

ALLEGHENY STRENGTHENS CHAMPIONSHIP CLAIMS

Geneva Defeated Last Friday Night By 29-27 Score— Captain Volk Plays Last Game on Home Floor

W. AND J. AND GROVE CITY GAMES THIS WEEK.

Two games yet remain to be played, and, with them, the basket ball season for 1919 passes into history.

Grove City apparently has a rejuvenated team for they have been forging to the front ever since they made their appearance here earlier in the year.

W. & J. are laying claims to the sectional championship and in the Pittsburgh papers they are advocating a post season game with University of Pittsburgh to decide the supremacy.

Coach Keogan is untiring in his efforts to have a winning combination primed for these two important games. Since he assumed charge of the team, not a single game has been lost.

Hospital Unit No. 9 In Embarkation Camp

AFTER NEARLY TWO YEARS OVER THERE, LAKESIDE UNIT EXPECTS EARLY RETURN—15 ALLEGHENIANS IN ORIGINAL UNIT.

Joy filled No. 9 General Hospital, at Rouen, France, when the news was received there a few days ago that the Lakeside Hospital Unit, the first contingent to reach France, was to leave for Vannes, an embarkation camp.

In May, 1917, almost two years ago, the Unit left Cleveland and with it were fourteen Allegheny men and Miss Ida F. Preston, '11. These men intended to enlist in a body in the regular army, but were transferred to the Lakeside Unit.

Thirty-five of the one hundred and fifty-three enlisted men in the Unit received commissions, three of whom were Allegheny men: James E. Isherwood, ex-'19; Floyd L. Shaner, ex-'20, and Ralph H. Ware, ex-'19.

It was the hospital under control of the Lakeside Unit that the British authorities chose, to determine by experiments the value of delayed primary suture. The results obtained were not only valuable in the treatment of cases during the war, but were a real contribution to medical science.

Dr. Darling Talks On Spanish Influenza

INTERESTING CHAPEL LECTURE TRACES THE "FLU" EPIDEMIC AND DISCUSSES CAUSES AND MEANS OF PREVENTION.

The "Flu" was the subject which was discussed in Chapel on Friday, March 7, by Dr. Chester A. Darling. Dr. Darling told the assembled body of the origin, rise, and decline of that disease which has been bothering us for the last half-year.

According to Dr. Darling the epidemic started about a year ago in Asia and spread rapidly to the surrounding countries. By summer it had spread over a great part of the old world and was especially deadly in India, where about 3,000,000 succumbed to the disease.

The city of Philadelphia seems to have been hit the hardest by the epidemic. In that city the death rate was 3.2%. It is said that two-thirds of all the deaths of the city were caused by the influenza.

Dr. Darling stated that the causes of the disease were unknown and qualified this statement by saying that it was agreed that a germ was probably the cause. But although bacteriologists have been working on the subject for some time, no one has been able to find the germ.

The means of prevention were particularly emphasized. It was stated that, though the disease had probably had its largest epidemic, an epidemic would probably occur several times in the next three or four years. Then

Assistant Managers of Campus and Kaldron

STUDENT SENATE ADOPTS NEW SYSTEM FOR MANAGERSHIPS OF PUBLICATIONS—ACTION ON COLLEGE DINNER RULES.

Action of considerable importance was taken by the Student Senate last week in creating the position of Assistant Managers of the Campus and Kaldron, these Assistant Managers to become the Managers of their respective publications the following year.

The new system calls for the selection of an Assistant Manager of each publication by an electoral board, the members of which are elected by the student body in general election as has been the practice in former years.

The Assistant Manager system has the great advantage of training a man each year to fill the position the succeeding year, thereby avoiding the disadvantage of the present system in which the appointed Manager takes up unfamiliar work with little experience, and consequently is unable to do full justice to the work until after the greater part of the year is over.

In order to start the new system of Assistant Managers, an election will be held in the near future to elect Campus and Kaldron electoral boards, which will at once select Assistant Managers for those publications to serve in that capacity for the remainder of this year, and to be Managers next year.

It is understood that the Assistant Manager shall work with the Manager in the performance of his duties, and shall thereby relieve the Manager of a portion of the work which has so heavily burdened Managers in the past. This is another advantage of the new system which promises to be helpful in the cause of better publications at Allegheny, for the Manager will have more time to devote to the details of his work.

Another important action of the Student Senate was with regard to the Washington Birthday Banquet. In the past it has been the custom to leave to the discretion of the classes the method of choosing partner for the banquet. It is a set fact that the Banquet is a general college affair, and the majority of the classes in the past have seen fit to choose partners by lot.

Dr. Snively Gets Promotion In Red Cross

The students and Faculty of Allegheny College will be elated to learn that Dr. Guy E. Snively, former Registrar and Professor of Romance Languages of this college, who has been engaged for the last three years in Red Cross work at Atlanta, Georgia, has received an enviable promotion as an assistant to General Manager Monroe in Washington, D. C., headquarters.

Dr. Snively will take his new position immediately, according to the Atlanta Journal of February 17, and his work under the peace programme of the Red Cross will cover the general supervision of all division organizations and activities throughout the country.

CENTENARY ADDRESSES BY DR. J. FRANKLIN KNOTT

Special Sunday Services Are Full of Interest—Add Impetus to the Centenary Movement in Meadville

The Centenary world-wide movement for the re-organization and regeneration of the church and for the accumulating of $105,000,000 for reconstruction purposes was given impetus in Meadville when special services were held Sunday morning and afternoon at the Ford Memorial Chapel. The services were impressive and a large attendance was present at the morning and afternoon meetings.

Declaring that the world cannot exist half pagan and half Christian as well as half autocratic, Dr. J. Franklin Knott, Chancellor of the American University, Washington, D. C., speaking in the interests of the Centenary Movement, stated in a speech at the Chapel Sunday morning that it was up to the Church to be the pioneer in democracy and in the rehabilitation of the world.

Dr. J. Franklin Knott, who is lecturing in the various universities and colleges of the United States in behalf of the Centenary, appealed to the people of this country not to isolate themselves from the family of nations which is now about to be realized.

We are living now in an age of world consciousness, said the speaker. Heretofore, we were confronted with diplomatic chicanery, with egotistical policies of isolation. Racial unity and world brotherhood were never national ideas, but they were the earnest dreams of the Church.

Dr. Knott emphasized the fact that there was not only a broader sympathy for all the nations but that there was a recognition of the supremacy of moral force. The moral ideals of righteousness and justice have taken possession of all nations, both great and small.

The third characteristic of this age, according to the speaker, is that there is a possibility and process of changing the world's mind. The world's new standard of justice, sympathy for the oppressed nationalities, and the readiness for righting the miscarriage of justice are some telling points in the new era of brotherhood.

It was no accident that our Yanks made such a tremendous sacrifice in the fields of France. They did the same thing in Valley Forge, Gettysburg, San Juan Hill, and Chateau-Thierry. The 200,000 Americans, who fell in battle in the present war, have dedicated themselves for the principle of democracy, or the principles of Christianity. There is no democracy, emphasized Dr. Knott, where Christianity has not done its pioneering.

A Vesper Service was held Sunday afternoon at 4:30, which was attended by a considerable crowd. Dr. Knott spoke on the "College Life Service" in which he pointed out that there was definite purpose in finite creation; that everybody was adapted for some purpose which must develop.

The students and Faculty of Allegheny College were touched upon by the speaker. Dr. Knott issued a call for directors of religious education, pastors, physical directors in institutional churches, rural experts, and church nurses; and in overseas work for teachers in grades, high schools, and colleges, for agricultural experts, boys' workers, engineers, doctors, Christian business men, general missionaries who are capable of serving as religious for whole districts.

Dr. Knott believed that there was never so excellent an opportunity for the young man and woman as there is at the present time and he, therefore, urged everybody to be ready to accept the challenge of the world.

Dr. Knott was invited to speak at the Stone Church Sunday evening. He talked on the conditions demanding the Centenary.

In the afternoon, Dr. Knott conferred with many of the students in personal interviews in regard to the opportunities for Christian men in the reconstruction period.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB.

The Men's Glee Club has been working faithfully the last month and from all appearances will be able to give their first concert before April. Director Stewart and the Leader, Louis Miller, '20, are assuming the responsibility of putting out a representative Allegheny Glee Club and with the hearty co-operation of the members at rehearsals there is no doubt but that the men will be able to give an enjoyable concert.

The repertoire of the Club this year is more of a lighter vein. There will be a few numbers of the more or less classical order—the remainder will be humorous and popular and patriotic selections.

The Glee Club sang a patriotic number, "America Triumphant," at the Washington Birthday Banquet and were warmly applauded by the college; they were not prepared to sing a second number as it had been understood beforehand that there should be no encore.

If it can be arranged satisfactorily with the Faculty, it is the intention of Manager John Preston, '20, to take the Club to Jamestown, Erie, Sharon, North East, Corry and other places in the surrounding district from which Allegheny draws its students.

Much Interest In Wakefield Contest

ONLY THREE CONTESTANTS FOR PHILO-FRANKLIN CONTEST AS YET. SOPHOMORES TO DEBATE FRESHMEN APRIL 10.

At least one big and enthusiastic oratorical contest promises to materialize itself within the next two weeks when the annual Wakefield Contest will be held in the Ford Chapel, on March 28. With more than a dozen contestants desiring to enter the contest, a real interest and revival of pep seemed to feature the 1919 Wakefield Oratorical affair.

The contest will be held as usual at the Ford Chapel, where a large crowd is anticipated. The names of the speakers and the subjects of the orations will be published next week in the Campus. As there are many candidates for the Wakefield Contest this year, it is believed that only the best orations, which will be selected by the Oratorical Committee, will be delivered by the speakers on March 28.

The only oratorical contest which as yet has aroused little enthusiasm is the Philo-Franklin Oratorical Contest, which was scheduled for March 13, but had to be postponed twice. At a meeting of the Oratorical Association, it was determined to hold the Philo-Franklin Contest in the latter part of April. The orations, however, have to be handed in on or before April 14 to C. L. Jones, '19, or Miss Sue Jenkins, '20, Secretary of the Oratorical Association.

With only three students signifying their intentions of joining the contest thus far, the Philo-Franklin Contest can not be a very spirited one this year. It is sincerely hoped that all Freshmen or members of the Forum who do not compete for the Wakefield prize will participate in the Philo-Franklin Contest. Although the Freshmen Class last year was not as large as this year's, there were five members of that class who took part in the Contest. So far not one Freshman has expressed his desire of taking part in the Philo-Franklin Oratorical Contest. In order to have a successful Freshman contest this year, it is essential that more students should compete for it.

Freshman-Sophomore Debate. No action has yet been taken in regard to the Annual Freshman-Sophomore Debate, which is scheduled on April 10. The matter rests with the discretion of the two classes. The class officers of either class are urged to call a special meeting of their members and stir up enthusiasm. The

EDITORIAL.

Do You Read the Campus?

If you read the above head, you no doubt do read the Campus. At least you scan the heads, skip over the editorial page, glimpse Hulings Hall notes, and hunt through the Fraternity column for the occasional bright bits of wit composed by the respective chapter scribes. Having disposed of the first question, we will propose a second:

Is the Campus Worth While?

In other words, if the Campus were to drop out of existence, would its absence be noticed? Would the Allegheny man or woman feel that, in the absence of a weekly news paper, the college was lacking in one of the prerequisites of a representative institution? Would they feel that they were missing one of the features of college life, one which furnishes a record of the year's happenings with a completeness impossible of attainment otherwise?—We believe that every Alleghenian would reply in the affirmative to the above question, and we believe that the Campus is worth while; decidedly so. If we didn't, we wouldn't be giving the equivalent of one day out of each week to Campus work.—If the Campus is worth while;

Why Not Help Support It?

There are several ways of supporting the Campus; for example, financial support by subscribing, moral support by not knocking when the staff or manager is working under difficulties, mental support by suggesting ideas or making criticisms in the right spirit, and like means of lending a hand to the Campus organization, all of which are appreciated—if they are ever existent. But there is a support which you can give the Campus which is far more important than any of the above. A question, which has been stated in these columns formerly this year, states it:

Why Not Do Reporting Work in Staff Competition?

This might be stated by some: "Why do Reporting Work?" We have answered that question in previous issues, and a mention of the enumerated reasons here would only be a waste of space in repetition. The fact remains that, if you admit that the Campus is worth while, you must also admit that it is worthy of at least a portion of your time and effort expended in extra-curricular activities.

The fact remains, and it is a too evident fact, that Allegheny men and women, more particularly the men, must take more interest in coming out for Campus Staff competition, or the inevitable must happen. The inevitable takes the form of an appointive staff, and the appointive system has so many evils that it represents only a last resort. Lack of experience, favoritism, and no chance for the man who does not advertise his talents are some of the ill fruits of the appointive system, which we can avoid by supporting the present system which is strictly competitive. And we add a fact of importance to you:

It is Not Too Late.

There was never a better chance open to Alleghenians for Campus work than is offered now, and what is more there is immediate necessity for reporters who have in view the attainment of a place on the staff.

What Are You Doing for Your College?
Are you engaged in extra-curricular activities, which play an important part in making your college a representative institution, or are you shirking your part and leaving to the other fellow all the work which produces what you enjoy? Here is your opportunity to enter the field of college activity, render your college a service, and gain valuable experience for yourself. We ask that there be a ready response to this repetition of our previous announcement of the staff competition. Every member of the editorial board is ready to aid new competitive reporters with information and advice at any time. In plain words: Get Busy!

EDITORIAL.

There has been some talk, of late, concerning a big celebration to be held some time shortly after the end of the basket ball season, to celebrate a successful year and to show the team and the world that Alleghenians appreciate the fine work of the five. While no definite plans have been mentioned, it seems that the proposed celebration would incorporate a huge bonfire and snake dance on Montgomery Field, with speeches as of old, and all the features which made such an affair in the past a big event in the college year. Should this talk take the form of definite plans, the proposal should meet with the enthusiastic approval of all Alleghenians.

American University Union in Paris, France

LETTER GIVES NAMES OF ELEGANT ALLEGHENY MEN WHO HAVE REGISTERED THERE SINCE NOVEMBER 4, 1918.

Following is a letter recently received by President Crawford from the American University Union in Paris, France, with reference to the Allegheny men who have registered there, and extending a further invitation to Allegheny students to make use of the union when visiting Paris:

Dear Mr. President:
The American University Union has the pleasure of sending to you the usual monthly list of registrants at its Paris Headquarters and, for your convenience, a duplicate of the list which we sent you a month ago.

We sincerely hope that your students will continue to make use of the Union whenever they visit Paris. We shall be very glad to be of any personal service to any of them.

- Faithfully yours,
American University Union in Europe.

Education, 12, rue d'Aguesseau, Paris; James E. Isherwood, '18, 1st. Lieut., Inf., 88th Div. Hdqrs.; Robert L. Rhoades, '16, Co. L, 23rd Engineers; Ivan R. Stidger, '11, 1st. Lieut., B. E. F.; Theodore Thoburn, '14, 2nd. Lieut., 4th Inf., B. H. 11, APO 767; Frank M. Thompson, '06, 1st. Lieut., Chaplain, 61 C. A. C.; John D. Van Horn, '16, 1st. Lieut., 11th Infantry, APO 745; Charles M. White, '11, 1st. Lieut., 364th Infantry, APO 776.

THE FINAL INTER-CLASS GAMES.

The last two games of the inter-class series will be played on the Gymnasium floor on Tuesday night, March 18. It is to be hoped that everyone will take advantage of the convenient hour and be present.

The first game, between the Juniors and Seniors, will begin at 7 P. M. This game will decide the position of the two upper classes as they have both lost two games. From the scores of past games it looks as though the game would be a close one. The one thing that is needed is a little class spirit and cheering to enliven the boys.

The second game of the evening and final game of the series—that between the Sophomores and Freshmen—will be played immediately after the Junior-Senior game. This game is especially interesting because it is to decide the class championship. It is probable that the game will be interesting because each team has won two games and each team intends to get the third and thereby the championship. The customary rivalry between the Freshmen and Sophomores will probably enliven the contest. The Freshmen have been defeated in the Freshmen-Sophomore scrap and are very anxious to defeat the Sophomores. The Sophomores—on the other hand—feel that a victory would better establish their supremacy over the Freshmen. It is probable that the classes will turn out in full force and support their players by a lot of cheering.

It was the intention to have the games played some time this week, but every night was full and no time could be found to play the games. It was then postponed until Tuesday, March 18.

DR. SNAVELY PROMOTED

The Atlanta Journal of February 17 has the following to say regarding the appointment of Dr. Snavely:

The southern division of the Red Cross has received National recognition by the appointment of Dr. Guy E. Snavely, assistant manager of the division, as assistant to General Manager Monroe to succeed Willoughby Walling, former assistant to General Manager Scott. Dr. Snavely takes his new position immediately and the scope of his work under the new peace programme of the Red Cross will cover the general supervision of all division organizations and activities in every part of the country.

The first specific piece of work to be undertaken by Dr. Snavely will be that of perfecting the nursing programme of the Red Cross, which is designed to reach every community in the country.

This appointment carries with it not only recognition of Dr. Snavely's ability as an organizer and director but it is also a tribute to the work of the southern division that its assistant manager should be selected to direct the Red Cross work in the broadest possible field.

Dr. Snavely in co-operation with Willis J. Milner, the recently retired director of publicity of the southern division, began the work in this territory and was largely instrumental in the present plan of the geographical arrangement of the divisions and it is a tribute to the judgment and ability of these men that when the Red Cross work was changed from eight to thirteen divisions the southern division territory remained practically intact.

The Red Cross work in the division has grown from 30 to 541 chapters under the management and direction of Dr. Snavely and it is planned that this work shall continue and increase steadily and rapidly in order to meet all the peace requirements. The fact of Dr. Snavely's familiarity with local conditions will make of him a most valuable assistant to the National authorities and his continued supervision of divisional activities will keep him in constant touch with Red Cross work. The successor to Dr. Snavely has not yet been appointed.

WAKEFIELD CONTEST.

Sophomore team of three and one alternate are elected by their classmates from the best available material, while the Freshman team is chosen by competition before a faculty committee. To get the "ball a-rolling," the selection of debaters for this debate should be commenced at once.

DR. DARLING ON FLU.

there is still possibility of anyone getting the disease and it still pays to be careful. The disease is spread chiefly by discharges from the mouth and nose. As in other diseases one may be a carrier of the disease and not be afflicted with it.

Another means of spreading the disease is by the hands. There are millions of germs on the hands and more in cold weather than in warm. Soap is of great use in washing off these germs. One of the chief uses of the face mask is to keep the hands out of the mouth.

It is believed that up until this time drugs and vaccinations have done more harm than good and that the best way to guard against the disease is to increase the resistance of the body.

ALLEGHENY STRENGTHENS CHAMPIONSHIP CLAIM

our two engagements with the Mountaineers. Should we defeat W. & J. next Saturday night, our claims would be even more strengthened.

Allegheny did not act like a team of championship caliber in the Geneva game. In fact, the play has been going back in the last few games; the playing is far below standard. Coach Keogan has his work cut out for him if he wants to have the team in championship form for the remaining games. A vastly improved game will have to be developed if Allegheny hopes to triumph over The Presidents.

Allegheny started out with a defensive style of play against Geneva in as much as the Geneva center was taller than Baldwin and consequently was able to get the tip-off. Close guarding resulted in the calling of many fouls by the referee. The first counters of the game resulted from free throws. Kofford scored the first basket of the game on a side shot. The ball passed from side to side until Stringer put it through the hoop for a Geneva goal. The game was poorly played by both sides, there being only few instances of real basket ball playing in the whole twenty minutes of play. These few fleeting moments were when Allegheny took a spurt and showed what it was really capable of doing when going at top speed, bewildering the Geneva players in a network of intricate short passes, all of which resulted in baskets. Volk, Baldwin and Kofford were the point getters during the first period. Kofford, as usual, was consistent from the foul line, missing but two of his eleven free throws. The score at half time gave Allegheny a six-point lead, 19 to 13.

The second half was better played and far more interesting. The guarding though was rather loose, each side registering four field goals. Acklin played a clever floor game and got away several times for shots. Allegheny's team work on the offensive was smoother. Kerr's baskets resulted from working the ball down the floor in contrast to the baskets in the first half which were, for the most part, long shots. Like the preceding games the closing minutes of play decided the winner. The frequent calling of fouls cut down the Allegheny lead to one point, 24-23, with five minutes to play. Allegheny has a peculiar faculty of calling on some unknown reserve store of energy when in any immediate danger. Although the call was close, Kerr's and Kofford's baskets were sufficient to stem the tide although Geneva did succeed in bringing their total to 27 points. When the whistle blew, Allegheny was declared victor, 29 to 27.

With the Geneva game, ends the basket ball career of Captain John Volk on the home floor. Volk has played his last home game for the Gold and Blue, and has made for himself an enviable reputation in the basket ball hall of fame. Volk was fighting every minute of play, determined not to leave the floor captaining a defeated team in his last home game, and put up a fine battle, scoring two baskets besides missing several others by the closest of margins, twice on long shots he located the inside of the cup only to have the ball hop out again. Coach Hammett will have considerable difficulty in trying to find one who will measure up to Junt's caliber, and fill his position at forward next season.

The line-up:

Allegheny—29	Geneva—27
Volk	F
Kerr	Acklin
Baldwin	C
Kofford	G
Parker	Stringer
Field goals: Volk, 2; Kerr, 2; Kofford, 4; Baldwin, 1; Acklin, 2; Stringer, 3; Loeffler, 2.	Loeffler
Foul goals: Kofford, 11 out of 14; Acklin, 13 out of 19.	Forbes
Referee: Carlson, of Pitt.

COLLEGE BAND.

During the S. A. T. C., a battalion band was formed under the leadership of Caspar Spangler, '21, and H. M. Maitland, '22. When the S. A. T. C. disbanded in Allegheny College, and the old college routine came back to its place, there arose the question of the College Band. At some of the basket ball games lately we have had excellent music from an impromptu band with H. M. Maitland, '22, as leader.

During the past two weeks this band has been reorganized. Dr. R. E. Lee serves as its faculty guide, and H. M. Maitland, as its leader. This band, of fourteen members, has been practicing and its aim is to stage a few concerts before next commencement.

These fourteen members are: H. M. Maitland, '22, leader; cornets, John McCreary, '21, solo, Iams, '21, and Clark, '21; clarinets, Kelly, '21, Tre-cise, '22, and Gerdon, '22; piccolo, Humes, '20; E-flat horn, Cornell, '22; trombones, W. H. Maitland, '22, and Russell, '22; bass horn, E. K. Baldwin, '22; drums, Pollock, '22, and Magee, '22.

The college band sends out a strenuous call for volunteers. Any man who can play a band instrument or any man who has a band instrument is asked to contribute either his services or his instrument. There is the "makings" of an excellent band in school, as was shown by the S. A. T. C. band, and there is no reason why any man in school with any instrumental ability should not render his services, for he thus hinders the band from augmenting the number which there are at present in the organization. Speak to the leader or any member of the band for information as to joining this band.

FORMER ALLEGHENY COACH SUCCESSFUL.

It is of great interest to note the success that the basket ball team of the University of Nebraska has had thus far this season; especially when we know that Coach Stewart, who has charge of the quintet, was coach at Allegheny from the Fall of 1909 to the Spring of 1912. When we consider this we are not surprised to hear of the merits of this team as Allegheny also made a splendid record for herself in basket ball during the time that Coach Stewart was here.

Nebraska has played its first four games with non-Conference teams. The Omaha Balloon School bowed to them by overwhelming scores in the first two games of the year. The other week, however, the Lieutenants from Camp Dodge, exacted revenge for their fellow doughboys, defeating Nebraska twice on a Lincoln floor, by scores of 25 to 18 and 25 to 24. Both games were won by experience over inexperience. Nebraska out-played her opponent on the floor, but there was a tendency among the younger members of the team to give away to a touch of stage fright in the emergencies. The Camp Dodgers played a careful, heady game, making capital of the inexperience of their opponents.

TRACK PROSPECTS.

By the calendar we learn that Spring is nearly here and this means that athletes turn their minds toward track. Already meets are being planned and arranged and a call will soon be made for men who wish to try out for the team. Although, owing to war conditions, there was no track team last year it is to be hoped that a goodly number of the men of the College will uphold the name of Allegheny in this athletic endeavor as in football and basket ball.

Coach George E. Keogan reports that track activities will soon begin. He stated that a call for candidates for track would be made sometime this week or early next week.

Already meets are being arranged. There is to be an inter-scholastic meet here on May 17. A Washington and Jefferson meet has been proposed for the same time and it is probable that it will be arranged. There is to be an inter-scholastic meet at Carnegie Tech, at Pittsburgh, on May 31. Allegheny has arranged a dual meet with Tech at this time. There has also been correspondence with Grove City and Geneva regarding track meets and it is probable that meets will be arranged with them.

Y. M. C. A.

At the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Wednesday, in Cochran Hall, Dr. J. M. Leake was the speaker. He took his text from the book of Isaiah referring to the abolition of war among nations by the curbing of war spirit. On this text Dr. Leake mentioned the subject of the League of Nations and claimed it was the duty of mankind to create a friendly spirit between nations and races and to democratize the world. This duty, the speaker remarked, brings in weighty problems for the world,—problems of settling the unrest now present in industries, problems of political, social, and religious importance, and problems dealing with the races of mankind which were not so vitally concerned with the outcome of the late conflict as the white race in Europe and America.

In making these problems clear, Dr. Leake brought in the importance of the Centenary Movement, not only concerning its value as a religious movement, but its value as an industrial, political, and social movement. He said that college men are to be the leaders in this movement which will reorganize the world, and made a plea for the men of the college to come to the Y. M. C. A. meetings and become acquainted with this and other world problems.

Dr. Elliott has a number of posters at the Y. M. C. A. room at Cochran Hall which advertise the Centenary Movement. They appeal strongly to the imagination with such titles as "Get Beyond Yourself," "Does Color Matter?", "They Want Democracy, Too," "The World on Fire," and are well worth seeing.

There was a meeting of the cabinet immediately after the meeting to discuss plans for increasing the scope of the Y. M. C. A. at Allegheny and plans for creating interest among the men so that the attendance at meetings will be increased.

FORUM.

Philo-Franklin Forum held its weekly meeting on Friday, March 7, at 4:30 P. M. Brown, '20, assumed the chair. The subject for debate was, "Resolved that immigration into the United States should be prohibited for a five-year period." The affirmative debaters were William Glassman and D. P. Smith, both of '22, while the negative debaters were Abe Glassman, '21, and T. McCreery, '22. The Forum voted that the affirmative won the debate. Because of the growing interest in Intercollegiate Baseball here the debate for this week will be, "Resolved, that Intercollegiate Baseball should be revived at Allegheny College." Some of the upper-classmen who are especially interested in this subject will be asked to debate it before the Forum. At the following meeting the study and drill in Parliamentary Procedure will be taken up. The Forum is open to all men in College and every man that is interested in the methods of parliamentary procedure should be out for the practice in that work.

THOBURN CLUB.

Last Thursday evening the Thoburn Club met in the Chapel Oratory to consider the program of the coming meetings. Arrangements were made for better advertising of the meetings among the members and steps were taken to get a list of the Freshmen who should be members of the Club. So far only one man in the Freshman Class is known to have stated at the Registrar's Office his intention of entering religious work. Doubtless there are many who, upon entering the S. A. T. C. last Fall did not consider it necessary to state their intentions of entering some form of Christian activity. These men will now find it to their own advantage to join the Thoburn Club which is open to all men expecting to engage in any form of Christian work.

GYMNASIUM BEING REPAIRED.

The latest improvement at Allegheny is the repairing of the Gymnasium. The basket ball seats have been removed and everything is ready for the work to begin. The interior of the building is to have all needed repairs. The woodwork is to be repainted, the walls replastered, and the ceiling recalcimined. The floor is to be levelled and everything else necessary to make a good gymnasium is to be done. All the apparatus that is necessary in the physical training classes will be purchased in the immediate future.

CLASSICAL CLUB.

The Classical Club held its meeting in the Library on Tuesday, March 4. Miss Pitman was elected chairman of the meeting. Dr. W. A. Elliott addressed the assembly telling the many customs which he has observed in the Greek Catholic Church which are merely survivals of the ancient Greek pagan worship. Evidently the early Greeks, though adopting Christianity, maintained their former religious rites.

STURTEVANT LECTURE.

The students of Allegheny College will have the pleasure of listening to one of the lectures which are available because of the Sturtevant Fund. On Thursday, March 13, at 8 o'clock, Mr. Thomas E. Tallmadge will deliver a lecture on "Architectural Milestones." The lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides. Mr. Tallmadge is an architect of note and a member of the American Art Association.

Y. M. C. A. MOVIES.

It has been announced that the Y. M. C. A. Movies will be held on Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock. This was the hour of the pictures last week and the large attendance showed that this hour was satisfactory to the majority of the students. For the next week at least the movies will be shown on Saturday evening.

Alphi Chi Sigma Pledges New Men

HONORARY CHEMICAL FRATERNITY EXTENDS INVITATION TO SEVEN MEN IN DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY.

Last week there appeared on the campus seven new pledge pins heralding the fact that Phi Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma had once more extended invitations to certain men of the Chemistry Department to become members of the national chemical organization of that name. These men are: John F. Preston, '20; Winfield S. Zehrung, '19; Wilbur Thoburn, '21; Charles Jones, '19; Carl D. Mornebeck, '21; John W. Brock, '21, and Roger L. Baldwin, '21.

Alpha Chi Sigma is a national chemical fraternity which bases its selection of members upon ability in chemistry, degree of interest in work, and general scholarships, at the same time observing certain requirements of character. All members must be men working with a view to entering the field of chemistry, or of applied chemistry, after graduation.

Phi Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma, the Allegheny Chapter, is one of many Chapters located in all colleges and universities of the United States. The present Allegheny Chapter includes the following men: Dr. R. E. Lee, Director of Carnegie Hall of Chemistry; Carl A. Gilbert and Paul E. Hill, Assistants; Giles M. Bollinger, '20; George F. Meredith, '20; Gordon D. Patterson, '19; Elmer L. McMurren, '20; Leo A. Armagost, '20; Wendell B. Gordon, '20; Leon D. Pierson, '20; Rodney McCloskey, '19, and Norwood W. Kerr, '20.

The latest Periodicals at Trace's.

DUZER DU.

The members of Duzer Du held a meeting a few weeks ago and elected officers for the rest of the semester. W. S. Zehrung, '19, is now President; F. L. Stewart, '19, Vice President; and C. L. Jones, '19, Secretary and Treasurer. It was decided to stage a play before commencement. A committee of the Club reported recommendations of plays. A four-act play, by Frederick Ballard, "Believe Me, Xantippe," was highly recommended by the committee, and was voted upon favorably by the membership of the Club. The play is now pending faculty approval.

Try-outs have been held in the past week to select the dramatic talent of the school for whatever play the Duzer Du Club does put on. Dr. J. R. Shultz, the coach, is highly pleased with the selections made thus far, and in the near future, as soon as the faculty approval has been secured, he will begin in earnest to stage rehearsals of the play, "Believe Me, Xantippe." In that case, the Campus may be able to announce the cast in next week's issue.
