My dear Miss Tarbell:

When I read over your note of September 9 saying that you would give us something for the Journal the first week in November, I did not note particularly the last line of your letter. As I reread it, I see that you have added to your promise to let us have something the qualifying clause "If it is satisfactory." I am not quite sure whether you meant satisfactory from your viewpoint, or from ours, so I am writing this perhaps unnecessary acknowledgement to say that we shall be delighted to hear from you any time before November 10.

We are looking forward to being able to publish an article from your pen.

Very sincerely yours,

Ruth Wilson Tryon
