tactics into play and used all their superior weight in crushing Allegheny's perfect play. Despite the rivalry in the crowd every one turned in and rooted for Allegheny and showed that their sympathies were with the visitors.

The chief offenders in the rough house were Leach, Thompson and East, the latter two men being guilty of deliberately slugging. Time and again Thompson jumped into Mellon and foully swung a blow at him and once knocked him senseless. The same was done by East, his victim being Lampe, who had a tooth loosened. When the ball would come within snooting distance of the goal the Geneva players would deliberately jump into their opponents and stop their playing by their holding and rough work.

The game started with Geneva getting two lucky shots by East, both on clean play. Allegheny soon overtook the lead and at the end of the half the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of Geneva. In the second half McKean refereed and started squarely enough but when Allegheny placed themselves five points in the lead by three pretty goals by Williams and Mellon the dirty work began. The next was a clean open field shot ten feet from the side lines but the official ruled it out, claiming out of bounds shots. Then the dirty work began and Lampe, Williams and Mellon were in turn knocked down and out and every decision went to Geneva, and by four foul throws and two goals they were placed in the lead. Then the real offensive work of the official and home team began. There was but four minutes to play and the Geneva men began to delay the game. Once the ball was thrown out of bounds and the manager took the ball away, taking at least a minute of time. Then the center pretended to be injured and despite the fact that the Allegheny men fairly begged to have time taken out, but he refused. In the entire four minutes not more than half a minute was actually played. The game closed with the score 13 to 11.

The most remarkable college spirit was shown by Allegheny that has ever been seen in this city. A special train with 150 rooters landed in town an hour before the game and showed the mystified townspeople a sample of college yelling, singing and rooting that has never been equaled in this city. Even until the last they stuck loyally to their team and left the hall in as good a humor as when they came.

BASE BALL PRACTICE STARTS. MANY CANDIDATES.

On Friday the baseball candidates reported at the gymnasium for the preliminary practice. Never before has there been so many men for the different positions. The following is a partial list of the men and the positions they are trying for:
Catcher—Mook, Barton.
Pitcher—Comfort, Taylor, Lockwood, Reynolds, Haas.
Infield—Lewis, Lackey, McConnell, R. Nelson, Selkregg, Sturtevant, Mitchell, Renner.
Outfield—Turner, Olmstead, Ward, Wynne, Strickler.

A CAMERA CLUB.

Several students have cameras and do some amateur photographing. It seems very practical that all such persons should form a club for the purpose of talking over matters arising in their work, and unite for some definite action towards securing some typical, representative Allegheny views and photographs. In this way the various publications may secure change and variety in their cuts and discard the old ones so often used. We believe that Dr. Montgomery has had experience with photography and now that the president is to be at his desk and the genial doctor's duties will be lessened, could he not preside over such a club and, as the spring-time is at hand, direct the embryonic artists along new lines?

Western Reserve Defeated

SUCCESSFUL OHIO TRIP—TWO CHAMPION TEAMS DEFEATED BY ALLEGHENY.

The basketball team went to Cleveland on last Tuesday and took the Western Reserve University five into camp to the tune of 35 to 9. Although our men expected to win, even the most sanguine had not even hoped to run up a score so large. The game was played in the Adelbert Gymnasium, which is very small, and our team was at considerable disadvantage. After the usual preliminaries, the teams lined up, and at 8:30, central time, the game was started.

At the beginning the game was close, and for the first ten minutes was anybody's. Up to that time neither team made many baskets and the score was a tie. Soon the Allegheny men limbered up, and made baskets in rapid succession. The feature of the half was the basket made by Captain Caldwell. He threw the ball from under our basket into his own at the other end of the gym. The half closed with the score standing in Allegheny's favor.

Second Half.

No changes were made in either line-up and each team went into the game harder than ever. The half was rough, but Reserve seemed to get the worst of it on account of the lightness of their team. The officials called few fouls and the game was very fast. Williams, Lampe, Jackson and Turner seemed to score at will, and the only doubt in the outcome of the game was in the size of the score.

For Allegheny, Williams did the star work, securing a total of eight field goals and one foul goal; but every man on the team did exceptionally good work and played the game from start to finish. Especially noticeable was the passing of our men. Although in a small gym, yet their short passes were very effective and to this feature may be attributed the large score.

Following is the line-up and score in detail:

Reserve—9. Allegheny—35.
Patton L. F. Williams
Caldwell (capt.) R. F. Turner
Conant C. Lampe
Jenks R. G. Mellon
Chaffee R. G. Jackson (capt.)
Goals from field—Williams 8, Jackson 3, Lampe 3, Turner 3, Caldwell 1, Patton 1, Jenks 1, Chaffee 1. From foul—Caldwell 1, Williams 1. Officials—Pelton and Freeman (alternating). Time of halves—20 minutes.

Oberlin Also

DEFEATED IN FINE CONTEST.

After the Reserve game, the team went to Oberlin and won an easy victory. The team left Cleveland on Wednesday morning and played Oberlin, winning an easy victory. The team left Cleveland on Wednesday morning and played Oberlin in the Warner Gymnasium at 3:30 that afternoon. This building is just new and has a very large floor space. The basket-ball games are played in the center of the floor, and on this account, the ball goes out of bounds very frequently. A slight change in the out-of-bounds rules put our team at a disadvantage, but they managed to make a very creditable score.

Basket-ball is new at Oberlin as an inter-collegiate sport, as this is the first year that they have had a 'Varsity team. The students at Oberlin support the game very enthusiastically and, consequently, there was a very large crowd at the game. A feature of the game was the intense interest of the spectators and their loyal cheering for the home team, even when they were overwhelmingly defeated.

The game began with the three Allegheny men in the game who had not played the night before. Allegheny started off with a rush and rolled up sixteen points to Oberlin's two in the half. The game was fast from start to finish, and, although Oberlin could not hope to win after the first half, yet they braced up in the second and played us to a standstill, the score for the second half being 10 to 10.

Comfort and Lampe did the best work for Allegheny, each caging four baskets. Line-up:

Allegheny—26. Oberlin—12.
Haas, Turner, L. F. Sandbury
Comfort R. F. Brown
Lampe C. Olmstead
Lewis L. G. Vrandenburg
Jackson, Mellon R. G. Pebody
Goals—Comfort 4, Lampe 4, Turner 2, Haas 1, Vrandenburg 1, Sandbury 1, Brown 1, Olmstead 2. Foul goals—Lampe 4, Vrandenburg 2.

The team returned to Cleveland on Tuesday night and arrived home on Thursday afternoon, when a large crowd of students was awaiting them at the depot.

Never before has a team from the college made a more successful trip. The basket-ball team has showed to two of the leading Ohio institutions that we are aggressive in our athletics, and we certainly rank higher in the estimation of those institutions than before the games.

DELTA TAU DELTA CONFERENCE.

The 21st conference of the Eastern division of the New York alumni association of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity was held Saturday, Feb. 21, at the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York City. Delta Tau enthusiasm ran high, and prospects for this flourishing fraternity are brighter than ever before. Saturday evening the conference closed with a banquet.

Mr. James G. Petz was the official representative of the local chapter, and was accompanied by R. A. Bolard of the fraternity.

Last Night's Concert

ENJOYABLE MUSICAL UNDER AUSPICES PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

A fair sized audience of students and townspeople was present at the orchestral concert given in the Ford Memorial chapel under the auspices of the Pennsylvania College of Music last evening. The entertainment was a genuine success, as are all such events presented by that musical institution.

The program was of a two-fold nature—orchestral and vocal. The orchestral numbers were especially pleasing, their varied character making for them an enthusiastic reception from the audience. Several classic favorites were on the program.

Much interest centered in the singing of Mr. Harry J. Fellows, who was a student here in '82 and '83. He came to us with many flattering notices, and he fully satisfied all expectations.

Mr. Fellows is fast becoming one of the most popular artists in America. His voice is a lyric tenor of large compass and telling brilliancy especially in the upper tones. He was in excellent voice, the entire audience was in perfect sympathy with the singer, and his selections were the proper ones to bring out the many beautiful qualities of his marvelous voice. His reception was very enthusiastic.

Mr. Fellows has just finished a tour of America as soloist with the celebrated American violin virtuoso, Miss Leonora Jackson. This tour has been a marvelous one in many respects; nearly every state in the union has been visited. The two hundred concerts have been one continuous triumph for the artists and Mr. Fellows has been praised by people and press alike on all occasions.

The College of Music is to be congratulated on the success of its evening.

The program was as follows:
1. Overture, "Ruy Blas". Mendelssohn
2. Scene, "Onway! Awake Beloved." (Hiawatha's Wedding Feast) ... Coleridge Taylor
Mr. Harry J. Fellows.
3. Symphony, "B minor" (Unfinished) Schubert Interval.

4. Selection, "Faust." Gounod
5. (a) Song, "Als die alte Mutter" Dvorak
(b) Aria, "Aubade" (Le Roi d'Ys) E. Lalo
Mr. Harry J. Fellows.
6. Marche Hongroise Berlioz Accompanist, Miss Helen Edsall.
Conductor, Mr. Douglas Powell.

UNITARIAN LECTURE COURSE.

If Allegheny can have no lectures of her own, she can at least have the privilege of attending those of a sister institution on "the other hill."

Mr. George Willis Cooke, of Boston, will, during the week, deliver a series of lectures in the Unitarian chapel under the head of "The Literary Interpretation of Social Problems, as follows:

"Ibsen and Individualism," Tuesday, March 3, at 7:45.
"Nietzsche and Egoism," Thursday, March 5, at 7:45.
"Tolstoi and Non-Resistance," Friday, March 6, at 7:45.
"Kropotkin and Anarchist-Communism," Sunday, March 8, at 4.
"Zola and Collectivism," Monday, March 9, at 7:45.
"Morris and Socialism," Tuesday, March 10, at 7:45.
All students are cordially invited to attend these lectures.

By a recent action of the Michigan Faculty, students of the institution who are known to bet on the outcome of any game, will be suspended.

RELATION OF THE COLLEGE TO COLLEGE ORGANIZATIONS.

We realize that in the hurry and bustle of every-day life the average student can find but little time to devote to that which does not closely relate to himself; but at times there are certain questions, certain situations among us which demand that we forget for the time being our private pursuits and consider those situations, those questions in their relation to the common good. Such a question, such a situation is already overshadowing Allegheny, and it is only a matter of time when it will confront us in all its immensity and importance. That question is the relation of the college to the organizations of the college.

A college is not merely a collection of books and buildings; it is an organization of organizations. There are its Christian associations, its literary societies, its glee organizations, its oratorical associations, its athletic teams, and its publications. Each of these contributes something definite to the college atmosphere, each up-builds some phase of college life, each is an element of inestimable importance in the compound that we term college. The Christian associations contribute spirituality, the literary societies and oratorical associations develop our aesthetic natures, and go to prove to the great world of onlookers that our college has brains as well as brawn. The glee organizations have their own aesthetic mission, but they have an immensely practical one as well; on their tours they are continually facing the culture of the communities that they visit, and to the cultured class Allegheny is thus being represented. Our glee club is one of the best advertisements that the college can have. The importance and mission of athletics everyone realizes. Each victory of a team is a "puff" for the college, and the bigger the victory the bigger the glory for the college. Every victory is a great big "ad." The college publications, for their part, foster all that the others do, and portray student life as it is. Their influence in shaping public sentiment is of no mean importance.

Such, then, are our organizations and such their relative importance. Clearly we can spare none of them from our Allegheny life; rather it is for us to do all in our power to develop them.

It is not long ago that athletics, for instance, was looked upon solely from the student's view-point. College authorities smiled indulgently upon athletic sports as an admirable means of keeping "budding genius" out of mischief. In more recent years, they have awakened to the fact that there is another side to athletics, and that it might be well to consider such from the vantage point of the college. Accordingly, the trend of modern years has been to foster athletics. The colleges and universities set aside funds to promote athletic development, and in recognition of the athlete's service he is entitled to wear the letter of his institution. The athlete reveres the letter, not for its intrinsic value, but because of the sentiment that attaches itself to the little piece of felt. He has been honored by his college in the most representative way possible. Well and good.

The next step that the up-to-date institution must make is to devise some means, some way that shall be representative, typical of the college, of recognizing, of showing its appreciation of services done in realms other than that of athletics. Hitherto, we have been looking at these matters as athletics was formerly viewed—from the standpoint of the student. The future demands that we consider them from the view-point of service done the college.

As for Allegheny, the time has now come when she must take some action in this matter lest it seem that all other student interests are subordinated to athletics. Every possible thing must be held out to stimulate athletics, but the stimulatory process must not be confined to athletics alone.

The Christian associations are fairly well recognized as are the literary societies. The glee clubs, whenever the college treasury will permit it, should be aided financially. But the realms that are demanding immediate attention are those of oratory, in its various phases, and of our college unions. Something must be done immediately to stimulate interest in these directions. Monetary prizes are not sufficient. These are not marks of recognition anyhow. But some honor, some privilege, must be held out to induce a man to feel that if he goes ahead and does his best in these lines, that this honor, this privilege, whatever it may be, will come to him as a recognition of the fact that he has been of some service to his college, and that his college appreciates it. The credit system is not enough. That in itself would never induce a man to take up the slightest extra work. Some honor, something representative of the college, and coming from the college, must be held out as a stimulus. As it now stands, whatever honor a man gets in any of these lines is a purse, perhaps, a few hours credit, a pat on the back and a "well done, old man." If that is all he deserves, well and good. If his work brings honor upon the college, it is not well and good.

We do not feel that a mountain is being made of a mole-hill, for we are confident that the day is soon coming when a stand will be taken for this deserved recognition, and it surely seems that if the orator, the literary man, the debater present to the world a phrase of college life equally as important as that the athlete presents, some representative recognition should be made of it, and some stimulus should be held out to cause him to exert himself.

It is to be feared that our chapel service frequently fails to receive the full respect to which its character entitles it. While its daily routine may tend to dull somewhat its significance, yet we cannot forget its purpose and mission, and its right to our deepest respect and reverence. Our respect for the chapel-leader, our neighbors and ourselves, should cause us to refrain from disturbing talk, etc.; our reverence for the service should absolutely forbid it.

We are glad to welcome from their western trip our team of conquerors. Allegheny's prowess has been maintained, new friends for her have been made and old ones satisfied. It verily seems that Allegheny is to be the center of the basket-ball world.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO AND HER FRATERNITIES.

Last Thursday there was discussed between President Harper and representatives of the various Greek letter societies what is regarded at the University of Chicago as the most comprehensive fraternity building plan ever proposed in an American university.

If the fraternities agree, the university proposes to build 12 magnificent fraternity houses in Lexington avenue, facing the university campus. Each house is to cost about $25,000, involving a total expenditure of $300,000. The fraternities are to lease these buildings from the university and are to have separate fraternity tables in the commons.

Class Songs Used

AT THE WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY BANQUET—A SONG FROM EACH CLASS.

Senior Song.

(Mr. Dooley.)

There is a college on the hill,
A college of renown;
A school whose name is on the lips of every one in town.
You read about it everywhere, you've heard its name no doubt,
For dear old Allegheny let us give a hearty shout.

Chorus:

O, Allegheny! Allegheny! The greatest school the country ever knew, Co-eduction and mild flirtation, yes everybody loves the gold and blue.

This college has a faculty of many powerful men;
You march into their classrooms and come marching out again;
And when you cut your classes and go strolling through the town Tho' 'tis Prof. Bill who calls you up who is it calls you down?

Chorus:

'Tis Dr. Monty, 'tis Dr. Monty, he tells you that to stroll is very wrong,
It's quite essential, to be penitential, when Monty gives the word to move along.

Herr Bynum teaches how to spreche
Deutsch and parlez vous;
He also knows Italian and a little Spanish too;
And when he has insomnia and stays
awake all night,
He tells his class about it, when they meet him to recite.

Chorus:

O Dr. Bynum, O Dr. Bynum, your sentimental stories we enjoy;
So energetic, and sympathetic; with lessons we would never you annoy.

Professor Dutton holds his own in spite of teachers new;
The Freshies soon discover that he knows a thing or two;
He finds his chief delight in pulling other people's ears;
And when he gives examinations who is there that fears?

Chorus:

Professor Dutton, you're nice for sutton,
You've got the biggest heart we ever knew,
He's quite rheumatic, and democratic, and yet we all agree that he will do.

Who is it has the largest class that ever came to view?
Who is it has the singers and the football players too?
Who is it has the talent and the muscle and the skill?
And when they leave there'll be a vacancy that none can fill?

Chorus:

It is the Seniors, the mighty Seniors,
The finest class the college e'er shall see.

This song we sing you, this toast we bring you:
The great and glorious class of 1903.

CLASS SONGS USED.

(America.)

Our Alma Mater dear, with thee our joys we'll share,
For thee we pray.
E'er may thy children be, loyal and true to thee,
Bright star of Liberty, "Old Alle—"

(Tom-Big-Bee-River.)

Oh the bluffing old Seniors will soon take their leave,
From Alleghie's halls and her campus
so fair;
But henceforth when they meet, they will always repeat,
"Ain't it a shame how we ponied while there."

Chorus—

All the long way down, on ponies of brown,
Like jockies they've ridden, all the long way—

(Yankee Doodle.)

The Juniors are the finest class,
That ever came to college;
And when they leave it they will be Just full of chunks of knowledge.

Chorus—

Rah! Rah! Rah! for 1904,
Sing it's praises o'er and o'er,
Alleghie will always praise
The class of 1904—4!

Sophomore Song.

(White Wings.)

Sophomores,
Of old Allegheny,
The best of all classes
That sit a ther feet;
Conquerors
In struggles full many,
Our lads and our lassies
Now joyously meet.

(Bingo.)

There's a class in our college
Most loyal and bold,
'Tis jolly old 1905.

The class with the banner
Of green and of gold,
Jolly old 1905.

This class puts to shame
Naughty three, naughty six;
It pounded the Juniors
With bricks and with sticks;
It gave the fresh Freshmen
Their share of the licks;
Jolly old 1905.

(Summer-time.)

In the good old winter-time, [repeat]
Sleighting to Geneva
For the banquet great and fine,
We dumped the Freshies in the snow
And sent the Juniors flyin';
Sleighting from Geneva
In the good old winter-time.

(It's a Shame.)

O Allegheny,
Dear Alleghie,
We blend our voices
In praise to thee.
We'll make these walls
With music ring,
For Allegheny
We'll shout and sing.

(Auld Lang Syne.)

All hail thou class of 1905,
Thou pride of Alleghie,
Thou secret spring of all her joy
Thy name shall live for aye.
Hail Sophomore Class,
Hail lad and lass,
Hail one and all who strive
To tell thy name,
To swell thy fame,
Thou dear old 1905.

Freshmen Class.

(John Brown's Body.)

I suppose you've heard the saying that the Freshmen they're all green,
But then, it really isn't so, as plainly may be seen,
By looking at this Freshman class with such a knowing mien
As the class of 1906.

Chorus:

Give three cheers for Allegheny,
Give three cheers for Allegheny,
Give three cheers for Allegheny,
And the class of 1906.

The Seniors they look down on us in a wise and serious way.

The proud Sophs, too, they scorn us,
but then we'll be Sophs some day,
And then we'll prove conclusively we're not as green as they;
We're the class of 1906.

Prep. Song

[Tune, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."]

Oh, who so glad and gay as we!
Hurrah! Hurrah!

We Preps of Allegheny—
Hurrah! Hurrah!

Oh, listen to us while we sing
A song to make the welkin ring,
A song by the Preps of Allegheny.

We've come from many a surrounding town.

Hurrah! Hurrah!

To this great college of renown.
Hurrah! Hurrah!

We'll tell you now, we've just begun,
To study everything under the sun;
We studious Preps of Allegheny!

And when a few more months roll
'round,

Hurrah! Hurrah!

As Preps we'll be no longer found.
Hurrah! Hurrah!

As full-fledged students then we'll sing,

A song to make the welkin ring,
A song for good old Allegheny.

ALLEGHENY'S SECOND TEAM GOES TO CONNEAUTVILLE FOR A LITTLE PRACTICE IN GOAL THROWING.

Friday afternoon five lone second team basketball players wandered over to Conneautville, taking along no subs, officials or mascot. In the evening they presented at the opera house a little farce entitled "Basketball as She is Played at Allegheny." Van Slyke and Pontius were leading ladies.

The exhibition was billed as a basket-ball game with the Conneautville High school, and for convenience sake may be considered under that head.
The college team was by far too strong for the High school five, and the exhibition of team work that they gave was certainly a revelation to the "natives." Conneautville put up a clever game, but was clearly outclassed. Their one goal was accidental, the "boys" say.

The second team should seek more worthy opponents. The line-up was as follows:

Allegheny—53. Conneautville—2.
Hewit R. F. Brown
Mansell L. F. Fish
Pontius C. Brewer
Harper R. G. Manzell
Van Slyke L. G. Minium Goals—Pontius 12, Hewit 6, Mansell 5, Van Slyke 2, Harper 1, Fish 1; from fouls—Hewit 1. Officials—Dan-ilson, McKay.

Freshman Flag Stolen

TAKEN FROM THE PRESIDENT
AFTER THE BANQUET.

Consternation reigns in the Freshman camp. Their white and crimson banner, the pride of "naughty six," has been violently and maliciously taken from them and is now hanging shamefacedly in the midst of the swords and battered armor on the walls of the Sophomore trophy room.

After the banquet the doughty president of the Freshman class, scorning all offers of female escortage, started home with the flag, alone. On the way, however, he was met by three of the subtle Sophs, who stopped to pass the time of day with him, and to inquire after his health in general.
So much impressed was the color-bearer with the depth and intensity of his three comfortors' friendship that he graciously accepted the kind offer of the Sophs to care for his banner during the next three years.

We presume this arrangement is entirely satisfactory to the Freshmen, but we deem it strange that they should be so willing to part with their banner. The spilling of blood only can revenge its loss.

The Yale "prom" this year showed no diminution of extravagance. Although box premiums were slightly lower than last year, as high as $90 was paid for blocks of ten seats at the Glee Club concert. The net proceeds of that entertainment were $4,200, of which $3,000 will go for a scholarship.

Cheap shows are drawing their usual quota of students—so they say.

Dr. Knudson preached at the First M. E. church Sunday evening, giving an exposition of two topics of interest to the ethics class, The Freedom of the Will and Determinism.

Captain Jackson entertained the basket-ball team at his home on North Main street Wednesday evening. Besides the eight regular players there were present Manager H. L. Smith, ex-Manager R. N. Merrill and Referee C. M. Freeman. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

Dr. Elliott has been treating his Greek I class to a series of informal lectures dealing largely with the revelations of pre-Homeric life, as made by the excavations of the archaeologist. The fact that Dr. Elliott has visited the ruins himself, gives added zest to the talks. They have been very interesting and instructive.

Miss Margaret Batchelder, class of 1900, has recently been appointed one of the women inspectors on the Commission of Immigration. Miss Batchelder has had experience in university settlement work, and at the time of her appointment was a student at Columbia for the degree of M. A.

Ossoli spent last Monday evening considering the great German poets, Goethe, Schiller, Lessing, Leine and Kleist. Short sketches of the lives of these poets, a list of their works and a brief criticism of the masterpiece of each were given. Not long ago Ossoli spent an evening on topics relating to Greece, her politics, literature, poetry and art. Although only a bird's eye view of such broad subjects can be obtained, these meetings have been full of interest. A public meeting of Ossoli is being planned for about the middle of March.

Philo-Franklin Literary Society Monday evening held a mock United States Senate. There was a great flow of oratory both for and against the trusts. It is well for a literary society to deviate once in a while from the stated essay-debate program and a session of Senate is a very practical and entertaining change. It is surprising to see how much more enthusiastic a member can talk on such an occasion, and the amount of brilliant repartee and bright hits would suggest that future senators are really here in college.

The meetings of the Mission Study class are very interesting. The one Saturday evening was well attended. The interest is upon Central Africa, and besides the regular text's exposition of the subjects, reports are made from other books upon special topics; magazines containing interesting and illustrated articles are passed around, and every means possible is used to make the mission work seem real and to come into vital relationship with the students. A bow and arrow and other relics from Inhambane, Africa, were on exhibition by Mr. Mansell. The next meeting will be at 6:45 Saturday evening, and will deal with Slavery and Liquor, the two evils of
