DR. LORADO TAFT NOTED AS SCULPTOR AND CRITIC

Commencement Speaker One Of Foremost Living American Artists.

Dr. Lorado Taft, who has been chosen to speak at Commencement on Monday, June 12, stands in the front rank of American sculptors. Dr. Taft has been professional lecturer at the University of Chicago since 1909, and a lecturer on sculpture at the Art Institute of Chicago since 1901.

Dr. Taft was born in Emwood, Illinois, in 1860. He received his B. L. degree from the University of Illinois in 1879, and his M. L. degree in 1880. He then studied in Liecole Des Beaux Arts in Paris for two years. In 1913 he received an L. H. D. from Northwestern. In 1927, a Litt. D. from the University of Colorado, and in 1929 from his old alma mater the University of Illinois, he gained his LL. D. degree.

Wrote Many Works.

Some of the principal works that Dr. Taft has become well known for are: "The Columbus Memorial Fountain" at Washington, D. C.; "Lincoln," Urbana, Illinois; "Alma Mater," Urbana, Illinois; "Thatcher Memorial Fountain," Denver, Colorado; "Solitude of the Soul," Art Institute, Chicago; and "Fountain of Time," Chicago. Of these the most outstanding and well known are the "Solitude of the Soul," and the "Fountain of Time." Of the "Fountain of Time" Dr. Taft once remarked, that it was the dream of his life.

As an author, Dr. Taft has also gained a great deal of prominence. He is a frequent contributor to periodicals. Two of his greatest publications are "The History of American Sculpture" which was published in 1903, and "Modern Tendencies in Sculpture" which appeared in 1921. In his "History of American Sculpture," Mr. Taft has added to the authoritative history of American sculpture, new material and new pictures, dealing with the work of American sculptors up to the present time.

Awarded Medals.

In 1893, Dr. Taft received the Designer's Medal at Chicago Exposition. He also received the Silver Medal at the Buffalo Exposition in 1901; and the Gold Medal at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904. He was a member of the National Commission of Fine Arts from 1925 to 1929, and has been on the Board of Art Advisors of Illinois since 1931.

In 1929 Dr. Taft was chosen by the Women's Christian Temperance Union to design the memorial which that organization placed in the State Capitol at Indianapolis, Ind., to commemorate what was then the fiftieth anniversary of the election of Miss Frances Willard to the office of President of the organization. Previous to this Mr. Taft had designed, from life, the bust of Miss Willard, which was afterwards placed in the Hall of Fame in New York City.

Recently, on Feb. 15, Dr. Taft signed a contract with the World's Fair officials, to design two statues for the Federal Building at the Century of Progress Exposition. The statues will symbolize the judicial branch of the government, and decorate one of the three tall towers. Dr. Taft is at present working steadily on these two important features of the World's Fair, and will leave his work to come here.

Fisher Expects to Publish The Kaldron Early Next Week

According to John Fisher, editor of the Kaldron, the year book will be out the first of next week. It will contain about half the number of pages that the one last year had, but there will be no advertising in it. Because of this fact, the publishing of the Kaldron is being paid for entirely by the portion allowed it in the regular registration fee and by the money from each student activity group represented in the book.

A new photographic process that has been used in the Kaldron this year has made the appearance of the edition very successful, the staff believes. Kenneth Johnson has been made the editor of next year's Kaldron. His staff, which will be of his choosing, has not been decided upon.

PHI DELTA THETA WINS INTERFRATERNITY SING

Sigs, Delts, Phi Delts, and Phi Gams Participate in Vocal Contest.

Phi Delta Theta won the Interfraternity Song Contest, held in front of Bentley Hall on Monday evening, May 22, under the direction of Dean Benjamin and the Men's Senate. They received a silver cup as their reward. They sang "Phikeia's Band," "Phi Delta Theta, We Love Thee," and "Near the Vale."

Last week six fraternities had signified their desire to enter the contest; but by Monday evening it was found that Alpha Chi Rho and Beta Kappa had dropped out. The remaining fraternities sang in the following order: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Gamma Delta, and Phi Delta Theta.

The judges, selected by Professor Luvaas, were Miss Alma Grayce Miller, Mr. Arthur Leberman, and Mr. Connor, of the Pennsylvania School of Music.

The Interfraternity Sing was begun four years ago under the direction of Dean Benjamin. The Phi Gamma Delts won the contest the first year; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon won it the past two years.

PHI SIGMA IOTA HOLDS NATIONAL CONVENTION

The sixth biennial session of Phi Sigma Iota, national honorary romance language fraternity, was held on May 19-20, at Pennsylvania State College. Professor Henry W. Church, national president of the fraternity, Miss Ludwig, Professor Kalfayan, Margaret Evans, '33, and William Church, '34, were the delegates from Allegheny College.

Phi Sigma Iota, established at Allegheny in 1922 through the guidance of Professor Church, is the only national honorary fraternity founded at Allegheny. It now has sixteen active chapters.

CRAWFORD, JOHNSON, GRANT MAKE O. D. K.

Three members of the junior class were tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa in Assembly last Friday. The men tapped were Arthur Crawford, Kenneth Johnson, and Paul Grant.

The president of the local chapter, John Fisher, explained to the students the purpose of Omicron Delta Kappa, namely, to recognize those who have shown unusual ability in extra-curricular activities, following which the tapping exercises were held.

PLAYSHOP ENDS SEASON WITH 'A DOLL'S HOUSE'

Two Full Houses See Ibsen Presented by Veteran Cast of Players.

The final student production of the year, "A Doll's House" by Henrik Ibsen, was presented at The Playshop on May 15th and 16th. On both nights the play was attended by full houses, members of which were loud in their praise and commendation for those taking part in the production.

The cast was as follows: Torvald Helmer—Will Roos, Nora Helmer—Charlotte Merwin, Dr. Rank—William Boetcker, Nils Krogstad—Brammer Carlson, Mrs. Linden—Jean Holman, Ellen—Gwendolyn Knapp, Anna—Betty Hill, Ivar, Emmy (the children)—Dicky Norris and Nancy Kiebert, Porter—Gale Engle.

The production and business staffs include the following: Assistant to Director—Lois Starke, Production Manager—Robert Crabbs, Virginia Jane Miller, Properties—Gale Engle, Costumes—Virginia McDermott, Lights—George Hoffman, Publicity—Warner Peterson, Music—Paul Gilmore, House Manager—Frank Oakes.

The Playshop wishes to sincerely thank its subscribers and express its appreciation of this support which has made possible this past season.

MAY DAY

Plans for the May Day program for this afternoon and evening have been completed by Miss Nancy Peller and her various committees.

At 2:45 the Horse Show will take place. During this time and immediately after, ice cream will be served by the Cwens.

At 6:00 o'clock the annual Women's Athletic Association banquet will be held, and the athletic awards will be given.

The May Day pageant will be at 8:00 o'clock this evening. It will include group and solo dances, singing, the Court procession, and the crowning of the May Queen.

The sounding of taps at 9:00 o'clock will be followed by the Lantern Sing on Library Hill.

Immediately after this program a dance will be given in the gymnasium in honor of the May Queen and her court.

NEW CONSTITUTION IS ADOPTED BY SENATE

Junior Members of Men's Senate Picked in Today's Assembly.

A committee, composed of William Olson, '34, and Frederick Kiebert, '34, was recently appointed by the Men's Senate to reorganize the duties and activities of the Senate for next year. The committee has succeeded in drawing up a new constitution for the Senate, which was presented to the members on Monday evening.

The preamble of the new constitution reads as follows: "We, the men students of Allegheny College, having expressed a common desire to form an organization to further all matters of mutual interest to we Alleghenians and to promote and better the traditions, spirit and life of our College, accept this constitution."

The main body of the document provides that membership in the Senate shall consist, as before, of a junior and senior member from each fraternity and from the non-fraternity group. It also makes possible joint meetings of the Senate and the Women's Student Government body when the occasion demands.

The closing paragraphs of the constitution state that "The Men's Student Senate, under power delegated by the Dean of Men, shall have charge of all supervisory and disciplinary matters pertaining to men students." The Senate shall also "supervise all celebrations and mass meetings sponsored by men students. The Senate shall act as an appellate body for men students in relations to administration and faculty." Lastly, it "shall have power to make recommendations to the Intramural Board and Interfraternity Council in regard to matters coming under their respective jurisdictions."

This constitution is to be put before the administration and the student body for approval later in the week.

The junior members of the Senate for next year are to be elected in Chapel today.

Mr. Cameron Ralston Addresses Assembly on "Mind Conditioning"

Cameron Ralston, Secretary of the Committee of One Hundred in Chicago, and well-known lecturer, delivered the assembly address on Friday, May 19. His subject was "Mind Conditioning." "I've been asking college students to do a very difficult thing," he began; "I've been asking them to think." He stressed this point in his account of some of the pitfalls which beset the American public; he gave the example of the woman smoker, claiming that she smoked only because she was the victim of very clever advertising.

Continuing, he stated that character was the most important requirement for success. He said that no matter how wonderful a college's faculty might be, the character and attitude of the students determined the rating of the college.

In conclusion he made an appeal to the audience just to think about the liquor problem. "Alcohol and education," he said, "do not mix. The only hope of a bright future for America lies in its youth. And we could have a finer youth than ever before, if every one of the young people should try to develop a properly conditioned mind."

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS GUESTS OF ALLEGHENY

FRATERNITY COUNCIL FIXES RUSHING RULES

Representative's Reach "Gentlemen's Agreement"; Juniors Chosen.

At a meeting of the Interfraternity Council held May 10 temporary rushing rules for next year were drawn up in an attempt to adapt the present rules to the emergency situation which will exist next fall on the campus. Freshman Week has been postponed since the college is to be host to the Methodist Annual Conference the week of September 16-17. The emergency rules are as follows:

1. Freshman Week will be from September 19-24 (noon), as stated in the catalogue.

2. While Upperclassmen will be on the campus during Freshman Week, there is a gentlemen's agreement that there is no contact between freshmen and upperclassmen. The Council felt it impossible to make an all-inclusive definition of "contact", but agreed that the upperclassmen all understand what it meant. Freshman Week program is filled up by the College with lectures, examinations, and conferences for the freshmen, and the Administration requests, as far as it is physically possible within the limits of the same campus, that Freshman Week go on in the same spirit of coöperation and non-interference as was successfully maintained here last year.

3. The week of deferred pledging will be from noon of September 24 to the noon of October 1.

With the exceptions included in the above regulations, the rushing rules formerly adopted by the Council will hold.

Newly elected members to the Council from the class of '34 include: William Glass, Phi Gamma Delta; John Corcoran, Phi Delta Theta; Joseph Serene, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Wesley Miller, Alpha Chi Rho; Charles Bartberger, Beta Upsilon; and Lester Wolfe, Beta Kappa.

AFTERNOON CLASSES TO BE ON NEW SCHEDULE

The administration has made an important change in the time of the afternoon classes for next year. As brought out in the new catalogue, the classes are advanced twenty minutes and hence will begin at 1:20, 2:15, and 3:10. This new arrangement will make it possible for the time after four o'clock will be clear for any who desire to spend that time in extra-curricular activities.

SUNNYBROOK ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT SENIOR PROM

Dimmick's Fifteen-Piece Band At Balizet's on Friday, June Ninth.

Dimmick's fifteen piece Sunnybrook orchestra has been secured for the Senior Prom to be held Friday, June 9th, at Balizet's, from nine until one o'clock. This orchestra, which appeared at Balizet's the evening of May 17, and which will play at the Kappa Alpha Theta spring party next Saturday, features a girl blues singer. Although the band opens its summer engagement at Craig Beach in Youngstown the first week in June, its members have agreed to be in Meadville for the Prom.

The dance will follow the Senior Banquet which will probably be held at Cochran. All senior men and women have dating privileges.

Announcement is made that there will be somebody in each fraternity house and dormitory on the hill from whom tickets may be purchased. As stated in last week's Campus, assessment will be $1.50 a couple until June 1, and after that the tickets will sell for $2.25 per couple.

MISS COUCH CHOSEN AS HULINGS HOSTESS

Miss Couch, an assistant to the librarian at Allegheny two years ago is here again to act as Hulings Hall hostess for the rest of this semester. She is a graduate of Bucknell and did graduate work at Columbia University last year.

Students From 68 Neighboring Schools Entertained By The College.

To approximately 350 students from 68 different high schools, Allegheny introduced its first "High School Day" on Saturday, May 20th. The visitors, who were members of the graduating classes of high schools in Allegheny's contributing territory, were familiarized with the College and its departments by the day's program which included many different forms of entertainment given by the various College organizations.

Automobiles full of students began to arrive early on Saturday, and by the middle of the morning quite a few large groups were being conducted about the campus by high school teachers and members of the College student organizations.

Compete for Scholarships.

During the latter part of the morning about 230 members of the group assembled at Arter Hall where tests for scholarship competition were given. The results of these tests, which include information on intelligence, college aptitude, and general training, are to be the basis for the awarding of four scholarships, totaling $1000, to incoming students. The first prize will be an Allegheny Scholarship of $100 a year for four years; the second prize, $100 a year for three years; the third prize, $100 a year for two years; the fourth prize, $100 a year for the freshman year. These are in addition to the regular $100 high school scholarships.

The tests were given by the education department, in charge of Professor Buckingham. Although the winners of the prizes have not yet been determined, it is expected that they will be announced soon.

Variety of Entertainment.

After the completion of the examinations the visitors assembled at Ford Memorial Chapel where they were greeted by President Tolley. They were also entertained at this time by the Allegheny Singers who sang several numbers. After the exercises in the chapel a delicious buffet luncheon was served at Cochran Hall.

The afternoon program was given over to athletics and Playshop activities. Entertainment was afforded the guests by the varsity tennis matches with Geneva College at the College courts and by the intramural football game between Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Gamma Delta at Montgomery Field. With the conclusion of these events the group moved to the Playshop where two one-act plays, "The Rising of the Moon" and "The Pot Boiler" were presented by student casts.

In the late afternoon a general tour of the campus and College buildings took place. Under the supervision of the administration, members of the student body acted as guides. At the conclusion of this tour most of the visitors departed after having spent, as many were heard to express, "a delightful and enjoyable day as guests of the College."

According to Dr. Ross, the administration feels that this innovation at Allegheny proved to be highly successful and it is expected that "High School Day" will become a regular part of the school's program.

New Positions on Staff Of Literary Magazine Have Been Announced

The entire staff for next year's Literary Magazine was chosen on Monday by Professor Swartley, John Corcoran, and Edith Fox. Those selected for the various positions are as follows:

Editor—John Corcoran.
Assistant Editors—Charles Bartberger, Jane Bortz, Arvilla Hughes, Ada Sherwin.

Editorial Staff—Dale Beatty, Esther Dawson, Olive Forman, Helen Perkins, Betty Roberts, Betty Zilhaber.

At the beginning of next year a competitive staff will be organized. This staff will include both incoming freshmen and upperclassmen who desire to participate.

Seventy per cent of the inmates of the Minnesota State Prison enrolled in university correspondence courses received grades of A or B.

A HOUSE AND AN INN

Patrons of the Student Playshop who have waited with confidence a repetition of the successes of "Dear Brutus" and "A Bill of Divorcement" found Ibsen's "A Doll's House", produced last week, adequate proof of their faith in the high standard achieved by the Players in their previous seasons. Here was a play again that challenged the talents which the group undoubtedly possesses, the performance of which gave real cultural value to a season which in many ways company of "professional amateurs" might plead mercy from the hands of the dramatic critic, had not many of their performances in the past compared more favorably with the legitimate productions of the same plays. It remains one of the enduring compliments to the director, Miss Spalding, that her productions can be subjected to uncompromising analysis and come off so favorable. The Student Playshop is one of the most cultural forces on the campus, and when it fulfils its obligation with the high artistic standard of "A Doll's House," it deserves enthusiastic praise and support.

To present Ibsen demands resource and competence. He did not perfect the dramatic technic of the problem play, as did his successor, Galsworthy; in his earnest desire to arouse his audience to the stimulating problems which interested him, he fell into long scenes of exposition which almost defy adequate dramatic presentation. To catch the element of conflict which his problems present at times causes the experienced actor to reject the role of protagonist. Nothing, it seems to us, deserves more genuine admiration than the confidence the director placed in her cast who undertook to present this play. Once again she called upon them to maintain the high artistic standards which they together have in the past adequately established, and not since "A Bill of Divorcement" has the Playshop presented serious drama so convincingly, adding to its achievements another dignified performance. The term "amateur" has no place in any criticism of such a serious undertaking so artistically presented.

An experienced cast of players presented the play, and the highest praise which might be given them is for the devoted manner in which they studied their parts and tried to present the characters exactly as Ibsen conceived them. The characters of the play were worthy of the players' talents; their accomplishment is worthy of the praise they have received. When the amateur is given a role which challenges his ability to interpret and portray and he succeeds in giving it life and stature, he is no longer the amateur.

In the part of Nora, Miss Merwin epitomized all of her four years' accomplishments on the Playshop stage. She gave vigor to a bad first act; she presented convincingly every side of Nora's tremendous experience of three days, from the gaiety of Christmas eve, through the madness of the tarantella, to the determination at the end. Miss Holman, more pleasing in voice and natural in gesture than ever before, richly deserves to become Miss Merwin's successor in the Playshop next year. She was almost too lovely as Mrs. Linden, in the last act, when the helplessness of her life led her to marry Krogstad. Whatever may have been our impression of Mr. Roos' acting at the end of the first scene, (and Ibsen may be held partially responsible for an unfavorable opinion) the manner in which he held the tension of the last act, even though a again of wordy exposition, leaves no doubt as to his ability. As familiar in every day life as we are with Miss Merwin and Mr. Roos, they were Nora and Torvald to the last curtain in the act. Mr. Carlson's interpretation of Krogstad is open to debate. We do not question his ability as an actor, but we do wonder whether Krogstad should be played after the manner of the sinister villain, boots and mustache, pomade and leer, the very power of evil crushing the helpless heroine, or as the weak, skulking under-dog, caught and kicked into the gutter, who suddenly finds himself possessed of the powerful implement of revenge in the forged signature. The danger of too many character-roles lies in the accumulation of mannerisms associated with the actor rather than the part. Mr. Boetcker's Dr. Rank was an ingratiating piece of work; but by no means equalled the excellent interpretation he gave to the part of Captain Stanhope in "Journey's End"

Miss Kiebert and Master Morris, of course, already have the public so prejudiced in their favor, that we hesitate to increase parental difficulties by too much praise. So loving of her charges, young and old, was the nurse, played by Miss Hill in true Ethel Barrymore "Come-my-brood" manner, that there was a lumpy moment for the future of little Bob. A word ought to be added for the bits Miss Miller and Mr. Engle contribute in the spirit making a perfect performance, as well as the music of Mr. Gilmore.

It is with regret, then, that we learn that "The Black Flamingo" is being considered as the commencement performance instead of "A Doll's House". There is nothing to recommend the Janney melodrama as an artistic achievement aside from its ingenious set. The characters of the play make no demands upon the talents of the actors; there is no clean-cut plot or ample characterization to set forth. A play so palpably bad smacks of the amateurishness we would wish to forget along with "The Nameless Princess" and "The Pot Boiler." Nor need the varying tastes of an audience be considered when any one group undertakes to be artistically sincere. The two greatest forces for cultural education on the campus are the Allegheny Singers and the Student Playshop; and the Theatre might well consider the example of the Oratory, where the student is inspired to do nothing but the finest and the best, where the public must recognize the artistic merit or be the loser.

TOM MEGGOT.

Summer School Will Open on Tuesday, June Thirteenth

Plans and courses for the 1933 summer session at Allegheny have definitely been completed by the committee on summer session, which is composed of Professor Henke, director; Professor C. E. Ross and Professor Darling.

The session will consist of two terms, the first of which will begin on June 13, and close on July 21. The second term will start July 24 and extend to August 25. Final examinations will be given on the last day of each term.

The regular curriculum offered this summer will include courses in Astronomy, Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Education, English, French, History, Latin, Mathematics, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, and Speech. All of these will be received by the College as credit towards the Bachelor's degree.

Features of the session include the operation of a French house for women during the first term. Here special training in spoken and written French will be afforded the students. It is also planned to hold a demonstration school for practice teachers. Through this plan student teachers will participate in modern teaching procedures under careful supervision with regular high school pupils. The aim is to approximate the usual high school situation with respect to the pupil and to provide as nearly as possible ideal demonstration teaching and supervision.

Registration for the first term will take place on June 13th. Students may register for any courses within the limit of six hours each term.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Der Deutsche Verein held elections for officers for next year at their last meeting of the year, Friday, May 19th. The following were elected: President—Anna Strott. Vice President—Ruth Johannsmeyer. Secretary-Treasurer—Charles Bartberger.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA HAS TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Professor Lee Speaks on Advancement of Chemistry at Allegheny.

The twentieth anniversary of the founding of Phi Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma was commemorated by the fraternity at a meeting held on Tuesday, May 16. The feature of the evening's program was a talk given by Professor Lee, tracing the development and advancement of the chemistry department at Allegheny and giving a brief history of the chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma here.

In his talk Professor Lee told how, in 1909—when he first came to Allegheny, the department of chemistry was located on the second floor of Wilcox Hall. Formerly one professor had been in charge of all Natural Sciences but at this time they were divided into the Physical and Biological Sciences. At the time of the abandonment of the Allegheny Preparatory School, located where Alden Hall now stands, the chemistry department was forced to return to Wilcox. Then, largely through the interest of President Crawford, Andrew Carnegie became interested in the affairs at Allegheny and gave us the Chemistry building that we have at the present time.

Professor Lee stated that his interest in Alpha Chi Sigma was initiated while taking graduate work at Harvard. Here he made an acquaintance, through an argument over the "Ionic Theory," which ended in a lasting friendship. The man, whose name was Matthew, proved to be the head of the Chemistry department at the University of Wisconsin. Shortly after Matthew's return to the University, Alpha Chi Sigma was founded and Doctor Lee was asked to become an honorary member.

The speaker related how, then, at Allegheny, there were a number of science clubs but none of very great significance. Although Allegheny was a comparatively small college, Doctor Matthew thought it should have a chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma, and so, after the petition had been received by the National Chapter, a group of men from the University of Wisconsin came to Allegheny and here founded Phi Chapter of the fraternity.

In closing, Doctor Lee spoke of the charter members of the chapter and brought to view the fact that every one of these charter members has achieved some prominence. He concluded by urging the active chapter to become more "active" and stressed emphatically that it should be considered a privilege to have a chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma in a school the size of Allegheny.

At the close of this address, Cordon E. Hinkley, of Oil City, Pa., gave some interesting facts concerning the group of charter members, to which he belongs.

Last night, at the Phi Delta Theta house, Mr. Howes gave a smoker in honor of the senior members of Alpha Chi Sigma.

I want a postage on toast.

GATOR RACQUET MEN NOSE OUT GENEVA, 10-8

Grove City Team to Play Here Tomorrow.

A hard-fought doubles match decided the tennis match between the varsity teams of Geneva and Allegheny on the Blue and Gold courts last Saturday afternoon in front of a large crowd of visiting high school seniors, college students, and faculty members. The final score, determined by the Peterson-Lubic vs. Littell-Shugert (Geneva) match, which Peterson and Lubic won, was 3-2 in favor of Allegheny. Peterson and Lubic won the first set, 6-3; their opponents took the next, 7-5; but the Blue and Gold won the third, 10-8, to cinch the match. The entire playing of the close contest was marked by fast, interesting sets.

To complete the schedule for this year, the Allegheny varsity met Grove City in a match there yesterday, and are meeting Geneva for a return engagement today. On Thursday the team meets Grove City again, this time at Allegheny, and, possibly, on Friday there will be a match with Edinboro State Teachers College.

According to "Tad" Anderson, coach of the tennis team, in all probability Peterson, this year's captain, will again earn another letter, and very possibly Goodrich, Lubic, Serene, Balen, Ralston, and Bill Johnson will all earn their first letters in tennis this season.

The individual matches and scores were:

Peterson, 6-3, 10-8, vs. Littell, 8-6.
Goodrich, 6-4, 7-5 Ginsberg.
Shugert, 6-2, 8-6, vs. Ralston.
Aultman-Ginsberg, 8-6, 6-3, vs. Serene-Goodrich, 6-4.
Peterson-Lubic, 6-3, 10-8, vs. Littell-Shugert, 7-5.
Total: Allegheny 3, Geneva 2.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETIC RULES TO BE REVISED

The members of the fraternities and non-fraternity group who represent the Intramural Athletic Board will meet on Thursday evening at 6:30 at the Kepler Hotel for a dinner and business meeting.

The main part of the evening will be devoted to a complete revising of the Intramural Athletic Handbook for next year. A committee composed of Kenneth Leadbeater, Scott Widman, and Elliot Jones was appointed to meet with Mr. Daniels and Mr. Way in order to draw up a list of changes that are deemed advisable. This list will be presented to the group for approval on Thursday evening. In addition all members of the board are urged to meet with the fraternities and decide what revisions are wanted. Each representative will put forth the wishes of his group on Thursday evening.

It is hoped that by this action further disputes like those that were witnessed during this year's Intramural program may be avoided.

Cigarette? Thanks olive one.

Mushball Teams Finish Schedule; League B Tied

The B. K.'s with four wins and no losses, have cinched first place in League A, of the Intramural Mushball Tournament. Alpha Chi Rho ran a close second.

League B ended in a three way deadlock between the Independents, Phi Gams, and Phi Psis. In the first game of the playoff, Monday afternoon, the Independents beat the Phi Gams, 6-2. Yesterday afternoon at 4:30 (too late to get the results for today's story) the Independents met the Phi Psis, who had drawn a bye, for the championship of League B, and the right to meet the B. K.'s.

The standings at the close of the regular schedule of games follows:

League A		Won	Lost
Beta Kappa		4	0
Alpha Chi Rho		3	1
Sigma Alpha Epsilon		2	2
Delta Tau Delta		0	3
Phi Delta Theta		0	3
League B		Won	Lost
Phi Gamma Delta		2	1
Phi Kappa Psi		2	1
Independents		2	1
Beta Upsilon		0	3

The Associated Press tells us of an engineering student at Carnegie Tech who spent all his spare time tinkering with a short wave radio set. One night he was stumped by a calculus problem. In despair he finally appealed for help over the air. The solution promptly came back from a student at the University of Texas. Science is at last coming to the aid of the science student.

SIGS AND PHI GAMS VIE FOR INTRAMURAL LEAD

PROF. H. W. CHURCH EDITS FRENCH HISTORICAL BOOK

Gobineau's Le Prisonnier Chancelier, which Professor Henry W. Church has edited for college work, has just recently been published. It is a rapidly moving tale of adventure, told with much vividness and spirit. It treats of the period of French history when Catherine de Medici was very influential with the political affairs of her country. The hero is a young Catholic nobleman, Jean de la Tour-Miracle who is very much in love with the daughter of one of his father's most bitter enemies.

Professor Church has considerably abridged the story for school use, taking care to preserve the continuity of the narrative. In the introduction, he has placed great emphasis on the historical background; and in the notes, he has managed to make clear all the linguistic difficulties.

HISTORY CLUB INITIATES SEVENTEEN NEW MEMBERS

The History and Political Science Club met last night to initiate 17 new members: Grace Bunner, '34, William Church, '34; John Corcoran, '35; John Johnson, '34; Kenneth Johnson, '34; Joseph Kagy, '34; Frederick Kiebert, '34; Max Maloney, '35; Virginia Jane Miller, '34; William Olson, '34; Richard Smith, '35; and William Unversagt, '34.

Mushball and Track Will De- termine Champion.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Gamma Delta are waging a heated battle for the intramural championship.

The Sigs, winners of last year, are again leading in the events thus far completed, with a total of 800 points. This, however, by no means assures them of being the champs again this year, as the Phi Gams are a close second with 730 points. While the Sigs are out of the mushball race, the Phi Gams have a chance for third place. A first in track, along with a third in mushball, would give them the intramural trophy.

Intramural standing not including mushball or track is as follows:

Organization	Points
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	800
Phi Gamma Delta	730
Delta Tau Delta	570
Phi Kappa Psi	493 1-3
Beta Upsilon	370
Alpha Chi Rho	330
Non-Fraternity	290
Phi Delta Theta	276 2-3
Beta Kappa	260

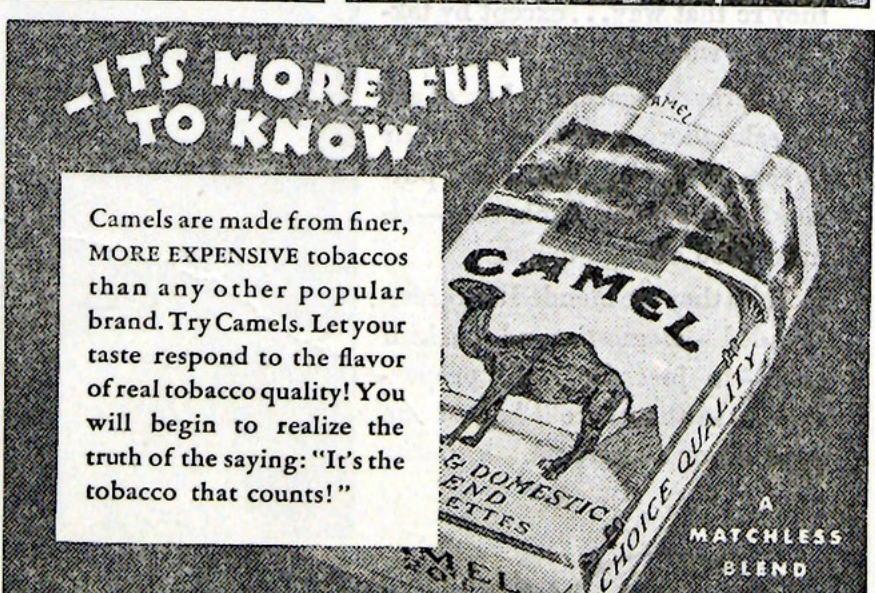

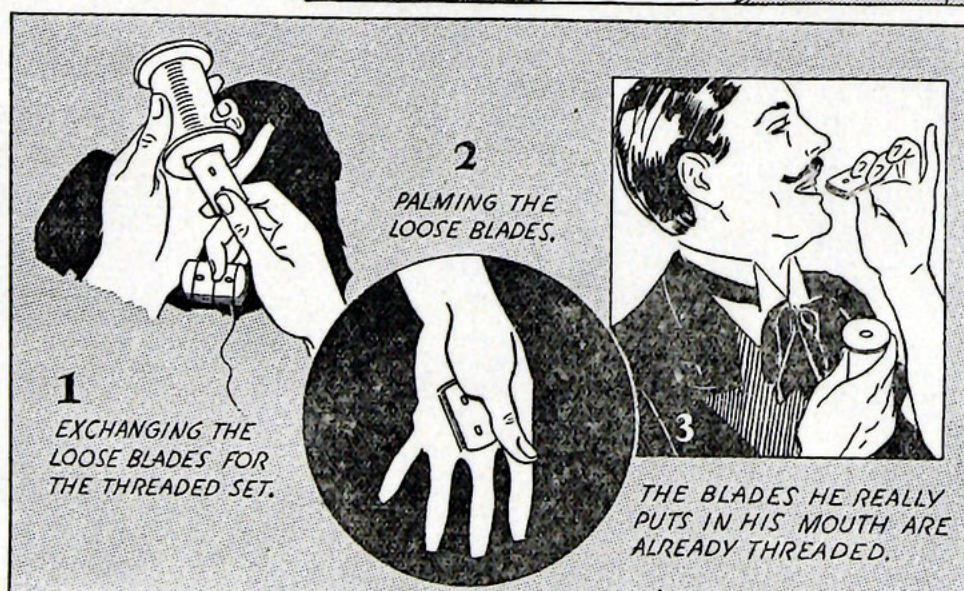

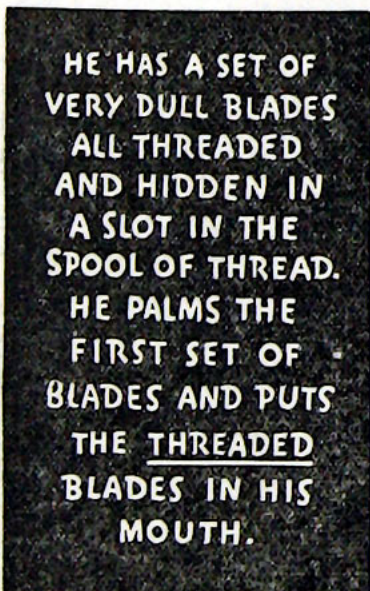

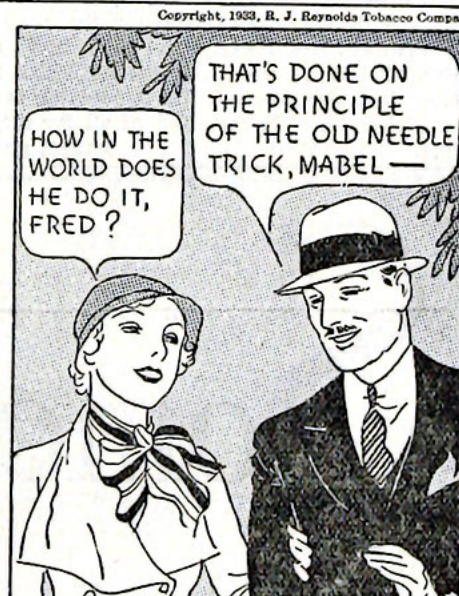

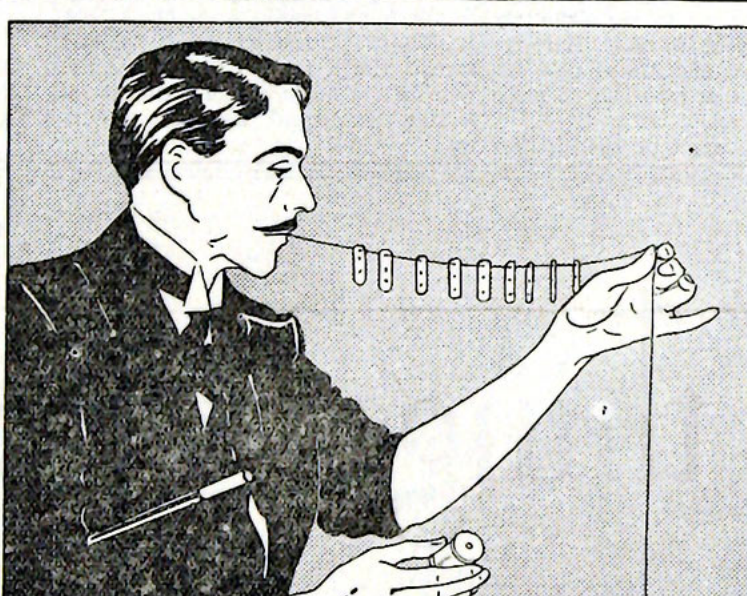

Negro waiters at the University of Georgia have formed a fraternity among their group. In order to be admitted, one must be a butler in a Greek letter fraternity, must attend every football game, and wear clothes acquired from fraternity men.

Prominent Seniors Make Plans For After Graduation

Quite a few Senior men have recently made definite plans for next year. In addition to those plans printed in The Campus last week many other seniors have disclosed their arrangements.

Robert Brakeman, the Senior Class president, has tentative plans to do graduate work in education here at Allegheny next year, while the following year he expects to do graduate work in music at one of the universities in New York state.

Douglas Marks told the reporter that he was going to work a year, after which he was going to attend Union Theological Seminary. Bill Boetcker's plans are uncompleted at the present moment.

Warren Bugbee is going to enter the ministry and plans to attend Union Theological Seminary.

Several of the Senior men are not quite sure of what they are going to do yet. Sturges Cary states "I am tired of school" which means that he will not attend any graduate school. Carey March says, "I haven't anything planned," while Bramer Carlson, whose acting ability has long been an asset to The Playshop, states that he is "just in a fog."

Wilmot Craig has become associated for next year with the bank in his home town, Elvira, New York, and Howard Lauffenberger is another senior whose eye glances toward business as he plans to attend the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania.

Knighton Waite, this year's football captain, told a reporter that he was going to attend medical school, probably at Pitt. Another senior to enter a phase of medicine is Doyle Wallace, who is going to attend dental school.

It seems to be a pretty difficult task for the senior girls to say definitely what they expect to do. Marjorie Ashe, Edith Fox, and Aldine Cole disclosed the fact that they had no plans at all for next year.

Several girls expect to teach if they are able to get positions. These are the plans of Mary Shuman, Betty Anderson, and Claire Skinner.

Beatrice Staciokas wants to do technician work for a year and then enter a medical school the following autumn. Kay Earnest anticipates going to a graduate school.

Marty Fell stated that she had made no definite arrangements for next year, but very likely would go into personnel work.

Improvements On Second Floor Rooms At Hulings Made

One room in the southwest division of the second floor in Hulings Hall is now in the process of being redecorated and refurnished in a manner up to the standard of rooms in Cochran Hall as a sample room to show how the entire front second floor will be renovated this summer. This work will be completed next week and will be open for inspection.

Other plans made so far which are to be carried out during vacation, include: Space now being used as living quarters for four girls will become part of the new enlarged second floor laboratory, which is to be done in tile; two other rooms will be made into the guest rooms. These improvements are the continuation of Allegheny's program to give its women students better living quarters.

OLSON'S ORATION IS PUBLISHED IN BOOK

William Olson's oration "The Merry-Go-Round Has Stopped" has been published in a book titled "Winning Orations" recently published by Noble & Noble Co., New York City.

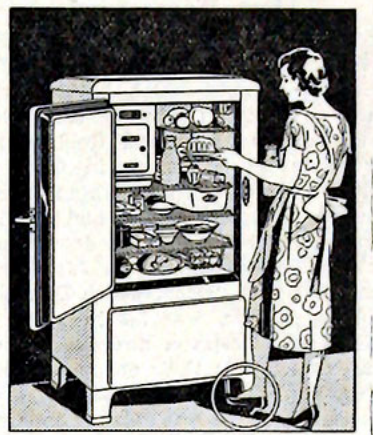

This oration is the same oration which scored a triumph for him in the 1931 Wakefield Oration Contest, and which also brought him victory in the Pennsylvania state finals held at Geneva College on March 25, and earned him a trip to Chicago to appear in the finals of the National Interstate Oratorical Association Contest.

Some things you can Prove—

*Like the Milder,
Better Taste
of Chesterfields*

JUST trying a package or two will show you that Chesterfields are Milder and Better-Tasting. But you can't learn much about why they're that way... except by taking our word for it.

Wherever cigarette tobaccos are on sale, there you will find our buyers, busy picking out and purchasing ripe, mild tobaccos—almost good enough to eat.

Then they are blended and cross-blended—Domestic and Turkish both—in just the right proportion... so that there'll be just one good flavor and aroma.
