

The Junior Class Allegheny, Twenty-One Westminster, Eleven

After Several Lively Meetings Asks
To Be Relieved From Publishing Kaldron.

The Junior class has, during the past week had several lively sessions regarding the publication of the '10 Kaldron, and it is freely predicted that at least a score of the class will be in Congress before many years.

The discussion began in the meeting reported in last week's Campus, called by President Hilborn to consider the Kaldron question. Thirty-one members of the class were present, and after some little discussion, a resolution was passed by those present expressing the sentiment of the Junior class as in favor of taking the Kaldron, and authorizing the president to take any necessary steps in bringing this change to pass. The vote was twenty-one to ten. President Hilborn took this resolution before the College Council at its meeting last Friday afternoon, November 5th.

Those who expected an exciting session of the Council were not disappointed, for the discussion which preceded the vote was long and heated. The vote, when finally taken, stood 12 to 7 in favor of putting the Kaldron into the hands of the Junior class. A Junior meeting was called for the following afternoon at 1:30, and the action of the Council reported to the class.

Saturday Afternoon.

As soon as the meeting had been called to order, a motion was made that a committee be appointed to look into the matter of the Kaldron, and bring in a report. This committee would eventually present the plan of management of the Kaldron by the class, and in its appointment was involved the whole question as to whether the class should take the Kaldron or not. Opposition immediately developed, and after an hour of arguing a vote was taken. Of those present, twenty-five voted in the affirmative, and twenty in the negative, but the difference in the number of proxies voted gave the affirmative a majority of nine votes. The ballot was, however, illegal, there being three votes too many, and in view of the fact that it was time for the Westminster game, a motion to reconsider at another meeting prevailed, and the class adjourned.

The Monday Meeting.

On Monday afternoon the class met at one-thirty, and again took up the original motion. It was moved that this be laid on the table indefinitely. President Hilborn declared this motion out of order, but an appeal was sustained by a vote of twenty-three to twenty-five, with vice-president Firestone in the chair. The vote on laying the motion on the table indefinitely was by ballot, and resulted 35 to 30 in favor of the negative. In view of the lateness of the hour, a motion to adjourn again carried.

The next, and what proved to be the final meeting of the class on this question, was called for 5:00 p. m., Tuesday, and every member of the class was present either in person or by proxy. This meeting proved the quietest of the four, for a ballot on the original motion to appoint a committee was taken without any further discussion. The vote resulted thirty-nine to twenty-nine in favor of the negative.

Kaldron Rejected.

Another motion was immediately made, asking the College Council to relieve the class of 1911 from the publishing of the '10 Kaldron, and this motion was also voted by ballot, and without discussion. The result was forty-one to twenty-six in favor of the affirmative. A motion "that the Junior class pledge its undivided support to the management of the '10 Kaldron," was passed unanimously, and the meeting adjourned.

DR. COBERN IN ERIE.

On Tuesday evening, Dr. Cobern delivered an address in the Central Presbyterian church, at Erie, on the subject, "Light from the Talmud on the Times of Jesus and Paul." During the past few months Dr. Cobern has been delivering a series of Bible lectures at Erie, all of which have been well received.

Varsity Defeats New Wilmington Eleven for the First Time in Four Years—The Game.

For the first time in four years, the Allegheny foot ball team defeated their keenest rivals, Westminster, at Athletic Park, on last Saturday, November 6. After practicing secretly for a week, Captain Kennedy's team was in excellent condition, and played their best game so far this season. The Westminster aggregation, however, was not an easy mark, and the final score of 21 to 11 shows that the scoring was not all done by the same side. The Westminster men deserve especial credit for the way in which they fought the game out until the final whistle had blown, never giving it up as lost. Even after their opponents had scored two touchdowns, they held on with an admirable determination.

The day was as perfect as could be desired for such a conflict. With the air not too cold nor too warm, and practically no wind stirring, the game was begun before the biggest foot ball audience here this season.

The play which worked most successfully for Allegheny was the fake end run with one of the half backs taking the ball through the line. This had been developed to perfection during the past week, and frequently netted long gains in the game. Westminster's play was chiefly straight tactics although several tricks were used with varying success.

Weidler at left half was undoubtedly the star of the game, although there were several others who brought themselves into prominence by spectacular playing. The way in which Weidler dodged his way through the Westminster players was a sight seldom seen with two teams so evenly matched as were those at Athletic Park on last Saturday. Most of the long runs of the game were accomplished by Weidler, although Everhart for Westminster and Leffel for Allegheny figured in some of them.

Coach Stewart, in speaking of the game, said that he thought the victory was due more to the fighting spirit and the determination to win which was displayed by the team than to the skill with which the plays were executed, although this latter feature of the play was by no means a minor part of the result.

STYLES IN HEADGEAR.

The Freshmen caps have at last arrived, and the members of 1913 chose the Westminster game last Saturday as an appropriate time and place to spring them on the college world. The Freshmen were out in large numbers, and seemed in evidence everywhere during the game.

The styles in caps have changed very little during the past year, as the new consignment shows. The shape is almost the same—a short stocking cap with a short tassel. The body is green, several shades darker than last year, while the border and tassel are white. The cap is not as closely knit as those last year. A scarlet "13" is embroidered on the border, bringing in a touch of the class colors.

According to the first of the Freshmen rules, these caps must be worn during the school year from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. on week days.

PARADE AND BONFIRE.

The jubilation of the students over the outcome of the game expressed itself in a night shirt parade at ten o'clock on Saturday evening. It proceeded from the hill down Park avenue to the residence of Prof. Dutton on Locust street; then on down town, to spread broadcast the news of the 21 to 11 victory over Allegheny's old rival, Westminster.

At nearly twelve o'clock the gang marched back up the hill, and built a big bonfire in front of Hulings Hall. The girls were magnificently entertained, even by an original poetical production, written in honor of the great occasion.

The Kick-off.

Hawk opened the game by kicking off to Turnbull, who received the ball on the five yard line and advanced ten more yards before being downed. Westminster fumbled on the first down, but recovered the ball. Wiggins dodged around from left tackle and went through the opposite side of the line for two yards, after which Ashton punted to Baker. On Allegheny's first down Weidler ran left end for three yards, and Leffel followed with four around the other end. Weidler was again given the ball, this time making fifteen at left end, the longest run of the game thus far. On the fake buck play mentioned above, Leffel made eight through right tackle. On the next play a criss-cross was tried by the Allegheny backs, but it resulted in a fumble, Westminster getting the ball. Turnbull ran left end for ten yards and Walker tried the same feat at right end, but was tackled by Hawk and prevented from making a gain. Quarterback Everhart lost ten yards by a fumble, and was forced to punt. Baker caught the kick and gained ten yards before being downed. A fumble resulted from Allegheny's first play, but Hawk grabbed up the pigskin and had covered fifteen yards before he was stopped. Lavelly, taking the ball for the first time in the game gained four through right tackle. Allegheny was then penalized fifteen yards for having a man in motion before the ball was in play. However, Weidler made up for this misfortune by making twenty yards on the fake buck in the next play. Westminster got the ball on a fumble, but was forced to punt immediately as they could make no material advance. By a beautiful stiff arm maneuver, Baker gained fifteen yards after he had received the punt. During the next five minutes of play, the Westminster team, by constant small gains and a penalty managed to get the ball on Allegheny's twenty-five yard line, but here lost it on a fumble. From this point the pigskin was carried straight down the field by a spectacular series of plays, among which were two twenty-five yard runs by Weidler, over the goal line. Leffel then did a heroic piece of work by kicking the first goal.

DR. CRAWFORD IN FLORENCE.

The Pittsburg Dispatch describes at length a visit of President Crawford to the Spanish consulate, in Florence, Italy, in a recent issue. It was the day after the killing of Francesco Ferrer, and the Doctor, wanting Spain's side, hoped to reach the consul's ear by means of letters of introduction which he had with him. When a letter given by President Pritchett, had been half finished by the official, he exclaimed, "Ah! Car-Ned-ge-ee," and the steel king's name secured for Dr. Crawford the desired information.

SCRUBS AT SHARON.

Since the disbanding of the Alden Academy football team, the remaining games of their schedule have been taken over by the College scrubs, and will be played by them at the scheduled dates. Today they play Sharon High School at Sharon, and two weeks from today, November 27th, Erie High School at Erie.

The scrub team has been very anxious to get several good games, and as soon as this opportunity arose, Coach Stewart advised the adoption of this schedule, with the result that assistant foot ball manager Craig at once arranged the games.

BATES RECEPTION.

About two hundred people were guests at a reception given by Mr. A. J. Bates to his brother, Congressman and Mrs. A. L. Bates, on Thursday night. "The Gables" was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and smilax. Dinner was served at ten o'clock.

Ye Blunderbuss

Alden Academy Literary Artists in Print.

The youngest of the five established publications of Allegheny college made its initial appearance for the year at noon Thursday, but under a new name. With the passing of "Allegheny Preparatory School," the name "Preptonian," evidently seemed out of date, and volume three, number one of the Academy magazine bears the name "Ye Blunderbuss of Alden Academy." Concerning the change, the editor says:

"And now we enter upon a new volume, of an old magazine with a new name. Quite an accomplishment. The Preptonian, which served so well for the better part of three years, is now giving its place to the new-born name, The Blunderbuss.

"We have Mr. LaBounty to thank for presenting this new name to the school and the students. As one will notice on our cover, the blunderbuss is a gun of the Pilgrim days, one which John Alden carried, when he first stepped ashore at Plymouth Rock. We feel that as the name of our school is changed, our new head-piece is most appropriate."

The various departments of the paper are well filled and well edited. The literary department contains two stories, "Warren's Panther," by D. O. L., and "Johnny's Joy Ride," a poem, "My Gracious," by C. S. Burwell; and an essay, "The Absence of the Girls," by T. T. The other department headings are: "Athletics," "Locals," and "Buckshot From the Blunderbuss." The magazine is attractively bound, and has an appropriate cover design.

The "Board of Directors" is as follows:

Editor-in-Chief—R. L. Cullum.
Literary Editor—D. O. Long.
Ass't Literary Editor—R. E. Moore.
Athletic Editor—C. S. Burwell.
Local Editor—D. Schoenfeld.
Exchange Editor—J. A. Ridge.
Business Manager—W. H. Jones.
Ass't Business Manager—R. D. Evans.

WHEN ALLEGHENY BEGAN.

Allegheny began to win the Westminster game last Saturday morning at an enthusiastic rally after chapel. The meeting was in charge of President Piper of the Athletic Association, who called for speeches from Swick, Kennedy, Dr. Lee, Coach Stewart, and finally in response to a student demand, from Acting-President Dutton. The keynote speech was Dr. Lee's who called for the same steady, consistent work exhibited in the past. "If a thing is worth doing," he quoted, "it is worth doing well." Then he made the application, "If a game is worth going after it is worth going after hard." The result of the game showed that both team and rooters had come up to the standard asked by Dr. Lee.

Professor Dutton told of the telegrams he had been sending President Crawford, and expressed the hope that he might have the privilege of sending one a little later with this wording, "We have met Westminster, and she is ours." His remarks were enthusiastically received.

The college songs and yells added to the inspiration of the rally.

ORATORICAL ASSOCIATION NEWS.

Allegheny's prospects in the field of debate this year are exceptionally bright. Already an oratorical league has been formed with Wooster University and the University of Pittsburg. This is considered to be as good a league as could possibly be made, linking Allegheny with two large and important schools, one in Ohio and one in western Pennsylvania. Allegheny has already met the University of Pittsburg, formerly the Western University of Pennsylvania, on the platform and defeated her in 1906.

Each of the three schools in the league will prepare two teams, one debating the affirmative and one the negative.

The date for the Class of '10 oratorical contest is December 3. All contestants must hand in three type written copies of their oration to the president or secretary of the oratorical association by November 23.

At Grove City

Trainload of Rooters Will Accompany Team Today.

Accompanied by a train-load of rooters, all of whom are going to fight for Allegheny along the side lines. The foot ball team goes to Grove City today to decide the foot ball supremacy of the two schools.

Since the victory of last Saturday, the team has been working hard. Coach Stewart has introduced several new plays and has kept the men working hard. Without doubt many of the plays which surprised Westminster and made last Saturday's game a victory, will keep Grove City guessing today. The coach says nothing of the outcome, but the records and fighting blood of the teams assure a good, scrappy game.

Allegheny's team is considerably weakened by Lavelly's inability to play on account of his shoulder, but the consistent work of the scrubs under the coach's training has developed men ready to take his place.

Several changes have been made in the line-up, but the team will be selected from the following:

L. E.—Hawk; L. T.—Kennedy; L. G.—Bodenhorn-Ball; C.—Cole-Bodenhorn; R. G.—Dotterer; R. T.—Piper-Hickernell; R. E.—Stidger-Ballinger; Q. B.—Baker; R. H.—Weidler; L. H.—Leffel; F. B.—Abbott; Sub.—Hendricks.

The special train will leave the Bessemer station at 12:30 sharp, and returning, will leave Grove City at 7:00 p. m. No stops will be made. Expense, $1.50.

COACH STEWART ENTERTAINS.

Coach Stewart entertained the foot-ball men at dinner on Wednesday evening. Dr. Sheetz, who was coach last year, was the guest of honor. The menu was toothsome and prettily served. Those present received beautiful place cards as souvenirs of the occasion.

THE MOST ACCEPTABLE VICTORY

After four years of defeat, Allegheny's triumph over Westminster last Saturday came as the most acceptable victory the foot ball eleven could possibly have won for the Gold and Blue.

For four different seasons, the teams have practiced faithfully, with a victory from Westminster as their greatest aim. Every year the score has been closer than it was before, but it remained for the '09 eleven to win. The score was decisive, the play consistent, and there is no doubt that the best team won. And that was what all Allegheny wanted.

There is glory enough to go around. The coach, the captain, the team, the faculty and the students should all have a share.

Here's to Coach Stewart, who has by example and by perseverance, placed the Gold and Blue ahead of her keenest rival on the foot ball field.

Here's to Captain Kennedy, whose leadership has been faultless, and whose individual work has always been above criticism.

Here's to the men of the team, who played every minute, and who put their best into what they were doing. They have taught us a lesson.

Here's to the faculty, who, by their suggestions and support make athletics possible at Allegheny.

And finally, here's to the students who fought as well on the sidelines as the team did on the field.

GET TOGETHER!

Although announcement has twice been made of the Freshman-Sophomore football game, the contest has not yet occurred. It is rumored that one class is waiting for the close of the football season so it can use its 'Varsity' men in the line-up. If this is true, the game should be called off immediately, for college tradition requires a strictly amateur contest, that is one in which 'Varsity' players are ineligible.

But the wiser plan would be to play immediately, with the customary rules. It is to be hoped that the managers of the two teams will get together at once and make a definite arrangement to this effect.

CONGRATULATIONS.

The College Council is to be congratulated on the steps it has taken to bring itself to its rightful place in college affairs. The program announced elsewhere in this issue shows that the Council means business. It is hoped that the interest aroused will continue throughout the year.

CAMPUS BOARD MEETING.

In accordance with a requirement of the constitution governing the "Campus," a meeting of the Campus Board is called for next Tuesday afternoon at 1:30, in the Quill Club room in the library. A full attendance is desired.

ANOTHER CHAPTER.

The request of the Junior class to be relieved from editing and managing the '10 Kaldron, adds another chapter to the discussion which has been heard from time to time concerning the college year book. The action of the class seemed strange, in view of their original request to the Council. But it has developed that there was not a quorum at the first meeting, only thirty-one votes being cast out of a class enrollment on that day of sixty-nine. Then new arguments which were brought out in the three more recent meetings convinced many that it would be unwise for the class to take the book this year.

It is undoubtedly the wish of the whole college that the Kaldron be in the hands of the Junior class when the change will result in a better book. At any rate, that was the sentiment of most of the class of 1911, but they felt unprepared to make the Kaldron better this year. If they had known from their Freshman year that this would be their duty, the change could have come now.

In most schools where the year book is in the hands of a class, preparation is begun from the time the class enters college. If the class of 1912 intends to take the book next year, it should begin work at once, and it is not too early for 1913 to look ahead two years.

A LETTER FROM DR. CRAWFORD.

As we go to press, a letter comes from President Crawford, who is now in Florence, Italy. It will be published in full next week. It is a message of best wishes from Dr. and Mrs. Crawford to both students and faculty.

DUZER-DU AT THE INN.

(Reported by a Member of the Club.)

The "Duzer-Du" of Allegheny college entertained a number of friends at the Saegertown Inn Thursday night. Twenty-two people, including the chaperone left college hill at five o'clock. Every countenance beamed with a natural and pleasant smile, which foreboded an evening to be spent in realms of delight. At six o'clock the guests sat down to a handsomely decorated table, and an elaborate menu was served them. A few college songs, with an "Alleghenue" and a Duzer yell, made the repast all the more palatable. Harris then favored the guests with several readings.

After dinner the crowd enjoyed the rest of the evening in a quiet, but hospitable manner. Misses Eva Miller and Ethel Bayard entertained the gathering with music, both vocal and instrumental. Late in the evening, the merry-makers hurried for the car home, but it was with a feeling of regret. Such occasions always end too soon. The evening spent with the most entertaining "Duzers" will not soon fade in the memories of those who were present, and the affair was a decided social success.

"DELT" SMOKER.

The Delta Tau Delta fraternity entertained a large number of the college Greeks, representing the five national fraternities, and also some of the faculty at a smoker last Saturday evening. The house was appropriately decorated, one room with autumn leaves, and the others with pennants and flags. The reception hall was decorated with pennants of the four fraternities to which the student guests belonged.

Those present were especially jubilant in view of the victory over Westminster, and the party broke up in time for the down-town parade.

Refreshments were served throughout the evening.

GRAND PRESIDENT HERE.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity has this week been honored by a visit from the Grand President of the national organization, Miss Edith Stoner. On Tuesday afternoon, a reception was given in honor of Miss Stoner, and the members of Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Chi Omega were invited. The fraternity rooms were most artistically decorated with flowers and in the two blues, representing the fraternity colors. Light refreshments were served the guests.

Miss Stoner brought with her much information concerning other schools which proved of local interest.

FOOTBALL REVIEW.

An Allegheny Critic Ventures His Opinions.

In view of the fact that the present period in this year's foot ball season is, figuratively speaking, the eve of the great battles, a brief review of this college sport may not be untimely.

In the East, all omens point to the Yale eleven as the champion team, since their goal line has yet to be crossed this season. Although there is the possibility of an unexpected reversal in the form and condition of the players for today's game with Princeton and the Harvard game next week, yet all previous records and relative scores point to a Yale victory in both contests. Princeton, defeated by Lafayette, and tied by Dartmouth, has proved a great disappointment. Cornell's team, composed largely of green material, has done as well as might be expected, notwithstanding the fact that her record shows nearly as many defeats as victories. Consequently, Pennsylvania is the only other real rival that Yale has in the East, and as there are but few schools who meet both Yale and Penn, the sources of comparison are not all plentiful. However, the fact that Penn has been tied by both Penn. State and Lafayette seems to turn the consensus of opinion toward the Yale side.

In the West, Minnesota has defeated Chicago, while Notre Dame has won from Michigan, so that on paper, the Minnesota team holds the supremacy.

Little comparison can be made between the East and the West. Michigan defeated Syracuse decisively by a score of 43 to 0. But the real test of relative strength will come in the contest between Penn and Michigan.

DR. T. R. THOBURN HEARD.

The members of the Thoburn Club met in the chapel oratory Thursday evening at eight o'clock. After a brief business meeting, Dr. T. R. Thoburn, of Erie, was introduced by Dr. Coburn, and addressed the organization.

The speaker said that he had brought a manuscript with him which he had fully intended to read, but that instead of an address, he would give some practical remarks to prospective ministers. He touched many important points, some of which were drawn from his own experience as a pastor. He urged preachers not to judge the possibility of doing good by the size of the audience. When Christ preached to five thousand, not a word of his sermon was recorded, but the Bible gives detailed accounts of his conversations with Nicodemus and the woman of Samaria by the well. He urged young ministers to preach Jesus Christ as a living Christ, to preach him so that he will be made a factor in everyday life. And especially, he advised a preacher to be himself, whether sensational, as Billy Sunday is, or otherwise.

INCOME TAX DEBATED.

The Forum met at the usual time and place Thursday afternoon. The attendance was not large because of several other collegiate events going on at the same hour, but the debate proved quite interesting. The question was the same as had been discussed at the meeting the week before, "Resolved, that the government should adopt the income tax." The speakers were Storer, Miller and Haine on the affirmative, and Smith, Lord and Dennison on the negative. The vote of the house was in favor of the latter.

As this was the third meeting of the month, officers for the coming four weeks were elected as follows:

Speaker, R. J. George.
Speaker pro-tem, Storer.
Secretary, K. E. Long.
Sergeant-at-arms, Wm. Schermerhorn.

AN INTERESTING PROGRAM.

The Scientific Club met in the Library at 6:45 o'clock, Tuesday evening, and held their usual meeting. The program which was of peculiar interest, consisted of a variety of papers and magazine articles prepared by the different members.

The compositions showed considerable thought and work on the part of the students, and were strong arguments in favor of personal research and investigation.

Papers will be read at the next meeting by Miss Hatch and Dr. Lee.

PROFESSOR DUTTON SPEAKS.

Union meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. was held in the chapel on Wednesday evening at the regular hour. Mr. Herbster sang a solo at the opening of the meeting, and the selection was well rendered.

Prof. Dutton, as leader, spoke to the men and women of the college in his quiet, but masterly way. His subject was the life of that foremost missionary in all the world, Paul. He pictured the man of God in his relations to other men. He told of the shipwreck and other tribulations which he bore with Christian patience, and how he saw the image of the Almighty through the clouds. "Paul," said he, "is a worthy ideal for the college student. Our life might well be moulded in his pattern."

The meeting was well attended. More than usual interest was centered in the words of the speaker, and the meeting was one of the best of the year.

IMPORTANT COUNCIL ACTION.

Following a recent suggestion in the Campus, the College Council decided to assert itself as an administrative body last Saturday afternoon, and to accomplish this began by electing Mr. H. R. Harper as permanent chairman. It also fixed as a regular meeting time, alternate Fridays, beginning with the first week of each semester. With Mr. Harper as chairman, and the general feeling in the organization, it is safe to say that the College Council of 1909-10 will bring itself into its rightful place in the college community. The constitution will be completely revised and the rules for Campus and Literary Monthly competition will be clearly defined, so that none of the confusion of last year will be repeated.

MR. BORGLUM IN PRINT.

The current issue of Everybody's Magazine contains an article by Mr. Gutzon Borglum which may interest the student body since the author appeared before several college audiences here so recently. The subject of Mr. Borglum's article is "The King of Finance," and the discussion tells of the making of a composite picture of all of the national bank presidents of Greater New York, and the result is described at length.

The making of the picture required more than seven months of experiment, and 783 negatives were used. Eminent scientists have said that a more perfect result could not have been obtained.

ALLEGHENY 21, WESTMINSTER 11

of the season, the ball sailing lightly between the posts, amid the hilarious shouts of the Allegheny rooters.

A Second Touchdown.

For the second time Hawk started the play by kicking off to Turnbull, who caught the ball and ran twelve yards from the ten yard line, before he was tackled by Hawk. On the first down Westminster made it necessary for the referee to penalize them ten yards for running through the line. Failing to gain, Westminster punted to Lefel who was downed as he caught the ball. Lefel went through right tackle for eight yards, after which time was taken out a few minutes for the benefit of Ashton, Westminster's star left end and phenomenal kicker. A criss-cross from Lefel to Weidler netted twenty-five yards, and a forward pass from Weidler to Abbott added twenty more, this bringing the ball to within one yard of the goal. Lavelly promptly made the required distance and Lefel again lifted the pigskin over the goal post.

On the kick-off Hawk booted the oval to Walker, who advanced about ten yards, and just as he was about to be tackled slipped the ball in back of him to Captain Everhart. Everhart speedily circled around the left side for fifty yards, thus making one of the longest runs of the game. It was a clever play, and skillfully executed. On the next down full-back Mansell plunged through the right side of the line for one yard. Everhart then lifted a low on-side kick over the heads of the two teams, sending the ball about twenty yards. Westminster's right end, Graham, was down on the ball in an instant, and before anyone realized the fact had made a touchdown. Everhart kicked goal.

McConahey, who had substituted for Ashton on left end, kicked off for Westminster. Abbott ran the ball twenty-five yards, then fumbled it, but fortunately near Hawk who recovered it. A clever play then followed, wherein Abbott concealed himself in the crowd of spectators on the side lines, unobserved by anyone of the Westminster team. Weidler received the ball as he would for an end run, but instead of circling the end, ran straight back and quickly turned, throwing the oval to Abbott on the other side of the field. The play netted fifteen yards. After several small gains, carrying the ball to Westminster's twenty-seven yard line, Lefel again brought his unerring foot into commission by kicking a place kick from this position. Westminster again kicked off, but time was up for the first half before they had made first down.

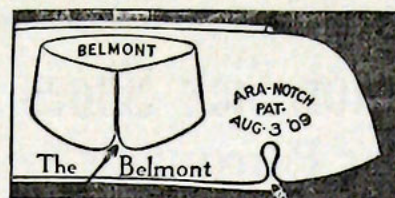

Second Half.

The second half was begun when Parrish, who had gone in in place of Wiggins at left tackle, kicked off to Weidler, the latter running the ball back twelve yards before he was downed. On the first regular down Weidler was given the ball, and thereupon made the longest and most spectacular run of the entire game. From about the twenty-five yard line he circled the left side to a point beyond the middle of the field, gaining about fifty-five yards. Lefel followed this up with twenty-five, and Weidler made five more. Lefel again made a gain, four this time, and Ballinger, working at full in Lavelly's place, made one more. From this point Weidler shot over the line for his second touchdown of the game. Lefel kicked goal.

On Westminster's kick-off the ball sailed back of the goal line, but was not touched by any of the Allegheny team. According to the rules the ball was then taken out to the twenty-five yard line and given to Allegheny. By slow but consistent gains through the line with an occasional long end run by Weidler or Lefel, the ball was brought up to the Westminster one yard line. With one yard to gain in three downs, a touchdown looked like a sure thing, but here the Westminster bunch showed their fighting spirit and won praise from the entire crowd. For three downs Allegheny tried line plunges, and for three downs Westminster held them. The ball went to the New Wilmington team, and Everhart promptly punted. After several small gains by Weidler and Lefel, the ball was found to be in an admirable position for a place kick on the twenty-three yard line. The signal was called, and Lefel kicked with unerring accuracy, but one of the Westminster linemen broke through and blocked the kick. Hawk recovered the ball on the twelve yard line. After several downs which failed to gain much, Weidler failed in an attempt to drop kick, the ball going a yard or so wide of the mark. This gave the ball to Westminster on the twenty-five yard line, from which place Everhart began by running fifteen yards around right end. He then threw a forward pass to Parrish, and again went at right end, this time advancing twenty-two yards. Several line plunges brought the ball to the twelve yard line, from which point Everhart ran the end for a touchdown. Parrish kicked the goal but Referee Baer said he did not see it, and commanded a second attempt, at which Parrish failed.

Parrish kicked off to Abbott, who made ten yards. The ball then sawed back and forth on the field, Westminster at one time getting within about ten yards of the Allegheny goal, where they lost the ball on downs. After about four minutes of unsensational playing, the game ended with the ball in the middle of the field.

Notes of the Game.

—Ashton, Westminster's left end did some good kicking. The frequency with which they were forced to punt made it necessary to bring him back from end many times during the game.

—The game played by Hawk at left end for Allegheny was beyond criticism. His father, who would not grant him permission to play until several weeks after the season had opened, was there Saturday and seemed greatly pleased with the work which his son was doing.

—Lefel's kicking was a phenomenal feature, and did much to bring about the victory. He kicked three goals and one place kick, scoring six points in all. In no other game of the season has a goal been kicked and for this reason, Lefel's work is especially noticeable.

—Shortly after the beginning of the game Lavelly who was playing right half sustained an injury to his right shoulder which necessitated the substitution of Ballinger in his place at the beginning of the second half. "Lave" pluckily went through the entire first half.

—The halves of the game were thirty minutes each, which is about as long as they ever are and about as long as the players ever want them. Coach Stewart strongly urged the long periods, for he thought the team was in perfect condition and could well endure the additional strain.

—It was estimated by one who watched the game closely that Weidler at left half gained at least three hundred yards during the game. His long runs were little short of phenomenal and were worthy of the highest praise. He went for twenty-five yards five or six times and for fifty once, to say nothing of the many small gains he made.

—The game played by Everhart, the star Westminster quarterback, was much commented upon by the spectators. It was he who made practically all the long gains of the New Wilmington team, gaining almost every time he took the ball. His generalship at quarter was also good, for his plays were well selected and run off in an admirable manner.

—The Allegheny line held better than it has held before this season. This has always been considered the weak spot of the team and Coach Stewart had spent much time in drilling the linemen with the result that they played a better game in both defensive and offensive work than ever before. The defensive work in the first half was remarkable.

—When Westminster played Grove City on the Tuesday before the Allegheny game, three of their best players, Everhart, Houston and Graham were rather seriously injured. Everhart and Graham were able to play Saturday, but Houston, who has been playing full-back was unable to be in the game, his place being taken by Mansell. Houston's injury is in the knee cap and Captain Everhart expressed the opinion that he will not be in the game again this season.
