THE CAMPUS OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

MARCH 2, 1949

Plans Nearly Completed For All-College Carnival

Plans for the annual college Carnival, March 12, which will use a "Continental" theme this year, are rapidly moving along towards completion, as evidenced by chairman Jon Sandberg's announcement early this week concerning results of the concession requisitions.

The twenty-eight projects or concessions include such things as selling food, recording voices, and gambling. Types of food being sold range from American hot dogs to Italian pizza-pie, while gambling includes penny-pitching to the Irish sweepstakes. There will also be photography, an auction and an Olympic rat race, in addition to a Russian answer to International Problems, the Kappa Klondike, fortune-telling, and a bake sale.

The lineup of the themes undertaken by the various social groups and clubs, along with their representatives, follows:

Alpha Chi Omega—Hungary, Dotty Jones; Alpha Xi Delta—Norway, Anne Roberts; Theta Upsilon—Australia, Marion Taylor; Kappa Kappa Gamma—Alaska, Elisa Camilli; Kappa Alpha Theta—Ireland, Mary Beth Mauntel; Alpha Gamma Delta—Paris, Alma Lou Prudden; Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Italy, Dick Sullivan; Phi Kappa Psi—United States, Jim Brebner; Phi Delta Theta—Morocco, Gene McClure; Alpha Chi Rho—Monaca (Riviera), Edgar Henry; Theta Chi—Hawaii, Gil Scholes; Delta Tau Delta—Tibet, Paul Storing; Phi Gamma Delta—Fiji Islands, Bill Morrow; and Phi Beta Phi—Olympic Races, John Hipps.

Also, Spanish Club—Mexico, Dottie Schmidt; German Club—Germany—Ignatius Stanko; French Club—France, Mary Anderson; Tarbell—Lower Slobbovia, Barbara Boyd; Beebe—Brazil, Marty McVay; Cochran—Arabia, Rusty Alley; Brooks Freshmen—Hell-and-Sanky Mehlman; Psych Club—Austria, Joe Dickey; Outing Club—Switzerland, Dick Shurmer; Chemii—Portugal, James Thoburn; Faculty Wives—All Countries, Mrs. Julius Miller; Kaldron—Belgian Congo, Martha Dengler; A.C.A.—China, Barbara Arndt; and I.R.C.—Russia, Charles Cochener.

In 1939 Rev. Mr. Thompson went to the Methodist Mission in Singapore, and was a teacher in the Anglo-Chinese Secondary School from 1940 to 1942. When Singapore fell to the Japanese, he was captured and served as pastor and teacher in the Japanese Internment Camp at Singapore until 1945. He was associate pastor of Wesley Church in Singapore from 1940 to 1942, and again in 1945.

Since 1946, Rev. Mr. Thompson has been Pastor of Weston Methodist Church in Weston, Mass. He is married, and has two daughters.

Bikini Radiologist To Talk On Atom Bomb March 9

Dr. David Bradley, who was radiologist at the Bikini atom bomb tests and recounted his experiences and observations in "No Place To Hide" which appeared in the Atlantic Monthly and in book form, will speak at 8:15 P.M. in Ford Memorial Chapel on Wednesday, March 9, under the sponsorship of the Darling Lectureship Fund.

Dr. Bradley, who returned from Bikini and Army service to undertake graduate study in surgery at the University of California, has now abandoned that study to devote his full time to the task of making the American people realize that an atomic war must be avoided. He will come to Meadville close on the heels of a visit to New York where he has been discussing a PareLorentz documentary film on the atomic bomb which is to be titled after his book, "No Place To Hide."

A man of diversified interests and talents, Dr. Bradley graduated from Dartmouth College in the class of 1938 and then was a student at Cambridge University. He spent a year working as a newspaperman in Europe, and returned to the United States to study medicine at the University of Wisconsin. During the war, Dr. Bradley was an Army medical student at Harvard School of Medicine, being graduated in the summer of 1945 with his M.D. and a commission as second lieutenant in the Army Medical Corps.

He was assigned to the Manhattan District for six month's training, and then joined the group of scientists which accompanied the fleet to the Bikini atom bomb tests. He was assigned to the Radiological Safety Section of the tests, which had the job of remaining behind in the months after the explosion to study effects and collect information on radiation. Bradley's account of the aftermath of "Operation Crossroads" was cleared for publication by the Office of Information Control of the United States Atomic Energy Commission and aroused considerable concern for the future among the wide audience.

One of seven brothers, Dr. Bradley clearly reflects his environment. His father a physiological chemist

Auction, Dawn Dance Highlight Student Service Fund Activities

O'Connell Selected To "Mademoiselle" Collegiate Board

Pat O'Connell, a freshman from Meadville, has been appointed a member of Mademoiselle's College Board. The appointment enables her to compete for a College Guest Editorship of Mademoiselle.

The twenty guest editors, chosen from the College Board on the basis of assignments given during the year, go to New York for the month of June to help write and edit the annual August College issue of the magazine.

While in New York City, Mademoiselle's Guest Editors take part in a full calendar of activities designed to give them a start in their careers. These include personalized career guidance as well as interviews with top celebrities in their chosen fields, and trips to newspaper offices, fashion workrooms, radio stations, stores, agencies and printing plants.

Placement Office Slates Interviews

Mr. Robert Sherman, in charge of Allegheny Placement Office has announced that several major industrial and retail concerns will conduct interviews on campus in the next few weeks with seniors, with an eye towards placing some June graduates in their organizations.

In this connection, Mr. Sherman requests that all seniors who have not already done so, register immediately at the Placement office if they desire any aid in job placement. A small photograph should be brought to the office to be included in placement data.

Other notes of interest to all June graduates include:

1. Some summer camp jobs are available for both men and women.
2. Representatives of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company will be on campus soon to interview men June graduates for sales position with the concern. Further information is available on various bulletin boards and in the Placement Office.
3. On Monday, March 16, the S. S. Kresge Company desires to interview possible candidates for their management training program. Interested senior men can arrange for an interview by seeing Mr. Sherman.
4. Several attractive federal service openings have been received at the Placement Office recently, for which Alleghenians may be able to qualify. Circulars and application blanks are available.

ACA Holds Bousson Retreat This Weekend

The Allegheny Christian Association is holding its spring retreat this weekend, March 5 and 6, at Bousson.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a general discussion and evaluation of ACA, and everyone interested in the work of the organization is invited to the meeting. The group will leave Brooks Hall at 1:30.

Bob James of the Student Christian Movement will be there to aid in the discussion, and Chuck Loney, recreation leader from Pittsburgh, is planning a party for the evening. A supper will be served at Bousson for those interested, but transportation will be provided for those who have to return to the college for the evening.

Sunday afternoon there will be the annual election of officers for the coming year. The time set to leave Brooks is 2:30. This meeting is open to everyone interested in the ACA and its work. A large turnout is desired so that the new officers will represent the choice of the members and interested persons of ACA. Supper will be served, and a party will be held in the evening. The retreat will close with a short worship service.

Highest Bidder "Prexy For A Day," Committee Strivies For 100% Goal

An auction, a Dawn Dance, and an evening of basketball games are the main activities in store for students during the week of the Student Service drive, March 7 through March 12. Proceeds from all events will be placed in the fund to bring displaced foreign students to Allegheny for a liberal arts education.

The presidency of Allegheny College for a day will be one of the items to go to the highest bidder at the all-college auction next Wednesday morning, March 9. This auction, a unique chapel program, will be conducted by Bob Seidenberg and Dick Scibetta, the Paine and Wheeler comedy team from last year's Carnival production, "Hotel Musicale."

Other items to go on the block include free twelve o'clock permissions, one-half the editorial column of the CAMPUS, and a gala evening including dinner at Gray's, tickets to the Park theatre, and limousine and chauffeur service for that evening.

The Dawn Dance, a record dance in the Grill, will take place Friday morning from 6 to 7:50 a.m. Girls will ask the fellows to this event. The Freshman Ensemble will provide special numbers. Although no admission will be charged, Todd Taylor, chairman for the Student Service Drive, has announced that contributions may be left at the door.

The basketball games Tuesday evening, March 8, are also being sponsored by the Student Service drive. A ten-cent admission will be charged to witness the faculty versus the freshmen all-stars game, plus the final game of the intramural season.

In addition to these activities, the Brooks and Cochran dining halls are being asked to give up desserts on Wednesday evening, the money usually spent for desserts being turned over to the Student Service fund.

Individual envelopes will also be distributed to each student by the fund representatives. Students are asked to return these envelopes containing their contributions to the representatives on Monday, March 7. A special effort is being made to reach a 100% contribution by the student body on that initial day of the week's campaign.

A large clock set up on Brooks balcony will register contributions made toward the 100% goal. Individual thermometers within the clock will show the progress of the various campus organizations.

Liliom Has Debut In Titusville Theatre

Like so many Broadway productions, the Playshop had an out of town opening for its newest show, "Liliom."

The drama by Ferenc Molnar had its opening performance in Titusville last Monday evening, and is now being presented in the Playshop at 8:15 every evening through Saturday, March 5. Cosmo Catalano has the title role in the production, and Mary Elizabeth Thoma portrays his wife, Julie.

Through the use of fragmentary settings and light projections, "Liliom" has been made into a presentational rather than realistic type of production. The plot itself turns from realism to expressionism in the last two scenes of the play. Director, Mrs. Graham Gloster Bird, designed the set. Louise Cull Strawcutter is technical director. Under the supervision of Mr. John W. Hulbert, Joe Dickey, Jack Goellner, David Sperry, and Joe Hurley supply the lighting effects. Harold Meese is responsible for the musical effects.

Mr. William McMillen is associate director, and Edith Carberry is student assistant to the director. Harry Banta is stage manager, and Lee Adey and Reed Hurst compose his crew.

Ann Perkins Named Club 52 Chairman

Ann Perkins is chairman of the Cwen party for freshman women to be held next Friday evening, March 4, at the SAE house.

She is assisted by a number of committees, who have been working to make "Club '52" a success. Carol Sholle is the head of the food committee, and she is aided by Ruth Slosser and Joan McCafferty. The decoration committee is comprised of Barbara Stacy, chairman; Patricia Griffiths, Jo Ann Anderson, Jane Keffer, and Nancie Cornell. Liz Stidger is in charge of the entertainment. Helping her are Libby Townsend, Barbara Bounds, and Carol Hunt. Barbara Bounds and Cassie Heskamp share the job of publicity, while Jean Vines has to find the chaperones.

The dance, given in honor of the freshman women, is also open to all active and past Cwens. This informal party is a girl-ask-boy affair. The dance lasts from 9 to 12 p.m., and women students will receive 12:30 permissions in accordance with the regular Friday night party rules.

Lists will be posted on Brooks bulletin board until Wednesday evening, and girls planning to attend are asked to sign up for their tables.

Jill Robinson, A.W.S. social chairman, stresses that all girls are invited to attend the bridge party.

Time to take stock . . .

The recent fire at Kenyon College in Ohio, in which several students lost their lives and many others were badly burned, serves to point up the fact that many colleges and schools in the country are not prepared to meet emergencies of this nature. Allegheny certainly could stand much improvement in this line, both from the viewpoint of the individual and the administration.

Many of our buildings on campus are old and vulnerable to the ravages of fire. Many of our fraternity houses have no set plan to follow in case of fire. Many first-year students are for the most part ignorant of the procedures to follow in case of conflagration, whether in their dorms, frat houses, or classrooms. Many of the fire escapes now in use are rickety, rusted and dangerous to use even for drill purposes.

A smart hotel guest makes it a habit to immediately locate the closest fire-escape when he checks in, and to formulate a plan of action to use in emergencies. Yet a great many college students, who live in much the same manner, don't give the matter of fire a thought. They take their safety as a responsibility of the college rather than a personal matter.

In some ways, however, a few Allegheny buildings are well-prepared to cope with any fires that may start. Fire drills and rules have been laid down with sense and judgement. The Campus would like to see projects of this nature carried a little bit farther. Either it should become the responsibility of the administration to see that all buildings on campus have a definite plan to follow and make that plan known to all students by way of permanent notices or diagrams; or it should become the responsibility of each classroom instructor to see that all classes are properly briefed at the beginning of each semester as to conduct, routes, and procedures to follow in event of fire.

The individual should also share in the responsibility by becoming completely familiar with all avenues of escape in his dorms or off-campus buildings. He should always have a plan in mind in case the regular escape channels can't be used. He should acquaint himself with some of the more familiar axioms for fire emergencies.

Working together, the students and the administration should and must adequately prepare for and prevent any such tragedy as that that befell Kenyon College.

The ANATOMY of a Student Body

Paul Davidoff

This is the month of the Academy Awards. This is the month of the Anatomy Academy Award. Next week we are awarding the first annual Allegheny Anatomy Academy Award. The choice for this award is yours. Please send in your choice for the best anatomy on campus before Sunday night, March 6th. Here are just a few important factors that we of the final judging committee think necessary in anatomy of our winner.

The physical appearance of the individual we feel is of the greatest importance. Needless to say there are many factors that make up the perfect physical specimen, please take all of these into account in making your decision.

Following the physical in importance is the sociability of the individual. Here we feel it important that the person be able to talk about the right subject at the right time, or the wrong subject at the wrong time (we feel this is a splendid case of a double negative making a positive). Is the individual pleasing to others? Is the individual good company on a date, at a party, and on the way back from a date?

Of third rate in this list of requirements is the individual's intellectual capabilities. We realize that this is of no importance at all, but because we are at an institute of higher learning we have placed this requirement here for old time's sake.

Next we attack the individual's emotions. These are very important. Ask yourself if your choice acts normal, and for how long? Is the individual stable or moveable. Does it react properly to proper stimulation?

Finally we think it is necessary to look at the person's ethics whom we choose. These are of very great interest to the judging committee. Please take into account and make remarks as to what kind of ethics your choice holds to be valid and if this person has a changeable moral code.

These are just a few points that we feel necessary in deciding who has the perfect Allegheny anatomy. We can not render our impartial decision without your participation. Please think of the above requirements; remember we are mainly interested in physical attributes, but the other points are all quite necessary if our ideal of perfection is to be more than a statue.

Address your choice for the Allegheny Anatomy Academy Award to either Goellner or Davidoff, Caflich Hall; or to the column that you are now reading. Thank you!

Our last Anatomy Award for this season goes to the Delt Pledges for their colorful showing during their Hell Week.

"What is Tau Beta Pi's telephone number, please?" asked the reporter. After a moment's pause, he was greeted with this rejoinder: "I don't know, he doesn't seem to be listed in the directory."—"The Daily Reveille", Louisiana State University.

Social Whirl

This weekend—at last—parties! And did we have fun!

Friday night we dropped in on Station WAXP for bridge and dancing. Later on we made records and played them back. Let's hope we really don't sound that way! A novel and fun idea in short!

Honored guests were the new initiates—Earl Brevoort, Richard Giles, Milton Merze, Wendell Mickle, Harry Mueller, Ed Nelson, Darrell Shark, Oscar Somers, Ignatius Stanko, James Stokes, Austin Swanson, David Thurston, and William Vigrass.

Delta Tau Delta held its Initiation Dance at the Chapter House Saturday night. The Chapter presented its annual "Outstanding Pledge" award, a plaque, to Army Lewis and Jack Olofson. The award is made for scholarship, and campus and fraternity activity. Hoot Gibson and Jim Anderson were cited as having made the most decorative paddles.

Sunday afternoon Delta Tau Delta initiated Jim Anderson, Phil Choquette, Don Clark, Buzz Diaz, Fred Fielding, Hoot Gibson, Tom Hares, Pax Hart, Army Lewis, Jack Olofson, Doc Schneider, Ned Vidal, Bill Walker, and Jack Wine. Guests were Dr. H. T. Lavelly, '12; George W. Porter, '93; Paul Stafford, ex-'50, Dick Pierson, '48; William F. Reichart, '27; Ron Loew, '49, and Numa Vidal, II; H. S. Anderson, G. H. Schneider, Dr. D. C. Dunn, '20 and D. W. Ladner. An initiation banquet was held Sunday night at the House.

Tuesday night Harvey Herring was a dinner guest. Wednesday night the actives gave a spaghetti dinner for the pledges.

Following a George Washington theme, the new members of Theta Chi Fraternity gave a dance for the actives on Saturday night amid cherry trees and vineyards. The high spot of the evening was an intermission program conceived by Lee Adey and Don McCafferty which included monologues by Jane Frankel. Chaperons for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Byers.

Someone gave us the clue about the props (fans) for the Phi Psi "March comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb" party (that was the theme at any rate!), so we donned appropriate skirts! The decorations were terrific, little kites were given to the girls as favors, and we all had a gala time.

An open house for the Phi Deltas and their dates was a different way to spend a Sunday evening. Yes, we liked it and we'd like to see more of them.

Monday night the Phi Deltas entertained the Sigs and the Deltas at a smoker . . .

The Alpha Gams were busy all day Saturday painting their kitchen in preparation for their Mother's Weekend which is fast approaching—March 5 and 6. They would like to announce the initiation of Janet Schulmeister.

The Alpha Chi Omega's are continuing their annual practice of treating children from the Bethesda Home to a movie and soda. . . . Could mean an afternoon at the Mead this Saturday!

In conclusion, the Theta U's wish to announce the initiation of Pheobe Bailey and Lee Wasson. We'll see you next week at the Phi Gam Spring Formal!

Phi Delta Theta announces the pledging of Charles Patterson, '50. The Phi Deltas also entertained the Sae's and Deltas at a smoker Monday evening in repayment for the hospitality offered by the two fraternities during the Phi Deltas' recent furnace trouble.

Student Criticizes Recent Editorial

To the Editor: Why, O Editors, must we be tormented with editorials for the sake of . . . editorials? Last week the Campus took 14 inches of column space to "wonder why, and believe such-and so," saying and doing nothing but bemoaning the exit of the "Old College Try." The barbering advertisement of Roda and Leach was more inspiring.

School spirit is a good thing. It implies zestful cooperation of president and freshman alike; it is unity, oneness; it is everyone finding his niche and filling it with himself. On the otherside, the "Old College Try" should have gone with the last racoon coat and swallowed goldfish. It pertains, as the editorial writer unwittingly illustrated, only to athletics. It is nothing but a gooey lump of false emotion; it does not produce crack athletic teams. It is detrimental. Coaches recognized this long ago, that is why the "hellfire and Siwash" peptalk is no longer used.

It is a score for the school that can show its students, brawny included, that there are, after all, activities other than sports. Those men who love athletics are going to find a place on a team anyway.

And oh those nasty veterans. Have their "independent minds" found just as much competition in intramurals as in varsity sports. Have they found that the fewer practices required by intramurals leave time for other extracurriculars? Is that bad? Studies of the after-college worth of extra-activities show athletics to be of second lowest value. Nevertheless, if a biceps behemoth doesn't hit the blocking sled each fall, doesn't put the shot or press the bar-bell, but finds writing, debate, or dramatics more to his taste, he is a shirker. In word, he lacks the "Old College Try." Phooey.

And goodness, what a clincher at the tag-end of the so-sad tale! The migration of Muscles Mulligan away from the shower room is ". . . threatening the entire student body in every effort!"

—Jack Goellner, '52

Grill or in Brooks, before 1:30 P.M., Friday, March 4th.

Also, a meeting of the Heelers has been planned for 8:00 P.M., this evening in Arter 16. The purpose of this meeting is the planning of the program for the remainder of the year and the collection of second semester dues.

CAMPUS QUESTION

In order to determine the opinions of international, national, and local matters that are prevalent at Allegheny, the Campus has begun a new feature which will consider a different question each week. Both students and members of the faculty will be asked for opinions on these matters. Some of the questions will be of a serious nature, while others will not. This week we asked the question, "What do you think of the Marshall Plan?" Some of the answers received were:

Miss Mildred Ludwig, Dean of Women: "I believe that we should give our aid to all needy countries, but I am in favor that it be given through the United Nations."

William Allison, senior: I believe the Marshall Plan is the easiest way of buying peace without the use of weapons and the lives of other men. However, I also believe it is one of the major causes of our inflated economy."

Barbara Anderson, freshman: "We need a Marshall Plan here as well as abroad. There are many of our own people who need aid."

Dr. Paul Knights, history professor: "Both its political and economical overtones are dangerous, but its continuation is necessary if the United States is to retain its position of international leadership."

Nancy Myers, junior: "Gulp! I really don't know enough about it."

Nancie Cornell, sophomore: "Europe needs our help, and this is one way of giving it. If we out our plan correctly, it will be a good means of spreading our democratic way of life in Europe."

Joan Zook, senior: "People don't appreciate the aid, and fail to look to those who are giving it. We are like a Santa Claus whom Europe is becoming more dependent upon each day."

Jon Sandberg, junior: "Twenty-five words offers even less opportunity to discuss the pros and cons of the Marshall Plan than a seven minute extemporaneous speech presented last fall. Having no room for verbosity, three word evaluation might be—"A practical missionary enterprise."

There you have it. Do you agree with any of these remarks? Each week we will give you an opportunity to express your own feelings. We regret that there was not enough space to print all of your ideas, but we shall try to get to you in the future.

AUC Picks 5 Man Nominating Board

Hugh Crawford, president of AUC, announced that a nominating committee composed of five seniors has been chosen to select candidates for next year's AUC president.

Members of the committee are Pete Albright, Bob Chambers, Wilma Grote, Ralph Ketcham, and Jean Raeburn. The committee's choices for candidates will be announced in sufficient time so that further nominations may be made by petition. All the major campus elections will take place before Easter.

Fijis Meet Delts In Decisive Intramural Tilt

League Champ Faces All Star Team Next Week; Faculty Plays In Prelim

The intramural basketball championship of Allegheny College may be decided tomorrow night at 8:45, when the powerful Phi Gams clash with the once-beaten Delts.

Assuming that the Phi Gams defeat both the Theta Chis and the Sigs on Wednesday and Friday nights respectively, which is a difficult assumption in any intramural league, the Delt contest will either decide the championship or throw the league into a first-place tie between the two teams. If it ends in a tie, there will be a playoff sometime next week.

The winner of the league championship will play a post-season contest against an intramural all-star basketball team chosen from the other seven teams. The coaches of the intramural teams will pick the all-stars. As a preliminary to that game, the faculty will play a team of their choosing, probably an all-freshman quintet.

The Delts have won five games and lost only to the Sigs. The Fijis have beaten the Chi Rhos, Phi Psis, Phi Delts, and Independents, and have three contests remaining to be played in three consecutive nights. If they weather this storm, they will emerge undisputed champions. However, the Delts match them in every position.

Lewis and Shannon Fill Forward Posts

At forwards, the Delts have probably the best combination in the loop—Arny Lewis and Paul Shannon. Lewis proved his endurance by winning the Turkey Trot, and is a magnificent passer. Shannon, 5' 11" left forward, is almost as good a passer and a dead shot.

Ralph "Red" Ketcham, the defensive genius, and Bob "Set Shot" Davis will probably see the most action at the guard slots, while Paul Storing, an excellent man on rebounds, is slated to play center. Tom Hares, Dick Smith, and "Hoot" Gibson are the main reserves.

Intramurals

By Arnie Lewis

An active week of intramural participation, including bowling, swimming, table tennis, and handball showed some surprising results. The Phi Psis are on the move. Through virtue of their excellent showing in all of the sports, especially swimming, they have narrowed the margin between themselves and the first place Phi Delts to a mere 30 points. The Independents have also risen in certain sports to threaten the first division teams.

Intramural Standings

The intramural standings, not including handball or basketball are as follows:

Phi Gams	379
Phi Psis	369

Indes, Phi Delts Cop Bowling

The final outcome of the Ten Pin League was not settled until the last day of the schedule, when the well balanced squads of the Phi Delts and the Independents tied for the championship with records of six and one. Their three way tie for second was ample proof of the equality and competition between the teams of the league.

tured the ping-pong title as he defeated Pitt Guerdon 21-16, 21-15, 21-19 before a sizeable crowd at the gym last Friday. Guerdon, a surprise of the tourney, played a smooth defensive game as compared to Shannon's slam and cut style. In the quarter-finals, Bill Rylander edged Bill Tillotson, Shannon outscored Gizmo Daniels, Randy Limber lost to Guerdon, and Will Flint defeated Bob Seidenberg. Shannon started the semi-finals by winning over Rylander by three scores of 21-10. Flint and Guerdon engaged in a terrific five game series with Guerdon taking the fifth game, 24-22, for the right to play Shannon in the title match.

Although they failed to take the individual championship, the Phi Gams placed three of the four men in the semi-finals to gain enough points to emerge with the team trophy.

Phi Psis Take Swimming Meet

By virtue of their final spurt, the Phi Psis came from behind to overpower the Phi Delts in a thrilling exhibition of swimming skill. The Terrace St. boys garnered four first places in succession, but the persistent Phi Psis hacked down their lead in the final events. The tide was turned by the victories of Roger Seiler and Ed Deichman in the breaststroke and backstroke respectively. Cliff Skinner, Zack Taylor, and Corky Bonner stood out in the defeat for the Phi Delts. In third (Continued on page 4)

Gators Outscore Hamilton, Lose To Rochester, 54-52

The Allegheny College basketball team defeated Hamilton College at Clinton, New York, Friday night, by the score of 48-41. The following night, a strong Rochester quintet nosed out the Gators in the last few minutes to score a two-point 54-52 decision, the sixth time this season that the Hilltoppers have been beaten by less than five points.

On Tuesday of last week, Allegheny applied pressurized steam in the extra period, led by Paul Miller's two set shots, to topple Case Tech, 71-65. This was the closest Case has come to winning an away game in six years. The score was tied at 61-61 when the horn blew.

Gators Lead Hamilton All the Way

The Gators, who have been playing excellent ball lately, jumped to a first-period 14-8 lead at Hamilton and never surrendered their advantage. They increased the deficit 25-13 at halftime, and then Al Warner began substituting freely. The New York Cagers managed to outscore the irregulars, 15-9, in the third stanza, but the 34-28 lead was substantial. Changing combinations tallied one more counter that their opponent in the final period, and Allegheny triumphed, 48-41.

Bill Potter, after a slow first-half start, tallied four field goals and two fouls in the second half to lead Allegheny scorers with twelve points. Jim Feisley connected for four two-pointers and one-for-two on the foul lane for nine points to follow Potter.

Art Lawrie again played a cool game of basketball, displaying excellent form on set shots and guarding aggressively. Don McKay was his usual irrepressible self on defense.

Hilltoppers Fall to Deadliness of Rochester Guards

In one of the cleanest games Allegheny has ever played, the Gators had no trouble stopping three six-footers, but allowed two medium-sized guards, Lou Alexander (5' 9") and Scotty Norris (5' 10"), to score 20 and 19 points respectively, and Rochester emerged victorious, 54-52.

In the entire game, which was close and tense throughout, the Gators committed only fourteen personal fouls, while Rochester was called just twelve times. Even so, foul shots decided the game, since the Yellow Jackets made ten out of fifteen fouls, and the Gators made eight out of fifteen.

Bill Potter was high scorer for the sixth consecutive game. He tallied 21 counters on eight buckets and five fouls out of eight attempts. Paul Miller sank four field goals and three out of three from the fifteen-foot mark for runner-up honors with eleven points. Art Lowrie and Jim Feisley both garnered six for the Blue-and-Gold.

Swim Team Loses To Edinboro 39-36

by Jack Mitchell

The Allegheny College swimming team was submerged by the mermen of Edinboro College last Tuesday night by the score of 39-36 in the Edinboro pool. This defeat now gives Coach Hanson's natators a record of six wins against five defeats, with one dual meet remaining.

The Edinboro meet was close all the way, with the final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, being the deciding factor. As it resulted, Edinboro won the relay, set a new pool record of 3 minutes, 51 seconds, and garnered seven points, thus winning the meet by three points. The quartet of sprinters that comprised the state college's record-setting team were Hilloerf, Latini, Abbot, and Warren. The starting man, Hilloerf, and the anchor man, Warren, proved quite instrumental in winning the meet. Hilloerf won the 150-yard backstroke and placed second in the 220-yard freestyle, while Warren placed first in both the 60 and 100-yard freestyle events.

Gators Lack In Depth

Allegheny took six out of nine first places, but lacked in depth, which counts when the points are compiled. The Gators won the 300-yard medley relay with a threesome composed of backstroker Bob Zuberhuhler, breaststroker Bill Baum, and freestyler Bill Byham. Virg Sayre, as usual, captured two first places in his events—the 220 and 440-yard freestyles. In the 200-yard breaststroke it was Bill Baum and Steve Davis one-two, while Bob Zuberhuhler and Ward Schenk placed second and third respectively in their backstroke event.

Freshman diver Don Case captured his second first place out of three meets against Edinboro. Don placed second while diving at Case Tech, but was obviously hampered by the low ceiling there. Having been plagued by bad luck all season, Don was again hit last week when he injured his leg on the diving (Continued on Page 4)

Wernermen Clash With Alfred Here Saturday Evening

Al Werner's greatly improved basketball team concludes its 1948-49 season with two games, the first against Alfred University Saturday night in Montgomery Gymnasium, and the finale against Wooster at Wooster, Ohio, next Tuesday.

Last night the Gators clashed a red hot Western Reserve five away. Allegheny's record entering that contest was six victories and ten defeats, so they had a possibility of improving their .471 percentage of last year by taking the remaining three games.

If Allegheny had been consistent in their foul shooting, they would have won three games that they lost. Against Juniata, they made nine out of 26 and lost, 51-49. Grove City granted Allegheny 25 foul shots, but the Gators made only nine of them and dropped a 36-33 decision. The Hilltoppers scored on only five out of 14 free throws in the close Carnegie Tech tilt, while the Tartans connected on ten out of 13 to down the Gators, 42-41.

Two more contest could have been victories if the Gators had been better than average foul shooters. They lost by two points to Hanover, 58-56 making eight out of 15 from the foul line. Rochester jolted the Wernermen by two points also, 54-52, by making ten out of 15 fouls to Allegheny's eight out of 15.

board. At this time, it is doubtful if he will participate in the district meet at Pittsburgh Saturday.

Slippery Rock and Westminster now reign as co-favorites in the annual Penn-Ohio district meet at Carnegie Tech this Saturday. However, Carnegie Tech, Edinboro, or Allegheny could easily disprove this ranking. Other entries are Case Tech, Lockhaven, and Washington and Jefferson.

FIJIS MEET DELTS

Myers, left-handed forward, lead the Fiji Five. Brink, who played for the Junior Varsity last year, is an excellent shooter and a speedy guard. "Monk" Myers, along with Chuck "Senator" Johnson, supply most of the height and rebounding on the Phi Gam team. Myers is a smart ball player with abundant agresiveness. Johnson specializes in spectacular shots.

Hugh Crawford, Phi Gam guard, has not demented since last season, when he was chosen on the All-Star Intramural Team. He is equally as good on the offense or defense. Bob Carman is not much of an offensive threat, but is known as the "fighting guard." He and Charlie Rimer, both football players, will probably alternate. Joe Poole and Pete Gordon may help the Phi Gams with their shooting around the basket.
