Meeting Reminder

The Campus again reminds all students who want to "break into journalism" to attend the meeting scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 4 p.m., in Arter 26. Campus editor Pat Riesenman and members of the staff will discuss positions which are available.

Opportunities for copy and proof reading, typing, reporting and working on the business, circulation, and photography staffs are open. Previous experience is not necessary.

Interested sophomores who are unable to attend the meeting because of the class picnic are asked to contact Miss Riesenman in the Campus office on Monday or Tuesday evening of next week.

AUC Regulations On Expenditures Announced; Also Budget Breakdown

Allegheny Undergraduate Council treasurer Tom Mustio has announced the following rules regarding expenditures by organizations financed by AUC allotments. "The purpose of these regulations is to bring about a more effective control of budgeted funds and to initiate within student organizations a responsibility for planning their expenditures," Mustio said.

1. The treasurer of any organization wishing to spend money from its AUC allotment must first inform the treasurer of the AUC of the purpose of the expenditure and fill out a requisition slip for him.

2. All organizations will be required to keep accurate account of their funds. The books will be checked monthly by the AUC treasurer. A clinic will be held to illustrate the bookkeeping system to be used.

3. Each treasurer will be held responsible for keeping his organization within its budget.

4. No budget allotment will be considered effective until the treasurer of the organization concerned has met with the treasurer of AUC.

The AUC budget for the 1952-53 school year is set at $16,868. This figure is $2,282 lower than the $19,150 on which AUC operated last year, because of the drop in enrollment.

A break-down of the budget by organizational allotments follows:

ACA	$ 400.00
AUC Current	218.00
AUC Social	3,500.00
Assembly	300.00
Band	200.00
Block A	25.00
Campus	3,400.00
Chapel Choir	75.00
Class of 1953	10.00
Class of 1954	10.00
Class of 1955	10.00

Class of 1956	10.00
International Relations Club	125.00
Kaldron	4,400.00
Literary Magazine	750.00
Outing Club	180.00
Philo-Franklin	750.00
Playshop	1,850.00
Singers	250.00
Sinfonietta	125.00
Women's Athletic Association	230.00
Cheerleaders	50.00

Total $16,868.00

Sophomores Supervise Observance Of Customs

Freshman customs this year are being supervised by members of the sophomore class. Violators of the customs must appear before a special court set up by committee chairman Bill Dale. The court, which will meet weekly until the completion of "dink season", is composed of Janice Decker, Bruce Hemer, Bob Miller, Bob Ozmum, Mary Lou Robinson, and Margery Skeel.

Eight offenders have already been tried and sentenced, the most frequent violation being absence of dinks and namecards. Punishment for the guilty has included: rolling an egg down Brooks driveway, serenading during supper in Brooks dining room, and remaining dateless for an entire week.

Student Counselors Asked To Refrain From Frat Rushing

Student counselors residing in freshmen men's dormitories have been requested not to participate in fraternity rushing this fall, according to an announcement made by Dean of Students C. W. McCracken. Because the student counselors' organization is new, this decision has been made for this year only, in order to make its work more effective and respected as impartial.

McCracken continued, "The student counselors, of course, in performance of their duties, will have occasion to talk to the freshmen about fraternity life. However, I am quite sure that the student counselors have the integrity to refrain from influencing any freshman's choice of a fraternity. You will recognize that a student counselor who participates in rushing would not be accepted by freshmen as a counselor. This would defeat the very purpose of the residence counselor plan."

McCracken expressed pleasure with "the support given to the student counselor plan by the fraternities." He gave as the reason for the decision concerning rushing the desire for continuation of such support. He concluded, "It would be a great help if the fraternity men would recognize that the student counselor cannot answer fairly questions about freshmen men. As you know we expect the student counselors to take a full and active part in fraternity life with the exception of rushing and blackball sessions and answering questions about freshmen."

Admissions Committee Asks For Assistance

Bill Oehmler and Emily Engle, co-chairmen of the Student Admissions Committee, have announced that any students interested in working with the committee are requested to contact members of the group. A file is being compiled of students who are willing to conduct prospective students on tours of the campus, and to assist the committee in other ways.

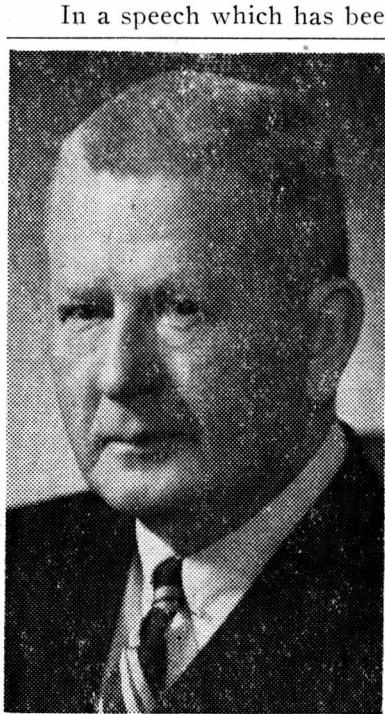

Among the immediate plans of Student Admissions are entertaining football players from 10 area high schools at the Dickinson game this Saturday, in cooperation with the Athletic Department. Tentative plans have been made for a cider and doughnut party after the game.

A track weekend is being planned for the spring, again with the cooperation of the Athletic Department; in addition, the committee will work with the Speech Department during the high school debater's tournament scheduled for next spring. A prospective freshman weekend, similar to that held last year, is also being planned.

Assisting co-chairmen Oehmler and Engle are Jim Lyons and Al Van Why. Committee members are Barbara Voges, Bruce Hemer, Noreen Swenson, Chuck McDonald, Ray Leuenberger, Stan Johnson, and Sally Kloppman. Meetings are held at 8 p.m. Thursdays in the Admissions Office in Bentley.

Duff And Dilworth To Speak Tuesday; Open G-8 Sponsored Lecture Series

The honorable James H. Duff, junior Republican senator from Pennsylvania, will speak on Tuesday, October 7, at 3 p.m., in Ford Chapel in the first of a series of lectures sponsored by the G8 course, Problems of the Modern World, and the Public Affairs Committee.

Senator James Duff

Last Chance Monday

Monday, October 6, is the last day courses may be added to schedules, Dean of Instruction Julian L. Ross has again reminded students. He re-emphasized that classes may not be dropped after October 20 without a failing grade being recorded for the course involved.

A change-of-schedule card must be obtained by the student at the Registrar's office and returned to that office before the change is permitted.

In a speech which has been termed "political", Duff will attack the present policies of the Democratic administration. Following the speech, which is open to the public, there will be a fifteen minute question and answer period. Duff will then be available in the Pine Room for an informal discussion period.

Tentative plans, according to Mr. Wayne R. Merrick, assistant professor of political science, include a luncheon to be held at noon in Cochran Hall in honor of Senator Duff, with county Republican leaders and members of the faculty attending.

Duff was governor of Pennsylvania from 1946 to 1950, and was elected senator in 1950, when he ran against the incumbent Democratic Senator Myers. He was one of the earliest supporters of Eisenhower and was a key figure at the GOP national convention in Chicago where Eisenhower was nominated.

Mr. Richardson Dilworth, Democratic District Attorney of Philadelphia, will follow Duff's address with a speech to be given October 7 at 8 p.m. in Ford Chapel.

Dilworth is a graduate of Yale University and Yale Law School. During World War I he served abroad with the Marines, receiving the Croix de Guerre and the Purple Heart.

After practicing law in Philadelphia from 1926 through 1942, he applied for active service and was commissioned a captain in the Marine Corps. He served on Guadalcanal and was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry and the Presidential Unit Citation.

Homecoming Scheduled For October 18; Football Game To Highlight Weekend

Homecoming, 1952, has been set for Saturday, October 18, when the Gators of Allegheny play against the Tartans of Carnegie Tech.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. with judging by a committee of faculty and alumni of the various fraternity house and dormitory decorations. The central theme for this event has not as yet been decided upon.

The Board of Trustees will also hold its meeting at this time, in Reis Library, when the officers for the coming year are to be elected. Also on the agenda for the meeting will be the formal approval of Allegheny's entry into the newly-formed Pennsylvania Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc. Temporary chairman of the foundation is President Louis T. Benezet. The foundation is composed of some 35 colleges and universities in Pennsylvania and was formed for the purpose of presenting a united appeal for interest and support from industrial corporations and other enterprises in the state.

The annual Homecoming Luncheon will be held in Brooks Hall at 12 noon.

The highlight of the day, the football game between Allegheny and Carnegie Tech, will begin at 2:15 p.m. with special seats reserved for all returning alumni. Winners of the fraternity decoration contest will be announced at halftime. Following the game a cider and doughnut party will be held in Montgomery Gymnasium at 4:30 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Alumni Association. Members of the Block A Club will be in charge of the affair.

The evening will feature an informal dance beginning at 9 p.m. in Brooks dining room. "The Glass Menagerie" will also be presented at this time at the Allegheny Playshop. The play stars students Steve Wolfson and Mary Ellen Darling, and alumni Jean Carlson, '34, and Philip Weisman, '50.

The Sunday Chapel service beginning at 11 a.m., will be held in Ford Memorial Chapel. Speaker for the service will be the Reverend Bruce Middaugh, '27.

Student chairman of Homecoming is Gordie Black.

The Battle

In his convocation speech last week Dr. Benetz used a term which we of The Campus believe worthy of further consideration. We should like to propose it was a rallying point for all of our endeavors in this academic year. The term—"the battle for intellectual freedom."

Much is contained in the phrase. Our editorial last week dealt with McCarthyism, with its cynical disregard for democratic principles, as one of the foes of intellectual freedom. However, the fight for intellectual freedom goes deeper than simple combat against such individuals and their practices. It is a struggle against all ready-made beliefs, blinding prejudice, self-satisfied ignorance and intellectual apathy. The former is perhaps only a superficial aspect of the latter. Certainly the McCarthys breed in an atmosphere of ignorance and apathy. They feed upon fear. They fan the fires of prejudice. They are ready with slogans.

The atmosphere of fear, suspicion, and hatred which has been unloosed threatens to destroy our ability and even our desire to think. The problem is not how to deal with McCarthyism, but rather how to deal with the intellectual apathy that has resulted from McCarthyism. The question is not how to combat the vicious accusations of a political extremist, but instead how to encourage thought itself.

We become so tired of the arguments of these extremists that we turn from all argument. Our ideals and values become confused. We become disillusioned and cynical. We no longer trust intelligence to lead us to truth. As a result we do not think of challenging unsubstantiated assertions which may be made in our classes; we only half-listen to class lectures. We don't bother to follow the news of the world, nor to read editorials in The Campus. We find it difficult to work up much enthusiasm before a football game.

Although we may not be totally given over to this apathy, we are all affected by it. Ask any teacher about the demoralizing effect of three or four students who sleep or daydream in class. Ask any student how he feels about a teacher who delivers his lectures in the same dull uninspired voice day after day. Ask the football team how they felt when only the freshmen turned out for a pep rally.

If we can arouse ourselves in these small areas of college life, we can maintain our position and forge ahead in this battle. The effect in the classroom when intellectual freedom is subverted is to deny true academic achievement. In the words of one person we might be attending college to strengthen the prejudices of our fathers—or of the majority political party.

Where intellectual freedom prevails students demand that opinions be substantiated. Opinions that contradict even the general political philosophy are respected when they are rationally and factually presented. The classroom experience in this case does not consist of the transfer of the professor's statements to the students' notebooks verbatim; rather additional facts are sought, and alternative theories and interpretations are advanced.

Academic freedom and free intellectual pursuits are dangerous to those who would perpetuate hate and prejudice, to those who would have their own ready-made beliefs forced on the people. When these conditions prevail blind emotional following of the leader gives way to individual thinking. When Jefferson postulated education as the foundation stone of a successful democracy, he did not mean a pre-digested education. Rather he proposed that education train people to think freely and search rationally for the answer to their questions. The battle for intellectual freedom rages against the unchallenged opinionators of our time. We have our share at Allegheny.

Enthusiasm

It usually takes a victory to create zest and enthusiasm among the Allegheny student body; if not a full-fledged victory, a win in the offing is a good stimulant. But we went that tradition one better last week: with the opposition looking tough and thoughts of victory classed among futile dreams, we conjured up a will to win and got out to the game with a heady—if irrational—confidence. It worked! Nothing else but the will to win kept Oberlin from scoring the first touchdown; nothing else kept the Gators on the field working as a unit throughout the entire game, right up to the winning TD.

The beginning of it came from Coach Henderson; it sprang up among the whole student body—players and spectators alike—developing into what can be explained only as a college spirit, the like of which we haven't seen in many moons on this hill.

We rejoice in this newly-recovered spirit. And we're looking forward to an even more enthusiastic display at the Dickinson game this Saturday. Let's stay behind the team!

Faculty Profile

Herbert J. Hess, new speech instructor, can boast a variety of occupations crowded into as full a life as you'll hear of in a long while.

A one-time door-to-door salesman, coal-passer on a freighter, fireman on a ferryboat, bus-boy, and insurance adjustor, Mr. Hess related his experiences in well-modulated, diaphragmic tones as he sat smoking in the Speech Office. Somewhere between these diversified jobs he served a three-year stint as an infantryman, taking part in combat in France, Luxembourg, Belgium, and Germany during his overseas assignment from 1944-1946 with Pennsylvania's 28th Division. Sport-wise he is an archery and tennis enthusiast.

How did all this lead to the teaching profession? "Well, it's a matter of finding out what you don't like as much as what you do like," he said. "It's much more interesting talking to students than haggling over an insurance claim."

Both wife Charlotte and "Darb", as Mrs. Hess calls him, take considerable interest in politics; they attended the Democratic National Convention last summer. In discussing the various speech techniques observed at the convention, Mr. Hess mentioned that he was especially impressed by Eleanor Roosevelt's speaking ability. "It was awfully moving," he said; "there actually were people in tears."

Mr. Herbert Hess

Trix At The Flix

October 3-4 (Park) Double Feature: a. The Narrow Margin with Marie Windsor and Charles McGraw. Difficulties of a Police officer in escorting a gangster's widow from Chicago to Los Angeles where she is to testify in a bribery case.

"As the train moves west its corridors begin to suggest a breathless French farce with many doors and ruses—in this case the object being murder . . . A picture of this sort depends upon the split-second pattern of menace and relief, and here the pattern is cleverly elaborated and briskly executed . . . It keeps moving on an express schedule and thrills as it goes." —Newsweek

b. Slaughter Trail with Brian Donlevy and Gig Young. A routine western set to music.

"An unusual feature of this Cinecolor Western is its excellent background music, particularly the ballad "Hoofbeat Serenade" which follows, lyrically, a good part of the film's narrative . . . Plenty of action among Indians, cavalymen and outlaws." —Parents

October 4-10 (Academy) Just For You with Bing Crosby, Jane Wyman, Ethel Barrymore. A Broadway producer almost loses the affection of his children because he is too busy with his own activities. Technicolor.

"Arousing melodic score and a logically story well acted by a fine cast . . . With fine material to work with Crosby socks across one of his best portrayals . . . Should prove a stout factor in bringing back that 'lost audience'." —Variety

October 5-8 (Park) Dreamboat with Clifton Webb, Ginger Rogers. A college professor and retired actor becomes a matinee idol when his silent films are shown on TV.

"A brisk, intelligent, funny spoofing of both TV and the ancient movie industry . . . Perhaps the funniest portions of the film are the old movies . . . in which Webb appears as a matador, and aeronaut, and a Foreign Legionaire, working always toward his trademark which is a kind of kissing that begins at the wrists and moves on from there." —Newsweek

October 8 (Park) The Medium with Marie Powers, Leo Coleman, Anna Marie Alberghetti. A phony spiritualist is driven to distraction

Pins 'n Sins

Several of us got pinned this summer, others sinned, but despite cajolery, intimidations, and threats of all kinds, we're back for another shot at the center of the page with some -cut -comments -on campus capers.

The Cwens can hang up their red jackets now. The Freshman women are being provided with more virile guides to the rustic bridge . . . oh, that 13th plank!

The big tussel in last Saturday's football game was the hoisting of the flag by our campus postmen. Net result of the game: The removal of a large accumulation of dust on Bentley's bell. Encore . . . and all that, Boys!

Last Sunday the Theta Chis, Phi Psis, Chi Rhos, and Phi Gams loaded everyone with tea, punch and assorted goodies . . . overall impression: Smashing!

We hear that much time and dinero has been spent on Spanish custom and language books lately . . . Caution men, she might have a duena . . . Those who shared the Continental touch this summer: B. A. Graf, Nancy Hough, and the Edwards Davidowitz and DeMier.

and murder by the trickery of her own mind.

"Packs the punch of a fast swipe of morbid melodrama let fly in an operatic style . . . The music . . . is notoriously insistent and dramatic . . . The screen is pictorially charged . . . it is written in music and through an orchestra and voices it is conveyed. The shock effect of its charge continues undiminished right up to the end of the film."

World Series Arrives To Ease Load; Yanks, Dodgers Bring Studies To Halt

If the World Series hadn't opened yesterday, we don't know what we'd have done.

The first week of school is always pretty much the same. The profs dust off an aged set of notes, we refill a tooth-marked pen, the bookstore grosses a cool million, and an indeterminate number of nickels are devoured voraciously by the Grill's juke-box. Over and above all this are the rushing of the sophomore women and the usual anticipation of our first football game.

By the second week, however, the wheels begin to roll. We find that the assigned "chapter 2" marches merrily along for no less than 50 pages; problem 7 has parts a, b, c, and d; and the issues of the periodicals you need for an assignment have been sent someplace to be bound.

Comes the World Series, and the chapters, problems, and note-cards fade away faster than an old soldier. The National Pastime takes the center of the stage. It's really a neat out.

Assignments during Series week are tantamount to treason on the part of the teachers. And rightly so. The series ranks with the 4th of July, Flag Day, and Thanksgiving, and can be best described as a combination of the three. There'll be fireworks galore; a flag is definitely at stake, and there will undoubtedly be a day of feasting in Flatbush if the Dodgers succeed in beating the Yankees.

No doubt about it, the Series has arrived in the nick of time, and it looks as if the Yanks will win it. They always do.

Stirrup And Bit Tryouts

Tryouts for Stirrups and Bit, Allegheny's junior riding club, will be held at the college stables on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, October 7 and 8, from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. Any student who likes to ride is encouraged to attend the meeting.

Ability to control a horse will be judged by the members of the senior riding club, Boots and Saddles. Style of riding will not necessarily be stressed.

Past activities have included such events as breakfast and supper rides, and participation in horse shows and gymkhanas.

Outing Club Overnight

The first regular overnight outing sponsored by the Allegheny College Outing Club is scheduled for Saturday, October 11, club president Don Skinner has announced.

Lists will be posted in Brooks and Cochran Halls at the beginning of next week; all those who wish to attend must sign up by Friday noon.

A charge of 50 cents will be made for those who remain only for supper, while the charge for supper and Sunday breakfast is 75 cents.

Transportation will leave Brooks at approximately 2 p.m. Saturday, and will return at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

If You Like Ike...

All students interested in supporting the Eisenhower campaign are asked to attend a short meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the College Union. Featured at the meeting will be a short speech by a Meadville Republican leader.

The steering committee of the campus Eisenhower organization, consisting of Steve Graffam, Jack Lehman, John Hokanson, Donna Shuman, Tom Gladden, Skip Yahn, and Jan Turner, met Tuesday night to plan the rally.

College Board Try-outs Set By 'Mademoiselle'

Mademoiselle Magazine is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership on its 1952-53 College Board. The deadline for applications is November 30.

Applicants must write a criticism of Mademoiselle's August 1952 College issue. Successful candidates will be notified of acceptance on the College Board early in December.

Girls who are accepted on the College Board will do three assignments during the college year. An assignment may be writing a campus feature, submitting a piece of art work, or promoting fashion ideas for possible use in Mademoiselle.

In addition, College Board Members who are rated among the top 20 on the assignments win a Mademoiselle Guest Editorship. Guest editors will be brought to New York next June to help write, edit, and illustrate the August 1953 issue. They will be paid a regular salary, plus their round trip transportation to New York.

Further information may be obtained by writing to College Board Editor, Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N.Y.

If Adlai's Your Guy...

Bert Katz was elected chairman of the Stevenson for President Club at an organization meeting held last Sunday afternoon. Other officers are vice chairman, Harvey Kaplan, and secretary-treasurer, Tom Duff.

A second meeting held last night featured discussion of plans for the campaign and methods of arousing political thought on campus.

Students Will Aid Chest Fund Drive

Allegheny students will participate in the annual Meadville Community Chest drive, scheduled to begin today. A representative from each organized social group, independents, and freshman dormitory has been selected to serve on the committee which will contact each student sometime during the duration of the drive.

Rita Lanza is general chairman of the project. Six captains: Sally Erickson, Nancy Eberhardt, Jerry Cotton, Bob Ozmun, Sheila Confer and Gus Halupczynski, will assist in coordinating the drive. Marcia Lambrecht is publicity chairman.

"The members of the committee feel that we as a college have an obligation to Meadville," said chairman Lanza. "Not only is it the community we call home during our four years at college, but it is the community which has supported us, especially in the recently completed Allegheny College Development Program. Funds collected in the Meadville area will in large part pay for the planned field house."

No goal has been set for Allegheny's part in the drive, as this is the first time the college has participated in it. "We leave it up to each student to decide what his personal contribution will be," said Miss Lanza, "although we do urge that it be as generous as possible."

Orchesis Try-outs

Tryouts for Orchesis, the modern dance group, will be held next Tuesday, October 7, at 8:30 p.m. in Brooks Gym, as announced by Miss Valeta Hershberger, adviser to the group. A second tryout meeting will be held next Thursday.

Techniques of modern dance will be discussed, followed by a short tryout session. All students interested are invited. Miss Hershberger has mentioned particularly that if any men are interested in participating in modern dance they will be welcome.

Past activities of Orchesis have included a modern dance show in the spring as well as work in connection with Playshop productions.

More Band Members Needed, Says Varicchio

Mr. Louis Varricchio, new director of the Allegheny College Band, has expressed a desire for a better turnout for the organization despite the fact that "the band did well" at the first football game. He said, "One of our goals for this year is to have a band on the field which makes a good showing for the Carnegie Tech game."

Anyone who can play a band instrument is asked to report to rehearsals which are held Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons from 4:30 to 5:30 in the Music Building. Trumpet players are especially needed, as well as twirlers and majorettes.

Mr. Varricchio also said that he hopes to have a concert band after the close of the football season.

Gators Try For Second Win Saturday; Meet Dickinson After 40-33 Victory

by Doc Thoburn

Fresh from their first win against Oberlin last week, the Gator Gridders will attempt to make it two in a row when they face Dickinson College this weekend. The Red Devils from Carlisle are a preseason favorite to stop the Gators Saturday, but the boys in blue will be fired up from last week's victory, and anxious to avenge last year's 31-13 pasting at the hands of the big Red.

Scouting reports on the Red Devils' loss to Trinity last Saturday indicates that they are weak offensively. However, they have a very strong defensive unit and will be a tough team to beat. Trinity, with a strong team, was held comparatively at bay, scoring only 21 points in what should have been a rout. The Dickinson pass defense was good as they broke up pass patterns and prevented receivers from moving downfield after passes had been caught. The Red Devil line was also strong. Only one of Trinity's touchdowns was scored thru the line. The others were tallied on a blocked punt and a long broken field run. Offensively the Dickinson boys couldn't do a thing, so it is rather difficult to say anything about their offense except that they attempt to run from a split-T formation. It must be remembered in discussing Dickinson's offense that Trinity had a very fine team and were definitely out of the Red Devils' class. The Dickinsonians may show more power against the Gators. It cannot be overemphasized that Dickinson has a very rough defense and the game Saturday will not be an easy one for the Hilltoppers.

McMahon, Baker Star

Saturday was a red letter day for the Golden Gators as they upset favored Oberlin 40-33. Dave McMahon and Bob Baker starred offensively for the Blue and Gold, scoring three touchdowns apiece. The most impressive and heartening thing on the field was not, however, the offensive show we witnessed, but a thing which could not be seen except in its results. Allegheny fielded a unified, spirited team—eleven men playing as one, with one purpose—to beat Oberlin.

Gators Good On Offense

The Gold and Blue displayed a good offensive attack. Reed and Barron, as well as Baker and McMahon, did a fine job. Roese and Snyder also contributed much to the successful functioning of the team. The blocking was better than it had been, but the slowness of the Gator line was apparent as several times ball carriers had to push their blockers out of the way. On the whole the team put on a very pleasing offensive show. It's been

The question for both Dickinson and Allegheny is the other's defense. The only answer to the question is to come out Saturday and watch the ball game. The Hilltoppers are in good physical shape after last week's game, and if their mental attitude is the same as it was last week, they should come out on top. They have a good team, and if the offense continues in high gear it should be a fine season for the Blue and Gold. We hope they don't get cocky from last week's win. It didn't pay off for Oberlin.

Know Your Gators

Dave McMahon

Dave McMahon, of Meadville, has played halfback for the Golden Gators—off and on—for three seasons, between stretches in the Army Signal Corps. Twice since he entered Allegheny in 1947 the beckoning finger of Uncle Sam has called him from the gridiron to the drill field.

In his freshman year, Dave played enough quarters to earn his Block A but was in the service when the awards were handed out. Returning to the hill, he lettered at right halfback on last year's ball club, and got off to a good start for this, his senior year, with three touchdowns against Oberlin last Saturday.

He is one of only two returning lettermen in the backfield, and, as his performance last Saturday indicates, he is a valuable asset to the Hilltopper offense.

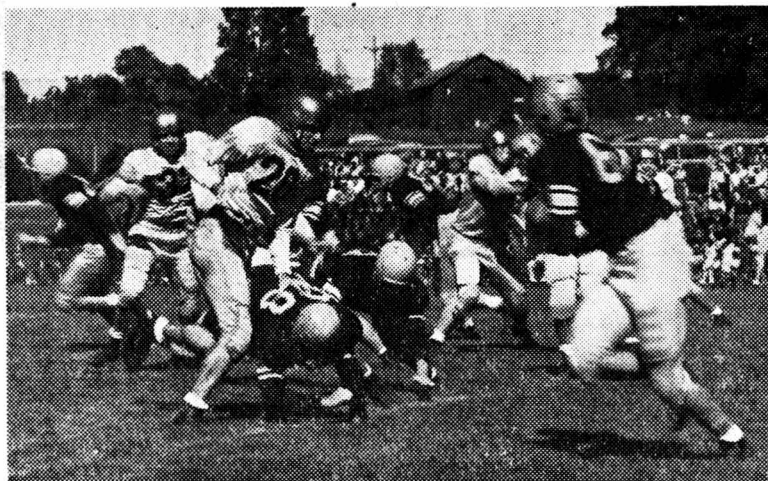

Intramurals Started; IFC To Present Individual Trophies

The intramural football league got under way yesterday with games between the Sigs and Phi Deltas and between the Deltas and Independents.

The league is divided into two sections this year. The Phi Gams, Phi Psis, Sigs, and Phi Deltas are in the A division, and the Deltas, Chi Rhos, Theta Chis, and Independents are in the B division.

The team finishing last in the A league after one round will move into the B league, and the team finishing first in the B league will move to the A league for the second round. Games are played at College Field on Park Avenue and start at 3:30 p.m.

The Inter-Fraternity Council this year has purchased individual trophies for each sport. A group which wins the trophy in one sport for three years will be permitted to keep the trophy for that sport permanently.

Gator end Chuck Rice (26) moves in to tackle Oberlin back Bob Burnham, who has just taken a pitchout from quarterback Mickey Joseph. Burnham and Joseph gained a total of 418 yards for the Ohioans. Chris Amoroso (32) is seen in the left background; Bill Oehmler is in the right background.

Last Saturday afternoon revealed several facts about football on the Allegheny campus and about the Allegheny student body in general. First of all, it was evident that we have the makings of a top-notch football team. Secondly, that team demonstrated fight and spirit at its maximum. Thirdly, the student body (upperclassmen especially) showed that they still need periodic injections of pep.

The team which Dave Henderson fielded against Oberlin is a credit not only to the players and to Henderson himself, but also to the college as a whole. Henderson came here this fall, a complete stranger to Allegheny football. Through constant hard work on the part of the team and himself, he has molded an offensive team that literally overpowered the red and gold team from Ohio. His defensive unit displayed considerable inexperience, but with more work it may come up to the standard of the offensive contingent.

The most impressive play of the game, and probably the best indication of what kind of team the 1952 outfit is, occurred seconds before the end of the half. Sil Alfonso made a spectacular interception on the Gator 43, when the Gators were behind 14-13. On the first play Reed tossed seven yards to McMahon in the flat, who raced the entire distance to the goal to put Allegheny in the lead at the half, 20-14. Not only at this point but throughout the game the Gators showed this same kind of determined fight, spirit, and drive. Even when Oberlin rolled back to tie 33-33, the offensive unit struck back quickly to win 40-33. When else have we seen an Allegheny football team do this recently?

At the game the freshmen displayed their usual enthusiasm and the upperclassmen their typical calmness and reserve. The pep rally at noon Friday got the football spirit off to a slow start. A spontaneous demonstration that evening helped remedy this, though, as players and students alike let loose. Maybe this lack of pep on the part of students which we have witnessed so long is not all their fault but can be blamed in part on the cheerleaders. There is too much formality preparing for the cheers and the excitement is over before the girls begin their contortions.

We are certainly off to a fine start. We can be proud of our team. What is to come in the future depends on everyone on this campus. Players and students alike must keep up the spirit and enthusiasm so prominent in this first victory.

Soccer Team Drills

Coach Bill Hanson has been drilling thirty soccer candidates daily for two weeks in preparation for the opener with Grove City October 14. That game will be played on the college field on Park Avenue.

Only six lettermen returned to the squad this year. They are George Culbertson, Rodger Hemer, Bob Buck, Dane Hannum, John Gow, and Al Eckstrom. Several other upperclassmen and freshmen players show promise and will definitely be a big help to Bill Hanson.

Last year's team had a record of three wins and two losses.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Allegheny Undergraduate Council's 1952-1953 budget appears in this issue of The Campus. Due to a drop in enrollment, this budget was set up under the handicap of approximately $2000 less than in 1951-1952. Hence, it was necessary to cut every organization's allotment to the lowest point possible. In almost all cases, the present allotments are inadequate.

For example, one thing every student has a right to expect is a first-class year book. The Kaldron's allotment for several years has been insufficient to put out a yearbook on the college level. Furthermore, prices have risen so that this year's Kaldron may not even reach the quality of last year's.

Last year AUC went into the red; even after these drastic reductions, it does not appear possible that it can function effectively this year without doing the same. As another example, $218.00 has been budgeted for AUC's current account. This account should contain at least $500. Unfortunately, right now our only hope of supplementing the fund is an unpredictable venture into the blotter business.

These are only two of the numerous cases that can be cited which point to the fact that a raise in student fees is inevitable next year.

But what about the sad state of affairs which confronts us at the

Post Game Party At CU Attracts Four Hundred

Four hundred students attended the after-game cider and doughnut party at the College Union last Saturday afternoon. Sandy Reitman and Noreen Swenson, members of the College Union Board of Directors, were co-chairmen of the affair.

Tom Ballish, director of the CU, stated, "The board is of the opinion that the cider and doughnut party was a great success. We hope to have more such affairs throughout the year, with the aim of making the College Union the center of college activity."

The movie version of the opera, which stars Maria Alberghetti, Marie Powers, and Leo Coleman, has been filmed in the original opera form, with the addition of two extra scenes by Menotti.

Student Bus Purchase Announced By Edwards

College treasurer Dr. Allen B. Edwards has announced the purchase of a 32-passenger school bus. The bus will take the football team to and from out-of-town games, and will possibly take students to out-of-town basketball games. Dr. Edwards said that it may also be used for the Singers tour in the spring. In addition, it may be rented by student groups for Bousson outings, at a round-trip cost of $10. Any organization wishing to rent the bus must contact Dr. Edwards at least one week before the date of use.

KING-SIZE CIGARETTE

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the world's best tobaccos, pure, more costly moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy — nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinarily good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization — no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is absolutely no difference except that king-size Chesterfield is larger — contains considerably more of the same tobaccos — enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs very little more.
