Dear Mr. Reynolds:

My Secretary has just read me your nice letter. I am not supposed to use my eyes for the moment.

I have had what my Doctor tells me is influenza with a sinus complication. It has left me surprisngly weak and I am going on Friday - if I can get any cash between now and then - to Atlantic City for two or three weeks of change. I expect to be back by the first of April "fit as a fiddle." As soon as I return I want to have a talk with you.

It was very kind indeed of you to write me so sympathetic a letter.

Very sincerely

Mr. Paul R. Reynolds
