

JOHN G. BENACK, EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
NEWTON MILLHAM, ADVISORY EDITOR

JOHN R. APPLETON, ADVERTISING MANAGER
JAMES E. FOSTER, BUSINESS MANAGER

The Gridiron

1931

SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY YEAR BOOK
ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY
CANTON, N. Y.

A.T.O. House,
June 1, 1931.

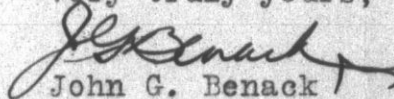

Miss Ida Tarbell,
120 East 19th Street,
New York City.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

When you visited St. Lawrence recently, you very kindly consented to write a short article for THE LAURENTIAN, the monthly magazine for the St. Lawrence students and alumni. However, since then, it has been necessary to advance the publication date for the Commencement issue to June 8th.

I wonder if it would be asking too much to request that your article on your impressions of St. Lawrence be sent to us before that date? If we are pressing too strongly on your valuable time, we should be glad to include your contribution in the first issue next fall, although we should prefer to publish it in the June issue, which has the greater circulation. At the same time would it be possible to obtain a photo of you from which we might have a cut reproduced?

Very truly yours,

John G. Benack
(Managing Editor, THE LAURENTIAN)