CLARK H. GETTS, Inc. • WALDORF-ASTORIA HOTEL • NEW YORK CITY

December 16, 1936.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
120 East 19th Street,
New York City.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

We are delighted that you will be free to accept a few lectures during the coming season - and I am sending you our form agreement for your signature. If there are any points here you don't understand or wish to strike out, please feel perfectly free to mention them.

Perhaps we shall have an opportunity some time soon to talk about lectures and make some plans for the coming year. If you are near the Waldorf-Astoria soon, won't you drop in and have a talk with either Mr. Getts or with me?

I have just talked to Mr. Allison's office and they have promised to send me your scripts today - and as soon as they arrive I shall relay them to you.

Cordially,

Dorothy Worthington

Mr. Clark H. Getts
Waldorf-Astoria
New York

My dear Sir:

This will authorize and appoint you to act as my personal representative and manager and to negotiate for me engagements in radio and television, theatre and motion pictures, press and publications, recordings, lectures and personal appearances, endorsements and such other services of a public character as I may from time to time designate.

It is understood that you will devote yourself energetically to this work, that you will use your best efforts to obtain the most advantageous engagements and terms and to collect the earnings therefrom and that you will perform the other usual duties of manager.

You will submit to me for my approval each projected contract, verbally or by memorandum before making final acceptance thereof. Except for items marked "personal" you are hereby authorized and instructed to open mail addressed to me in your care and I shall forward to you such inquiries for engagements as I receive.

It is understood that I will assume any and all travel expenses incident to bookings made by you under this agreement and the cost of necessary press and circular materials, including photographs, mats and press books. It is also understood that if it becomes necessary for me to cancel any engagements, I will reimburse you and the local management for all expenses incurred up to the time of cancellation, unless you are able to supply a satisfactory substitute.

In consideration of these services, you are to receive 25 % of my gross earnings from these engagements

This agreement is exclusive and extends for a minimum of two years from this date and thereafter until cancelled, upon ninety days notice, by you or me.

Cordially,

Accepted:
