DR. FRANK A. ARTER PRESENTS MAGNIFICENT GIFT OF NEW COLLEGE BUILDING

Arter Memorial Hall to Be Erected Soon

President Fred W. Hixson announces the gift of a new building for the Allegheny College campus from Frank A. Arter, LL. D., of the Class of 1864. The urgent need for this equipment has arisen from the increased enrollment of the College and the desire of the authorities to provide smaller classes, with more individual attention to the students.

The building will be named Arter Hall. It will be a structure of colonial design to harmonize with old Bentley Hall, the splendid original building, which is one of the notable pieces of colonial architecture of Pennsylvania and which was erected more than a hundred years ago.

Mr. Arter has endowed the Eliza Kingsley Arter Chair of English Literature and the Frank Asbury Arter Chair of Mathematics in Allegheny College. Two years ago he gave to President Hixson fifty thousand dollars to start the Second Century Endowment Campaign for one million, two hundred fifty thousand dollars. This latest gift is the crowning benefaction of his life to his Alma Mater.

Mr. Arter is one of the most staunch and loyal alumni of Allegheny College. He has been a trustee of the College for thirty-eight years, and was for a period of ten years president of the board. Soon after his graduation from college he went to Cleveland, engaged in business, and has been for a half-century one of the leading business men of that city. He was active in the erection of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, regarded as the finest church of that denomination in Ohio. He stimulated the North East Ohio Conference to raise a half million dollars as an endowment fund for its retired ministers. Mr. Arter has been elected a member of the General Conferences of 1888, '96, '00, '04, '08, '12, '16, '20.

Mr. Arter has been very regular in his attendance at all the meetings of the trustees and has been a familiar figure at commencements. He has kept in close touch with his fraternity, and his presence at the annual fraternity reunions is almost a tradition with the younger men.

Mrs. Arter is a daughter of Bishop Calvin Kingsley, who graduated from Allegheny in 1841, and was afterward a member of the faculty. Later Dr. Kingsley was elected a bishop and was one of the outstanding personalities of the church.

It is specially gratifying that a noble building is to stand upon the campus as a gift of an alumnus. The inspiration of this benefaction will reach every graduate, as well as the members of the undergraduate body. It is likewise with great propriety that a building is to bear the name of one who has been largely and so long devoted to the upbuilding of the College.

At the annual meeting of the trustees last June the president of the College presented to the board a plan for the development of the College

OBERLIN HOLDS STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONFERENCE

MARY WICKHAM AND ELEANORE TAYLOR ARE DELEGATES AT CONFERENCE

Sixty colleges were represented by about 110 delegates at the annual conference of the Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government which was held at Oberlin College from November 21 to 24. Mary Wickham and Eleanore Taylor were the delegates from Allegheny.

Besides the regular delegates three came from far western colleges and universities, and seven were representing their colleges as visiting delegates.

Various problems facing both student government organizations and faculties were discussed at the sessions. But not all of the time was devoted to discussions; the program of social entertainment was most interesting and enjoyable.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS QUESTION AT FORENSIC MEET FOR UNDERCLASSMEN

Through superiority of argument, and of arrangement of material, the Sophomores defeated the Freshmen by a 2-1 decision of the judges in the annual debate between the two lower classes held at Ford Memorial Chapel, Tuesday, December 4, on the question "Resolved, That the United States Should Enter the League of Nations."

The second year debaters, Messrs. A. E. Bartlett, E. J. Schruers, G. M. Fitzpatrick, and G. A. Palmer, alternate, in support of the negative, argued that the United States should not enter the League for the following reasons: (1) The League is impractical; (2) it is contrary to our foreign policy, and would rob us of our sovereignty; (3) there is a better plan.

Messrs. C. E. Avey, R. L. Cain, R. Corbett, and R. E. Allen, alternate, debating for the affirmative side, contended that the United States should enter the League because, (1) The League has accomplished much good; (2) entrance into the League is compatible with our policy of arbitration; and (3) we are morally obligated to enter the League.

The victors constitute almost the same team that last year, as Freshmen, defeated their opponents. The Freshman team will debate the same question here with a Freshman team from Penn State in January.

The judges were Prof. R. W. Thomas, Dr. S. S. Swartley, and Prof. M. M. Hurd. Mr. Ralph H. Demmler, treasurer of the Oratorical Association, presided in the absence of the president, Mr. Charles W. Havice.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB GIVES CONCERT AT LINESVILLE

MUSICAL ORGANIZATION SCHEDULES HOME CONCERT FOR TUESDAY, DEC. 18

Opening their season with a concert at Linesville, Wednesday, December 5, the Men's Glee Club began its activities in such a manner as to augur well for the success of the remainder of the schedule. The concert was given before approximately three hundred people.

All of the numbers in which the entire club of forty members took part were well received. "The Sword of Ferrara" and "Goin' Home" were enthusiastically applauded. Prof. Lee Hess Barnes' work in directing the club was very apparent in these concert numbers. Harmony was not sacrificed for volume, and the singing was of a quality that is expected of a well-balanced club.

Mr. Gealy's trumpet solo and Mr. Kinkaid's piano work were especially pleasing. Mr. Baker rendered his tenor solos in his usual commendable manner.

The audience was of the opinion that there was not enough instrumental music, and that there was a lack of numbers of the light, popular type, but, inasmuch as this was the first concert, Professor Barnes can be expected to add to the program before the holiday trip.

The management of the club announces at this time that the annual Home Concert will be given in Ford Memorial Chapel at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening, December 18. Tickets may be procured from any members of the Glee Club.

STUDENTS PASS RESOLUTION ON FRANK A. ARTER GIFT

Appreciation for the generosity of Mr. Frank A. Arter in giving the funds to erect a new administration building was evidenced in a student resolution passed unanimously at chapel Wednesday, December 5, which authorized the Student Senate to send a letter of thanks to the donor of this first building to be erected under the Ten Year Program.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Harriette Koch of Oil City, to Mr. H. W. Dickey, '13, November 27. Mr. and Mrs. Dickey will reside on Baldwin Street of this city.

PRESIDENT OF HAMILTON SPEAKS AT ALLEGHENY

DR. FREDERICK C. FERRY MAKES CONVINCING APPEAL FOR SCHOLARSHIP

President Frederick C. Ferry, LL. D., of Hamilton College, Clinton N. Y., who was here for the Phi Beta Kappa dinner, gave a pointed talk on Scholarship to the student body at chapel Thursday, December 5.

Dr. Ferry emphasized the fact that accomplishments in college are directly related to accomplishments in life. He stated that most people apparently have other reasons for coming to college than to achieve scholarship. In questionnaires given out by various colleges and universities for the purpose of finding the reasons their students came to college, it was found that very few mentioned scholarship as a reason.

The speaker gave many convincing statistics to show that scholarship is the important part of college life. Half the honor men of Amherst, Brown, Yale, Harvard, and Princeton get their names in "Who's Who in America," within ten years after finishing school, according to figures compiled by Henry Van Dyke. It has been found that eighty per cent of the students of Wisconsin high schools are honor students in the University of Wisconsin. About the same percentage of honor students attain fame in life.

Character, fellowship, and enjoyment are important parts of college life, but the student who keeps his scholarship on a high level is laying the best foundation for a successful life.

Another important benefit which we should derive from college is the ambition to do the impossible— to do something just a little better than it has ever been done before. Dr. Ferry closed with the statement that all students who do their tasks in a thorough, competent manner will not be found wanting when there are big things to do in life.

ALLEGHENIANS TO ATTEND INTERNATIONAL ASSEMBLY

OVER FIVE THOUSAND STUDENTS TO MEET IN INDIANAPOLIS THIS MONTH

Allegheny College will be represented at the International Student Convention to be held at Indianapolis, Indiana, December 28 to January 1, which will be attended by the students of colleges and universities of almost every state in the United States as well as by students of foreign countries. Messrs. Russell R. Dennison, G. Alfred Palmer, John M. Pratt, and Charles W. Havice have been elected as the local delegation. Miss Helen Fry and Miss Elizabeth Laffer will represent the Y. W. C. A.

The great assembly is under the name of the Ninth Quadrennial International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement, but will be composed of students not necessarily affiliated with the movement. Over five thousand students and professors from more than a thousand American and Canadian colleges and universities will gather to discuss the modern world movement of Christianity with particular emphasis on the progress of Christian thought and life overseas. Outstanding leaders of student thought from many lands will address the Convention on issues of modern industrialism, on racial and international relations, on social and intellectual unrest now almost universal, on problems of war, and education for peace.

This meeting in Indianapolis will be almost as representative as the League of Nations. About forty nations will be represented. The Allegheny quota will leave on the special train from Pittsburgh on December 27, before which the Western Pennsylvania representatives will attend a special banquet to be held in that city.

Miss Caryl M. Reynolds, '15, is teaching History and English in the South Hills High School, Pittsburgh. She is also head of the publicity department of the Pittsburgh branch of the American Association of University Women and teacher of the teachers' training class of the Christ M. E. Church of that city.

ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET IS FITTING CLOSE TO BLUE AND GOLD'S SUCCESS

Fred A. Parnell is Elected Captain of Team

The fourth annual Football Banquet was held last Friday evening in Cochran Hall. The Board of Control, the Coaches, and the entire Varsity Squad were the guests of honor. The affair was a final mark of appreciation for the work of the team and management in making this last season the most fruitful that Allegheny has ever experienced. Fred A. Parnell, tackle, was elected captain for the following year.

After clamoring at the doors of the dining room, the hungry banqueters were admitted to the dining hall, which was especially decorated for the event with Blue and Gold streamers, footballs, and placards bearing the year's scores.

After an excellent meal, the "piece de resistance" of which was a roasted half chicken and which was interspersed with songs led by Chase R. Gage, cheers led by Cheerleader Hartman and ex-cheerleader "Red" Hafer, and music by the Harmonians, who had been engaged for the evening, Dr. R. E. Lee, toastmaster, introduced the first speaker, President Fred W. Hixson.

In his introduction, Dr. Lee said that "Ostensibly the purpose of this gathering is to honor our football team." After reviewing the history of the Allegheny College football banquets, Dr. Lee said that he felt just a little disappointed at this banquet because there was not, as in former years, so much to look forward to. Most of the dreams of the patrons of the new athletic program have been realized.

President Hixson discussed football as a character builder. He explained how the game develops the important trait of resourcefulness, as necessary in after life as it is on the gridiron. The spirit of loyalty acquired through football is another characteristic essential in any field of endeavor. Honesty, fairness with each other, and enthusiasm, were given as the other traits developed by football that are very applicable in later life.

The next speaker introduced was Professor C. E. Hammett, who gave a concise review of the season. Coach Hammett set forth the arduous duties of a football player, and outlined the strenuous activities of training camp. Within the first few days of the training camp period, he said, he realized the great potential strength of the team, and the possibilities for one of Geneva, and the capture thereby of

CONVERSION IS THEME AT MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

DR. H. H. HOUGH ADDRESSES OPENING EXERCISES OF COMBINED STUDENT CLASSES

"Conversion" was the subject of discussion at the College Men's Bible Class at the Stone Church, last Sunday. Dr. C. F. Littell, the teacher, in his talk answered the question, "Is conversion an actual change?" It is an actual and definite change, although it is more noticeable in some cases than in others. Dr. Littell was at one time in social service work and was connected with a mission in Syracuse. He related several incidents of the effect of conversion upon more degraded types. It is in these cases we notice a marked change. The man, who all his life has been a person of more or less temperance and of honest character, upon conversion does not necessarily demonstrate a great change, although his conversion is as complete as that of the most habitual drunkard.

Dr. H. H. Hough addressed the combined men's and women's classes before the regular meeting. He discussed the Christian ministry, its different aspects and phases, and its great field.

The subject of next Sunday's discussion will be "Eternity."

Ralph Demmler Wins Annual Wakefield Oratorical Prize

Speech on "International Conscience—A Hope" Receives Award

"International Conscience—a Hope" was the subject of the winning oration given by Mr. Ralph H. Demmler in the annual Wakefield Oratorical Contest, last Thursday, December 6, in Ford Memorial Chapel. Mr. C. L. Sutton received second place. Two other speakers, Messrs. R. W. Leeper and C. E. Tefft, competed for the prize of fifty dollars, which is given by Mr. James A. Wakefield, an attorney of Pittsburgh in honor of his grandfather, the Rev. Samuel Wakefield.

Mr. Leeper's subject was, "When Iron Cools"; Mr. Tefft's was "Humanity Above Nationality," and Mr. Sutton's "Why Allegheny?"

Mr. Demmler's speech was an exposition of the tendencies and evidences in world politics that indicate the development of an international conscience as a force for permanent peace. It is the spirit of an international conscience and mind that is bringing about fraternity among nations. This appears, not so much in diplomacy, but in less ostensible dealings involving the social, political, and economic relationships of nations.

The Red Cross and other movements for the alleviation of suffering has bound the nations together socially. The Olympic Games, and the exchange of students and professors between the European and American Universities are helping nations to understand each other.

International politics also show some sign of a spirit of growing friendship. The Disarmament Conference, the World Court, and the League of Nations, though none of them are perfect in working are helping to bring about a feeling of brotherhood in the world.

The spirit of cooperation has been more in evidence in the field of international economics than elsewhere. The funding of the British debt to the United States, and the loan to Austria are cases in point. Payment of great international debts is a problem that must be settled in a spirit of good will and justice. Also the citizens of the world must cooperate to prevent the merciless exploitation of the world's natural resources.

The close of the speech was an appeal for a development of the international conscience that will lead us to do that which will lead to fraternity and peace among nations.

Mr. Leeper's speech was a plea against competitive armaments, unreasonable reparations demands, and for a shaping of international relations toward amity rather than hatred. Mr. Tefft urged a spirit of union among nations above mere patriotism as a remedy for war. In "Why Allegheny?" Mr. Sutton gave the reasons fir his choice of Allegheny as an ideal college.

The judges of the contest were Dr. H. H. Hough, Dr. J. A. Rupert, and Prof. P. D. Blair, Superintendent of Schools in Crawford county.

Eta Chapter of Theta Upsilon Women's Fraternity Installed

Local Petitioning Body Secures Chapter of National Organization

After several months of consistent effort on the part of the girls interested and thorough investigation on the part of the College faculty, Eta Chapter of Theta Upsilon, a national sorority, was formally recognized on Saturday afternoon, December 8, with the pledging of nine young women of the college.

Miss Alice Swisher, Professor of the Home Economics Department of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and vice-president of the National Council of Theta Upsilon conducted the pledging ceremony.

Theta Upsilon was founded at the University of California in 1914, and has since installed chapters at Brenau College at Gainesville, Georgia, Ohio Wesleyan University, University of Illinois, Ohio State University, and Washington State University. The chapter at Allegheny is the seventh in the roll and will be known as the Eta Chapter. The National Council has petitions before it from other colleges of high standing in the academic world.

Theta Upsilon is the youngest sorority on the roll of the National Pan-Hellenic Congress, having been admitted to membership at the last meeting of the Congress. While Theta Upsilon is comparatively young, it is not "new" in the sense that most younger sororities must necessarily be, as its destinies are being guided by older college women, many of whom have had experience in the older and bigger Nationals and on the National Pan-Hellenic Councils. In fact, by an unimpeachable authority, it has been stated that, in regard to its structure, its constitution and its ritual, Theta Upsilon is the peer of anything in the Greek World today.

The young women pledged to the Eta Chapter at Allegheny are as follows: the Misses Harriet Brydle of Conneaut, Ohio; Ruth Elliott of Meadville; Elizabeth King of Ashtabula, O.; Harriette Eleanore Wilson of Rochester, N. Y.; LaRoux Rasel of McKeesport, Mary Alice Jackson, Margaret McMillan and Martha Schwartz of Pittsburgh, and Mary Phelps of Warren, Ohio.

The above mentioned young women gave a tea for Miss Swisher, the official inspector of Theta Upsilon, on Friday afternoon in the living-room of Hulings Hall. On Saturday afternoon, President and Mrs. Hixson generously offered their home for the pledging services which were held at three o'clock. At the close of an impressive ceremony, the rooms were thrown open and dainty refreshments were served.

In the evening the young women entertained at a dinner party held at the Saegertown Inn. Covers were laid for twelve. The decorations were chrysanthemums and roses, intermingled with rain-bow colors, the official colors of the organization. Miss Swisher, Mrs. Hixson and Dean Spalding were the guests of honor.

The formal installation of Theta Upsilon at Allegheny College will take place in the near future.

CAMPUS TO BE ISSUED ON TUESDAY HEREAFTER

Beginning next week, the Campus will be issued every Tuesday morning after the Chapel hour, instead of Wednesday as previously. This change will bring the news of the week one day earlier to the students and will make for a more logical summary of the activities of the past week. The Campus will now reach the hands of the students at the first Chapel of the week to serve the students for that week. Secretaries of all organizations, and others who have occasion to submit notices to our columns, will please note that such copy must reach the editor not later than 10 o'clock Monday morning.

THE GIFT OF MR. FRANK A. ARTER.

Mr. Frank A. Arter, '64, is splendidly expressing his devotion to the Old College by his magnificent gift of Arter Memorial Hall. It will long be a beautiful symbol, a faithful memorial, of the love and loyalty of one of Allegheny's fine alumni. It will be a source of inspiration to her students of decades—yes, centuries—hence. When Old Bentley will be too feeble to stand the strain of energetic feet, "Old Arter" will stand grandly to perpetuate a living College.

Mr. Arter's gift is more than a thing, a building of stone and brick and mortar. It is a spirit, a spirit that will live even longer than the time-defying structure can endure. The humble little log cabin of Timothy Alden has long since been in dust, but the spirit of its builder is as eternal as Life itself.

College is something more than a preparation for life. It is life itself. We have not gone off the highway to hide ourselves for four years and then to be on our way again. We are on our way now. True, we are protected from the many disturbing realities of life—we are saved from rubbing against much of its sordidness, the unfortunate elements, which are a part of life. And because we are thus protected, we must guard against losing that richness in human sympathy which marks real character. Yet we are not behind the monastery walls of medieval days. We are participating in life. The success with which we adjust ourselves to its problems now, certainly will determine in no small measure the success we are going to have in future years.

Never is it more true than during college days that "what you are going to be, you are now becoming."

AND NOW—THE LITERARY MONTHLY

"The Lit has no youthful illusions about setting the world on fire; it does not even cherish fond hopes of making reforms. It merely proposes, in so far as its modest circumstances permit, to publish the most representative material offered. Naturally the success of the Lit depends largely on the active interest shown by contributors."

Thus the Literary Monthly of Allegheny College humbly editorializes on its raison d'etre. There is a significant truth in that phrase "to publish the most representative material offered." Every piece of manuscript submitted to the editors went to the printers for this, the first issue of the year! And they needed more.

We cannot make any flattering comments on the issue and be honest. Nevertheless, we do unreservedly commend Miss Robinson and her two associates, Mr. Risher and Mr. McCollum. They are fighting stubbornly to keep alive a publication which is already feeling at home in a mortuary—a mortuary rich in appointments for which every student is paying. Seven hundred dollars is apportioned from the publications fee for the Literary Monthly, a sum entirely inadequate for the kind of publication its editor would like to issue, but a waste of money for the kind of publication now representing the literary interests of a college community.

There is no reason that Allegheny should not have a good Literary Monthly. There is only one thing which will make the Lit a credit to college readers. It is the thing for which its staff is asking. It is cooperation. If you would have the Lit the kind of publication which you want it to be, cooperate. There are plenty of students in the College who can write a short story, an informal essay, a playlet, a few verses of poetry, or almost anything. Of course, the productions will not endanger the positions of writers for the "Atlantic Monthly" or "Harper's," but the work will be representative; it will reflect the literary interests of Alleghenians. This is the kind of work which Miss Robinson wants. It is the kind of work the Lit Monthly must have if it is going to serve a better purpose than filling wastebaskets.

LITERARY MONTHLY MAKES ITS INITIAL APPEARANCE

STAFF IS HANDICAPPED BY LACK OF SUPPORT OF STUDENT BODY

With Miss Helen G. Robinson as editor and Mr. William A. Risher and Mr. Robert J. McCollum as associates, the first number of the Literary Monthly for the year was issued last week. No change in its form has been made, the size and cover design being the same as of last year.

There are ten articles in the magazine, including several editorials and book reviews. Four short stories, a sketch, and three poems are part of its contents. There is a noticeable lack of material.

Dr. John Richie Schultz, head of the English Literature department and now in Europe on sabbatic leave, has written "The Watch on the Rhine." The sketch gives very interestingly and very realistically some impressions of some of the European peoples. Dr. Schultz reflects his characteristic enjoyable humor throughout the article.

"A Tragedy in Triteisms" has been committed by Miss Annabel Mosher. The simple plot is burlesqued in a fairly capable manner. Some of its effects are somewhat strained, but as a whole the story makes pleasant reading.

A well-handled parallelism story, "The Brine of Life," has been written by Miss Mary Alicia Tobin. The descriptions employed are vivid, and the details in development are good. There is nothing spectacular in the little plot, but it is fascinating.

"Selib" is a story of a mind reader, produced by the pen of Mr. William A. Risher. The setting is well presented, the action is absorbing, and the characters are real. The argot of the profession is cleverly used. Tragedies occupy more than a few inches in country weeklies.

"The Best Laid Plans" is a football story of fast action and energy. The author, Mr. Robert J. McCollum, has marked the story with a lively note which makes for a good football story. The technique is careless, and there is a general lack of finesse. But it is a football story.

Miss Calar Putnam has woven a romantic thread in her poem. "Old Love." "At the Goal Line" and "Uncertainty" are brief poems by Mr. George L. Reid.

CHARLIE PADDOCK FORCED TO POSTPONE ENGAGEMENT

CHAMPION RUNNER SUFFERS FRACTURED ANKLE—WILL APPEAR LATER

As a result of a fractured ankle received last week, Charles W. Paddock, world champion sprinter, has been forced to cancel his engagement to speak at Allegheny College next Wednesday evening, December 19. Mr. Paddock was to have appeared at Allegheny under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. as the second number of its lyceum course, but his unfortunate accident has made it necessary for him to retire from the lecture platform until after the first of the year.

Paddock, fastest mon on earth, stands out as one of the most versatile young men in the country. Aside from being the champion sprinter of the world, a star debater, editor of the college daily, a writer of great promise, and an actor, Paddock possesses the power to sway people by his eloquence as few can do. He represents the highest type of American citizenship. He is a splendid example of what honest sportsmanship and correct living can do for a well-endowed and strong-hearted American. He is the product of correct living and honorable sportsmanship.

The career of Charles Paddock is about as strong a recommendation as college athletics could have. He is a good student who stood high in his classes. He is a cultured gentleman asd one of the cleanest athletes in his methods that ever trod a cinder path.

He has spoken in practically every town in Southern California of any size, usually disclussing the theme which is nearest his heart—clean sportsmanship in life. He is an exceptionally fluent speaker with an incisive and thought-inspiring style, indicative of a clear and brilliant mentality.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL TO BE MOVED

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Meadville Theological School held in Erie November 27, it was decided to move the school to Chicago. The institution owns a large residence one block from the University of Chicago, with a building site across the street from the memorial chapel of the First Unitarian Society, with which the school is associated.

SOUND MIND AND BODY FURTHER CLEAN SPORTS

DR. RANDOLPH FARIES MAKES SINCERE APPEAL BEFORE Y. M. C. A. GROUP

"Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good; and abstain from all evil," were the words of Paul which served as the text of Dr. Randolph Faries who spoke to the Young Men's Christian Association in Cochran Hall last Wednesday evening, seven o'clock, December 5, on the subject of clean sport and clean living.

The old theory, which deemed it necessary for one to see the seamy side of life in order to know how to go the right way, has been exploded. It is now generally regarded as a fact that no one can come away from associations such as those of the underworld type without being a little the worse for the experiment. Such experience is not the kind that will help one in later life.

Dr. Faries introduced an anecdote at this point in order to amplify his meaning. A fisherman in Canada was taking a party out on a fishing trip in his boat and was asked if he knew where all the rocks were. "No," he replied, "but I know where they ain't." This is the attitude we should take in regard to first hand experience with vice.

In his varied experience in athletics, Dr. Faries has noticed that the finest type of athlete and trainer is found in the man who makes a practice of clean sport and clean living. The highest type of trainer doesn't amuse the members of his team with vile stories. Dr. Faries spoke of the good qualities and faults of various hockey players of his acquaintance and showed how an underhanded player harms no one but himself and his team by his spirit of unfairness.

In closing, the speaker mentioned the fact that no one should neglect the spiritual life as a foundation for character, and we should remember the old saying which dates back beyond the time of the Latin language, "A sound mind in a sound body."

NEW LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL IS FORMALLY DEDICATED

PRESIDENT FRED W. HIXSON DELIVERS INVOCATION AT EXERCISES IN AUDITORIUM

Meadville's new high school was formally dedicated on the afternoon of Monday, December 3. The large auditorium was filled to capacity by interested townspeople, and the new stage was occupied by men and women connected with educational work. Among these were President Fred W. Hixson, Dr. F. G. Henke, Dr. C. A. Darling, Dr. O. P. Akers, and Dr. H. W. Church.

President Dunn of the Meadville School Board was the presiding officer and, after a musical number that opened the program, he called upon President Hixson to deliver the invocation.

The principal speaker of the occasion was J. George Becht, superintendent of Pennsylvania schools. Superintendent Becht congratulated the people of Meadville upon the completion of the new building and assured them that it was one of the finest in the state, and in all probability in the country. He discussed the value of education to the present and future generations. He declared that proper education in our high and grammar schools would in a large measure stamp out radicalism and the misconception of democracy that is so prevalent at this time.

Several other events followed, and then the visitors were conducted through the building by delegated high school students.

The new building is situated at the corner of North Main and Walnut streets. It is in the shape of the letter H, and such a construction affords ample light at all times. The equipment of the building is modern in every way, from that of the science laboratories to that of the gymnasium. The new school will entirely do away with the crowded condition that was prevalent in the old building.

Y. W. C. A. BEGINS BIBLE STUDY COURSE

Mrs. O. P. Akers led the first of a series of Bible study classes, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., Wednesday evening. The class is studying the book, "The Women of the Bible," by George Matherson. Mrs. Akers discussed the characteristics of Eve. It was the natural instinct in Eve to abandon her restrictions by eating the forbidden fruit. Mrs. Akers divided the life of Eve into three parts: unfolding, awakening, and repression. The meeting next Wednesday will be in charge of Mrs. Emig.

CAPT. H. P. MORLEY

Morley, playing his final year of collegiate football, was elected captain of what proved to be the greatest grid team in the history of Allegheny. Seldom carrying the ball, he was a wizard at leading interference, while on the defense he was without a peer in Class B circles. As pilot of the destinies of the Blue and Gold, he at all times used his head and hurled the Allegheny offense at the least expected place. Many of the six-pointers which were chalked up on the right side of the ledger were the direct result of "Babe's" faculty of picking weak spots in his opponent's defense. It will be a difficult task to find a man who will fill the quarterback position as Morley has during his four years at Allegheny.

VICTOR WRIGHT

"Vic" has for four years held down the right guard berth on the Blue and Gold machine, and to say that he was good would be putting it exceedingly mild. All season he has been the bane of his opponents' existence, for he has yet to meet the man who can consistently keep him from breaking through for one of his savage tackles. The sad part of it is that this is "Vic's" last year at Allegheny, and when he goes, he will leave a great gap in the Hurricane line which will be hard to fill.

PAUL SHULTZ

Shultz held down left terminal of what certain writers have stated was the greatest line in the East this year. Seldom it was that a gain was made in Paul's territory—in fact, it was more often the other way about, for one of Shultz's specialties was dragging down a runner from behind for a loss. He was one of the speediest ends in the Class B conference, and while not a flashy or sensational performer, he fought every second. His loss will be keenly felt next year, as he is one of the three varsity men who will be graduated in the spring.

LAURENCE JUDD

Juddy, playing right end, is right there all the time. Geneva's famous end runs netted them a loss in the final reckoning, especially around Judd. Big, powerful, and lots of nerve, in fact, Judd has all the requisites of a good football player. His kicking this year has been a big advantage to the Hurricane. His arms make a good receptacle for forward passes.

ROBERT FULLER

A wild man on the defense, he well deserves the name of "Tarzan." His passes from center are accurate, his tackling savage. Fuller has played a good game all year, finishing up fine at Bucknell. No Class B team could be picked without this Allegheny representative on it. Next year, his last, should also be his best.

CHARLES WOLZ

Just one of those lazy Southerners. Who ever saw Buck do any work? But something happens to Buck when he gets into a real game. He is adept at crawling over the opposing line and grabbing the runner by the ankles for a loss. The famous Reed of Bucknell couldn't do a thing with Buck. One of the "crushingest" guards that ever battled for the Blue and Gold.

FRED A. PARNELL

"Seriously considered for a tackle position on either the first or second All-American team to be picked by Walter Camp," is the way the Pittsburgh and Cleveland papers speak about Fred. He always has twice as much territory to defend as any other man on the line, and he defends it, too. Any Class A team would be more than glad to have him on their line. The greatest all-around lineman ever representing Allegheny college."

LEWIS BLACKWELL

Center is another position the able filling of which Coach McCracken need not worry. Red, like Logan, seems too good to keep out of the game at all. Though handicapped by a bad leg, Red is nevertheless one of the fastest men on the squad. His passes are true, and his defensive work is hard to beat. Intercepting forward passes is another of his favorite pastimes. He did his best work this year against St. Bonaventure and Westminster.

ARTHUR DAHL

Dahl ranks with Red Grange of Illinois and Harry Wilson of Penn State in that he has scored all his team's points in its major games. He has done even more. He has scored at least one touchdown in every game in which he has played, besides kicking 13 out of 14 placement goals. Being an All-American would be a cinch for him were he attending a Class A school.

COACH HERB McCRACKEN

Untiring in his efforts to put the Blue and Gold of Allegheny on the football map, Coach Herb McCracken has, for the third successive season, injected the necessary amount of fight and gridiron cleverness from his own well-known resources into the team and carried them through the most successful schedule ever accredited an Allegheny aggregation. Because of his clean sportsmanship and energetic efforts, all loyal Alleghenians today extend their deepest respect and gratitude to this man, whom the leading football followers of the country declare the "Wonder Coach" of the past season.

JAMES HANLON

This fighter from Monessen certainly came through this year with a bang. A certain off-tackle play with Hanlon running the ball gained many first downs and paved the way for numerous touchdowns throughout the season. Jimmy is also the most accurate forward passer on the squad and can catch and hold any pass that he can even touch. He is a whirlwind on the defense.

I. KENNETH LOGAN

"Too valuable a man to be kept on the bench in any game." An embarrassment of riches seems to be the case in Allegheny with regard to the fullback position. With two men like Dahl and Logan in the backfield at the same time and a line like Allegheny's, no team in the country could withstand the attack. Almost unaided, Logan carried the ball 80 yards to the five yard line against West Virginia. Next year, we look forward to seeing him playing regularly.

FRANCIS MYFORD

Myford was unavailable in the first two games of the season but when he joined the team he surely made up for lost time. The former Monessen star advanced from a utility position of last year to a full fledged regular this fall. Myford played great football in all of the games he participated, but his work in the Grove City, Rochester, and Bucknell battles particularly stamped him as one of Allegheny's best tackles. Had he been able to play against West Virginia it is hard to tell just what would have happened to the undefeated Mountaineers.

WILLIAM WEAVER

Little "Buck" Weaver remains the idol of the fans and his stellar offensive work certainly merits the volumes of applause that he received. Beginning with the Thiel game when he squirmed over for a touchdown, to the final game at Lewisburg, Weaver must be commended all season for his part in Allegheny's 1923 successes. Handicapped by his size and weight, "Buck" was the never daunted terror of every defense he encountered.

RICHARD SMITH

"Smitty" is another boy who has a reputation for laziness which his behavior in games belies. At West Virginia, Mooney pulled off a neat 40-yard run which would have resulted in a touchdown had he not been forced out of bounds. Against Geneva, Westminster and Bucknell he also played sterling football. With two years to go, he will be one of Allegheny's greatest before he quits.

The Rev. A. J. Calvin, '94, is pastor of the United Presbyterian Church at New Galilee, Pa.

WILLIAM DOLDE

Bill Dolde had another big season and was often used to relieve "Mooney" Smith. A hard fighter and a consistent ground gainer, the Sewickley boy was a terror in every game he played. Bill's work is greatly appreciated by all who follow Allegheny's play. The coaches rank Dolde highly, and his true value to the team is inestimable.

ALDEN HUMESTON

Here is another all-around linesman. Usually a guard, he fits in well at tackle, and when Fuller was injured, he became the relief center. His playing this year showed a hundred percent improvement over last year's. He never gets hurt and is always in there fighting. He showed up especially well at West Virginia.

MARTIN KINNUNUN

Listed as a tackle, this boy plays any position on the line. Either guard, either tackle, either end, he is usually the first substitute to get into the game. Big, rangy, fast and with a world of nerve, it will be almost impossible to keep him on the bench next year. The fact that he comes from the home town of Parnell and Fuller speaks well for him.

MANAGER R. P. EATON

To "Pete" goes much of the credit for Allegheny's great record. He has ever been a hard worker, devoting all of his time to forwarding the best interests of the team and of the College. The schedule for the 1923 season was one of the most difficult that a Blue and Gold eleven has ever been called upon to fill, and "Pete's" conscientious attention to his many duties was one of the great factors in the success which the Hurricane made of these hard assignments.

COACH C. E. HAMMETT

Ably assisting Coach Herb McCracken on the practice field, Coach Hammett proved himself a tremendously valuable member of the Blue and Gold board of strategy. With his great store of football knowledge and uncanny ability to scout opponents, this admired mentor aided in no small degree in Allegheny's leap before the sport spot-light.

LLOYD BRENDEL

Making up in fight and endurance what he lacked in experience, Brendel proved himself one of the most promising halfbacks on this season's squad. A fine defensive player and a hard man to down, his consistent work in the Rochester, Bonaventure, and Westminster games gives every indicaion of another star looming upon the horizon of Allegheny gridiron history. Adding the experience gained during the past season to his natural ability, Brendel will make a strong bid for a regular berth next year.

BEN HAYS

Another new man brought in this year. Benny has shown promise Three more years ought to make him a real star. He is big and powerful and showed that he had the makings of a real end by his playing in the Westminster game. Experience is all he needs.

EMMETT JACKSON

Jackson is a product of the local high school gridiron, and his work at tackle on the Meadville squad gave him his chance for a place on the Blue and Gold line. Although "Jack" broke into only one game this year, he performed creditably and we predict should give some of the varsity a run for a regular berth on the team next fall.

Miss Elizabeth Chase, '17, announces her marriage to Mr. David M. Conway. Mr. and Mrs. Conway will establish their home in Erie, Pa., where Mr. Conway is employed by the Penn Life Insurance Company.

KOEHL

Koehl, playing his first year of collegiate football, proved a valuable understudy to Captain Morley at quarterback. The former Fort Wayne boy played a reserve role all season, and his work stamps him as a likely looking prospect for future seasons. He displayed good headwork and clever field generalship in the contests in which he played, even though he was leading an eleven of veterans.

PETER FEE

Pete Fee, of Uniontown, proved to be one of the valuable freshmen who made the squad in the 1923 season. Fee proved to all skeptical fans that he was not far behind right guard Wright, the man he was substituted for in most games. With Wright graduating in June, Fee ought to stand a good chance of winning a regular line position on next year's team.

ALBERT CIBULA

Cibula was another of the valuable freshmen "finds" on the 1923 squad and demonstrated the fact that he can capably hold down an end position Few of the opponents' charges were able to get around the Braddock boy who will be even more invaluable after a little collegiate experience. An injury to his arm while playing basketball kept Cibula out of the last two games of the year. The fact that he was missed as an understudy of Shultz and Judd also bespeaks his worth.

KYLE ROBINSON

Another new man on the squad was Robinson of Latrobe. "Robbie" got into several games at the end and although his playing experience was rather limited, he gave a good account of himself when used. A good defensive man this fall, Robinson promises to develop even faster next, when he should stand a show of filling the place vacated by the graduation of Shultz. Robinson showed up particularly well in the Westminster game.

FRANKLYN EWING

Ewing, the second heaviest man on the entire squad proved to be a wonderful asset to the reserve strength of the Allegheny line. The big boy alternated with Kinninum during the first part of the season when Myford was unavailable. During the latter part of the year he frequently was used in a utility role and will make a threat for a regular place next fall.

THEODORE WELSH

Welsh was a newcomer at Allegheny this year, coming here with a reputation as a great scholastic halfback. Because of the great competition of four varsity men for the halfback positions, Welsh did not have much oportunity to show what he could do, but big things may be expected from him during the next three years.

WALKER, BIRCHARD AND CONSIDER

These three men, new to the gridiron, were out all season and took their bumps with the best of them. Although they had insufficient experience to warrant Coach McCracken's using them to any extent, the quickness, with which they mastered the rudiments of the game augurs well for their future success.

GRADUATE MGR. TOWNSEND

to the task of developing Allegheny athletics, Graduate Manager Townsend is one of the outstanding figures in the sweeping success of the Hurricane. The schedule which he arranged the past season owes its successful termination largely to the active efforts and personal interest of "Towny." Allegheny will always be proud of his work, and boast of the laurels which he helped so greatly to earn.

TRAINER EARLE KROETZER

While in the process of giving credit where it is due, there is one person who must not be overlooked. Trainer Earle Kroetzer, with his cheery personality and constant efforts, figured greatly in Allegheny's success. His knowing care of the athletes' ailments and his effervescent Allegheny spirit played a prominent part in the great record of the team.

ALLEGHENY ELEVEN COMPLETES BRILLIANT GRIDIRON SEASON

Blue and Gold Hurricane Boasts Seven Victories and Only One Defeat

Facing the stiffest array of opposing aggregations ever attempted by an Allegheny eleven in a single season, the Blue and Gold, under Herb McCracken's mentorship, scrambled easily into the leadership of the district's Class B machines. Not content with this extraordinary achievebent, the Hurricane breezed confidently into the realm of the first class powers and terminated the season with a resounding victory over the husky Bucknell outfit, causing the hitherto more or less unknown name of Allegheny to be echoed and reechoed throughout the editions of the nation's leading sporting sheets.

Gridiron conditions have changed radically during the past few months, and today Allegheny is a name to conjure with, a team of history-making athletes who have forced recognition upon themselves by reason of their superlative ability and football skill.

Opening the season with Thiel College, September 27, Allegheny, her team not yet under full steam, made Montgomery Field rumble jovially with a neat 14 to 0 victory over the visiting foemen.

With only a week's further development, the powerful West Virginia machine, of national repute, was faced on the Southland gridiron. Defeat, the only one of the season, was sustained in a manner that in no way resembled a rout. Without the services of several regulars and facing the elusive Nardacci, Allegheny forced aside consideration of the 28 to 0 score by the magnificent playing of her forward line and the shattering attacks showered upon the mighty mountaineers by Logan, the Blue and Gold's stocky thunderbolt.

Then followed a string of six consecutive victories. Under Captain Morley's veteran generalship Grove City was decisively trounced 6 to 0 on the local lot. New York State was invaded, and Rochester University fell by the wayside 39 to 6. Genera and St. Bonaventure in turn invaded the home territory only to be turned back, each by a 14-0 tally. With growing superiority the Hurricane wiped out Westminster in a southward swoop in a game in which every substitute helped to run up the final 47-0 score. Still searching for more worlds to conquer the Blue and Gold journeyed far into the East and allowed Bucknell to witness the final antics of the team that has been termed "The Center of 1923." From Parnell to Myford the line was invincible, while Hanlon, Smith, and Dahl gained almost at will. In fact the latter registered all of the 10 points that overwhelmed Bucknell's mere 7.

Ending a season's schedule of eight contests with seven clean victories, and only one defeat and running up a total of 144 points to their opponents' 41, the 1923 squad turned in Old Allegheny's greatest triumph.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON OF 1924

Allegheny's great victory over Bucknell, November 24, at Lewisburg, marked the close of the most successful football season the College has ever experienced. By this victory Allegheny showed that she is able to compete on equal terms with the best Class A teams in the country. Her victory was not one of the lucky type, but it was a clear demonstration that Allegheny has moved up a step in the athletic world, and that she must in the future be recognized and respected as a worthy opponent for the best teams.

The season has been a success, not only from the standpoint of games won and lost, but from every other standpoint. The attendance at the games has far eclipsed all previous records. The spirit of the team, the student body, and the spectators has surpassed that of former years. The publicity accorded Allegheny by the newspapers of neighboring towns, as well as those of larger cities, has been greatly increased. The Alumni and the active College have been brought into closer relationship. Hundreds of new friends have been made for the school, and hundreds of boys from all districts are clamoring for entrance into Allegheny, as a result of the remarkable record made by the football team.

S. S. TOWNSEND,
Graduate Manager.

ENTHUSIASTIC STUDENTS CHEER VICTORIOUS TEAM

ROUSING CHAPEL RALLY LAST TUESDAY TO CELEBRATE SUCCESS IN FOOTBALL

In celebration of Allegheny's remarkably successful football season, and especially of the victory over Bucknell with which it ended, the Chapel service Tuesday, November 27 was given over to a football rally with speeches by various members of the faculty and cheering for the team.

President Fred W. Hixson spoke briefly, first announcing that Wednesday had been declared a special holiday in recognition of Saturday's victory. After spirited singing of songs, led by Chase R. Gage, Graduate Manager S. S. Townsend gave a speech in which he briefly reviewed the Bucknell game, praised the players for their work and expressed appreciation of the spirit of cooperation among the students during the past season.

He spoke of the difficulties which confronted him when he came to Allegheny as Graduate Manager. In spite of discouragement he has worked steadily to build up the team. The result has been this season's outstanding success. Mr. Townsend emphasized the need for the cooperation of the students and the splendid spirit of loyalty among the players. He said, "We have kept fraternity politics where they belong—out of business." He urged the students to honor the team by attending the football banquet, which was held December 7.

The cheerleader, Cyril B. Hartman, led in cheering for each individual member of the team, for the coaches, and for the President of the College. Dr. R. E. Lee, President F. W. Hixson, and Coach Hammett, all spoke briefly in conclusion.

Bill: "There are lots of girls who don't want to get married."
Mary: "How do you know?"
Bill: "I've asked them."

TO ALLEGHENY'S ELEVEN

The best season an Allegheny team has ever had. The strongest team that has ever worn our colors. The only Allegheny team in recent years to win an undisputed title to Class B supremacy in Western Pennsylvania. The first Allegheny team to defeat a recognized Class A eleven.

An eleven which never "quit," no matter what the odds against it, no matter how gruelling the battle.

An eleven which shares with Yale and Pitt the honor of having defeated Bucknell University.

An eleven that was not great because o fits weight, but because of its knowledge of the finer points of the game, its splendid spirit, and its unswerving loyalty to the best traditions of college sportsmanship.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN GIVE DINNER TO TEAM

COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL CHAMPIONS ARE ENTERTAINED BY COMMITTEE

A committee of Meadville business and professional men tendered a banquet to the combined football squads of Allegheny College and Meadville High School last Monday evening at the Lafayette Hotel, in commemoration of the work of each in winning the championship of their respective sections. About ninety, the capacity of the Lafayette dining room, were in attendance.

The program, which was interspersed with music and singing, consisted of speeches by Judge Thomas, Ray Cox, and Coaches McCracken and Snyder. R. A. Lunk, secretary of the Meadville Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster.

TROPHY TO BE AWARD IN CLASS BASKETBALL

ATHLETIC BOARD TO GIVE PLAQUE TO WINNERS OF CLASS TOURNEYS

In order to stimulate interest in the inter-class basket-ball tournament which is an annual event at Allegheny, the Athletic Board of Control recently decided to place in the trophy room of the gymnasium each year a handsome tablet. This plaque probably of bronze, will carry the name of the class, the year in which the championship was won, and other such information as will duly honor the contestants.

Coach Hammett has already instituted practice for this inter-class event, which will be run off soon after the holiday vacation. On Mondays and Thursdays, from 1:45 until 4 P. M., the time will be devoted to whipping into shape combinations which can be used in the tournament. The men are selected according to the classes they represent, and are coached in the same careful and thorough manner as is the varsity. Thus, in two or three years Allegheny floor coaches will have a reserve of at least twenty-five men who are familiar with all of the fine points of the game and with the Blue and Gold system of both offense and defense.

ALUMNUS COMPILES STATISTICS OF PAST THREE FOOTBALL SEASONS

Mac White, '17, of Lakewood, O., has sent in the following figures which he has prepared concerning Allegheny's record in football:

1922....	9	6	3	0	667
1923....	8	7	1	0	875

NEW ENGLAND BANKER OFFERS PRIZE TO CHARACTERIZE DRINKER

Believing that the best way to stop violation of the prohibition amendment is to make drinking "bad form," Mr. Delaware King, vice-president of the Granite Trust Company of Quincy, Massachusetts, offered a prize of one hundred dollars to the person who invents a word to characterize properly a person who indulges in alchoholic liquor. The words "scab" and "slacker" have a powerful influence, and Mr. King feels that a word of the same sort to refer to drinkers would be January 1, 1924.

A notice concerning the offer is posted on the bulletin board in Bentley Hall.

ROGER W. BABSON OFFERS TWO PRIZES FOR ESSAYS ON ECONOMICS

In order to foster student interest in statistical economics, Mr. Roger Babson, founder of the Babson Statistical Organization, has offered two prizes, one of $650 and another of $400, for essays on economic topics of current interest. The larger prize is for essays written by either graduates or undergrauates of any American University, and the $400 prize is for essays by undergraduates only.

A detailed announcement of the rules and nature of the contest is posted on the bulletin board of Bentley Hall. Essays must be in the hands of Prof. Ray B. Westerfield, Yale Station, New Haven, Connecticut, by October 1, 1924. Professor Westerfield will, upon application to him, furnish additional information about the contest.

CLEVELAND MERCHANT GIVES CHAPEL TALK

MR. JAMES H. FRIES URGES COMPETENT DISCHARGE OF RESPONSIBILITY

Speaking before the student body at chapel, Wednesday, December 5, James H. Fries, of Cleveland, Onio, urged that all students should learn to discharge responsibility in a competent manner.

He said that in hiring people for various kinds of work he has found four different types. First there are those who have to be told what to do, how to do it, and who have to be watched to see that they do the job. The second group contains those, who, after being told what to do and how to do it, need no further checking up. In the third group are those who find how to do a thing after being told what to do, and lastly there are those rare people who have originality, who find for themselves what to do, and then go ahead and do it. These are the persons who are given responsible positions.

Mr. Fries closed with the remark that our success thirty years from now will be determined by the way in which we look at this problem.

PHI BETA KAPPA HOLDS FOUNDERS' DAY DINNER

PRESIDENT F. C. FERRY, OF HAMILTON COLLEGE, ADVOCATES LIBERAL EDUCATION

In order to commemorate the founding of the Fraternity, the Pennsylvania Eta Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa held a dinner in Cochran Hall last Thursday evening, December 5. The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Frederick C. Ferry, President of Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y. Practically all members of the local chapter were present including faculty members, town members, and two newly elected members from the Senior class.

A brief business meeting was held before the address, at which Dr. W. A. Elliott, secretary of the chapter, presented a plan for raising an endowment fund for the general Fraternity. Part of this fund is to be used to build a memorial at William and Mary College, the mother chapter of the Fraternity, for it was at that institution that Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1776.

After an introduction by President Fred W. Hixson, Dr. Ferry began by sketching in a most brilliant manner the history of American college education, tracing the college through the old system of required study down to the present-day elective system with all its resulting chaos. Dr. Ferry also pointed out the importance of the study of Latin and Greek and presented numerous illustrations from actual business life proving the value of the broad cultural education in preference to the specialized training. He also said that the vocational type of training was also unsatisfactory since it was apt to shut out too much general knowledge. College training develops a great flexibility of mind which no technical course can possibly do. It is because of this flexibility of mind that business men of today prefer such men in preference to trained specialists since they are better able to attack a problem and work it out for themselves. He cited several specific instances of employers who, desiring the best type of man for a certain position, took, not the technical man, but the college graduate and trained him for the task themselves. It is said of George Westinghouse that when he wanted an electrical engineer he selected a graduate of a liberal arts college, with little or no knowledge of electricity, and trained him for the place. In closing, Dr. Ferry said that above all the college must insist upon the development of character.

Following the dinner there was a brief social hour. It will be remembered that Dr. Ferry was one of the speakers at the inauguration of President Hixson a few years ago.

CANCELLATION OF WAR DEBTS DEBATED IN FORUM

Debate was again the program at Philo-Franklin Forum last Friday afternoon. The debate was given by Theodore Jones, affirmative, and Park Hotchkiss, negative, on the question, "Resolved that the United States should cancel the debts due her from the Allies in the World War." The decision was awarded in favor of the affirmative. Next week, the debate will be on the question, "Resolved that the United States should grant independence to the Philippine Islands," with Gary Roush upholding the affirmative and Lloyd Bromley presenting the negative.

The last meeting of the Forum was not so well attended as Forum meetings usually are. These gatherings give an opportunity to hear discussions on great world problems and to learn and practice parliamentary law All men of the College are invited to attend the meetings, and a larger turn-out is expected at future meetings. Meetings of the Philo-Franklin Forum are held regularly every Friday at 4:45 on the third floor of Bentley.

DELTA TAU DELTA HOLDS ANNUAL FALL PARTY

Delta Tau Delta held its annual fall dinner dance at the Saegertown Inn, Saturday evening, December 8. The ball room was decorated in the colors of the fraternity, purple, white, and gold, and music for the occasion was furnished by the Allegheny Serenaders. Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee, Professor and Mrs. R. W. Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cox were the chaperons.

FIRST VARSITY DEBATE TRIALS ARE COMPLETED

DEBATERS COMPETE FOR PLACES ON TEAM IN FINAL TRY-OUT TODAY

Varsity debate trials were held in Ford Memorial Chapel Friday, December 7, and as a result the judges, Dr. C. F. Littell, Prof. R. W. Thomas, and Prof. H. W. Gilmer have chosen eight men out of the competing thirteen to debate in the final varsity tryouts to be held in the Chapel this afternoon. They are Messrs. Bartlett, Schruers, Avey, Gordon, Hough, Cain, Corbett, and Allen. Besides these competitors in the final trials, there will also be the varsity men of last year: Messrs. Demmler, Leeper, Hammett, and Sutton. From this group will be chosen eight men to represent Allegheny in her intercollegiate debates this year.

Western Reserve is the first debate scheduled tentatively for February 21. This debate will be followed on March 20 by a triangular debate with Wooster and Oberlin Colleges. Dickinson has cancelled her debate with Allegheny this year, stating that their debaters are not sufficiently interested in the League of Nations question.

This question for the intercollegiate debates was decided upon at a conference of Wooster, Oberlin, Allegheny, Western Reserve, and Ohio Wesleyan. Professor Arthur Emig will take the place of Professor L. D. McClean on the debate and oratory committee in the future. Professor Emig is well prepared to work with the committee this year, since he has the distinct advantage of having actually "listened in" last year on the League of Nations Conference while he was travelling in Europe on a fellowship from Boston University.

Professor R. W. Thomas reports that the freshman debate with Penn State will be held on February 8, and that the Allegheny freshmen will have the affirmative side of the League of Nations question.

ALUMNUS EXPRESSES HIS LOYALTY TO ALLEGHENY

PROFESSOR GILBERT W. MEAD, '11, RELATES REUNION AMONG ALUMNI UNUSUAL

Gilbert W. Mead, '11, Professor of English Literature at Westminster College, addressed the student body in a brief, informal talk during the chapel exercises Saturday morning. Professor Mead's talk was decidedly impromptu, but it was of such an entertaining nature that it had the effect of a prepared speech.

The speaker concerned himself with an account of the influence, or better, the wide range of Allegheny men and women. The students of the College do not realize how important our institution really is. Professor Mead has had the opportunity to travel a great deal, and he related several incidents of his meeting with Allegheny graduates in foreign lands, thousands of miles from the campus.

Professor Mead closed his talk with an appreciation of Alma Mater, her continued rise in the educational world, and her exceptional football team.

Prior to his taking the position at Westminster, Professor Mead was connected with the English literature Department at Columbia University.

NO CUTS AT PRINCETON

By a new ruling which is in effect at Princeton University for the first time this year, Juniors, and Seniors are no longer required to attend classes and lectures, and unlimited absences are allowed them, if their studies do not suffer in consequence.

This plan of permitting a student to decide whether he shall attend a class has existed in foreign universities for some time, but Princeton is the first to adopt it. It assumes that a student reaching college age is able to decide for himself when it is necessary to attend or cut a class, and the university denies this privilege only upon a student's failure to pass a course.

ARTER HALL

within the next ten years. Among other things, the plan provides for the erection of three new buildings—a recitation hall, a dormitory for freshman men, an auditorium— and a memorial tower. The recommendation was adopted unanimously by the trustees in the most largely attended meeting of the Corporation held in recent years. Arter Hall will be the first one of these buildings to be erected.

President Hixson will ask the trustees of the College to appoint a building committee at their semi-annual meeting this month, and hopes to have the enterprise far enough along to permit the corner stone of Arter Hall to be laid Commencement Week.

INTEREST AROUSED IN INTERFRATERNITY MEET

ALPHA CHI RHO HAS SUBSTANTIAL LEAD IN FIRST TWO EVENTS

The first two events of the Inter-Fraternity All Around Championship were held in the gymnasium Saturday. Alpha Chi Rho holds a substantial lead over the other competing Greeks. The events run off were the 75 yard dash and the shot-put both of which were won by Alpha Chi Rho.

The sprint race was run against time, and Rea of the present leading team copped the event in 9 3-10 seconds. Bagcock of Beta Upsilon scored second place. Five men tied for the remaining three places. Parnell put the shot 42 feet, 1½ inches and took the weight throw easily. Kinnunun, also of the Alpha Chi Rhos finished second to Parnell in this event.

Sixteen men ran in the 75 yard dash while 13 were entered in the shot-put. Of this number most of the athletes qualified. Alpha Chi Rho has 10 entries qualified, Phi Alpha Kappa 4, Beta Upsilon 3 and Phi Delta Theta 1. The group qualifying the most men will receive 15 points additional to its score the next three will have extra points added also. On Saturday the fence vault and high jump will be held while next Tuesday the meet will close with the mile run.

Summary: 75 yard dash, 1 Rae (Alpha Chi Rho); 2 Babcock Beta Upsilon; tie for next three places, Robinson (Alpha Chi Rho), Williams (Alpha Chi Rho), Black (Alpha Chi Rho), Bliss (Alpha Chi Rho), and Sample (Beta Upsilon). Time 9 3-10 seconds. Shot-put: 1 Parnell (Alpha Chi Rho); 2 Kinnunun (Alpha Chi Rho); 3 Fee (Phi Delta Theta); 4 Fuller (Alpha Chi Rho); 5 tie between Eddy (Phi Alpha Kappa) and Fallon (Alpha Chi Rho.)

Score to date—Alpha Chi Rho 21 3-10; Beta Upsilon 5 1-5; Phi Delta Theta 3, and Phi Alpha Kappa 1-2.

RUTGERS MAY DEBATE OXFORD

The Rutgers debating team may have an opportunity to cross swords with the famous debating team from Oxford University, England, if plans which Professor Barbour contemplates can be successfully completed. The Oxford team is now touring this country and meeting the best teams that American Universities can put forth.

Professor Barbour states that he has already communicated with the English team's representative in the United States, Dr. Aydelotte, of Swarthmore, and that the team is still thought to have several open dates.

Dr. Frank Aydelotte was Phi Beta Kappa speaker at Allegheny last June.

FACTS ABOUT THE SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS

The 1923 sale of Christmas Seals begins November 30th for the 16th season since the Seal was first distributed in Pennsylvania.

Christmas Seals sell for one penny each.

Health Bonds sell for $5.00 and upwards, and are provided for persons who want to help more generously and cannot use many Seals.

The proceeds are used by citizen tuberculosis organizations in preventive efforts against tuberculosis.

About 80 per cent of the funds remain in the county and the balance is used in the state and national campaign against the White Plague, which knows no state lines.

Christmas Seals used on every letter and on every package during the holiday season will give health to many and save more lives.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH?

Average man is psychological enough, but he thinks that discussing it is "soft."

As a rule, if people try to get away from one's amiability, it is because it is artificial.

Our most painful experience frequently makes our best conversational material in later years.

To one who can't write poetry, all those who can always exclaim in astonishment, "Why, can't you write poetry?"

After a while, people find that laughing at a bad-tempered, good-humored man's outbursts disperses all his anger.

Instead of coming all the way to this country "to study farming," King George of Greece might invite one of our touring senators to stop off at Athens and explain all about it.

ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET

the most successful seasons in Allegheny's history.

To beat Grove City was the first requirement for a successful season. With that accomplished, the defeat of the Class B championship, was the second major aim. That also was done. There yet remained Bucknell, and to make a creditable showing against this team, one of the best in the east, was the third objective. The fact that Allegheny not only made a creditable showing against Bucknell, but actually defeated them, was the final achievement of a glorious season. Coach Hammett concluded by saying that the spirit shown by the team was the best he had seen in his thirty-one years of association with football.

Graduate-Manager Townsend, speaking on "The Future", pleaded with the students to help him keep out of Allegheny undesirables who think they can enter for their football ability alone. He reviewed the scholastic requirements, that pertain to football players as well as to any other student. Although some men now starring for other colleges have signified their desire to enter Allegheny, Mr. Townsend said that the risk of acquiring a reputation for enticing away rival athletes is too great for us to accept them. Only high school graduates are desired.

Coach Herb McCracken, the last speaker on the program, was accorded a great ovation. Taking "The Team" as his subject, the Coach gave an individual summary of the work of each letter-man. Two factors, he said, were responsible for the season's success. One was the efficient help and co-operation of the managerial staff; the other the pre-season assistance of "Fats" Gourley, and the valuable scouting of Coach Hammett. While not definitely committing himself on the prospect of his return, he said that nothing would please him better, and that he would make every effort to do so.

Following Coach McCracken's speech, the Toastmaster announced the men who were eligible to vote for next year's captain. The following seventeen men were awarded Varsity letters for this year: Capt. Morley, Wright, Shultz, Judd, Wolz, Fuller, Blackwell, Parnell, Dahl, Hanlon, Myford, Smith, Logan, Dolde, Weaver, Humeston and Kinnunen. These men were conducted from the room by Manager R. P. Eaton to elect their new captain. During their absence Louis Wells, of Cleveland, holder of the Allegheny record in the pole vault, and Gilbert M. Mead, head of the English Department at Westminster College, were called upon to say a few words. Both expressed their gratification of the success of the new athletic program and especially of the 1923 football team. When the team returned to the dining hall, Captain Morley was called upon. He expressed his sincere regret at having played his last for Allegheny and extended his best wishes for the future. He introduced the new captain, Fred A. Parnell, star tackle, who has played two years of extraordinary football for the Blue and Gold and who has proved himself a real leader. Parnell thanked the team for the trust they had placed in him and promised to make next year the best of them all.

Cheers for the old and new Captains, the team, the Board of Control, the Board of Strategy, the managers, for the girls of Hulings Hall, and the alumni, followed by the singing of "Alma Mater Beatissima", closed the crowning event of the 1923 football season.

TRAINING OF TEACHERS

Free schools and compulsory attendance are new experiences. No power of government can bring to them success. If they succeed, it will be through the genuine effort and support that can come only from the heart of the people themselves. It is this condition that makes the position of the teacher rise to such importance.

The standards which teacehrs are required to maintain are continually rising. Their work takes on a new dignity. It is rising above a calling, above a profession, into the realms of an art. It must be dignified by technical training, ennobled by character, and sanctified by faith. It is not too much to say that the need of civilization is the need of teachers. The contribution which they make to human welfare is beyond estimation.—President Calvin Coolidge.

The upper-classmen of Harvard seem particularly devoted to their mother tongue. English has been chosen as the field of concentration by 522 advanced students. Economics, Romance languages, Chemistry and History follow English in poularity.

The honor system at Princeton is so well developed that students may even take their papers to their rooms and write out their answers in absolute privacy.

The sociology department of the University of Kansas sent out questionnaires to thirty co-eds upon the subject of "Qualifications of An Acceptable Husband." Twenty-two checked as a first requisite financial ability. Love brought up the rear.

SOME FOLKS' IDEA OF CULTURE is to recite Omar Khayyam. Others drop their r's.

THERE'S THIS CONSOLATION: The college graduate who is digging ditches gets more recognition for it than ninety-nine per cent of his fellow-workers.

Twenty-five years after graduation is for many reasons a more important and interesting date than any other in the alumni calendar. The reunion then scheduled breaks in upon the regular order of things, says the Independent. Other reunions follow one another at ten-year intervals, and after the quarter of a century mark is passed death begins his heavy harvesting. At 25 years that choice of careers which confronted the class on graduation day has long since been made, and then men who had in them the gifts and energies that spell success have achieved or have begun to achieve, their destinies. Political and economic views have in general become more conservative, while the religious and philosophical views of those who have not lost interest in such matters have, as a rule, become broader as well as more mellow. All in all, the "good fellows" who foregather at this time go home from their reunion knowing not only whether their expectations of one another have been fulfilled, but also without much doubt as to whether they ever will be. No other reunion has been or will again be as large as this. It is the last real flare of the class.

His sister called him Willie,
His mother called him Will,
But when he went to college
To Dad he was Bill, Bill, Bill.

BY THE WAY, DAY BY DAY IN every way, we're hearing less and less of Emile Coue.

WE SOMETIMES WONDER IF there's any use criticizing ourselves when others are so willing to do it for us.

Choice of a Career
From the Yale News

THE NINETY-FOUR

Someone, probably an insurance agent, was quoted recently as saying that from the mass of one hundred college graduates one individual only rose to the Polo and butler class, perilously near the top of the financial ladder. Five others became comfortably off and found themselves after twenty years at the small yacht and chauffeur stage. The other ninety-four presumably congregate in the great section of the American people who drive their own Buicks to the golf club. In other words, dreaming about being a rich man is one thing, and making the grade is "something else again."

Yet the ninety-four presumably work just as hard as the sumptuous six. Their business is the axis on which a small and uninteresting world revolves. They have become devotees of the dollar and when that fickle deity deserts, have nowhere else to turn. Jammed in a dull, straight rut of business they can never leave the road and jump the fence into finer fields of life. This, then, is the portion of ninety-four men out of every hundred now on the campus.

The answer to the problem lies in the proper choice of a career.

Between now and Commencement we shall have something to offer on the subject of "Careers." Watch for the space with the Famous Signature.
