GUIDANCE LECTURES GIVEN TO FRESHMEN

SOLUTION OF COLLEGE PROBLEMS OUTLINED FOR FIRST YEAR STUDENTS

As a means of thoroughly and systematically training its new students into the traditions, customs, and benefits of Allegheny College, a lecture course on "Introduction to College Life" is being pursued by the freshmen under the guidance of several members of the faculty. Six of the fourteen lectures have already been completed, and a great many new and interesting facts have already been learned by the class of 1927.

In order to determine the relative abilities of the men and women of the new class they were subjected to several intelligence tests.

"The College as an Institution" was first discussed by President Fred W. Hixson. Dr. W. A. Elliott spoke at the next meeting to the group on "Our College—Its History and Spirit." Reverend S. L. Maxwell, known by the more familiar name of "Sam" returned to Allegheny to tell the freshmen of "College Ethics" as he had found them when a student at Allegheny.

The day of the lectures has been up to the present time, Tuesday afternoon, but with the last lecture, on "How to Study" it was changed to Monday at 8:40. Three more lectures will be given over this subject using Kitson's, "How to Use Your Mind" as a reference.

In order to familiarize the freshmen with the library there will be a lecture on the cataloguing system in use. This, given in conjunction with work in the English department, will entail an extra amount of reference work on the part of the new men and women.

"The Organization of the College and Extra Curricular Activities" will form the next topic of discussion. This will be followed by a lecture on the social relationships of the young men and women. "Vocational Guidance" will conclude the list of lectures.

COLLEGE MEN'S CLASS DISCUSS WORLD COURT

"DOES IT PAY TO THINK IT OVER" TO BE SUBJECT FOR NEXT SUNDAY

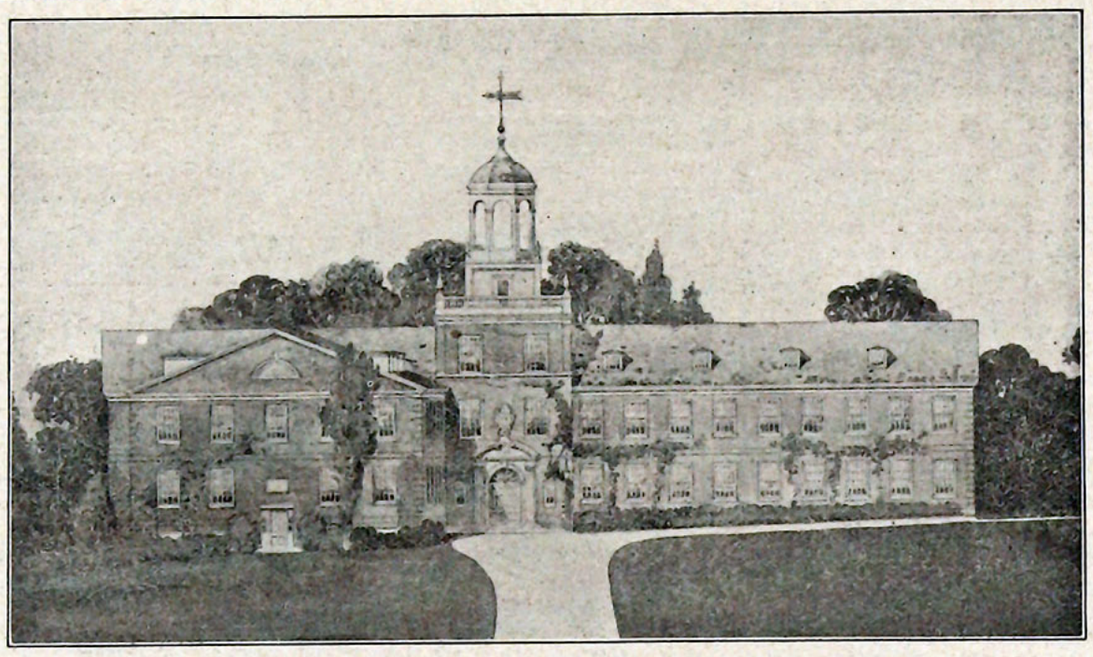

Before an unusually large group of college men and visitors, Dr. C. F. Littell discussed the question, "Should the United States join the World Court?" at the meeting of the College Men's Bible Class, last Sunday.

Dr. Littel's argument was from the religious and ethical point of view, primarily, although the discussion was carried into the political field as well. According to the speaker, the World Court is, or will be, the result of an essential evolutionary process. Just as the individual gave up his rights to the feudal or tribal lord years ago, as, in turn, the lord relinquished his authority to the national state, and as even in our own country the various states were forced to give way before the national government, just so must the great Powers submit to an international court of arbitration. It is the inevitable result.

Then, the World Court, yet in its infancy, has already proved itself capable of settling disputes by arbitration that may otherwise have resulted in a resort to arms. International arbitration was given a great blow by the Great War, but the World has since taken, through its work of the past few years, steps to prevent the recurrence of any such disaster. Not only because America should be willing to join such a project but also because America is at this time the only really stable country and the hope of all nations stricken with internal war, starvation, and radicalism, we should be bound to participate in the World Court.

Since permanent organization has been effected, the Bible Class is increasing in membership and attendance as well as in interest of the teacher's talk and the general discussion that follows.

Next week the subject will be, "Does it pay to think it over?"

RULES OF WAKEFIELD CONTEST ANNOUNCED

SIX MEN EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE IN ANNUAL ORATORICAL EVENT

Although only a few have as yet signified their intention of participating, it is expected that at least six men will give orations at the Wakefield Oratorical contest scheduled for the first week of December.

The contest is an annual event made possible through the generosity of James A. Wakefield, Esq., of Pittsburgh, who gives a prize award of fifty dollars for the winner.

The rules which govern the contest are as follows:

1. The orations are to be the original work of the students entering the contest.
2. Orations should not require, at the most, more than fifteen minutes for delivery.
3. Three typewritten copies of each oration must be in the hands of the committee not later than Friday November 30.
4. The contest is open to men of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes.
5. A man who has already won the prize is not thereby deprived of the opportunity of competing a second or third time.
6. The winner will receive a prize of fifty dollars provided by Mr. Wakefield, and will represent the College in the contest of the Intercollegiate Civic League.

Y. M. C. A. CONDUCTS PATRIOTIC MEETING

W. R. LUNK, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARY, TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Heralding the special Armistice Day services of the Y. M. C. A. in the Chapel last Wednesday evening, the Chimes called forth an audience numbering more than sixty, in spite of the inclement weather.

Two patriotic songs with organ accampaniment by W. W. Kinkaid opened the meeting and were followed with a prayer by Harry D. Hummer.

Cyril B. Hartman rendered two readings entitled "In Flanders Field," by the Canadian poet, McCrae, and "The Fool," by Robert W. Service. T. S. Baker continued the program with a tenor solo, "The Soul's Longing," and John B. Gordon interpreted "Young Fellow, My Lad," by Robert W. Service.

R. O. Barber, who spoke on "Experiences Abroad," said that Armistice Day will cease to be recognized unless some worthy ideal shall be attached to this holiday. If the prowess of a nation or the joy of a material victory is the purpose of celebrating the day, Armistice Day will not last. Five years ago today orders reached the front line trenches saying that firing was to cease on the following Monday. This news, coming as a great relief to the soldiers, overjoyed them. However, a different aspect appeared to Mr. Barber when he arrived in a small village near Verdun a week later, and he saw a spectacle which raised a doubt in his mind as to the permanency of this longed-for peace. People were coming back to the ruins of their old homes, and among them were three women and several children who attracted the attention of the speaker. Two of the women were very old and bent, and the other was prematurely aged, but their faces clearly betrayed the great hatred in their hearts which could be removed only by future generations. Conditions are worse there now than they were in 1918 and 1919, because the present impelling motives of the people are hatred and revenge. The only remedy for such a condition is to remove hatred from the hearts of the people. In conclusion Barber said that we can do our share to bring about universal peace by shutting hatred out of our hearts, thus helping more than by shouldering a gun.

Of the 373 Allegheny men who served their country during the World War, the names of the thirteen who made the supreme sacrifice were read by Russell R. Denison whole the members of the audience who had risen in respect for these heroes remained standing for a moment of silent prayer. The excellent program was concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

Mr. William R. Lunk, Secretary of the Meadville Chamber of Commerce, will address the Association tonight on the "Challenge."

PARK THEATRE ENTERTAINS FOOTBALL SQUAD

All members of the football squad, as well as the coaches and managers, were guests of Mr. E. T. Claffey, manager of the Park Theatre, on Thursday night, November 8, at the performance of "Around the Map" given by Billy Allen's Musical Comedy at the Park Theatre.

HULINGS HALL GIRLS CELEBRATE PAY NIGHT

AMATEUR DENISHAWN DANCERS FURNISH ENTERTAINMENT—DANCE FOLLOWS PROGRAM

On Thursday evening, November 8, Pay Night was held in Hulings Hall gymnasium from 9 until 10 o'clock. In spite of the fact that each girl had to pay several dues, the hour was very enjoyable. The program consisted of an imitation of the Denishawn Dancers. Miss Catherine Corbett as Ruth St. Denis and Miss Helen Rex as Ted Shawn gave a very clever and graceful interpretation of a Spanish tango. This was followed by a humorous Green tableau in which the group adapted some of the exercises learned in gymnasium. Miss Corbett and Miss Rex, in attractive costumes, then rendered an Oriental dance. The closing number was an Indian dance in which the shrieking Indians, with clubs in hand, bore down upon their smiling victim, killed her, and dragged her from the scene. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

CO-EDS SOLICIT FOR RED CROSS ROLL CALL

GIRLS RAISE TWO HUNDRED FORTY DOLLARS, SURPASSING PREVIOUS RECORDS

One hundred per-cent membership in the Red Cross was the aim of the girls who canvassed the College and its vicinity last Friday and Saturday, Nov. 10 and 11. That they did not fall far short of this goal is evidenced by the fact that two hundred and forty-five dollars were raised besides the amount raised by the men among themselves.

The committee consisted of Mary Wickham, Mary Dorworth, Virginia Berry, Helen Fry, Ruth Ling, and Katherine Morrow working under the direction of Miss Spaulding. It was this committee that originated the plan of having two college girls in Red Cross uniforms stationed in each building on the campus in order to solicit memberships from men and women students alike. For the same reason these uniforms were in evidence at the football game on Saturday, and though by this time the drive was almost over, a good number of new memberships were procured.

This is only another case of co-operation between the town people and the college students. The citizens of Meadville wanted the drive here to be a success, and they called upon Allegheny to help. The College responded, and as a result the amount raised on the Hill far surpassed that raised in former years.

It is to be regretted that the average for the fraternities cannot be given, but all records were sent in to headquarters on Saturday and are to be published alphabetically at a later date.

MISS SPALDING ENTERTAINS TALLAGEWE

The girls of Tallagewe were the guests of Miss Alice Huntingdon Spalding at dinner on Saturday evening, November 10, at Saegertown Inn. After a delightful dinner, speeches were given by Miss Spalding and Mrs. Fred W. Hixson, who was also among the guests.

DENISHAWN DANCERS APPEAR AT ALLEGHENY NEXT MONDAY

Performance of Magnificent Dancing Company to Be Given at Park Theatre

With a magnificence of stage setting and perfection of art that rivals the splendor of the old Imperial Russian Ballet, Ruth St. Denis with Ted Shawn and a troupe of dancers will appear at the Park Theatre next Monday evening. In brilliance and magnitude of presentation the work of the Denishawn Dancers ranks with that of the greatest and most famous dancers of the world. The rapidity of the sale of tickets among students indicated that almost the entire College will attend. At Hulings Hall and the several fraternity houses the sale has been almost one hundred per cent.

The ten thousand dollars worth of scenery and the gorgeous costumes of the company make the production the most expensive as well as the most elaborate that has ever come to Meadville. In addition to the regular stage hands twelve extra men are to be used to take care of the novel lighting effects which are a feature of the stage settings.

Miss St. Denis is probably best known for her oriental and interpretive dances. By her mobility of expression and grace and subtlety of movement she is able to interpret the soul of the Orient in all its moods. Ted Shawn is acclaimed as the most expert dancer among young men of American parentage, and he is said to be excelled by few Russians. His dancing created a sensation in London recently. A prominent critic said that he "epitomizes the proud arrogance, polished artificiality, and sinuous strength of every story-book Spaniard in history."

Together or singly, Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn are irrestible. Their dancing is full of color, life, and a humor that makes it absorbingly attractive.

The program consists of music visualizations, Spanish suite, Xochital, a dance drama, and the Orientalia. The first of the music visualizations is the first movement from Beethoven's Sonata Pathetique in which Miss St. Denis interprets rhythm and emotional feeling of the composition. Mr. Shawn and two girls symbolical of fire and destruction portray Chopin's Revolutionary Etude. Numbers from Schumann, Brahms, and Liszt are included in this part.

The Spanish suite is in two divisions. Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn appear together in three dances, and other members of the company appear in another group of dances.

Xochitl is a dance drama based upon an ancient Toltec legend. The scene is of the court of a prehistoric Mexican Emperor. The heroine is Xochitl, a maiden whose father discovers that intoxicating liquor can be brewed from the maguey plant. Xochitl and her father bring the discovery to the Toltec Emperor—Tepancaltzin, Xochitl dances for the king, who inflamed by the liquor, forces his illegitimate attentions upon her. The father has been lured from the room, but, hearing her scream, rushes back and is about to plunge his knife into Tepancaltzin, when with the usual feminine inconsistency, Xochitl begs that his life be spared. The emperor now in love and gratitude calls in his court to witness the making of Xochitl the Empress of the Toltecs.

The dances of the Orient are based

FRESHMAN DEBATING TEAM IS SELECTED

FROSH-SOPH DEBATE SET FOR NOV. 23—MEET PENN STATE FROSH IN JANUARY

At the freshman debate try-outs held in Ford Memorial Chapel on November 9, four out of the twenty men who competed were selected by the judges to represent their class in the Sophomore-Freshman debate which is to be held on November 23. This team will also meet the Penn State freshmen debaters in January.

The large number trying out for places has been unprecedented, and the judges, Dr. S. S. Swartley, Prof. R. W. Thomas and Prof. C. F. Littell had difficulty in choosing the best men. The team will be composed of Clarence F. Avey, Reuben L. Cain, Robert Corbett, and Robert E. Allan alternate. The subject of the Freshman debate will be the same as that to be prepared by the varsity debaters, namely: "Resolved, That the United States should Enter the League of Nations."

Through the influence of Dr. Swartley the Frosh team will have an opportunity to participate in Allegheny's first intercollegiate freshman debate. The opponent will be the Penn State first year team which is reputed to be very well organized. This debate will be held in January although no definite date in the month has yet been set by either college.

KNOWLEDGE OF SELF IS GREAT ASSET IN LIFE

DR. SAM MAXWELL SPEAKS ON "COLLEGE ETHICS" BEFORE FRESHMEN CLASS

Dr. S. L. Maxwell, '10, speaking on the subject of "College Ethics," addressed the Freshman class in the Chapel, Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 6.

According to Rev. Mr. Maxwell, a former resident secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Allegheny, a knowledge of one's self is the greatest attainment of a college course. College years are the most formative years of one's life. During these years the college student either accepts the college customs and standards as a whole, or he distinguishes for himself between those customs which are to be beneficial and those which are to be detrimental.

An example of the way freshmen adopt all the standards of the upperclassmen is given in the way the first year men of a certain year inaugurated the organization of the "Knights of the Bulging Cheek," for the reason that a few of the seniors had this habit.

The freshmen should not adopt all the college customs of the upperclassmen, for many of them put down individualism. Instead they should decide between the standards and customs of college life and choose only those that will be beneficial and develop the individual.

The college student should maintain a close relationship of self to other students because of the great influence it has on the later life of a man or woman.

Another great relation which should be observed is that of the college student to the world at large. Ethically and morally we are still in the world although this fact is seldom taken into consideration. We lead the same kind of life in the world as we do in college. If we are slipshod in college, we will be slipshod in life. In the same way the political policies assumed in college are usually those held in later life. We do not wait to begin life until we leave college; we gin it here in college, we must learn how to work here if we are to learn at all.

In summarizing his statements, Mr. Maxwell said that all the while we are here in college we must keep in mind our relation to the crowd, our responsibility to fellow-students, and the fact that we are already beginning real life.

OUR POLICIES

Commercial newspapers are known for the policy they champion. In these days of political machinery it is becoming increasingly popular for them to announce their platform in conspicuous black-face letters which all may see. Such platforms range from the altruistic "A Home for Worn-Out Horses" to the more subtle and timely "We Stand for Cleaner Politics."

The paid circulation of a college paper is not usually dependent upon the effectiveness with which it flares its policies before its readers. Certainly is this true of the Campus. However, in order that those who read our columns may know very clearly our position as relating to the various phases of Allegheny life, a series of explanatory editorials will be published. The series will include: I. Fraternities, II. Sensationalism, and III. Log-Rolling.

I. Fraternities.

An alumnus has written asking us what is wrong with the fraternities; so little is said in the Campus concerning them. Our answer to his inqury is that there is nothing wrong with our fraternities. Without any exception they are thriving and active. The moral and intellectual standard of those admitted into the College is rising each year. The fraternities quite naturally profit from this. Inter-fraternity feeling is exceptionally agreeable. A broader attitude exists.

As for the Campus closing its pages to fraternity publicity; it is true. We are. The paper is unadulteratedly Alleghenian. It is not to be filled with Greek letters. It is Allegheny as a whole that we are trying to boost. We believe the College can well afford to think more in terms of Allegheny and less in terms of fraternities. We intend to do our part in encouraging this trend of thought, both on the part of the students and of the faculty. Fraternities on the Hill are a positive factor in helping the College, but their interests must ever be subordinated to those of an integral Allegheny. To this end, we are emphasizing Allegheny and discouraging fraternity publicity.

THE DENISHAWN DANCERS

In the coming of the Denishawn Dancers Alleghenians will have an unusual opportunity to see one of the most perfected pieces of artistry in America today. Scenery and costumes costing over ten thousand dollars form the background for the unique entertainment which Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn and their followers will give here this month. A typical comment comes from a New York paper: "Miss St. Denis, Mr. Shawn, and their assistants make a group that will happen only once in a century or more."

There is something more than entertainment to be derived from the Denishawn program. There is a cultural value which must not be overlooked. Education in our colleges suffers from too little culture. Especially is this true where there are few opportunities to hear or see talent. The College Concert Series is doing a commendable work in encouraging an appreciation for culture. The Denishawn dancers have undoubtedly founded a real school of American art and have no superiors in the phase of culture which they represent.

ALLEGHENY TO HOLD INTERCOLLEGIATE CONFERENCE

Allegheny has been given further recognition by other colleges and universities of the East when the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States assigned our institution as the seat for the fall sectional conference. Washington and Jefferson, Westminster, Thiel, and Allegheny are the members in this section, and the editors with their staffs will hold conference within the month. Sectional conferences are being held at various colleges of the East this fall. The general spring conference will be held at Bucknell University this year.

Allegheny was admitted into the Association in the spring of 1922, and since then has reflected its influence. It is the purpose of the I. N. A. to shape the general policies of the papers concerned and to be of direct benefit to each member. Professor James Melvin Lee, of Columbia University, is executive secretary and offers criticisms and suggestions regularly to the members.

Harold S. Lewis, ex '20, is a second lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps and is located at Quantico, Virginia.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Paul Kennedy, of Cleveland, announce the birth of a son, Edwin Paul Kennedy, Jr., on October 31.

ARMISTICE DAY MEETING ATTENDED BY STUDENTS

PLEAS FOR WORLD PEACE MADE AT MASS MEETING AT PARK THEATRE SUNDAY

Students and faculty members of the College formed a part of the audience at the enthusiastic mass meeting held at the Park Theatre, Armistice Day, Sunday, November 11. The meeting was one of the many held throughout the country to observe the fifth anniversary of the termination of the Great War.

Mayor John E. Reynolds was the presiding officer and introduced the speakers. Dr. R. J. Hutcheson was the first speaker and pleaded for the co-operation and sympathetic understanding between the countries of the world. Ex-Mayor F. M. Graff followed applying his remarks to co-operation from a community standpoint.

Dr. H. H. Hough in a short address eulogized the men and women who participated in the war, but added that now we, as Americans, must strive for peace and harmony throughout the world.

A young Italian of Meadville, Guido Grucco, spoke in his native tongue. His address was translated by Dr. W. H. Crawford, former president of Allegheny College.

The speeches were interspersed with singing led by Prof. Lee Hess Barnes. A roll call of 45 men of Meadville and vicinity who gave their lives in the recent war lent an atmosphere of a memorial service to the meeting.

NO VESPER SERVICES TO BE HELD THIS SEMESTER

Contrary to a custom of several years' standing, there will be no monthly Vesper services held at the College this semester. The office has been unable to arrange a schedule with the preachers who were desired for these services, so the services have been deferred until next semester. Beginning with February it is planned to bring to the College some notable preacher every month to deliver a sermon to the students. Last year seven services of this kind were held.

NEW ALLEGHENY SONG IS ADOPTED

An addition has been made to Allegheny's list of songs. It is a football song and has received an enthusiastic reception by the student body. The song is an adaptation of the song "On Wisconsin," and the necessary arrangements of words and music were made by Chase Gage.

The quick, snappy rhythm of the music and the appropriateness of the words make it popular. The words follow:

Allegheny, Allegheny,
Plunge right through that line.
Run the ball clear 'round Geneva,
Vict'ry sure this time.
Allegheny, Allegheny,
Fight on for her fame.
Fight, Alleghe,
And we will win this game.

WESTMINSTER IS LAST CLASS B GAME OF YEAR

With Thiel, Grove City, and Geneva subdued and the Class B championship practically assured, Westminster College remains the only obstacle to McCracken's Hurricane in the secondary circuit. Though the New Wilmington gridders have not compiled an impressive record for the season, they have had considerable hard luck in every game throughout the year.

Opening the season with an impressive victory over St. Francis, the United Presbyterian team seemed due for their first successful season in many years. But a week later Grove City went to New Wilmington and, aided by frequent breaks and the inexperience of many of the new men on the Westminster team, piled up a 45-0 score.

In each of the next three games, Duquesne, Waynesburg, and Alfred, the opposition managed to squeeze out meagre one-touchdown victories. Duquesne, though outplayed, won by a lucky circumstance, and Waynesburg, conquerors of Grove City, experienced great difficulty in putting over the winning score. Alfred, after losing to Thiel by a 13-7 score, defeated the Presbyterians by a 7-0 margin.

Old Man Dope, the unreliable, would give Allegheny a victory, by a margin ranging anywhere from two touchdowns to ten. Coach McCracken is taking the only safe stand, that of anticipating a hard battle. There will be no letdown in practice, and the entire squad will be taken on the trip. In case the game does prove to be easy, the many subs will be given a chance. A large number of Allegheny students and Meadville people are planning to make the trip to New Wilmington by auto and train.

BLUE AND GOLD VANQUISHES BONAVENTURE BY 14-0 SCORE

Final Result Undoubted After First Five Minutes of Play

Battering its way through all opposition in the manner that has characterized the attack of McCracken's machine all season, Allegheny had little difficulty in smearing the invasion of St. Bonaventure 14 to 0 Saturday on the slippery turf of Montgomery Field. Thus the Hurricane has demonstrated that its superiority over Class B aggregations extends past the bounds of the Tri-State district.

The hornpiping backfield presented by the Bonneys failed most dismally to impress upon the Blue and Gold defense the tremendous attacking power of the highly touted Notre Dame system, and while their defense was decidedly clean and snappy, they found it impossible to halt the hard-hitting offense of the local clan. After the first five minutes of play the final result was never in doubt. Allegheny completely outplayed their visitors in every department of the game scoring 16 first downs to 4 for the Empire Staters and gaining some 220 yards, while the Bonneys strove desperately to advance the pig-skin a mere 70.

Parnell, on the initial kickoff, sent the oval to McAndrews on Bonaventure's 3-yard line. The rather feared attack of the invaders never got started. They were held for downs, and McAndrews punted to the Allegheny 40 yard line. The Hurricane lost no time in getting under way; a 60 yard march was begun that let up only after Dolde had tossed a perfect pass into Jimmy Hanlon's arms as the latter patiently waited well over the white scoring line. It required but 10 plays, 6 plunges by Dahl and 3 clever dashes off tackle, by Hanlon and Dolde, to place the ball on Bonaventure's 5 yard mark and in position for the pass that resulted in the first touchdown of the game. The versatile Dahl then proceeded to boot the ball over the posts for an added point. Although this one touchdown was enough to give the Blue and Gold their fourth consecutive victory, it did not halt scoring operations in the least.

Early in the second quarter Hanlon began the second big offensive march by tearing off a first down that left the ball in Allegheny's possession on Bonaventure's 31 yard mark. Morley crossed the forward passing New Yorkers on the next play by calling for a toss, Hanlon to Judd, that knocked off another first down for the fast-going locals. Jimmy Hanlon continued to feature in the plays by slipping past left tackle on the next formation, crossing the field to the right and getting the ball to within 2 feet of the Bonny's goal line. Dahl easily smashed across the remaining distance for Allegheny's second tally and kicked the goal.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in allowing the Hurricane to see how its reserve material acted under fire. Substitution after substitution was made apparently without weakening the power of the Blue and Gold machine to any extent, although the condition of the field and the standing of the two teams made it unnecessary for the victors to exert themselves in order to roll up a greater score. Barney Logan took up the battering attack that tore through the losers' line at will, and his interception of one of the 18 passes attempted by St. Bonaventure was the feature of the final period. The offensive work of Hanlon, Dahl, and Logan stood out for the victorious Blue and Gold while the brilliant defense displayed by Judd and Cibula was the bright spot of the game. Frey, McAndrews, and Martineau appeared to be the best in the visitors' lineup.

ALLEGHENY HARRIERS OUTCLASS THIEL MEN

Allegheny cross-country team came back strong after their defeat at Alfred a week ago and outran the Thiel College harriers, Saturday at Greenville by a 17-38 count. The Lutherans were badly outclassed by Coach Faries' team which walked away with nearly all of the important places in the meet.

Three Allegheny runners tied for first place in the run when Captain Bliss, Little and Rea crossed the finish mark in Packard Park at the same time. Dilley of the Thiel team was best for the Greenville outfit and finished fourth. Miles and Reyner counted next for Allegheny and were followed by Smith and Thompson, two of the losers' men. Harrison was the last Allegheny man to count as Beyer developed a side pain and was forced to retire from the run. Wilson and Beamer were Thiel's final two entries. The race was run over a three and a half mile course which included considerable sloppy territory. The time of the run was 25 minutes and 22 seconds.

This Saturday the Allegheny squad will go to Pittsburgh for the annual meet with the strong Panther harriers. Last fall, the Pitt team defeated the Blue and Gold in easy fashion but this year Captain Bliss' men feel confident of making a better showing.
