Dear Miss Tarbell,

When I found the enclosed picture among my treasures yesterday I wanted to come right down and give it to you in person. It was taken by me in Roxbury many years ago. The event probably did not seem important to you but the day was marked forever on my memory because you and John Burroughs took me rowing on the little lake. I have several other pictures of John Burroughs, all of which I would be glad to send to you. If the enclosed interests you in particular I believe I could find the film. It would make a good enlargement.

Three years ago I found a little old house in Roxbury that nobody wanted - except myself. It is just a few minutes up the Vega Road, past the Library (that was), and commands an unrestricted view of the John Burroughs mountain. If you would consider again going to Roxbury it would give me great pleasure to have you stay at the little house - you would love it.

Cordially yours,

Carolyn E. Allen
