Mr. S. S. McClure,
91 Seventh Ave.,
New York City.

Dear Mr. McClure:

I am glad to know that you and Mr. Meyer have settled satisfactorily your business arrangements and that you are ready to go ahead now with the getting out of the magazine.

Of course I hope that the Gary biography will be a substantial something for you, but one swallow doesn't make a summer, and a serious serial, however valuable, is not all that a magazine needs. But of course all that you know.

I suppose that you will be beginning typesetting and make-up soon. When do you begin - in March or April? I have two articles practically ready and can submit them to you at any time now. I am collecting pictures for them and shall shortly have the material for the first two in hand. Be good enough to let me know when you are going to begin, and when I shall send the copy to you.

Thank you for lettering me known about the Longman's book. I will look at it at the Library and see if I want to acquire it. I hope you will continue to call my attention to anything that you may think useful on the subject.

Faithfully yours,
