Miss Ida Tarbell
Hotel Statler
Cleveland, Ohio.

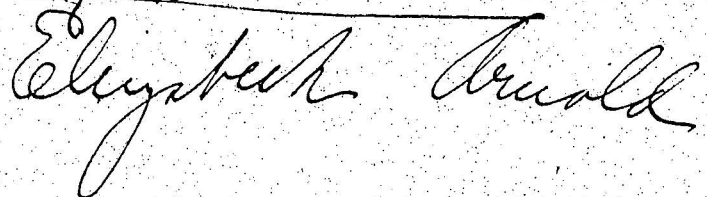

My dear Miss Tarbell:

Would it be possible during your stay in Cleveland, for you to see Miss Williamson, who is the Director of the Women's Division of Public Employment in Cleveland, and myself for five or ten minutes? We are interested to learn what you felt the attitude of the Washington Conference was toward the Public Employment Service, its relation to the present unemployment situation, and its future.

We are attending the Business Women's Dinner in the evening, but thought it hardly probable that you would touch this subject in a public talk.

Knowing the many demands upon your time it is rather unnecessary for me to add that we should be more than grateful if you find it possible to give us any information on this subject.

Sincerely,

EA/B
