Dear Mr. Oswald:

Thank you for speaking so kindly of my little review of Earnest Calkins book. It is a good book packed with carefully gathered facts told with appreciation, irritation and humor.

I am grateful to the review since it brought me a copy of your "Printing in the Americas" just received. I have not had time even to run it through and I am off to the country for a few days now. But I know what is going to happen when I sit down with it. I am going to go from end to end and then come back again and again.

What labor you have put into it and what love of the art - a lasting contribution! But I am going to read it and some day talk to you about it, if you will let me.

Very sincerely yours

Mr. John Clyde Oswald
