WILLIAM FORTUNE
INDIANAPOLIS

December 16, 1922.

Dear Miss Tarbell:-

An editorial in to-day's Indianapolis Star, a clipping of which I am enclosing, indicates that others have the feeling that you haven't given enough of yourself to Indiana. You had better begin to think about coming back, but I hope when you come I may be here.

I find in my accumulation your gracious note about the little pictures. I had thought of them only as reminders of our trip; of course you may make such use of them as you care to.

I have received the copy of Gathey's book about Lincoln so kindly sent by you. I am very glad to have this and deeply appreciate your sending it. I haven't had a chance to read it, but it goes into the lot I shall take with me on my trip for attention during spare time. Besides it is one of the kind of literary curiosities I like to have in hand.

With all best wishes always and especially for your share of Christmas happiness,

Sincerely and cordially yours,

William Fortune

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
120 East Nineteenth Street,
New York.

Digital Images, 2010. The Ida M. Tarbell Collection, 1890-1944, Allegheny College Pelletier Library.