Dear Miss Tarbell

We were very indeed to miss your reception on Sunday Evening
though very likely you never knew

whether I was here or not.

I had intended to be present at your twentieth anniversary as President of the Post-Branch not only because of the exert but ^{also} because of my admiration for your work and you.
Owing to the storm and the fact that Mr Chambers was not feeling well we thought it better not to go to the City.
May I say while writing that some of your shorter articles in newspapers have been of help to me at times your thoughts on the Depression strongly appealed to me.

If the world at large could only be brought to that point of view - many things at the present time would be seen in a very different light, I think.
Please excuse this note but I do want to say, as a member of the Pen & Pencil Club, that I appreciate the long service you have given us in thought,
work and high ideals.
Sincerely yours,
C. Helen Chambers.
