Dear Mrs. Evans:

I am enclosing a letter which explains itself. I have written the lady that I am sending you her letter and that I am sure you will give her the best advise you have. I do not know myself, and this I told her, of Foundations to take care of students as far advanced in their professional work as this man seems to be.

I was deeply touched by the party you gave me yesterday at the Club - deeply touched and very grateful.

Affectionately yours
