THE CAMPUS
OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

1916

VOLUME XXXV—NUMBER 1

MEADVILLE, PA., OCTOBER 3, 1916

Class of 1920 Enters With One Hundred and Thirty-One Students

One of the Largest Classes to Enter the College. Nine More Have Enrolled With Advance Standing and Six for Graduate Work

Another large Freshman class, which taxed the capacity of the dormitories, entered again this year when college opened. No one particular section of the country seems to be the chief field from which they all come, but instead, there seemed to be a general trend toward Allegheny from five states. Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, Ohio, and Illinois all are well represented. The list of the class as it was last Friday is as follows:

Ella Allgood, of New Castle, Pa.
Leo A. Armagost, of Venango, Pa.
W. A. Apgar, of Clearfield, Pa.
Maude Baker, of Ruffsdale, Pa.
William E. Baron, of McKean, Pa.
Gilbert A. Benson, of Falconer, N. Y.
Giles M. Bollinger, of Somerset, Pa.
Edwin P. Booth, of Charleroi, Pa.
Durwood Brown, of Wheeling, W. Va.
Laurance O. Buckner, of Brocton, N. Y.
Donald Burns, of Cochranton, Pa.
Troy C. Burns, of North Washington, Pa.
Elizabeth C. Burwell, of Meadville, Pa.
Louden L. Campbell, of Wilkinsburg, Pa.
Edith Carew, of Franklin, Pa.
Kathryn Carroll, of Meadville, Pa.
Reverdy M. Clothier, of Silver Creek, N. Y.
Lyle A. Clough, of Corry, Pa.
Alton Collins, of Nebraska, Pa.
Samuel Coulter, of Vandergrift, Pa.
Merrill Cribbs, of Verona, Pa.
Mack Cook, of Ashtabula, O.
Perry Cook, of Ashtabula, O.
R. B. Cunningham, of Cattaraugus, N. Y.
Helen M. Davies, of Woodlawn, Pa.
Harold W. Dickie, of Oil City, Pa.
Marguerite Diefenderfer, of Conneaut, O.
David Dunn, of Meadville, Pa.
Harriet Dunn, of Connellsville, Pa.
Floyd F. English, of DuBois, Pa.
Dorothy Evans, of Erie, Pa.
Mary P. Ficks, of Avenmore, Pa.
Jeen Freer, of Marion, O.
Doris Gamble, of Warren, Pa.

Annual Field Day to be Held Saturday

HOLIDAY HAS BEEN GRANTED FOR CONTESTS BETWEEN MEMBERS OF TWO UNDER CLASSES.

Next Saturday will be a most interesting day for the college community from the standpoint of entertainment. In order to give full time for all the events of the day a holiday has been granted by President Crawford and there will be no classes called. The morning will be given over entirely to the annual field day between the Sophomores and the Freshmen, and afternoon will be given to the opening game with University of Buffalo.

The field day will have the usual program of events which promise to be fully as exciting if not more so than in any preceding year. The contests will start promptly at 9 o'clock in the morning and will be under the supervision of E. V. Askey, president of the Senior class. The contests will consist of an obstacle race to be run in the form of a half-mile relay with four men to the team, a tug-of-war with the best two out of three winning, a soccor foot ball game, and the final and greatest event, the rope-tying contest. The first three events will be worth one point each, and the last will be worth two points towards the day's results.

As has been the custom for several years, foot ball men will be barred from the contests and special rules will govern the tie-up. There will be an even number of men on each side for the final clash which will last for ten minutes. All participants must wear tennis shoes. Two short ropes will be furnished each man by the judges and both classes will have their representatives to insure fair play.

Considering the great amount of spirit shown by both classes in the recent poster scrap, as well as the organization of the Freshmen, all indications point to one of the hardest contested field days that has ever been held.

Time-Honored Poster Scrap Won by '19

TWO LOWER CLASSES BATTLE FOR HONORS, GIVING A GREAT EXHIBITION OF CLASS SPIRIT.

SOPHOMORE ACCOUNT. —

On the night of Wednesday, September the twentieth, the time-honored Freshmen-Sophomore scrap took place. Considerable interest in the scrap was shown, and many upper classmen were on hand to see the fray; although the spectators lost most of a night's sleep, it was well worth the sacrifice.

This year a new plan of procedure was adopted. In place of plastering the city with posters and paying the fine later, each class was to put up but one poster somewhere on the college grounds. Two hours were given for the one class to find and take down their opponents' poster and to put up and defend their own. The plan proved a great success, although perhaps the publicity obtained was less than usual.

About 12 o'clock the Sophomore poster supposedly was placed on the south wall of Montgomery Field facing toward the Phi Kappa Psi House. The spot was in some ways ideal for the defense of the poster, for the Freshmen had to come up the steep bank before attacking the Sophomores who were bunched against the wall under the poster. However, when a Freshman managed to pull a Sophomore down into the ditch with him the Sophomore rarely managed to get back up the bank again, for the ditch presented the point of real and hard fighting. After a half hour of constant scrapping, the Freshmen, outnumbering the Sophomores nearly three to one, finally succeeded in getting the poster, only to find that it was but a blank sheet of paper. Thus the first engagement ended.

The Freshmen, as soon as they recovered, set off to find the real poster, having until 2 a. m. to do so. In the meantime the men of '19 rested and waited further news in the hall of the Phi Psi House.

At twenty minutes of two the news came that the Frosh had found the poster in the ravine behind Carnegie Hall and had put up their own poster at that place. Five minutes later '19 was finding its way through the darkness behind Carnegie toward the steep ravine where the Freshmen waited. The dark ravine, with eighty Freshmen ready, with a stone wall on one side and a board fence in front, was rather a hard proposition for the Sophomores to tackle. Nevertheless the Sophomores climbed the wall at the edge of the ravine, broke down the board fence, and the second engagement began. Ten minutes of furious fighting ensued. Sophomores attempting to crawl along the wall were pulled off onto the heads of those below, and little groups, clenched together, rolled down the bank into the bed of the ravine. Finally, in the last few minutes, '19 succeeded in reaching the Freshman poster and the Sophomore poster appeared in its original place. The Sophomores, though badly outnumbered, won and the posterscrap of 1916 will no doubt go down in history as one of the hardest and most interesting fights of Allegheny's history.

FRESHMAN ACCOUNT.

We know the Sophs have claimed a win, and chase around with lofty chin. We know we're Freshies young and green; we know we mayn't accost a queen. Of course black socks we'll have to wear; with green we'll cover up our hair; but listen all, and I'll tell

Foot Ball Prospects Are Most Promising

STRONG TEAM IS BEING DEVELOPED TO MEET UNIVERSITY OF BUFFALO HERE SATURDAY.

Next Saturday afternoon local followers of the gridiron sport will have an opportunity to see the newly constructed Allegheny College foot ball team in action for the first time. Coaches Hammett and Pruett have been laboring incessantly since September 15 to build up a machine that can withstand the attacks that will be hurled against it between now and Thanksgiving Day. At the present writing the members of the local camp are full of confidence, for prospects are much brighter than was to have been expected. The backfield will be equally as good as last year's veteran backs, while the line, though green and inexperienced, has been making great strides forward in development in the last two or three scrimmages.

Until last Tuesday evening Coaches Hammett and Pruett had the entire squad, about forty men, punting, running with the ball, charging, blocking, falling on the ball, and in fact everything that is needed to round a team into shape. Beginning last Tuesday, short scrimmage was held every evening and the big faults of the players were singled out and remedied by Coach Hammett in conjunction with his able assistant. The scrimmages were not very satisfactory until Friday night because of the fact that the new men had not grasped all of the fine points of the game. Friday evening, however, a great deal of pep and ability was displayed by both the line and the backfield. Coach Hammett wore a smile of confidence when he saw the line charge successfully repeatedly and when he saw the backs hit the holes for large gains.

When Buffalo comes here next Saturday Allegheny will line up against a team about whose prowess little is known. The only opportunity that there was to form some opinion about the team was lost when Buffalo cancelled its game with Pitt last Saturday. This much is known, however, Buffalo will outweigh Allegheny probably fifteen pounds to the man, and they will average two years older in experience. The fact that the administration of Buffalo University has taken a firm stand for superior foot ball in conjunction with the fact that the team is heavier and more experienced than the Allegheny team, insures the local fans that we will have a formidable opponent for opening day, contrary to former years.

On left end Captain "Mike" Scannell will be one of the big mainstays of the team. He came to school a little later than the other members of the squad, but he is fast rounding into shape. The hero of last year's Pitt encounter is looked to to do much of the defensive work on the outskirts of the left side of the line. The absence of "Hez" Pierson on the other end will be keenly felt but several good candidates for his position from the group of neophytes have made themselves conspicuous in scrimmage through their good work. Among these Cook, Kinnear and Preston seem to be the most promising. The coach is going to keep two sets of backfield men. Besides last year's set of backs, Askey, Baldwin, Miller and Drake, he will have a second string of backs which will include Cunningham, Cook, Preston, and Shriver. It is altogether possible that Cunningham, '20, will be used on the first string of backfield men. He has displayed much more ability to plunge and run a broken field than is common to a neophyte.

The line appears at a first glance to

New Endowment For Annual Lecture Course

JOHN C. STURTEVANT MEMORIAL LECTURESHIP FUND MADE POSSIBLE BY TWO OF HIS SONS.

During the last of August, President Crawford received a communication from the sons of the deceased John C. Sturtevant, Paul Sturtevant, '99, and W. P. Sturtevant, '06, to the effect that they would present to Allegheny College $5,000 in 5% bonds, the principal of which is to be held as an endowment, the income of which shall be used every year to secure a series of lectures from people of recognized authority in literature, history, or the social sciences. There are to be five lectures each year and these will be free to all students. The fund is presented in the honor of the late John C. Sturtevant, a brief history of whom follows:—

John C. Sturtevant was born Feb. 20, 1835, and died Dec. 20, 1912. From a farm in Spring Township, near Shadeland, Pa., he removed to Springboro and later to Conneautville, where he passed more than half of his life.

From a comman school education he advanced himself as a teacher farmer, merchant, manufacturer and banker to the leading place in his community. His entire life was given to the active affairs of business. At the time of his death he was president of three banks.

In spite of a busy life he found time to be an incessant reader and being possessed of a remarkably retentive memory he became an authority on historical and political events.

Coming to manhood's estate at the time of the birth of the Republican pary and the stirring days of the Civil war, he early identified himself with the principles of that party. From 1860 to 1890 he was a delegate to every Republican State Convention in Pennsylvania. The members of his party elected him to their National Convention of 1908 and as a Presidential Elector from Pennsylvania for Benjamin Harrison in 1888. The people of his district honored him by election to the Legislature and to the National Congress.

The Sturtevant Lectures that his sons have endowed in his memory are designed to be thought-provoking and stimulating. Just as every new thing came to him, was weighed and examined and adopted if found good, so it is hoped the many students of Allegheny College who come under the spell of these lectures may be encouraged to reach outward and upward before the accomplishments of this man. As he believed in the limitless possibilities under American government and ideals, so these lectures will continue to speak his thoughts throughout the years.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch of September 27th has the following to say about the Reverend Dr. Bugbee, whose father was at one time President of this college, and who is well known in this city: Rev. Lucius H. Bugbee, D. D., has received a call to the pastorate of Christ Methodist Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh, Pa. Dr. Bugbee has accepted the call subject to the approval of the bishop, and he hopes to begin his new duties on November 1. He has been pastor of the Center Methodist Church, Malden, for six years. The salary attached to the Pittsburgh post is $6,500, with parsonage, which is $3,000 more than Mr. Bugbee is now receiving. Before going to Malden, Dr. Bugbee was pastor of St. Mark's Church, Brookline, and previously was stationed at Meadville, Pa. He is a native of Glendale City, Ohio, and is 42 years of age.

OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

Established 1876

OCTOBER 3, 1916.

Again Allegheny enters upon a new year of its existence. For more than one hundred years this institution has gone forward with rapid progress. Class after class has entered, passed through its four years, and graduated, leaving behind whatever contribution it could for the benefit of the college. A whole century was spent in building the wonderful reputation we now have, until, two years ago the climax was reached when our great Centennial was celebrated and Allegheny became widely known throughout the entire country.

New Prospects.

Last year opened a new century, with all the new standards of modern times. Unlike the usual trend of events following such a climax, there was no period of reaction. Instead, such rapid progress was made that last year was one of the greatest the college has ever experienced. It now remains for us, in this one hundred and second year, to not only keep up the pace set us, but to forge ahead and clinch the position we now hold that Allegheny may continue in its place among the foremost of American colleges. There is but one way to accomplish this:—by co-operation.

Every year at commencement time there seems to be a tendency to better college affairs and the things that count for the most here. The alumni are back and the Seniors are about to pass out. New ideas are suggested, and taken up by the underclassmen. Unfinished work of the year is discussed with the idea of its successful completion—but with the dawning of the new year, enthusiasm wanes, plans are forgotten, and in the rush of new things, the old ideas are lost. Are we, like our predecessors, going to fall heir to their old faults, or are we going to be able to further a spirit of co-operation that will result in a continuation of the good work already started, that we may all push and pull together to boost the idea of a "Bigger and Better Allegheny"?

Welcome.

The Campus takes this opportunity to extend a welcome to both the incoming class and the new members of the faculty. The class is another record making collection of students both from the standpoint of numbers and scholarship, many of whom were honor students in the high schools from which they came. To these and to the several new members of the faculty together with the department assistants a most hearty welcome is extended.

Campus Competition.

For many years the song of the editors has always been "more competition." Unfortunately this pet theme must still be aired, for once more the time has come for the new students as well as any others to begin their contributions toward the Campus news. Competition is open to all and the best time to begin is with this next issue as an early start is usually a great help toward the final position at the end of the year's work. This week a meeting of the staff will be held and all who wish to compete are strongly urged to be present.

Campus Aims.

It was unfortunate that owing to its financial state, it was impossible for the Campus to appear last June in its final number, and again it was unfortunate that the first issue could not appear last Tuesday as was hoped. Poor college support of the publication was the cause of the former, and failure to elect a manager was the cause of the latter. However, the manager has been elected and is hard at work and it is hoped that everything will run so smoothly that all thirty-two issues may be run off this year without any trouble. It is the aim of the staff to run the paper even more upon the true newspaper style, that the entire college may be covered in such a manner that the readers may get all the news while it is still news, and that few if any things of value will escape publication. To facilitate this, all the members of the staff will be glad to have any support or assistance that you are in a position to give them that they may make a complete news canvas of the college before each issue.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING AND RECEPTION

An opening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held on last Wednesday evening in the Association room in Cochran Hall. A large number of the men of the college were present, and the room was completely filled. The address of the evening was given by President Crawford. While a part of his talk was directed toward making the Freshmen acquainted with the place and importance of the Y. M. C. A. in the college, he had also a very direct and plain message for the organization as a whole. In a brief backward glance at the traditions of the Y. M. C. A. and at the lives of some of the men who had gone out from it; in a reference to the one and only purpose of the organization, namely, to stand for moral and Christian manhood; and in a clear outlining of some of the problems which face the association, President Crawford threw out a challenge to the Y. M. C. A. which it cannot avoid in the work of the coming year.

After the meeting an informal reception for the Freshmen was held in the reception rooms of Cochran Hall. Nearly all of the men of the upperclasses were present to meet the new men. An opportunity was also given to join the Y. M. C. A. and many enrolled, including a large number of the new men.

Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION.

The annual reception of the Y. W. C. A. was held in the association rooms of Hulings Hall on Wednesday evening of last week. This was a good opportunity for the new girls to become acquainted with the faculty ladies and with the old girls. During the evening a splendid program was rendered. It was as follows: A violin solo by Esther Emery, '18; a piano solo by Marie Frances, '19; a vocal solo by Ruth Ellis, '19; a reading by Pauline Rhoades, '18; a violin solo by Norene Saxton, '18; a vocal solo by Adelaide Singley, '18; a reading by Ernestine Sprong, '19, and a vocal solo by Grace Miller, '19. Afterwards a most enjoyable social hour was passed. The association rooms were beautifully decorated with fall flowers and leaves, and as everyone had such a pleasant time the evening was a decided success.

PETIT SALON MEETING.

At a meeting of French Club in Bentley Hall Tuesday afternoon, the following new members were elected: Murray Ellis, '17; Gertrude Hanks, '17; Charles Miller, '17; Agnes Robinson, '17; Genevieve Scott, '17; Robert Tuttle, '17; Dudley Zuver, '17; Mark Brown, '18; Homer Castle, '18; Eva English, '18; Annette Gartner, '18; Anne McConnell, '18; Robert McCreary, '18; Pearl Mondereau, '18; Jesse Ogdon, '18; Irene Wood, '18.

Monday evening there was an important meeting held at the Phi Kappa Psi House, when the initiation of new members took place.

Activities of Last Year's Graduates

ALLEGHENY WELL REPRESENTED IN BOTH UNIVERSITIES AND BUSINESS LIFE BY CLASS OF 1916.

During the past three months the members of last year's graduating class have become widely separated as they have gone on to their real life work. As complete a list as possible has been made out, showing where they will be this year as well as their activities.

Miss Helen Adams will spend some time at her home in Meadville.

Charles Aey is serving as graduate assistant in the physics department, under Dr. Ling.

Miss Ruth Allgood has a position as teacher in the New Castle schools.

Fred Amon is graduate assistant in the chemistry department under Dr. Lee.

Miss Dortha Angove will teach in the Oil City schools.

William Armstrong is continuing a medical course at University of Pennsylvania.

Homer Bail is teaching in Linesville.

Lawson Bash is taking up law at University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Marguerite Beatty will spend the winter at her home in Oil City.

Samuel Bell, Jr., has a position in a chemistry laboratory at Sharon, Pa.

Miss Elizabeth Best is at present living at her home in Meadville.

Miss Tillie Bitler has a position in the schools of Jamestown, New York.

Robert Blaisdell is pursuing his graduate course in Boston Theological School.

Jesse Burns is teaching at Patton. Pa.

Miss Ginevra Campbell is teaching at Yatesboro, Pa.

Seeley Campman has a position in the laboratory of one of the Canton steel mills at Canton, Ohio.

Miss Catherine Carrol is teaching in a school near Meadville.

Miss Mary Carroll has a position in the schools of Big Run, Pa.

Miss Helen Cole is teaching at Perryopolis.

Raymond Cox is coaching athletics at Braddock High School.

Albert Curry has left for Boston Theological School to continue his studies.

Walter Depp is also attending Boston Theological School.

Frank Dickey is assistant principal of the High School at Conneaut Lake.

Miss Florence Downing has a position as teacher in the Indiana, Pa., schools.

Homer Drake is continuing his course at Mt. Union Theological Seminary.

Lewis Dundon has a position as instructor and assistant coach at Kiskiminetas Preparatory School.

William Ellis is teaching in the French department at Kiskiminetas.

Miss Lois Foster is staying at her home in Oakmont, Pa.

Miss Hazel Gaskell is teaching in the schools of Cherry Creek, N. Y.

Miss Helen Gates will spend some time at her home in Oil City.

Fred Gealy has left for Boston Theological School.

Miss Edith Hall has a position in New York.

Miss Daphne Harper will be in Cherry Creek, New York.

Harold Harper is taking up medicine at University of Pittsburgh.

Miss Helen Hasek will teach in the high school at Franklin.

Elmer Hickman is with the Chester Wallace Players and will be in Sharon for the greater part of the fall.

Ray Hoffman is instructor in the science department of the Meadville High School.

Miss Ethel Hudson has a position in the schools of Greensburgh, Pa.

Curtis Johnson is studying medicine at Buffalo Medical School.

Miss Martha Kelly will teach in the Evans City High School.

Ralph Kendall is employed by the U. S. Light and Heat Corporation at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Lee Kepner has a position as the head of the history department in the Warren, Ohio, High School.

Miss Emma Kightlinger will teach in the High School at Belle Vernon.

Miss Ethel Kleckner is teaching at Shingle House, Pa.

Glenn Klingensmith has a position with Harris-Forbes and Company of New York City.

Paul Latshaw has a position in Kittanning.

Edwin Leaf is the principal of the schools of Trafford City.

Ernest Ling will take up an engineering course at Cornell.

Miss Lulu Lydell expects to teach in Sandusky, Ohio.

Leo McKay has a position as instructor and coach of athletics at Edgewood High School.

Courtney McLean is taking up veterinary work at University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Helen McKenzie is teaching in Oil City High School.

Roy Mellon is taking graduate work at Ohio State.

Miss Edna Kruse, '20, of West Valley, N. Y., was called home by the death of her sister.

FOOT BALL PROSPECTS.

be the weakest part of the team, but those who saw Friday night's scrimmage admit that there are great possibilities for a line resembling that of the 1915 machine. Such men as Coulsan, McConnell, Harbaugh, Reiter, Waisenborn, Fowler, Cook and Rusterholz are sure to form a line that will be as good or even better than last year's line. The loss of Engstrom, '18, and Houck, '19, men who are now serving Uncle Sam on the border, is keenly felt however.

A man who is making a strong bid for the quarterback position is Kerr, '20. He has shown some wonderful ability as a defense man and his offense is far above the average. Plum, '20; Heckman, '18; McKinney, '19; Barcus, '19, and Hughes, '17, are also promising candidates.

The schedule is as follows:

October 7—University of Buffalo at Meadville.

Oct. 14—Geneva College at Beaver Falls.

Oct. 21—Carnegie Tech. at Pittsburgh.

Oct. 28—Grove City College at Meadville.

Nov. 4—University of Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh.

Nov. 18—University of Rochester at Rochester.

Nov. 25—University of Akron at Akron.

Class Election Results

MEMBERS OF ALL FOUR CLASSES HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The class elections were held last week, beginning with the Senior elections on Wednesday and ending with the Freshmen elections on Saturday. The Senior elections resulted in the choice of the following officers: President, Vincent Askey; Vice-President, Miss Agnes Robinson; Secretary, Miss Helen Kulp; and Treasurer, Dale Thomas. The Junior officers elected are: President, John G. Castle; Vice-President, Miss Ruth Brumbaugh; Secretary, Miss Marion Miller; and Treasurer, R. E. McCreary. The Sophomores' chaice of officers was: President, F. L. Stewart; Vice-President, Miss Ruth Fithian; Secretary, Miss Marjory Rhoads; and Treasurer, N. S. Goslin. The Freshmen elected the following: President, F. L. Shaner; Vice-President, Miss Potter; Secretary, Miss Helen Thoburn; and Treasurer, Norwood Kerr. All of the classes exhibited excellent judgment in their selection of officers, choosing students who were representative and who had shown both ability and college spirit in other lines of work. Askey has been one of the most active and faithful members of his class during its entire history, and is deserving of the high honor which has been given as well as capable of successfully carrying on the duties which it imposes. Jack Castle is one of the most able members of the Junior class, having distinguished himself in athletics as the tennis champion of Allegheny, and in oratory as the winner of the Philo-Franklin Oratorical Contest. Stewart has been active during the time that he has been in Allegheny, both in college athletics and in the interests of his class, and much credit is given him by his classmates for the successful management of the fight with the Freshmen.

JOINT RECEPTION OF CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Last Friday evening the annual Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. reception to Freshmen was held in the gymnasium. This social affair is regarded as one of the big events of the college year, and as usual practically the whole student body was present.

Upon arriving, each Freshman was introduced to an upper class girl, and each Freshman girl to an upper class man. The couples then passed along a reception line, consisting of the faculty and the officers of the Christian Associations, on to the main floor of the gymnasium. Each received a dainty book of blank leaves upon which to obtain the signatures of the persons whom he or she met in the course of the evening.

The remainder of the evening was given up to the process of acquainting, as nearly as possible, each Freshman with each upper classman. Three punch bowls and a multitude of wafers furnished the refreshment of the evening.

At 10 o'clock the guests began to leave and one-half hour later the 1916 reception was an affair of the past. This year's reception was certainly successful in attaining the end for which the annual reception is held; the intermingling of the Freshmen with the upper classmen in order that they become mutually acquainted.

Raymond Crawford, '06, returned the week before last to New York to resume his position at Columbia after a visit with President Crawford. His wife and son, William, remained for a longer visit.

Prominent Alumnus Dies

THE REV. WILBUR C. SWEARER, '96, DIES WHILE ON VACATION.

The Rev. Wilbur C. Swearer, '96, one of Allegheny's most favored sons, died of apoplexy on September 11 at Adams, N. Y., while returning from a vacation trip in Vermont. Mr. Swearer aged 45, a returned missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Kongju, Korea, with his wife, Mrs. May Shattuck Swearer, had been enjoying a furlough in this country since February. Mr. Swearer had spent the spring and summer months with his father, Mr. James A. Swearer, of 412 Jucunda Street, Knoxville, and in May attended the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

After Dr. Swearer graduated from Allegheny as president of his class, he attended the Drew Theological Seminary in Madison, N. Y., and in June of this last year Allegheny conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. He was a member of the local chapter of Phi Delta Theta.

On leaving Drew Seminary he entered the mission field in Soel, the capital of Korea. Ten years later he was transferred to Kongju where he had done a wonderful work up to the time of his death.

POSTER SCRAP.

you, just how our hopes went up the flue:

At first we made the poor Sophs wait, (we knew they couldn't stand the gait.) At last near 12 we sallied out—the crusty Sophs were not about. Then soon we found them near the wall, their vaunted sheet high over all. Just thrice five minutes then it took, to make the Sophs all get the hook.

And when we'd vanquished them we learned that truth and equity they'd spurned, by pasting up a fake; an hour long we hunted round, until at last their bill we found, in a place that took the cake. We reached their wall and gathered round; we held the post without a sound, until the Sophs arrived. We murdered those poor Sophs once more, and left them wallowing in gore, of clothing most deprived.

One flaw alone must wreck this tale; one trick alone has made us fail; one bone is our reproach. A Sophomore disguised made bold, with stratagem both deep and cold, upon us to encroach. Into our stronghold crept the pup; he tore ours down and sneaked his up—alas! that such is Fate. We threw the rummy down the hill, and wet his tootsies in the rill—alas! it was too late.

Though this may not a classic be; and though my meter may not gee, it's hoped that you'll remember well, the things that I've aspired to tell—we've no complaint and make no boast, but —Sophomores we have mangled most.

The rules of the Inter-Fraternity Conference, governing the rushing of Freshmen were announced last week. The rules are the same as the ones in force last year; namely, that before bidding-day, which has been set for the Friday of Thanksgiving week. Freshmen shall not visit in fraternity chapter houses except as arranged by the conference and the faculty; that there shall be no rushing of Freshmen in the sense of bidding in any form by any active or alumnus member of any fraternity of the conference, or spending of money on Freshmen in any way; and that there shall be no visiting of Freshmen in their rooms by fraternity men. The same restriction in regard to scholarship, that no man shall be bidden whose average daily standing in fourteen hours of work is below C, is also in force this year.

Fred Brockway, '15, spent Saturday and Sunday at the Alpha Chi Rho House. Mr. Brockway is teaching in the High School at Erie this year.

The Literary Monthly Competetion Board, at the beginning of last week, selected as Editor for the coming year John C. Weaver, who was one of the two Associate Editors last year. Weaver has been a member of the Literary Monthly staff for a couple of years, during which time he has done much excellent work. For the past year he was a constant contributor, producing articles which exhibited considerable cleverness and literary ability. He is possessed of a large stock of energy and a keen appreciation of the value of material; and the combination of these should make him a highly successful Editor. The prospects for a first class publication are excellent. While the remainder of the staff have not been announced yet, there is no doubt that th entire staff will be an able one, as there is much good material to select from. There was a great deal of competition last year, and there is a large group of writers from which to draw the board of publication. From the business end also, the Literary Monthly gives promise of great success this year. Manager Megahan has been very active in his work and is rapidly acquiring a support for the publication which should ensure a good magazine.

News Items

News has been received of the marriage of Miss Julia Schoenfeld, '97, to Mr. Isaiah Scheeline which took place at the home of the bride in Pittsburgh September 25. Mr. and Mrs. Scheeline will reside in Hollidaysburg after December 1st.

An article published in the Educational Review of last June has caused much comment in educational circles. The article was written by Dr. Snavely and on the subject of "The Junior High School and the College." Shortly after its publication the same article was copied word for word in the New York Globe and soon after that the school board of New York City used it as an authority when they introduced the Junior High School in the schools of the metropolis.

The department of biology received several new additions to its equipment during the summer. New electric stand lamps have been placed on all laboratory desks and tables and new desks and lockers have supplanted all old equipment. Several new specimens have been added to the zoological collections, among which is a good-sized rattlesnake which was caught during the summer by Coach Hammett and Dr. Darling.

One of the events of the fall took place the week preceeding the opening of college when Miss Dorothy Sansome, of Clarion, Pa., was married to William D. Dotterrer, '13, in the First Methodist Church of Clarion. The best man at the ceremony was Paul E. Thomas, '14, and the maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Martha Sanson. The matron of honor was Mrs. Mary Sanson Jones, '14. A large number of Allegheny students, who were friends of the bride and groom, were present. The couple will reside in Princeton, N. J., where Mr. Dotterrer has a position as public health commissioner.

The Campus also wishes to record the marriage of John W. Tear, '16, who was also the chief participant in a very pretty wedding at the home of his bride, Miss Clara Schultz, of Painesville, during the week preceding the opening of college. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for their wedding trip, and will reside in Cleveland where Mr. Tear has a splendid position.

Dr. and Mrs. Henke were Sunday dinner guests at the Alpha Chi Rho house.

Malcolm Dewey, instructor in German at the college during the year of 1913-'14, was a visitor at the Delta Tau Delta house during the opening week.

The Fall athletic elections will be held on Saturday of this week with the following positions to be filled: Assistant Basket Ball Manager, Assistant Tennis Manager and Cheer Leader. It is required that the Assistant Managers be either Juniors or Sophomores and that the Cheer Leader be a Senior. All nominations for the positions must be in the hands of the Secretary of the Athletic Association, R. L. Moore, not later than Wednesday. Voting will be done at the Treasurer's office in Bentley Hall, and all men of the college are entitled to vote.

By a ruling adopted the year before last, it is expected that the faculty will within the week elect one or more members of the Senior Class to Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary national fraternity whose membership is based on scholarship. The ruling reads as follows: "The executive committee may elect at the beginning of the Senior year not to exceed one-fourth of the total number to be elected from the men's list and one-fourth to be elected from the women's list, providing that the average grade of the candidate up to that time be 'A'. Such election shall be announced during the second week of the Fall term." The students who received this honor last year were Robert A. Blasdell and Miss Helen R. Adams.

On Friday morning the chapel period was turned over to Dr. Henke, who spoke on the subject, "Common Illusions of College Life." The illusions mentioned were: the illusion of the non-importance of scholarship, the illusion of social life, and the illusion of athletics. The central thought of the talk was that "The purpose of college life is to partake of the inheritance of the past" and that scholarship is the thing of prime importance. Any belief which makes the student put something else ahead of scholarship is an illusion.

Dr. R. E. Lee addressed the teachers' institute held in Meadville last week. Dr. Lee was the principal speaker of the day Saturday.

A rather exciting golf tournament took place during the vacation months out at the Country Club of Meadville. At the end of the contest it was found that Dr. Akers and Dr. Ross were tied for the championship. Upon playing off the tie Dr. Akers became the possessor of the beautiful cup given to the winner.

Word has been received of the marriage of Clarence Nash, '16, of Chautauqua, N. Y., to Miss Florence Lagore, of Erie, which occurred the 15th of last August at the home of the bride. The couple are at present residing in Butler where Mr. Nash is teaching in the schools.

President Crawford and Dr. Snavely drove to the Stoneboro Fair last Friday where President Crawford was to make the address of the day. Several thousand people were present and heard him speak on the relationship of education to the progress of the country.

News comes from New York City concerning one of Allegheny's alumni, Leroy Peterson, '13, who is getting considerable notoriety because of his work in the police department of that city. The work he is doing can be best explained by his official title in the department—that of Secretary to the Commissioner in charge of the Social Activities of the Police Department of New York City. One of his recent tasks was the engineering and planning of the great 1916 police carnival, which was the greatest gathering of its kind ever held. The carnival was held for two days at the Sheepshead Speedway and over seventy-five thousand people witnessed the events. The proceeds of the two days amounted to eighty-five thousand dollars and were turned over to the fund which takes care of the dependent families of policemen who are killed in the performance of their duty. This fund is also under the care of Mr. Peterson.

The sympathy of the college goes out to Dr. and Mrs. Elliot in the loss of their little son, Ernest, who died during the early part of August. "Laddie" who was well known on the Hill, was just recovering from what was supposed to have been a successful operation for adenoids and tonsilitis when he suffered a relapse which was fatal. President Crawford and the Reverend Dr. Kelley had charge of the funeral services.

Melvin Dotterrer, '15, has a position at Kiskiminetas Preparatory School where he will teach mathematics and do work as assistant coach.

Mr. Charles W. Flick, '15, and Miss Janet Ferguson, ex.-'16, were united in marriage last Saturday evening at the bride's home on Highland Avenue. The matron of honor was Mrs. Clarence De Witt, formerly Miss Pauline Richmond, of this city, and the groomsman was H. B. Wiard, ex.-'13. Mr. and Mrs. Flick will be at their home in Akron, O., after October 30.

Miss Victoria M. Lord, ex.-'12, of Ambridge, Pa., was married to Paul Plass on June 28. Miss Lord graduated from an art course at Beaver College and had been engaged in business since leaving Allegheny. Mr. and Mrs. Plass are residing in Ambridge.

Fifteen Allegheny alumni while in attendance at the Institute held in Erie the week before last had a luncheon and enthusiastic get-together.

A daughter was born to Dr. C. Vergil Calvin, '13, and Mollie Bassett Calvin, '11, on August 19. Dr. Calvin received his degree from Harvard Medical School in June, and at once took up his work in Bridgeport, Conn., in partnership with one of the best physicians of that city.

Abram Wilkinson, '13, who is chief chemist of the Perfection Spring Company of Cleveland, O., was a visitor on the Hill last week.

Harry Jacoby, '20, of Aspinwall, Pa., was called home last week owing to the death of his father.

News has been received of the recent marriage of Miss Ethel Gealy, '15, of Oil City, and Mr. Cordon E. Hinkley, '13, of Johnsonburgh, at the bride's home in Oil City.

Miss Hazel Ross, '16, visited friends at the college on Thursday, while enroute for Edinboro, where she will teach in the High School. Miss Lottie V. Smith, of Meadville, who formerly held the position in Edinboro, is teaching in Meadville High School this year.

Miss Lena R. Bley, '10, and Mr. Church were married at Wellsville, N. Y., on July 1. Miss Bley has taught in the Wellsville schools since her graduation from college; and Mr. Church is a banker in Franklinville, N. Y.

The marriage of Miss Berdeen Braymer, '12, of Meadville, and Rev. J. D. VanHorn, '12, of Boston, took place on June 15 at DuBois, Pa. After a camping trip, Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn went to Plumville, where Mr. VanHorn had already begun his work as pastor.

Miss Effie Millirin, '06, who is teaching in the High School at Reynoldsville, Pa., paid a visit to the college during the opening week.

Six New Members Added to Faculty

NEW MEN HEAD TWO DEPARTMENTS—FOUR ASSISTANTS APPOINTED.

Allegheny extends greeting this Fall to six new members of the Faculty. The vacancies made by the resignation of Dr. Smith, of Dr. Lockwood, of Mr. Decker, and of Miss Chase, and by the absence of Professor Swartley have been filled, at least temporarily, and an additional instructor in English has been appointed. Dr. Smith, who was head of the History department, resigned last Spring to accept the Superintendency of Public Instruction in Salt Lake City. Dr. Lockwood, the head of the English department, sent in his resignation the latter part of July to accept a professorship in the University of Arizona. Professor Swartley is doing work for his doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Clyde Hubbart, who has almost completed his graduate work for the doctorate in the University of Chicago, has been appointed Assistant Professor of Economics for the coming year, and has charge of the History work. Professor Hubbart is a teacher of experience, and it is expected that he will fill the position in a very able manner.

The position of Acting Professor of English Language and Literature is filled by Dr. Lucius W. Elder. Dr. Elder is a graduate of the University of Michigan, and his doctorate work was done at the University of Pennsylvania. He has had seven or eight years of experience in college teaching.

Dr. Elder will be assisted by Mr. George I. Adams. Mr. Adams is a Yale graduate. He comes to Allegheny with a strong recommendation from Professor Swartley. The additional instructor, Miss Marion I. Colby, is an alumnus of Mount Holyoke, where she was also for one year an instructor and theme reader. She has done two years of graduate work in Yale.

The new assistant in Biology is Mr. George James Hucker. He secured his bachelor's degree at the University of Wisconsin, and took his master's degree last year in zoology at the University of Columbia.

Miss Chase's place as instructor in French has been taken by Miss Eleanor Carr. Miss Carr has been studying in France for the last three years, most of which time she has spent in Paris. She has obtained a thorough mastery of the language, and ought to be a very efficient instructor.

Miss Mabel Beatty, '08, who has been a teacher in the Deaconess School in Boston for some time, sails shortly for China to take up missionary work there. Miss Beatty has been interested and engaged in philanthropic work ever since her graduation from Allegheny.

Miss Jean Frey, '95, a teacher in one of the Youngstown High Schools, visited the college over the week-end.
