INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES HELD LAST NIGHT

Affirmative Team Wins Unanimous Decision From Wooster---Negative Loses to Pitt

"Resolved, that the federal government should impose an income tax not apportioned among the states according to population, constitutionality conceded," was the practical subject of the debates held at Ford chapel and at Thaw Hall, Pittsburg, last night. The affirmative team, which met the Wooster debaters on the local platform, won a unanimous decision while the negative team was defeated by a like vote. A telegram was received last night "Pitt wins unanimously. Used pure theory and had no practical program to attack. The Allegheny team showed up splendidly. Good crowd. All speakers did about the same." The result was not received from the Wooster-Pitt debate at Wooster in time to determine what standing the various schools hold in the league.

A rally was held yesterday morning after the chapel exercises. H. M. Weeter, president of the Oratorical Association, presided and speeches were delivered by Professor Swartley, A. J. Nelson, J. W. Barkley and Dr. Elliott. Each speaker appealed to the students to show their loyalty to college affairs by giving the debaters their support and consequently the chapel was well filled last night.

From start to finish the debate between Allegheny and Wooster was hotly contested and few ventured a guess as to the decision of the judges. The members of both teams put all their powers of oratory and argumentation into the speeches and such a flow of oratory has seldom been heard on the hill. The question proved to be less technical than was expected and the audience had no trouble to follow the arguments advanced by either side.

Barkley, '11, captain, Hunt, '12, and Sheffer, '12, are certainly one of the best teams that has ever represented Allegheny on the local platform. Their delivery was clear and direct and each man could be perfectly understood. The speeches were well outlined and built up in the most consistent form. Emphasis was well placed and the train of Professor Swartley and Miss Spalding was evidenced in both the delivery and method of argument.

Barkley lead off the affirmative, presenting the present need of the income tax. He argued that (1) an income tax will add the needed revenue and (2) that it will add the needed element of elasticity. He also presented the plan of the affirmative. Sheffer spent his entire time showing that it will add a needed element of equalization to the burden of taxation; that it can not be shifted. Hunt proved that the tax can be collected; that the plan will work.

The Wooster team, which was composed of Barton, Workman and Richards, captain, argued that such a tax is impracticable and that it could not be collected. The Ohio university spends no little time and money on debate and the force of their arguments were such as to show that they had been well trained in the subject.

The judges who decided the victors here last night were: J. S. McLean, Linesville; Rev. J. E. Reilly,

An Injustice

If a paper is worth taking it is worth taking for the ads as well as for the news and editorial columns. Ads are not only indispensable to the financial support of a periodical; they are indispensable to its interest for the reader. If you do not read the ads in THE CAMPUS, you not only do an injustice to the business men who make your college paper possible at the price you pay for it; you do yourself an injustice by not keeping acquainted with the merchants who cater to the student trade, who have what you want and who want to sell it to you. Before you buy a new lead pencil, a new dress or a new alarm clock, look among the advertisers of THE CAMPUS and find out where you can get what you want.

Big Game Tonight

Allegheny Tossers Will Oppose Ohio Wesleyan Tonight. Kenyon Here Friday.

Two more games remain on the 'varsity basketball schedule for this year, one tonight with Ohio Wesleyan University and one next Friday evening with Kenyon. Both these contests will be on the home floor and with two teams of the best type. No easy victory is expected from either quarter.

The contest tonight with Ohio Wesleyan will perhaps be the hardest fight of the year outside of the Oberlin game here over a month ago. This Ohio teams ranks with Ohio State and Oberlin as the best squad of tossers in the Buckeye State. Although Oberlin celebrated the state collegiate championship last Saturday night, the Cleveland papers for Monday stated that "Ohio Wesleyan would contest their right to it, claiming as good a record for themselves." A bulletin was received that the Methodists had defeated O. S. U. at Delaware last week, but it could not be confirmed. It is highly probable, however, that if they contested the state championship that they had already defeated O. S. U.

Patton, the visitor's center, is one of the tallest players that will be seen in action here this season, overtopping the wonderful "Louie" by three inches. The rest of the team is correspondingly large and are said to be fast.

The recent victory over Kenyon on their own floor does not indicate a walk-a-way when they appear in Meadville. Coach Stewart says they are the gamest bunch of players that he has ever seen, playing hard till the very last minute. A number of means of entertainment are being planned for them when they visit this city on account of the treatment which the Allegheny team received at Gambier. A good game is assured.

The Moslem World

Second Lecture By Bishop Thoburn Before Mission Study Class.

Bishop Thoburn addressed the Mission Study Class on last Thursday evening on the subject, "A Modern View of the Moslem World." This address was a continuation of the study of Mohammedanism, the topic which the class is working upon this term. Bishop Thoburn was well fitted to speak upon any phase of this religion of the Orient, as his life-work has been among its followers. The principle facts and arguments which were emphasized were, in substance, as follows:

Mohammedanism can well be divided into two sects, the Shiahs, who have their religious center in Persia; and the Sunnis, who are the Mohammedans of Turkey. The former class, while more liberal in their views, have not, however, the stability and political influence of the Sunnis. The Mohammedans of Turkey are to some degree, educated, and are far different from the wild tribes of Arabia.

It is possible to still further subdivide this religion. There are in the far East the islands of Borneo, Sumatra and Java with their millions of Mohammedans, then India with its hordes of native fanatics; Africa, which may well be divided into two sections; and finally Turkey, the real stronghold of Mohammedanism.

There is no doubt but that the Moslem faith will eventually disappear. Mohammedanism is not half as strong as it was fifty years ago and its lost powers can never be revived. It can not but be crushed by the overwhelming strength of modern progress, against which the Moselm faith vainly attempts to form a barrier.

University of Pennsylvania numbers six thousand students, two hundred and sixty-two of whom have been sent by forty-nine foreign countries.

Play Progressing

New Duzer-Du Coach Took Charge of the Troop This Week. Changes In the Cast.

Rehearsals of the cast in "The School for Scandal," the play to be staged by Duzer-Du on March 30 and 31, were held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in the Duzer-Du room before Miss Eliza Warren, of Cleveland, O., who has taken full charge of the play and has assumed the responsibility of putting the show on at the date set. The coach will return the latter part of next week to remain until the date of the performance.

Miss Warren arrived in the city on last Monday afternoon and was immediately conducted to the Duzer-Du room, where a rehearsal was at once begun. The work continued Monday afternoon and evening, Tuesday afternoon and evening and Wednesday afternoon. As a result the men in the cast have received instruction on the manner of interpreting their lines and working out stage business.

Until Miss Warren's next visit, rehearsals will be held daily under the direction of the club for the purpose of aiding the men in the work of learning their lines, all of which must be committed by the time of the coach's next visit. In the next series of rehearsals under Miss Warren, practices will be held at least twice daily, at which the fine points of the work will be brought out.

During the past week a number of changes have been made in the cast, as originally chosen, and the list of characters who will appear at the Academy of Music is as follows:

Sir Peter Teazle—R. W. Thomas.
Sir Oliver Surface—F. H. Callahan.
Joseph Surface—A. C. Nodine.
Charles Surface—Thomas Hughes.
Crabtree—M. Lord.
Sir Benj. Backbite—C. S. Smith.

Careless—C. E. Hilborn.
Sir Harry Bumper—J. T. Taylor.
Lady Teazle—E. W. Weidle.
Maria—W. F. Maxwell.
Lady Teazle—E. S. Weidle.
Mrs. Candour—E. P. Cullum.

Faint Echoes

Notoriety of Senior Men Not All Past. Girls Awarded Victory.

Echoes of whiskers, both literary and facial, are still being heard from many quarters. Several dailies of prominence have recently printed a cut of the group of Senior men of hair which appeared in the last issue of the comic publication.

The Pittsburg Leader for March 14 has the picture on the front page accompanied by the following explanation: "The girl students of Allegheny College have won their boycott. The Senior students have given the barbers a job and many a promising young beard has disappeared. The Seniors made a New Year's resolution to grow whiskers and started a comic publication, 'Whiskers,' as an organ of their cause. The girls refused to receive any bearded callers and nothing could tempt them to be seen with a bewhiskered Senior. The girls won and 'Whiskers' has suspended publication."

ALLEGHENY WINS SECOND GAME FROM OBERLIN

Best Game of Season Played by Gold and Blue on Ohio Floor--Winning Point Scored After Time is Called

In one of the closest and hardest fought games ever played by an Allegheny basketball team, the Oberlin College five was defeated last Saturday night at Oberlin in a 20-19 bout. Coach Stewart, by adding this one-point victory to Allegheny's long list has paid back for any defeats of previous seasons.

A squad of nine players accompanied by Coach Stewart, left Meadville Saturday morning with little or no hope of victory. The close score in the game here with Oberlin earlier in the season made them doubly confident when they should meet the gold and blue five on their own floor and all arrangements had been made for a big celebration after the game. A large bonfire had been planned for the evening, intending to celebrate an Allegheny defeat as well as the intercollegiate championship of Ohio. Needless to say, the town of Oberlin was not as bright as the inhabitants had expected it would be after the visit of Coach Stewart's pupils.

From the beginning it was evident that the game would be fast and guarded. No score was made for nearly five minutes of play, and few chances were permitted either team at the basket. The first score was made by Henderson, of Oberlin, on a foul called on Allegheny. Hawk repeated this feat for Allegheny making the score 1-1. Mates then caged the only goal marked for Captain Firestone's crew this half. Henderson and Nichols, for Oberlin, now made a number of close goals which gave them a slight lead. Three more fouls were shot by each side, ending the half 10-6 for the Congregationalists.

Oberlin started the second half with some show of confidence, but Captain Firestone's men came out with a determination "to show the champions up." Every Allegheny player got in the game and slowly the lead was reduced. About the middle of the second period the Allegheny boys caught up when the score stood 16-15 for the Ohioans and by a lucky shot of Fire stone's changed the score to 17-6 for the locals. Two fouls, nowever, were shot by Henderson about this time, giving Oberlin the lead once more. Hawk here scored a phenomenal basket under close guard and Henderson made another foul. The score board showed nineteen points for each side with six minutes to play. Both teams played their best game and five seconds before the end, a foul was called on Nichols, of Oberlin. While this was being shot, the timer's whistle blew for the close of the game. The twelve hundred Oberlin rooters held their breath in vain, for after bouncing against the backboard the ball rolled through the ring, scoring the winning point.

Hawk played his usual star game for Allegheny. His defense and the

Kaldron Bubbles

Editor Has Illness Which Can Be Cured By the Sight of Copy.

The health of Mr. A. J. Nelson, editor and promulgator of the Kaldron, the annual book of wit, is considerably poorer than it was when he accepted this position last fall. The reason for this unnatural decline in health and spirits is that he has been working over strenuously on the year book. This matter is deplorable and for the good of the college and incidentally for Mr. Nelson, it is urged that the student body, individually and collectively, write something now and then for the book.

Mr. Nelson said recently to a representative of The Campus: "What we are looking for at present is a number of very witty write-ups on such topics as the College Council, the Quill Club, Senior whiskers, the faculty, the Thoburn Club, our new professors, the Glee Club as an asset to the college, and so on. These do not necessarily need to be long. As a matter of fact, I think they ought to be rather short—I should say from one to two pages in length when printed. It is said that in each item there is a laugh. So, the more items we get in, the more laughs we will have, and if we want space for lots of items, they must be brief."

After thinking a minute, he continued: "Then again, any other time honored institutions such as the heating plant, the new athletic field, or the general subject of co-education may be well treated by a witty writer. We are also anxious to secure statistics on the minimum and maximum expenses of the average student for the benefit of the editor of the next college catalog. We would like, also, to have the Senior men state exactly what they have saved by the whiskers movement, and what they think of the economy of the Senior Teas during the past year, and whether or not they think the present administration has lessened the cost of living in any appreciable degree."

"We also need a considerable amount more verse, whether blank or not. For our family department we would like contributions on such subjects as "Hints for the Treatment of the Mumps," "Complete Hulings Hall and Cochran Hall Cook-book and Specimen Menus." We are also looking about for a good book of etiquette for Senior Teas and Y. M. C. A. receptions. Let the copy come in."

Bartenders at Work

Publishers of Song Book Have Made Elaborate Plans.

Announcement has been made to the effect that those at the head of the movement for producing and making permanent Allegheny songs are L. C. Harris, chairman; R. B. Litten, secretary; and Miss Bess Emery, Miss Lucy Loane, W. H. Fegeley and J. A. M. Stewart. Thus the movement is backed by persons prominent in college musical circles and ought to be successful.

Since the original announcement, the committee has been corresponding with a number of publishing houses to make suitable arrangements for the publication of the song book, which will be placed on sale during Commencement week.

Much interest has been manifested in the affair, and it is understood that a number have expressed an intention to compete for the prizes, which have been offered, one of ten dollars for the best original song with music, and one of five dollars for the best original song adaptable to any standard acceptable tune. Songs to be submitted in competition may be handed to any of the members of the committee. The judges have not yet been appointed.

A club for the promotion of wireless telegraphy has been formed at Harvard and, so far, many students are actively interested in it.

NOTE.

On account of the absence of the editor on a debating trip this issue of The Campus has been entirely edited by Charles S. Miller, '13.

A PRIVILEGE.

No basketball victory since that of 1906, when Yale was defeated, has caused so much excitement as the one from Oberlin last Saturday evening on their own floor. The fact that such a victory was entirely unexpected and beyond the hopes of the bravest enthusiast merely adds to the enjoyment. No other one thing brings a college of Allegheny's size before the public eye so much as humiliating a larger school in an athletic event.

The Campus considers it a privilege to congratulate Coach Stewart, Captain Firestone and every member of the team on the victory. Credit is due the coach on account of his able training of a practically inexperienced team. As evidenced by the newspapers, in printing the account of the game, congratulations are in order for every member of the victorious five for being a sportsmanlike team and one that does not lose courage even when the other side has the advantage.

WANTED—A REVIVAL.

One of the best movements of the college year was the reorganization of the defunct college band. That body has livened all the athletic contests up to this time and has been a pleasing feature of entertainment. Some of the players, however, have become "weary in well doing" and one by one have dropped off until but twelve of the original twenty members are left. To guarantee a band for next year, it is necessary that a well trained company of players be on hand from this year. If some members of this musical body have been lax in their obligations to it, let us hope for a revival of the enthusiasm of the first of the year.

JUST A COMMENT.

Some little comment was heard yesterday because of the fact that the Glee Club was absent for a concert on the night of the intercollegiate debate. While it is probable that a number of the singers did not care whether an income tax was a necessity or not, yet the debate was scheduled for March 17 and therefore should have had the date clear. A contrast is drawn from a case at Wooster, where the basketball team wished to play on the night of the Wooster-Allegheny debate, but the faculty decided that since debate held that date, all other activities must be subordinated to it.

No college activity can exist without student support, especially in a place where inspiration means as much as on the debating platform.

KALDRON AND CO-OPERATION.

It seems that some people have to be constantly reminded that Allegheny has a year book known as the Kaldron, which is published by the student body. Every year the book has been delayed several weeks by persons neglecting to have their pictures taken in time. Editor Nelson has decided to eliminate the possibility of the Kaldron appearing the last week of school by making a rule that all pictures not turned in by the Easter vacation will not appear in it. This does not apply to the athletic teams, which cannot be taken until after that time.

The persons who make the first complaint in the spring if the Kaldron does not appear on time are, as a rule, those who have the least cause to do so. To have a representative annual student co-operation is necessary and the editor asks co-operation particularly in this line.

DEBATE.

The annual debates with Wooster and Pittsburg have again passed into history, but the results and efforts of the Allegheny representatives will long be remembered. The question under discussion was hard and difficult to understand, but because of the faithful work of each debater and the assistance of Professor Swartley, the two teams were able to master every phase of the issue.

And right here it might not be out of place to add a word for next year. Two of the regular 'varsity debaters will graduate next June. In order to have two winning teams next year, it is necessary for every man who has any tendency toward argumentative interests to begin his training for next year. No better training school can be found anywhere than that offered every week in the Forum. The poor attendance at the weekly meetings of this organization would seem to indicate that debating is a minor consideration at Allegheny. Our debating victories over other schools in past years, however, contradict this. The real difficulty is that prospective 'varsity debaters do not realize the need of preliminary training and consequently do not devote the necessary time to the forensic interest of the college.

ALLEGHENY SONGS.

The plan of a number of talented persons of the college to publish an Allegheny song book has met with the hearty approval of the entire student body. Many persons on reading of the organization in last week's Campus, signified their intention of lending whatever support they could. Allegheny has been behind other schools in this one respect and if such a book is published at the time planned by the leaders, it is sure to make the hit of the season.

A SLIGHT CORRECTION.

It is desired to make a slight correction in the statement made in the editorial entitled "An Aggravated Offense." The Kaldron which was taken from the Tribune Publishing Company to the Star Publishing Company was the 1908 Kaldron instead of the 1909 book. The statement "the least representative book in years" was not meant to cast any slurs on any feature of the book except the press work. As far as printing and binding is concerned the 1909 book was no credit to the Tribune company, although the student end of the publication was well handled by Editor Deemer and Manager Boyd.—P. M H.

ELECTION RESULTS.

At the regular second semester election of the Athletic Association last Saturday the following men were elected:

President Athletic Association: H. T. Lavely, '12.

Assistant Manager of Football: W. F. Galbraith, '13.

Assistant Manager of Track: C. N. More, '12.

Delegate-at-Large: H. J. Gordon, '12.

FOUNDER'S DAY SPEAKER.

Word was received this week from Rev. C. B. Mitchell, '79, that he had accepted the invitation as speaker for the annual Founder's Day services. It will be impossible, however, for Rev. Mitchell to reach here before evening and consequently the regular exercises will be held at eight o'clock.

Rev. Mitchell is one of the distinguished orators of the middle West. At the present time he is pastor of St. James' church of Chicago.

BIG MUSICAL EVENT.

The cantata, "From Olivet to Calvary," by J. W. Maunder, will be sung in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening under the direction of J. A. M. Stewart, '12. This cantata was written for two solo voices, tenor and baritone. The tenor will be sung by Mr. Harry Robinson, of Meadville, and the baritone by Mr. Stewart. Mrs. Lawrence will render the soprano solos and Miss Grace Pappenhagen the contralto. These solo parts are interspersed by chorus selections, the chorus numbering about thirty voices.

It is particularly fitting that this oratorio be given during the Lenten season, as it traces the life of Christ from his triumphal entry into Jerusalem to his crucifiction on Calvary. No admission fee will be charged.

GERMAN ODORS.

"Hurrah for limburger and no classes." Such was the cry of all who were fortunate enough to have early morning classes on last Wednesday, for some philanthropic person observing the faded color of the radiators in Old Bentley had, out of the greatness of his (or might it have been her) heart, donated a coat of that very sweetly smelling product known commonly as limburger cheese. Evidently the directions must have said "apply while radiator is cold, close all doors and windows and the heat will do the rest." At least these were the directions which were followed and the heat did the rest.

As one entered the portals of the old building on that glorious morning the smell of something which was peculiar to the season of the year reached his nostrils and he stopped to wonder. Not for long in one place, however, as 'twas more than any but a real German could stand. Door after door was opened in search of a room where the classes might recite without having their minds drawn to other things by the decided atmosphere which pervaded all. But the painters had been thorough and no distinction had been made of classes.

It is very true that a recent issue of the Campus asked for several new Allegheny airs and even offered a prize for the best. This is the first to be submitted to the student body and should it have the same good results which it had on Wednesday morning it would undoubtedly have the hearty approval of all the students though faculty action might seek to suppress it.

Y. M. C. A.

Melvin E. Morse, '11, led the Y. M. C. A. meeting on last Wednesday night, taking as his subject, "Sin." In a short talk he very vividly compared sin with leprosy, showing how evil thoughts may grow and spread until they contaminate the entire body. The fact that sin has many points in common with leprosy, such as its first appearance, growth, incurability by human powers and its loathsomeness, was strongly impressed.

President Hillborn, in a few words, urged the men to keep foremost in their thoughts the convention, which will be held here during April, and also the coming election of a new Y. M. C. A. cabinet.

TOO BAD.

An interesting fact in connection with Saturday's victory is that Oberlin has lost but two games this season, and both of those to Allegheny. Their victims, as seen from the following list, numbers among them the strongest teams of the country:

Oberlin 43, Wooster 20.
Oberlin 23, Hiram 20.
Oberlin 19, O. S. U. 17.
Oberlin 72, Mt. Union 17.
Oberlin 23, Allegheny 25.
Oberlin 26, Syracuse 20.
Oberlin 26, Rochester 13.
Oberlin 34, Syracuse 10.
Oberlin 19, Wooster 18.
Oberlin 81, Kenyon 15.
Oberlin 37, O. S. U. 34.
Oberlin 19, Allegheny 20.

BASKETBALL AT HULINGS.

The athletic spirit again manifested itself at Hulings Hall Friday, March 10, when the Seniors and Juniors played their first basketball game of the season. The Juniors knew how the game ought to be played, but the Seniors knew how to play it, and the result was a score of 27-2 in favor of the Seniors.

The next game of the series will be between the winners of the former games, the Seniors and Freshmen.

The Hulings 'varsity squad is practicing daily, and expects to play the Geneva girls some time soon with better success than in other years.

At a meeting of the teachers of the Meadville public schools on last Tuesday afternoon. Professor Lockwood gave an interesting lecture on the "English Coffee House."

During the past week the Cornell football schedule for 1911, as announced by the Athletic Council, has appeared. It is of especial interest to Allegheny students, since our team is scheduled to play at Ithaca on September 27. It can readily be seen from the standing of the colleges which Cornell will play this year, that this opening game will be a great advertiser for Allegheny.

Rev. Lucius H. Bugbee, at one time pastor of the Methodist church of Meadville, has received a call from the Central Methodist church, of Malden, Mass., the largest church in New England. Rev. Bugbee has many friends in Allegheny, both because of his successful pastorate in Meadville and the fact that his father, Rev. L. H. Bugbee, Sr., was at one time president of the college.

Kappa Alpha Theta, on Thursday evening, entertained a number of friends from Delta Tau Delta fraternity at an informal party at the home of Miss Emma Edson, on Locust street. Saint Patrick was the prevailing spirit of the evening. The rooms were gaily decorated with green. Irish games were played and all conversation was carried on in Irish brogue.

The question for debate at the meeting of the Forum on last Thursday afternoon was "Resolved, that the Panama Canal should be Fortified." Allgier and Hays presented the affirmative, while Wicks and Van Horn upheld the negative. As the attendance was very small, no decision was given by the Forum. There was some discussion as to whether it would be profitable to continue the Forum for the remainder of the year.

Phi Kappa Psi defeated the Farley Club, on the Cochran Hall alleys, on last Thursday evening. For the first two games the score was quite close, but the fraternity men managed to obtain a victory by 84 pins by the end of the third contest. A slight change has been made in the schedule, as Delta Tau Delta has withdrawn its team. The Farley Club will play all the games that are scheduled for Delta Tau Delta on the assigned dates.

At the meeting of the College Council held on Friday, March 10, F. H. Callahan, G. W. Mead and C. E. Hilborn were elected to co-operate as a committee with Professors Ross, Akers and Swartley, of the faculty, in revising the system of managerships of college organizations. It is the intention of this joint committee to place the several managerships on a basis similar to that of the Kaldron.

During the Oberlin trip, the Freshmen players on the 'varsity basketball squad challenged the upperclassmen to a game. The challenge was accepted and the game was played at last Wednesday's practice. It had been agreed that the contest should be decided by a fifteen-minute period of play, but at the end of this time the score was a tie 7-7. Five minutes more gave the Freshmen a victory by 6 points—15-9. The teams were as follows: Upperclassmen: Firestone, Hawk, Croasmun, Mates, Coach Stewart; Freshmen: Nichols, Ramsey, Dotterer, Lindberg and Thomas.

Professor Lockwood will take a prominent part in the City Teachers' Institute, which is to be held in Meadville on Saturday, April 2. Four speakers of prominence, who have all been actively engaged in educational work, will deliver lectures. The speakers are Professor Lockwood, Professor W. G. Chamberlain and Professor Harry A. Shaffer, of the Pittsburg University faculty, and Dr. Frank Bachman, assistant superintendent of the Cleveland schools. Dr. Lockwood will give his illustrated lecture on "Life at Oxford University," which is largely drawn from his recent trip abroad.

TWO MORE GAMES.

The Freshmen jumped from fourth to second place by defeating the Seniors 15-12 last Saturday afternoon. The series has been very close throughout and as the schedule is now near completion, it is a matter of much speculation as to which class will come out on top.

During the first half, the game was very slow, largely because of the atmosphere of the gym. At first, the Seniors were in the lead, but the score kept changing until at the end of the half, the underclassmen forged ahead of their more experienced opponents.

The second period started off with a rush. It was not long until the Seniors had recovered their lead and confident of victory, did not guard as closely as before. The "verdants" seized this opportunity and by desperate playing made the final score of 15-12.

The upperclassmen were somewhat weakened by the absence of Kennedy. Hilborn, who took "Ken's" place at center, played well considering his lack of practice. Zelwis and Cullum played well for the Freshmen. Following is the linup and summary:

Seniors 12.		Freshmen 15.
Stidger	F.	Evans
Harris	F.	Cullum
Hilborn	C.	Zelwis
Ballinger	G.	T. Thoburn
Kulp	G.	W. Thoburn

Goals—Stidger 2, Kulp 2; Zelwis 2, Cullum 2, Evans 2, W. Thoburn.

Fouls—Kulp 4; Cullum 1.

Time of Halves—15 minutes.

The class of 1913 regained first place in the interclass basketball series by defeating the Junior team in a 26-10 contest last Tuesday. There was no doubt as to the outcome of the game from the very first. The Sophomores took the lead at the very beginning and kept gradually increasing their score. Else starred for the victors, making four baskets, all of which were from near the middle of the floor.

The game was chiefly characterized by the absence of the usual football tactics. Lewis, the referee, was so vigilent in detecting fouls that any attempts at roughness met with disaster. The next game will be between the Juniors and the Freshmen, this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Following is the lineup and summary:

Sophomores 26.		Juniors 10.
Else, Brockway, Winn	F.	Goodwin
Dennison	F.	Hamman
Ball, Hendricks	C.	Herpel
McNulty	G.	Borland
Townsend, Hall	G.	Baum, Lavely

Field Goals—Else 4, McNulty 2, Townsend 2, Dennison, Ball, Hendricks; Lavely 2, Hamman 2.

Fouls—McNulty 4, Herpel 2.

Referee—Lewis.

Time of Halves—15 minutes.

The negative team at Pitt was compose of Hillman, Thomas and McGow-McGowan. Hillman was confined to his room last week on account of a case of mumps and it was not known until the last minute whether or not he would be able to go. Pittsburg kept their best men at home.The fact was emphasized last night that both schools were especially desirous to down Allegheny and, therefore, ran no chances. The Pitt team was made up of George, '12, who made such a record here last year, Wettach, '13, and Allison, '14.

The contest was held in Thaw Hall, one of the new University buildings. A reception was given earlier in the evening for the preparatory students of Pittsburg and a large crowd remained for the debate. For this reason Pitt was especially anxious to win the judges' decision. The judges at this debate were: Rev. R. M. Little, Bellevue; Rev. John H. Prugh, Pittsburg, and W. E. Barger, Sewickley.

way in which he covered the floor was too much for his wiry opponent. Twelve of the twenty points were also credited to "Louie." Captain Firestone played his most aggressive game. Mates found the basket at the critical times and kept his man on the lookout all the time. Thomas kept all prospective heroes away from the Oberlin goal in a most admirable manner. Croasmun gave his customary exhibition of fast floor work.

For Oberlin, Henderson was easily the star, gaining thirteen of the nineteen points. Miller at center had a little advantage over Hawk in jumping, although he was unable to keep him from scoring.

Following is the lineup and summary:

Allegheny 20.		Oberlin 19.
Mates, Ramsey	F.	Henderson
Croasmun	F.	Nichols
Hawk	C.	Miller
Thomas	G.	Young
Firestone	G.	Pyle
