Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

I have just returned from my annual Commencement bout to find on my desk your kind note about the Pen & Brush too which you honored on Decoration Day. I cannot tell you how much the Club, and I in particular, appreciated your generous coming and your more ~~and~~ generous giving of yourself while with us.

When you left the house you signed an autograph book for a little girl who had the temerity to waylay you.

"I have read about Mrs. Roosevelt," she told one of the awe-stricken spectators, "and of the gracious way she treats people especially children, and I found out that she was just as nice as I expected her to be."

That is the way all the members of the Pen & Brush felt after your visit. Of course I have known it for a very long time.

Please accept the most genuine gratitude of the Pen & Brush for coming to us.

Faithfully yours

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt
