

December 12, 1935

Dear Mr. Robertson:

I inquired as I promised you I would of the Authors League about the standing of the Christopher Publishing House in Boston. The secretary writes me:-

"Christopher Publishing House about which you inquire in your letter of December 9th, is a well known vanity publisher, that is to say they publish books at the author's expense and so far as we know only at the author's expense."

You see from this, and it is the best authority I know, that you would be expected to pay for the publication.

I hope this information will be of some service to you. Good luck and a happy holiday.

Very sincerely yours

Mrs. Clyde Robertson
Hotel Woodstock
43rd Street
New York City