Dear William Allen:

Only a line to tell you and Sally that I think of you very often, particularly evenings after I have listened to your Bill make his admirable reports from Finnland. I realize how proud - and anxious - you must be and share it all with you.

Blessings on you both.

Always affectionately

P.S. I am so pleased to have your "Changing West." I did dip into it a little and am taking it to the country to read from start to finish. It says a lot of interesting things I realize, and true.
