Dear Mr. Warren:

I am sorry there has been a delay in sending you a word as to what I think of the Lincoln National Life Foundation. I have been away for a fortnight, only just returned last night.

I have followed the research and the publications of the Foundation from the beginning. Your own investigations and reports had so interested me that I naturally felt sure that backed by a generous and understanding organization like the Lincoln National Life you would built up a useful bureau. I do not hesitate to say that what you have done is more than I expected. My visit to your library at the time of the dedication of the Manship Statue convinced me that you were getting together one of the most useful collections of source material which we have. Lincoln lore is a real achievement; you have put both energy and imagination into your researches. It is a fine work the Foundation has been doing.

Sincerely yours

Mr. Louis A. Warren
