ANNOUNCE THREE COMING ATTRACTIONS

Lecture-Concert Course Heads Planning Spring Program.

Tentative arrangements for three outstanding performances have been made by the committee in charge of securing the numbers for the College-Community Lecture-Concert Course.

Negotiations are nearing completion for the engagement of Carl Sandburg, noted American poet; Hall and Gruen, piano duo; and Kirby and Niles, folk singers. At least one more number will be included in the season's program, making a course of five excellent features.

Carl Sandburg is one of the foremost contemporary American poets. He has been termed the poet laureate of industrial America, and has published several volumes of verse, including the well-known "Smoke and Steel," "Chicago Poems," "Cornhuskers," and "Slabs of the Sunburnt West."

Frances Hall and Rudolf Gruen have earned enviable reputations as pianists. Their program of duo piano music is a regular feature of the Sunday morning broadcasts of the National Broadcasting Company.

Marian Kirby and John J. Niles are known as the Kentucky Mountain Singers. Their program consists of solo and duet music and readings, also spirituals.

These three numbers will probably appear in the spring season of the lecture-concert course. The committee is endeavoring to secure a second performance for the fall program.

PROF. ROSS SPEAKS TO PLAYERS GUILD

Prof. Julian Ross was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Allegheny Players' Guild last Thursday evening in the Playshop. Professor Ross's subject was "George Bernard Shaw and 'Candida'."

In his talk, Professor Ross traced the history of the presentation of "Candida", pointed out misinterpretations of the theme of the play, and concluded with his own interpretation.

Among the guests were John Walton, '31, and Professor Ogilvie. At the conclusion of the meeting, a light lunch was served.

PROF. GIDDENS TALKS ON NATIONAL ELECTIONS

Prof. Paul H. Giddens, of the history and political science department, discussed the importance of yesterday's elections in a talk to Allegheny students in Ford chapel Monday.

In his talk, Professor Giddens directed attention to the mayoralty contest in New York City, the vote on repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and the various municipal votes for public control of public utilities.

ALLEGHENY SINGERS HOLD TERM PARTY THURSDAY

The Allegheny Singers will hold a party tomorrow evening in the Phi Kappa Psi house. The party will be a closed affair.

The Singers are planning to sponsor a show which will be presented at the Academy Theatre in a few weeks. Members will sell tickets and a share of the proceeds will in turn, be received by the Singers.

Dr. Darling addressed the Meadville Bird and Tree club last Thursday evening.

O. D. K. Adopts Active Program For The Year

Three senior men were formally initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary activities fraternity, at a banquet held at the Kepler Hotel, Wednesday, November 1. The new members, selected because of their participation in extra-curricular activities on the campus, are William Church, David Smith, and William Unverzagt.

The initiation ceremony was under the direction of Arthur Crawford, Prof. Frederick Henke, a charter member of the local chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, delivered a short address, pointing out the significance of membership in the fraternity.

In addition to the initiates, those present included President Tolley, Professors Darling, Henke, and Akers, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Cares, Carey March and Arthur Crawford; Paul Grant, and Kenneth Johnson, active members.

Arthur Crawford, president of O. D. K., presented the plan which, if carried out, will make the honorary fraternity an active organization on "the hill" when it has previously been purely honorary and inactive.

The 12 points of the newly adopted program are:

- (1) Appointment of a program committee to arrange for regular monthly meetings of the chapter.
 - (2) Revision of the point system which determines the election of new members.
 - (3) Election of honorary "tappees".
 - (4) Provision of a new interfraternity scholarship trophy.
 - (5) Calling of a provincial convention of the five Pennsylvania O. D. K. chapters.
 - (6) Presentation of speeches at Freshman smokers explaining Allegheny's history, tradition, and various activities.
 - (7) Co-operation with the administration in entertaining guests.
 - (8) Aiding in securing information concerning prospective students.
 - (9) Co-operation in entertaining high school guests on High School Day.
 - (10) Promotion of the senior class gift fund.
 - (11) Co-operation in arranging Home-Coming, Founders' Day, and Commencement programs.
 - (12) Aiding in organization of student government.
- Various committees were appointed. William Church will take charge of programs for monthly meetings; William Unverzagt, election of new members; Paul Grant, provision of an interfraternity scholarship trophy; and Kenneth Johnson, organization of a state conference.

PROF. CHURCH VISITS OHIO FRATERNITIES

Prof. Henry W. Church, national President of Phi Sigma Iota, honorary fraternity for romance language students, visited chapters of the organization at Otterbein and Wooster Colleges in Ohio last week-end.

On Thursday evening, Professor Church spoke at a meeting of the Gamma chapter of Phi Sigma Iota at Wooster College; and on Friday evening he installed the Phi chapter of the fraternity at Otterbein College, Westerville.

A visit to French classes at Ohio State on Saturday completed Professor Church's trip, and he returned to Meadville Sunday night.

TWO ALLEGHENY GIRLS TO GO TO N. CAROLINA

Mary Jane Anderson, '34, Edith Searles, '35, and Miss Anvilla Prescott will leave Tuesday morning, November 14, for Greensburg, North Carolina, where they will attend a meeting of the Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government at the University of North Carolina.

Both of the student delegates are active in women's government here: Mary Jane Anderson is president of the Women's Student Senate, and Edith Searles is head of the Women's Athletic Board and a member of the Senate.

At the meeting in North Carolina problems of student government will be discussed.

The girls will return on Sunday night, November 19.

Seven Freshmen Debaters Chosen From Try-Outs

Tryouts for freshman debating were held Monday, November 6, and from a large number of entrants a nucleus of seven men was chosen to represent the freshman class.

Those chosen are: Howard Hulbert, John Lytle, Charles Miller, Walter Oliver, John Peterson, James Ruffner, and John Sampson.

Last year's was the first extensive program attempted in freshman debating. The same policies will be carried out this year. The purpose of this new program is to offer a field for freshmen debaters and train future varsity speakers.

The freshman team of last year enjoyed a successful season in which debates were scheduled with Penn State, Kent State, Grove City, Kiski, and Westminster.

This year's schedule has not been completed as yet, but Mr. Haberman is intent on making it an interesting one.

Allegheny Speakers' Extension Work Program Planned

Plans are just about completed for the Allegheny College Speakers' Extension Work. William Olson has been elected to handle this program this year.

Literature is being sent out to all civic organizations and high schools in the vicinity of Meadville. Last year the Speakers debated for various Rotary and Kiwanis groups, high schools and churches, at Titusville, Mercer, Corry, Erie, Franklin, Cambridge Springs, Warren, Oil City, Jamestown, N. Y., and Youngstown, Ohio.

The Allegheny Speakers is a group of Allegheny students trained to debate current questions before public groups of all kinds. The results of faculty-supervised research on important social, economic, and political problems are thus presented to civic groups.

This year the Allegheny Speakers offer debates of either one-half hour, or one hour, upon the following questions:

1. Resolved, that the principle of government control of industry as exemplified in the NRA is desirable.
2. Resolved, that the federal government should own and operate all banking institutions in the United States.
3. Resolved, that capitalism as a system of economic organization is unsound in principle.

President Reports Allegheny Better Since Depression

"How are small colleges weathering the depression?" is a question not uncommon among people interested in education. President William Pearson Tolley in his recent report to college trustees, stated: "We are a better college now than we were at the beginning of the depression."

Dr. Tolley presented a college budget which showed a surplus of $1,097.56 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, and pointed out that the enrollment of Allegheny College during the years 1928-33 averaged 603 students per year as compared with 588 for the years 1926-28.

Concerning the effect of the economic condition on academic life, Dr. Tolley's report stated:

"Too exclusive a pre-occupation with repairs and budgets and retrenchments tends to make us judge everything from the dollar and cents point of view. There is a danger that in the universal emphasis on economy, schools and colleges may push into the background all questions of academic aspirations and ideals."

"I am glad to report that far from running behind in this second respect we have been marching steadily forward during each year of the depression. At a time when retrenchments and reductions have seriously weakened the standing of so many schools Allegheny has made significant gains in almost every phase of its academic life. I do not mean to imply that salary reductions and cuts in departmental appropriations have not worked hardships. Naturally, when incomes are reduced, living standards are lowered, expenditures for books, music, art, and travel are largely prohibited, and forces are set in motion that make for cultural and intellectual impoverishment. There is also the danger that continued salary reductions will mean the loss of gifted faculty members to institutions with greater incomes. Though we have been affected by necessary economies, we are a better college now than we were at the beginning of the depression."

"It is hard to measure improvements of quality, and the claims we might make for the new curriculum with its interesting survey courses and its comprehensive examinations, though impressing us as sound, might be questioned by others. The feeling we have that students are working harder, are taking their academic tasks more seriously, is substantiated by the entire faculty, and yet this too is difficult to demonstrate. On the other hand, when the circulation of books in the college library increases from 25,578 in 1931 to 54,214 in 1933, and the number of students using the main reading room increases several hundred per cent, that is tangible evidence of progress."

"There is other evidence also. Last year, for example, we rejoiced in the fact that 27 per cent of our entire freshman class took high school scholarship honors. This year the record was even better: high school scholarship honors were won by 37 per cent of our freshman class. Last year 56 freshmen fell below the median in the standardized English test that we gave them. This year only 28 fell below. Last year the scholastic aptitude average of our students was especially good. This year it is seven points higher (from 49.25 to 56.80). Last year the intelligence tests showed an average score of 49.22. This year it is 61.44. In every test we have given, some definite improvement has been

'CANDIDA' CAST NOW COMPLETE

Reserved Seats Available For Opener At The Playshop.

With the selection of Max LaBorde, '35, to interpret the role of Burgess, Candida's father, the cast for George Bernard Shaw's Candida is now complete. LaBorde has appeared in one previous Playshop production, "The Rising of the Moon."

Tickets for reserved seats are now on sale at the Playshop every afternoon from two till five o'clock. The price of admission to this first production of the season, which will be given on Saturday, November 18, is fifty cents. Since the play is scheduled to run only one night, the house will probably be sold out, for the play is well known and well liked.

As was announced last week, Jean Holman is playing Candida; Paul Grant, Marchbanks; Edward Stainbrook, Morell; Paul Gilmore, Lexy Mill; Helen Wicks, Prosperine Garnett.

The setting and costumes of "Candida" are of the late nineteenth century. When properties representative of those times cannot be found, Helena Mumaw, '36, and Betty Blake, '35, as properties managers, must make them. An interesting, illustrative example of the work involved is the making of the drapes out of monk's cloth. First, the color scheme and the design were selected and a picture of the design was projected on a screen. The design was then outlined on cardboard and cut out. The cardboard outline was fixed on a frame and shelacked; finally, it was stenciled on the monk's cloth and the drapes were cut out. The properties managers' main concern now is the hunt for an 1890 desk which is low enough for the audience to see a person seated behind it.

Others on the production and business staffs include production manager, Joseph Macedo, '37; costumes, Elizabeth Roberts, '35; Betty Hill, '35, and Mildred Gleckler, '35; lighting, Franklin Miller, '34; business managers, Elizabeth Kirkland, '34, and Tom Pringle, '35; publicity, Dale Beatty, '36; and house manager, William Clarke, '36.

THOBURN GOSPEL TEAMS BEGIN ANNUAL VISITS

The first appearance of this year's Allegheny Gospel Team, which is sponsored by the Thoburn Club, was made Sunday evening at Wesleyville M. E. church, near Erie. About 150 people turned out for the event. Arthur Crawford and Ardell Shindler were the principal speakers. Charles Barlow led the services, which featured a vocal solo by Stanley Vollmer and a violin solo by Robert E. Smith I (Erie).

The Thoburn Club, which has become a very active organization this year, met last Thursday evening in the library. Arthur Crawford led a discussion and spoke on the theme "What Ought Christians Do in the World of Today." Plans were made for the Sunday appearance of the Gospel Team.

The next meeting of the Thoburn Club will be held tomorrow evening at 7:15 in the library, and the next appearance of the Gospel Team will be at Albion this coming Sunday.

Dr. Frank B. Miner, '89, died suddenly at Glens Falls on October 29. Dr. Miner has been a practicing physician for the past forty years.

RE-ENTER TRI-STATE COMPETITION

Saturday's game with Thiel marks Allegheny's re-entrance into Tri-State competition after a year's absence. Thiel is now on the same non-subsidized standard as Allegheny.

EDUCATIONAL WEEK.

Those who attended chapel today probably learned, if they did not already know, that this is Education Week. Partially in observance of this occasion and also because of its genuine interest, The Campus has printed this week a part of President Tolley's resume of the past school year as he presented it in his report to the Board of Trustees.

Alleghenians may well be proud of the way in which the college has kept up her academic standards when financial pressure was so heavy. Read the story and you'll agree.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

"The change for the better is reflected in the work of the faculty units as clearly as in that of our students. In a survey of some thirty-five colleges about 1929-30, Allegheny ranked thirteenth in the percentage of its teaching staff that had made contributions to published literature over a five year period prior to the year of the survey. Of the thirty-five Allegheny faculty members who were questioned, 41 per cent had published articles or books in the five years preceding the survey. The highest standing of any of the other colleges was 57 per cent. If a survey of the college were made this year and the same question were asked, 59 per cent of the forty-four members of our present faculty could report that they have written either articles or books since 1929.

"With the increase in scholarly productivity, there has also been increased interest in improving teaching methods. The new required courses, especially those in speech, religion, natural science, and social science, show the most searching sort of thinking and careful organization of teaching materials.

"Even the training of the faculty shows improvement. I do not believe that the possession of a doctor's degree is any proof either of scholarship or teaching ability, but I think it helps to indicate excellence of training. I am therefore glad to report that whereas three years ago there were but thirteen faculty members with earned doctor's degrees there are now twenty-one and two others have honorary doctor's degrees. I think it is also significant that so large a number of our faculty are spending their summers either attending graduate school, traveling abroad, or devoting themselves to definite research."

FACULTY NOTES.

Professor Darling, Robert Muir, Richard Darling, and several scouts from Troop Six of Meadville, gave a scout demonstration before the Parent-Teachers Association on Monday evening at Saegertown, where a new scout troop was organized.

President Tolley will speak in Pittsburgh today at a Methodist Episcopal Conference meeting to discuss preaching, church music, and order of worship. His subject is "The Value and Importance of a Study of Philosophy in Sermon Building."

Professors Henke and Buckingham will attend this Friday and Saturday the fall meeting of the Association of Liberal Arts Colleges of Pennsylvania for the Advancement of Teaching which will be held in Harrisburg.

Professors Lee and Morris and Instructors Howes, March, and Clarke of the chemistry department attended the section meeting of the American Chemical Society in Erie on Monday of last week.

BOOK STORE ENTRANCE NOW READY FOR USE

Workmen have completed the new entrance to the College book store at the north end of Cochran Hall.

Other building improvements include the completion of a sprinkler system installation at Bentley Hall and the repairing of the wall at the south end of the campus which was damaged when a runaway garbage truck rolled down Sheridan Street, across North Main, and crashed into the wall.

Until some other college disputes the fact, the University of Akron claims the youngest acting dean of men in the United States. He is 29.

ALLEGHENY-OBERLIN

In the last half, the Gators forced the Oberlin team to its six yard line by a series of exchanged punts. The Crimson fumbled and Allegheny recovered on the four yard stripe, but could gain no ground, losing possession of the ball after being forced back five yards in four attempts.

Later Allegheny returned the ball to Oberlin's 28 yard line, which again put them in a threatening position, but a pass on the fourth down was grounded, and the Crimson tide kicked out of danger.

Allegheny registered ten first downs to Oberlin's nine.

Forty-three men saw action in the hard-fought Frosh-Soph soccer game Monday.

FINAL FOOTBALL TILT SCHEDULED THIS WEEK

Phi Psis and Phi Gams Emerge With Clean Slates.

Touch football wound up in league play last week, with Phi Gamma Delta and Phi Kappa Psi still at the heads of their respective leagues with unsmirched records.

Coach Daniels expects to have the final championship games completed this weekend.

B. K.'s Down Chi Rhos.

Beta Kappa, scoring a touchdown in every quarter, delivered a stinging 24-0 defeat to the Chi Rhos last Wednesday. Chester opened the scoring for the B. K.'s on a well executed pass from Leadbeater in the first quarter. Triple passes in the second and in the third quarters, Leadbeater-Miller-Beighley, accounted for two more touchdowns.

In the closing part of the fourth quarter, Chester received the ball on his own ten yard line and raced across the goal for the final score.

Phi Psis Nose Out Deltas.

Delta Tau Delta dropped a close game to the Phi Psis on the following day, 30-24. Carney whipped a pass to Smith for the first Delt score, and, in return, the Phi Psis threw a pass, McNutt to DeArment, which was also good for a score. Jacobus passed to Milliken, putting the Deltas in the lead, but in the second quarter McNutt intercepted a Delt pass and raced 50 yards to even the score.

A pass from Smith to Sternthal for the Deltas and a pass from DeArment to Hickernell for the Phi Psis again evened up the score at 18 all. McNutt passed to Hickernell for another six points and Smith tossed one to Jacobus to balance the game again at 24 all. The Phi Psis' final score came very easily when McNutt slipped around left end to give the Phi Psis a lead which they were able to hold until the end of the game.

Phi Psi-B. K.

The Phi Psis, continuing their winning streak, chalked up a 36-12 win over Beta Kappa in the final league game played on Friday.

The Phi Psis ran up a 30-0 score before the B. K.'s were able to get under way. Tamplin, DuMars, DeArment, and Wilson scored the five touchdowns for the Phi Psis in the first three and a half quarters, and Unverzagt, Klebort, and McNutt did the passing.

Late in the final period the Beta Kappa outfit woke up, and scored on a pass from Chester to Leadbeater. Here McNutt passed to DuMars for the final Phi Psi touchdown, and Beta Kappa, starting their last play before the whistle, were able to score a second time on a pass from Leadbeater to Wolfe.

Coach Tippin Primes Gators For Thiel Game

Coach Waldo S. Tippin of the Allegheny College grid team laid down the law to his squad last night at a special meeting. During his stinging talk he dwelt considerably on last Saturday's disappointing 6-0 defeat at the hands of a none-too-strong Oberlin team, and especially on the two golden opportunities to score which were missed.

Two words are all that are necessary to give a complete picture of the week's program to whip the team into physical and mental condition for the game with Thiel. They are drill and drive—and there will plenty of each. Both will be needed when Thiel comes to Meadville this Saturday, for Thiel is always a fighting team when it meets Allegheny.

There will be a big shake-up in the team for Saturday's game, and there are indications that at least five freshmen will be in the starting lineup. Tippin has given notice that these men will be in there not merely because a drastic change is desired, but because the first year men have earned their promotions. Three yearlings who have done outstanding work in games to date are Chuck Dunbar, end, of Mt. Lebanon; Cobb Diaz, fullback, of Charleroi; and Roy Stephenson, 210-pound tackle, from Meadville High.

The game with Thiel marks the opening of relations by Allegheny with Tri-State teams after the lapse of a year, and just as soon as it is feasible Allegheny's schedules will contain all or most of the Tri-State teams.

OBERLIN OUTPLAYED, BUT ALLIGATORS LOSE

TURKEY RACE ENTRANTS TRAIN FOR LONG RUN

Twenty-eight of the forty-five men entered in the annual Turkey Race have already paced off the course over which they will run a week from today, November 15.

From all appearances Jack Frost, last year's winner, will be hard pressed if he hopes to bring home the bacon to Alpha Chi Rho.

FROSH SOCCERITES HOLD SOPHS TO SCORELESS TIE

The soccer game between the freshmen and sophomore men on Monday afternoon resulted in a scoreless tie, in spite of a five minute overtime period.

During the first quarter, the Sophs held a monopoly of the ball, keeping it deep in frosh territory. More than once they threatened to score, but the good defensive work of the frosh fullbacks, Ralston and Houck, foiled their attempts.

The freshmen rallied in the second quarter, and sophomore goalie Dennis was forced to move fast to prevent the plebes from scoring.

The second half opened with a sophomore drive deep into enemy territory, but the frosh defense tightened, and they recovered the ball and sped it out of the danger zone toward their opponents' goal. The try for goal was wide, however, and the sophs free-kicked to safety.

The last quarter of the game found neither team showing an advantage, and an overtime period of five minutes was added. The second year men stormed the freshmen goal with drive after drive, but were unable to pass quick-kicking goalie Hutchinson.

Penalties Leave Allegheny On Short End Of 6-0 Score.

A fighting Gator eleven went down to an undeserved defeat when they met Oberlin College last Saturday at Oberlin and lost by a single touchdown, 6-0.

Allegheny outplayed Oberlin in every department of the game, especially in the last half, when she threatened the Oberlin goal line several times, but lacked the final punch necessary to score. The Gators' passing system was quite successful as Oberlin had no effective pass defense, and had the Alligators opened up with their passes earlier, they might have won the tilt.

The first quarter was decidedly Oberlin's, which was essentially due to four penalties inflicted upon the Blue and Gold. One 15 yard penalty put the Crimson team on the Gators' 20 yard stripe, another advanced them to the two yard line and still another put them on the two foot line. However, the Blue and Gold line stiffened and the Gators gained the ball on downs. Lubic punted out safely, but Oberlin returned the ball to the nine yard line. Oberlin completed a short pass, Allegheny was penalized again, and the Crimson had its touchdown, Ruth going over for the few remaining inches. The place kick was blocked.

Allegheny was seriously handicapped in the first half when Remaley was removed from the game because of a seriously injured face. McKim was also put on the inactive list when the referee's knee put him in a state of semi-consciousness for the remainder of the day.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO BE A CHAMPION BRONK RIDER!

RIDE 'EM COWBOY! Every second is crowded with danger for Eddie Woods, twice all-round cowboy champion at the famous Calgary Stampede. It sure takes healthy nerves to stay on board a fighting bronk! "Camels are my smoke," says Eddie Woods. "They never jangle my nerves."

"OUT ON THE RANCH I became devoted to riding and smoking Camels. Even if I am not in the championship class I need healthy nerves. And Camels do not upset my nerves. They are the mildest cigarette I know!"

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

EDDIE WOODS, one of the "top hands" of the cowboy world, says:

"Ten seconds on the back of an outlaw horse is about the hardest punishment for a man's nerves that anybody can imagine. To have nerves that can take it, I smoke only Camels. I've tried them all, but Camels are my smoke! They have a natural mildness, and I like their taste better. Most important of all, Camels do not jangle my nerves, even when I light up one Camel after another."

If you are nervous... inclined to "fly off the handle"... change to Camels. Your own nerves and taste will confirm the fact that this milder cigarette, made from costlier tobaccos, is better for steady smoking.

SORORITY PLEDGE DANCES

ALPHA CHI OMEGA.

Alpha Chi Omega held a pledge dance in the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house last Friday evening. About fifty couples danced from 8 to 11 to the music of the Melody Weavers. Guests from other sororities included Lucille Johnson, Phyllis Beet, Grace Lemon, Mary Jane Anderson, and Helen Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Seely, and Prof. and Mrs. Hurst Anderson were chaperons; and the committee in charge of the dance was composed of Ruth Rankin, Lois Slocum, Jane Stover, and Ednae Bruggeman.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Mu Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained its pledges at a dance in Cochran Hall on Friday evening, November 3, from 8 to 11 o'clock. Music was furnished by Ted Stewart and his orchestra. The chaperones for the evening were Miss Anvilla Prescott, and Mr. Robert Bates, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Smock. Guests of the chapter included the Misses Mary Jane Henry, Dorothy Mather, Betty Stoop, and Rosanna Riordan.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Kappa chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority held their annual pledge dance at Cochran Hall Saturday evening, November 4, from 8 to 11 o'clock. Music was furnished by the Alleghenians, Miss Anvilla Prescott and Mr. John Yeany acted as chaperones. The guests included Prof. and Mrs. Julian Ross, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Seely, Prof. and Mrs. M. J. Luvaas, Prof. Elisabeth Spann, Mr. and Mrs. John Bozic, the Misses Vera Yengst, Virginia Graham, Martha Nicklas, Mary Zeigler, Martha Bloom, Kitty Ross, Francis Boone, Florence Graf, Mary Jane Anderson, Jane Bortz, Ann Bortz, Flora Francis, Mary Shuman, and the members of Eta chapter of Theta Upsilon.

Cwens Entertain At Tea Dance.

The Cwens entertained with a tea dance in the green parlor and loggia of Hulings Hall on Saturday afternoon, November 4, from 3 to 5 o'clock. Approximately 50 couples came to dance to the music of Bruce Fye and his orchestra. Many of the co-eds attended stag, reversing the conventional order and adding interest to the affair.

Mr. Frederick Haberman and Miss Prescott were the chaperones of the affair. Miss Mildred Ludwig, the Owen advisor, was a guest of the group.

This was the first of a series of such dances to be given the first Saturday of every month, providing other activities do not interfere.

Beta Upsilon Holds Hallowe'en Party.

About thirty couples attended a Hallowe'en celebration held in the Beta Upsilon house, Saturday evening, November 3. The decorations were in a form befitting the occasion, and dancing and card playing furnished entertainment for the evening. Chaperones for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Harley Morris. Guests of the chapter included the Messrs. Mishell George, seph Macedo, Donald Reed, David Sleppy, Herbert Shaffer, Lawrence Lowing, and Stanley Vollmer.

Faculty Dinner At Hulings Hall.

The first of the series of faculty dinners was held in Hulings Hall on Thursday, November the second, at six o'clock.

The purpose of these dinners is to further acquaintance between the women students and the faculty.

The guests included President and Mrs. Tolley, Prof. and Mrs. Akers, Prof. and Mrs. Elliot, Prof. and Mrs. C. F. Ross, Prof. and Mrs. Swartley, Prof. and Mrs. Darling, Miss Chevre, Mrs. Henke, Prof. Beiler, Prof. and Mrs. Woodring, Prof. and Mrs. Luvaas.

Freshmen Girls Have Party.

A "get-together" was held by the freshmen girls on Saturday evening, November 3, in the parlors of Hulings Hall. Dancing and the learning of the new class song constituted the entertainment for the evening. At the close of the party hamburgers were served as refreshments.

Town Girls Meet.

The executive committee of the Town Girls Club met Monday evening, November 6, at the home of Miss Christine Black. The committees for the coming club year were appointed. A meeting of the club will be held Wednesday evening, November 8, in Hulings Hall.

Women Students Have Program In Playshop

Instead of a regular chapel service on Friday, women students met in the Playshop in Arter Hall. Helen Morrow, '34, explained the plan of Student Government to have their future meetings at the Playshop at noon, instead of in the evening at Hulings Hall as they have previously done.

Later a skit, College Life, written by Amy Bishop, was given by the members of Student Government, assisted by Kingsley Bishop, '35, Kate Miller, '35, Grace Ralston, '34, Sally Goldsmith, '34, Jean Holman, '34, and Lillian Timplin, '34.

Songs were sung by the girls under the direction of Eleanor Ruth.

FORUM WILL HEAR FACULTY PHILOSOPHY

Prof. Horace T. Lavelly discussed the question "Is There Immortality?" at last Sunday's Forum.

Next Sunday will begin a series of discussions in which various faculty members will present their philosophies of life.

DANCE DECORATORS PACIFY FARMER

Scholarly Research' of Boys Too Complete For Complainant.

A resourceful Home-Coming Dance decoration committee demonstrated last week their ability to conduct a skilful bit of research in agricultural economics and received from a farmer who originally came to them with a complaint for damages, encouragement to start the first "dance decoration fund".

Last Monday morning an indignant farmer strode into President Tolley's office and demanded payment for a patch of popping corn which had been appropriated by the Homecoming dance decoration committee.

Six bushels at $2 per bushel, was the farmer's first reckoning; but when he came to make out the bill, he decided that perhaps it was eight bushels at $3 per bushel.

Members of the offending decoration committee were called into the Dean's office for an understanding. Four collegian jaws dropped when they heard that that escapade would cost $24. For a moment the boys considered leaving college and starting, in partnership, a "popping corn" farm. Then they realized the seriousness of the situation—not only did the dance treasury lack $24, but it was in "the red." Something had to be done.

A few of the things the boys had learned in law and economics courses, they decided to put to practical use in a little independent research on the price of pop corn. The four went out to the patch which they had raided and measured the area despoiled. Then they questioned various farmers as to the amount of popping corn which could be raised on said area. Price estimates of this amount were collected from several merchants; and much to the collegians' delight they found that their suspicions that the farmer's pop corn price was exorbitant were correct. Baffled by this deluge of facts from the embryo lawyers, the farmer, when confronted, was even more confused about the price of pop corn than he had originally been.

The four culprits had the corn which they salvaged from the used decorations shucked, and delivered what pop corn could be rescued to the farmer's market. Together with it they offered the farmer $5. Much to their surprise he good-humoredly told them to keep the $5 and start a fund for dance decorations.

The Alleghenians, however, have learned something about agriculture as well as law by their experience: namely, that the next time they seek dance decorations they will get field instead of pop corn.

Phi Beta Phi.

Transforming of disease germs into preservative agents, and renovation of medicine and surgery—these were some of the achievements of Louis Pasteur which were emphasized in a report given by Fred Ewing, '34, to Phi Beta Phi on October 31.

"The Life of Pasteur" by Vallery-Radot was used as the basis of the account on the famous bacteriologist. Paul deKruif's "Microbe Hunters" will be used as a source for a sketch of Lister and Koch, the latter a famous German contemporary and rival of Pasteur. John Johnston, '34, will report on Lister and Koch at next week's meeting.

Tobacco Co.

One Hundred Million Dollars worth of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are being aged by the makers of Lucky Strike

In fine warehouses like these—open to soft Southern breezes—a huge reserve of choice Turkish and Domestic tobaccos is aging and mellowing. 27 different kinds of tobacco, "the Cream of the Crop"—for nothing but the best is used to make Luckies so round, so firm, so fully packed—free from annoying loose ends. That's why Luckies are always so mild, so smooth.
