Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
American Magazine,
141 - 5th Ave., N. Y.

My dear Miss Tarbell:-

Let me thank you for your very kind letter of August 13th, and assure you that I appreciate very deeply the spirit of loyalty to my father and helpfulness to us that pervades it. My sister and I have very frequently spoken of the pleasure my father had in working with you on the memoirs, and how very bitterly disappointed he was when it became known that you were to leave McClure's. The task of proof reading and general direction of publication will now devolve on my sister and me, and we have often said how much we regretted that we were no longer able to profit by your advice and assistance.

I gained the impression from McClure's that the parts of the second volume which were to be published in the magazine, had already been chosen and that there was nothing for us to do for the present but wait for the proof sheets to reach us. That part of your letter in which you speak of Mr. Turner's doing this work is therefore a surprise to me. I am very glad, indeed, to know that he has consulted you and that his choice has met with your approval. I will in the very near future arrange a meeting with Mr. Turner and discuss the matter generally with him.

I. M. T. #2.

If I am not very greatly mistaken, my sister told me sometime ago that she had written to you, but had received no answer. The fact of your embarking on a new enterprise and being no doubt greatly pressed for time, explained this fact, however. I have sent your letter to my sister and you will undoubtedly hear from her very soon.

Let me thank you for your kind thought of Mrs. Schurz and my sisters. They are all well and are very slowly beginning to accustom themselves to the great change that has been made in all our lives.

Very sincerely yours,
