Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
120 East 19th Street,
New York City.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

I do not wish to be insistent, but since you express an interest in Susan B. Anthony in your kind letter of November 9th, I am tempted to write again and ask you if you will undertake the article if I can postpone the date when it should be finished. Would you be able to do it by the first of next September? This is the farthest limit that I can possibly make. I should very much like to have you do this biography.

Cordially yours,

Allen Johnson
