BIG GOLD TEAM POWERLESS AGAINST FORWARD PASSING ATTACK OF THE LUTHERANITES

Allegheny Unable to Defeat Strong Greenville Team For Second Consecutive Year

Once again Allegheny's Big Gold football team completely outplayed its opponents but victory continued its elusive flight and the Blue and Gold team was forced to accept a 6-6 tie in its game with Thiel at Greenville last Saturday. Allegheny's forward passing attack failed to work satisfactorily, but the Blue and Gold found itself in a brilliant running attack that was capable of carrying the ball consistently for substantial gains, but which went to pieces when scoring distance was attained. The Lutheran team, on the other hand, working a beautiful game of short forwards, was responsible for nearly all of the ground that they gained during the game.

One Stanley Berkman proved to be Allegheny's undoing. The Thiel captain displayed a marvelous degree of accuracy in throwing forward passes to his men, the aerial game leading directly to the Lutheran's only score, which was sufficient to knot the game. The Thiel team tried 21 forwards in the course of the game, 12 of which were completed. Berkman was on the throwing end of all of these passes. Few teams are able to compile a better average than the one which the Lutherans recorded on Saturday.

Inexperience is the sole cause of Allegheny's inability to win on Saturday. The team played heads-up ball, fought hard, and gained ground consistently, only to display its lack of experience when within the twenty-yard line. Costly mistakes in judgment were made, some of the boys became over-anxious, and ground was lost that never should have been. But the team cannot be blamed for this, nor can the coach. Seasoning and experience are necessary to produce a team that will display good judgment consistently and will play coolly under all conditions. Such a team as this is being looked for in the future, but at the present time too much cannot be expected from a freshman outfit, such as Allegheny's.

The Blue and Gold excelled their opponents in everything but forward passes, only two heaves being completed by the Merrittmen during the contest. Throughout the second half, with the exception of the last few minutes, the team relied entirely on a running attack which was successful to quite a degree. The facts of the game bear this out, for Allegheny registered 16 first downs to Thiel's 9. In the matter of yards gained, the Merrittmen totaled 249 to the Lutherans' 153. And yet, in spite of these figures, overwhelmingly in favor of Allegheny, the team had to accept a tie. Breaks again played a decisive part in the contest and they were all, with one exception, in favor of the Lutherans. A questionable decision on the part of the umpire, who ruled that an Allegheny man had interfered with a Thiel forward, led directly to the score which tied the game.

The Blue and Gold team gave promise at the start of the game of sweeping through their opponents in easy fashion. Smith kicked off to the Lutherans, who were unable to gain the necessary yardage and punted, the ball being taken by Berger on the Allegheny 31-yard line. Allegheny unleashed an offense from this point that could not be stopped and did not end until the Lutheran goal line had been crossed. On the first play Berger went back and threw a pass to Hughes that was good for 16 yards and a first down. Varano carried the ball on two successive plays, gaining a total of four yards and then Wilson Forbes slid off right tackle for 17 yards, carrying the ball to the 33-yard line. Varano hit off left tackle for seven yards, but received an injury that necessitated his removal from the game, Eighmy replacing him. Forbes made a first down in two tries. Berger went around left end for four yards and Eighmy went through the line for six. This gave the team a first down of the 3-yard line. Only one play was necessary to take the ball across, Forbes being elected to hit center and succeeding. McKay's attempt for the extra point was wide and low.

The Lutheran team was not disheartened, however, as they immediately demonstrated, for they came

LITERARY MAGAZINE IS ALMOST READY

This week the first Literary Magazine prepared by the new staff will be issued. The students who are interested in literary and journalistic work are awaiting with curiosity and hopefulness the appearance of the Lit. The staff, headed by Robert Wilson, has been working conscientiously to present a magazine which will be of artistic quality without a sacrifice of interest to the student body as a whole. To accomplish this a new cover has been designed and the editor-in-chief has allowed his associates considerable freedom, especially in the matter of suggestions, thus being more certain of having a magazine which will be popular with all of the students.

DEAN BOWIE ATTENDS HARRISBURG CONVENTION

"The Adjustment of Freshmen Girls to College" was the general theme of the convention of deans of women at Harrisburg, which Dean Adeline Bowie attended November 2 and 3. Miss Thyrsa W. Amos, Dean of Women at the University of Pittsburgh, spoke on "The Interview," stressing the importance of the first interview with freshmen girls.

At the banquet held Friday evening Mrs. Helen Taft Manning of Bryn Mawr college expressed the idea that general education for men and women should be practically the same.

Eighty-four deans of colleges, normal schools and high schools were registered. Separate meetings were held for each group, in which individual problems were discussed.

FORENSIC SEASON AT ALLEGHENY OPENS

DEBATE TEAM IS SCHEDULING MEETS FOR THE COMING ORATORICAL SEASON

Forensics at Allegheny College are once more beginning to show signs of their power on the college campus. Many programs are in the near-future and it is expected that the coming winter will witness some of the best speaking ever staged at Allegheny.

The honorary forensic fraternity, Delta Sigma Rho, started the year off with an extemporaneous speaking contest last Monday in chapel. The speeches were all based on the issues of the presidential campaign which has just been completed.

The schedule of the varsity debating team is still incomplete, but it is expected that a definite program will be made up before very long. Only one debate has been definitely arranged, that one being between Allegheny, Oberlin and Wooster. The triangular debate, such as this, was the method used with these two schools last year. That debate will be held on March 14. Negotiations are under way with Mount Union, Dickinson, Gettysburg, and Franklin and Marshall colleges to arrange debates.

Allegheny's team looks to be a strong one this year with only one member of last year's varsity squad lost by graduation. That member is A. S. Christner. Many new freshman men have shown promise as debaters and several upperclassmen have expressed a desire to try-out for the team. The fact that last year's team was considered a very strong one leads one to believe that this year's will be even stronger.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore debate will be arranged for in the near future. Freshman try-outs will be announced in the latter part of the month.

The Wakefield Oratorical contest will be held in chapel, December 6. This annual contest is for prizes awarded to the first two men. These prizes are made possible through the will of the late James H. (Sunny Jim) Wakefield, an alumnus of the college in remembrance of his grandfather, Rev. Samuel Wakefield. The first prize is $35 and the second prize is $15.

"Bookie" Plays Hot Music at Chapel Hour Last Friday

Milton Brown '31, entertained the members of the student body last Friday in chapel. Mr. Brown rendered a number of piano solos in the best jazz. His concert, he said, in an interview at the close of chapel, was meant to show just how jazz could be played without being barbarous. Mr. Brown is a well known character around school for his piano and the students welcomed his playing.

"Bookie," as he is called, started his program with an arrangement of "Somewhere a Voice is Calling." This arrangement was his own. Following that Mr. Brown played "Mississippi Mud," "That's My Weakness Now," and "Home Sweet Home."

Play Production Class Must Raise Funds This Year

Except for financial difficulties, all is well with the Little Theatre movement at Allegheny. The Play Production class, under the tutelage of Miss Alice Spalding, is rehearsing short plays for presentation in the room on the third floor of Bentley Hall which the class uses. To clear the debt left from the college play last year, a committee of about twenty is planning ways of raising funds. Before another college play can be produced, the bills will have to be paid. The success of student drama presentation at Allegheny this year depends not only on the ability and achievements of the staff, but also upon the support of the movement by the students. Without the enthusiasm and attendance of the latter, Miss Spalding's co-workers cannot hope to meet expenses on the college play.

Webster D. Melcher, '21, has been transferred from the Pittsburgh Conference, where he held a pastorate at Whitaker, to the Central New York Conference as pastor to Methodist students of the University of Syracuse. His address is University M. E. Church, Syracuse.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM CONTINUES TO WIN

ALLEGHENY HARRIERS MAKE UP FOR LOSSES RECORDED IN FOOTBALL

Tommy Gill ran wild to lead the Allegheny harriers to a decisive defeat over the Thiel cross country team last Saturday. Over a course that was none too dry Tommy turned in a remarkable time of 27:26, breaking the course record in the process. After Gill came Donnell (T), Minnis (A), Taylor (T), Needham (A), Ellis (A), Pelc (T), Dean (A), Dreibelbis (A), two Thiel men, Eastman (A), and the remaining three Thiel men. The Allegheny team thus won by the wide margin of 23:32. Coach Hammett's team chalks up another victory and takes another step in its drive for this year's championship.

The crowd at the football game was disappointed at not seeing the finish of the race, but the time had been changed to 11:00 o'clock in the morning. The race aroused a great deal of interest as was evidenced by the number of inquiries about the score that were going all over the stands before the football game.

ALLEGHENY WILL MEET POWERFUL GENEVA TEAM

GAME WILL BE PLAYED ON MONDAY NEXT AT BEAVER FALLS

Next Monday, at Beaver Falls, with the strong Geneva College outfit as their opponents, Allegheny's "tough luck" football team will attempt to demonstrate that it has the ability to come back in the face of the recent bad breaks and will make a determined effort to prove that it deserved to win several of the games that have gone against them recently. There is a general feeling that the time at last has come when the breaks of the game must favor Allegheny and if they do next Monday, Geneva will find a team opposing her that will be constantly on its toes, ready to take advantage of the breaks. Even if the breaks do not always favor the Blue and Gold, the team is going to Beaver Falls with the avowed intention of giving their rivals a real game.

The Merrittmen will have no easy job of disposing with the Covenantors. In fact they will find their opponents one of the strongest teams that they faced this year, with the exception of Pitt and Dartmouth. Geneva is favored by most critics to win the game, because of the showings which Allegheny has made to date. But regardless of pre-game dope, the Blue and Gold warriors are determined to take their rivals into camp, for in doing so they will strengthen their reputation considerably and will show that they have profited by the experience of their other games.

Last year, in the final game of the season Geneva handled the Blue and Gold team a decisive defeat on Montgomery Field. The score of the contest was 39-7, and although Allegheny lost by such a large margin, the game was one of the best that the team played all season. Geneva boasts of another strong team this year, one that succeeded in beating Duquesne and holding the powerful Bucknell team to a 6-0 score. Against Thiel the Covenantors ran up 28 points and held their opponents scoreless. Last Saturday Grove City defeated them 12-6 and completely outplayed them throughout the entire game.

The strong point of the Beaver Falls team is their forward passing attack. Against Grove City's line they were helpless and relied on their aerial game to make their gains. Allegheny showed a weakness against Thiel's forward passes, and will have to improve considerably in this department before the game. Allegheny hopes to be able to have available the full strength of the team for the game Monday, with the exception of Koeniger, who is out for the season. The dope on paper undoubtedly favors Geneva for the Armistice Day clash, but there is some dope that is not on paper, namely the determination and fight that the Blue and Gold boys are going to display on Monday.

TAU IOTA TAU HAS BIG VICTROLA DANCE

The Tau Iota Tau's held a five couple party last Friday, November 2, at the Phi Delta Theta house. The evening was spent in dancing to music furnished by an orthophonic, and Red Nichols and Paul Whiteman vied for honors. Miss Collins and Mr. Chapman chaperoned.

McGILL TAKES ANNUAL SPEAKING CONTEST OF DELTA SIGMA RHO

Representative of Delta Tau Delta Wins Handsome Silver Oratorical Trophy

Bert H. McGill, of Delta Tau Delta, won the annual Interfraternity Extemporaneous Speaking Contest sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, last Monday, November 5. Mr. McGill spoke on "Smith's stand on Prohibition." This topic was very ably presented by Mr. McGill in such a manner that the audience could scarce but feel the truth in Mr. McGill's statements. "Smith believed in temperance and in reverence for the law," said Mr. McGill during his talk. "He merely means to modify the Volstead act and amend the 18th amendment" According to Mr. McGill, Smith intends to let each state vote itself wet or dry and enforce its own laws.

The winner of the contest receives a handsome silver cup which his fraternity holds for one year. In the event that any one fraternity should win the cup three years that fraternity wins permanent possession of the trophy.

Foster Alter, representing Sigma Alpha Epsilon, spoke first on "Hoover's qualifications for the Presidency." Mr. Alter reviewed Hoover's life as an administrator and showed how he could not be held responsible for any action that the Harding cabinet took in regard to the Teapot Oil scandal.

The second speaker was Joseph Wolfe of Beta Kappa, who spoke on "Smith's qualifications for the Presidency." Mr. Wolfe said that, although he himself favored Hoover, he was in no way under-estimating Smith's advantages. He said that Smith's record as a public administrator showed him to be a man of remarkable powers and exceptional force.

Robert Bates, of Phi Kappa Psi, spoke third on the topic of "Farm Relief." Mr. Bates attempted to show that Farm Relief was one of the main points in the campaign and told what each of the two major candidates wished to do as a means of solving this difficult problem. "It is the greatest issue and should be so recognized," said Mr. Bates.

"Hoover's stand on Prohibition" was the topic assigned to Howard Platte, Alpha Chi Rho's representative. He spoke briefly on this, giving as a basis for his statements the acceptance speech of Mr. Hoover. "It would take thirty-six states to go wet in order to ratify a change in the 18th amendment," said Mr. Platte.

Mr. Donald Knapp, of Phi Gamma Delta spoke next on "Natural Resources." This covered the field of waterpower, inland waterways, and agriculture. Mr. Knapp said that these would undoubtedly be the turning points of the campaign. "The Democrats have come out flatly and firmly for government ownership of natural resources and the Republicans have not," said Mr. Knapp. He believes that government ownership is the only possible means of controlling these resources and is rather inclined to favor the Democratic party.

The final speech of the morning was given by Paul Dreibelbis of the Beta Upsilon fraternity. Mr. Dreibelbis spoke on "Tammany." He showed how, although Tammany was at one time during the past a notorious den of crooked politicians, it was no longer so due to the efforts of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, who is the Democratic candidate for the presidency. Mr. Dreibelbis said that the talk that the Republicans have stirred up was absolutely uncalled for because Tammany has ceased to be a menace to the country and to politics.

Tom Gill presented the cup to Mr. McGill at the close of the speeches, on behalf of Delta Sigma Rho. During the brief period while the judges, Dr. McClean, Dr. Woodring and Dr. Schultz, were making their decision, Ross Carey rendered on the organ the well known "Indian Love Call."

Exhibit of Graphic Arts Is Loaned To College Library

Through the courtesy of Mr. Frank La Bounty an exhibit of 50 new books and 47 panels of artistic advertisements was on view in the Library from Friday until Monday. The collections, assembled by the American Institute of Graphic Arts, were secured by Mr. La Bounty to illustrate his lecture before the Meadville Art Association on October 29 in the Art room of the City Library. The subject of his talk was "Art in Advertising."

The 50 most beautiful books of 1927 represents the finest conceptions of the publishers of America in Printing and binding. The panels, containing specimens of advertising, illustrating the new trend of commercial printing, are covered with pyralin and mounted on black backgrounds. The material, selected from a vast number of contributions, makes an exhibition suggestive, stimulating, productive of new ideas and inspiration, rather than a review or cross section of what was considered to be the best commercial printing of the year." to quote Mr. Lawrence B. Siegfried, managing editor of "Advertising and Selling" who wrote the lecture that accompanies the exhibit.

A considerable number of guests from the town have seen the exhibit in addition to members of the college community. Mr. La Bounty's generous loan of the exhibit to the College Library is greatly appreciated by all those who are interested in the graphic arts and in beautiful printing.

Dr. Wm. C. Carl Gives Recital On Chapel Organ

Dr. William C. Carl, famous organist, of New York, gave an organ recital in the chapel last Wednesday afternoon, October 31. Dr. Carl who is considered one of the best organists in the country, is the director of the choir and organist at the First Presbyterian Church of New York City and director of the famous Carl School for the organ.

The program which Doctor Carl played for the students was practically the same that he played the night before for the Thompson Organ recital at the Stone Church. Dr. Carl complimented the Allegheny students on their attentiveness. He made his well balanced program interesting as well as beautiful and demonstrated that he was an artist of some accomplishment.

The program is as follows:
Allegro from the D Minor Concerto Handel
Spring Song Friml
Fugue in B Flat Bach
Forest Music from the Opera Siegfried Wagner
March from the Ariene Symphony Gullmunt
Will-O'-The-Wisp Nevin

Frances Salisbury, '28, has accepted a position as teacher of English in the Collins Center, New York, High School.

Kaldron Staff Is Working Hard For A Better Annual

During the last week rapid strides have been made in getting the composing of the Kaldron well under way.

Editor-in-chief, John Eksey, announced that a cover design has been selected which will add greatly to the general appearance of the book this year. A picture of the entrance of Bentley Hall will adorn the cover, which will be colored in a soft blue-grey tint embossed in bronze. The words "The Kaldron" with the numerals 1929 underneath will be inscribed on the cover just below the embossing. David J. Molloy Company, of Chicago has the contract for these distinctive covers.

For the purpose of having variety no definite theme will be used for the new book. However, the idea of the Bentley Hall entrance will be carried throughout the opening section of the book. Photos of the campus have been taken by John Gregory, a sophomore of the college. Views, which have never been included in any of the previous year-books, have been secured. Some of the views will be placed on the section pages instead of in the front of the annual. Thus the beauty of the college campus will be scattered throughout the book, where it will be more noticeable to everyone.

It is planned this year to establish an exchange with many other schools. Nearly forty letters have been sent out to the various colleges asking for an exchange in copies. The purpose of the exchange is to start a library of annuals for the future year-book editors.

Fair headway has been made in the taking of individual pictures for the fraternity section of the Kaldron. The fraternity members, who have not as yet had their pictures taken, are asked to do so immediately and thus assist the staff immeasurably.

The Erie Engraving Company of Erie and the Tribune Publishing Company of Meadville have been awarded the contracts for the engraving and printing of the Kaldron for this year.

REGULAR MEETING OF PHILO-FRANKLIN IS HELD

The usual Friday afternoon meeting of the Philo-Franklin Forum was held November 2 in the Forum room in Bentley Hall. Six prospective members gave short presentations consisting of poems, stories, and talks of affairs of national interest. These six were Messrs. Dunkle, Cornwall, Garwood, Cares, Borison, and Marker. Meetings are held every Friday afternoon at four-thirty and will not be announced as heretofore. Members are expected to be present. Anyone wishing to join the club is invited to come to the meetings.

NOTICE

Will all those persons, who have not returned their Kaldron picture proofs to Wetherby's yet, please do so as soon as possible so that the staff can start making up the senior section and the fraternity groups.

OUR FINAL PLEA

Even the greatest actor cannot perform at his best if his audience is hostile or indifferent towards him. When the audience lends him its entire support, whole heartedly and freely given, something is stirred up within the man that causes him to rise to heights that he has never attained before. The confidence of friends and well-wishers spurs him to better deeds and finer performances. But if his audience watches him critically, to the extent that it is ready to pounce on him the first time that he slips the least bit or does a thing differently, the mental handicap under which the actor labors is terrific. No person can do his best if he is on trial or being scrutinized continually by persons seeking to find some opening at which a broadside of criticism may be fired. An innocent man, accused of murder, cannot be his normal self under the conditions, because of the way he is watched and suspected.

Certain people have placed Allegheny's football team on trial recently. They have adopted a critical attitude toward the players and their coach. The townspeople, more than the College students, are the ones who have howled the loudest. And criticism and complaint at this stage of the game are not going to do any good. They can do, and are doing a lot of harm. The football team, composed almost entirely of boys who have had no experience at college football before, has failed to win as many games as was expected of them, and so now certain parties open fire with their criticisms of the team and the coach. The peculiar part of the whole situation is the fact that those people who are nearest to the entire matter and have the best understanding of the situation are the ones who have the least to say. The players themselves respect their coach and trust his judgment. The students are still pulling for the team, although not as hard as they should. The season is drawing to a close and many are already terming it a failure. One more real opportunity faces the team. It is furnished by the Geneva game.

Geneva has a powerful team this year. So has Allegheny. There is material under the Blue and Gold banner this year that can administer a sound defeat to the Covenanters if—for the first time this year the breaks favor Allegheny; if—the school rallies around the team and goes the limit to support it; if—those who are criticising so loudly turn their energies toward cheering our struggling boys. A victory over Geneva sounds like an impossibility now, but it can be accomplished if we all do everything that we can to support and encourage the team. If we do our share, the boys, appreciative, will undoubtedly do their utmost to down Geneva. We can inspire them. Let's go—for this week, and be sure that we do all we can to help the team beat Geneva—worse than Grove City did!

TO OUR ADVERTISERS

The staff of The Campus wishes to apologize to those advertisers whose ads were omitted from the last issue of The Campus. Under ordinary circumstances such a thing would never have happened. Due to the large amount of material concerning Home-Coming Day there was a lack of space in our columns. In order to put in all the news concerning this event some ads were left out of the paper.

The staff feels sure that those advertisers who were not represented in our pages last week will bear with us in this matter and will feel that they have helped us out immeasurably. Moreover, we solemnly promise them that nothing of the sort shall happen again. In subsequent issues we shall endeavor to enlarge their ads to cover the delinquency of the issue of October 31.

AIR-MINDED STUDENTS

The popularity of flying has added a new prohibition to the list of "thou shalt nots" of the Wellesley College Handbook. The dean's office issued the edict that, "no student while under the jurisdiction of the college may ride in an aeroplane unless permission has been granted from the dean's office and the written consent of her parents secured."

The problem of chaperonage has not yet been settled, and is without doubt taxing the ingenuity of many a dean of women.

STUDENTS HEAR TALK ON PLANT PERSONALITY

STORY CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK'S CAMPUS DUE TO LACK OF SPACE

Here are some of the high-lights of the lecture: There are many wonderful plants in the Amazon valley, where the conditions of temperature, moisture, and soil are ideal for vegetation. The banana plant has, at the base of its leaves, groups of cells which, like human eyes, close when one approaches with a bright light. One has to use a light in that region, for the foliage overhead is so dense that noonday is darker than mid-night here. Plants have definite reasons for their various strange growths and colors. The giant cactus has prickles to protect it. Some varieties, if taken indoors, will lose their prickles, but the prickles will grow again if the plant is returned to the outdoors. This might be called the seventh sense of plants.

A college graduate must be able to face the problems of life better because of his education, for there is a great struggle in the cities between men. So is there a great struggle in the jungle between the non-human inhabitants, and the successful plant must be able to face its battles.

Another plant which makes its living in an unusual way is the fishing plant. It grows in the Amazon river and has no roots or leaves but only a cluster of yellow blossoms and a bladder on which to float. There is a fish in the Amazon which calls to its children and lets them swim into its mouth. The fishing plant imitates the call of the mother, and the minnows, thinking it is their mother, swim into the plant's mouth and are eaten.

The devil's stair has long, yellowish arms which are in constant motion, and it sends out an electric current which paralyzes any insect which lights on it. Then its tentacles reach out and eat the victim. This might be called an animal plant, for it is an example of the fact that there is no real difference between plants and animals.

Some plants, for protection, copy the colors of their surroundings, and some are armed. Some have seeds which look like scorpions. Gourds imitate barbs for protection. Some plants in South America do nothing but show their beauty. They grow in all colors, imitating moths, snakes, and insects. For instance, there is the blue-bottle butterfly orchid, which, as its name suggests, looks like a blue-bottle butterfly, which is poisonous. It is an exact copy, having legs and eyes just like the fly; no one can tell the difference. There are several unprotected plants which imitate the protected plants, such as the tiny brown bee orchid, the green lizard orchid, and other flowers which imitate the poisonous toad and the coral snake.

The size of plants depends on their surroundings. The wisteria vine which the text-books speak of is a tree in Japan. In Mexico the dogwood tree grows a hundred feet high. In California there are strawberry trees, a product, not of Luther Burbank's work, but of that of nature. They have pear-shaped berries as large as teacups.

In conclusion Mr. Dixon said that he had told only a small part of the many marvelous examples of the "personality of plants," and recommended that the students study plants for themselves to see these things which he had described.

FRESHMEN ENTERTAINED BY TWO CLASSMATES

Mr. J. Springer gave an impromptu vocal concert last Friday night at Cochran Hall during supper. He sang two humorous songs alone, and then persuaded Mr. Walker to sing a duet with him. The duet consisted of "Mississippi Mud." Walker came in strong on the hot chorus while Springer stuck to straight singing. For an encore they sang "Together." They were accompanied on the piano by Mr. Hartung.

The freshmen enjoyed this concert immensely and all hope to hear them again in the near future.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Faulkner (Margaret Chaplin), both of the class of '19, are in Cleveland since November 1, where Dr. Faulkner has his office in the Keith Building, 9400 Euclid Avenue. He is a specialist in gynecological surgery and did post graduate work in his profession last summer at John Hopkins, while Mrs. Faulkner and little son spent the summer in Union City, Pennsylvania.

On October 29, Mildred Brown, R. F. D. Meadville, was united in marriage to Mr. Lloyd Lowndes Thomas of Crafton, Pennsylvania. Miss Brown attended Allegheny from 1919 to 1921.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

New clubs grow overnight. The girls who were campused last week formed a new one known as Chi Chi and have changed it from an organization of campused women to an uplift of some sort.

Another one that has grown up on the Campus is the Delta Beta Sigma. These letters are mere substitutes for the English D. B. S., which stand for "Distinguished Bachelors Society." We are rather doubtful as to the eligibility of 99 per cent of the members. The other 1 per cent didn't come to school this year.

One of the tougher gents around the campus has become quite adept at throwing rocks and pebbles, for he claims it was one of the latter class that he used. He tossed one at a perfectly innocent squirrel last week with the result that the poor beast was knocked cold. Tough on squirrels to have to dodge the stones of bad boys.

We regret that two members of the student body have been forced to enter the various hospitals of Meadville during the past week. Fos and Harold have both had some awfully bad luck and we wish to extend our deepest sympathy to them. Harold had the tough experience to try to bite Phil Corbin's head off and broke his jaw rather badly in the attempt. Fos stubbed his toe or something. Anyway we are glad that Fos is out now and hope that Harold will soon be able to talk again and eat something more than soup.

Speaking of soup did anyone else see the sign in the quick-and-dirty in Greenville which read: ZOOP—15c? It was a funny one, no foolin'. (My we almost said, "No funnin'.")

Well, it is now a habit for students to be married we suppose. Wonder if the freshman man who left for home last week did the same thing?

This column and several ads were necessarily left out last week. Ye Editor seems to think that this little contribution isn't worth printing but he prints a lot of those editorials.

Boy, Howdy, you ought to see the new offices of our publication. We have almost the whole basement of Cochran Hall. Come up and see us sometime. We are there from six until three every night. That is unless something else turns up.

The Kaldron shares part of the offices with us and we are going to have an exchange with other schools, they say. That will provide lots of reading matter for visitors who may drop in, (if the doors are open).

Having written a lot of drivel and a lot of what the Dahtmouth students call "Stuff-and-Nonsense" we shall call it a column.

OIL CITY ALUMNUS RESIGNS PASTORATE

Dr. Louis W. Sherwin Leaves to Enter Oxford University

The many friends of Louis W. Sherwin, '08, will be interested to read the following article taken from the Oil City Derrick of October 22, in which issue Dr. Sherwin's picture appeared in connection with the story of his resignation.

"After serving for more than 13 years as pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church and as a good citizen of Oil City, Rev. Louis W. Sherwin, D. D., yesterday morning announced to his congregation his desire to be released from his pastorate that he might study at Oxford, England.

"In accordance with the policy of the Presbyterian church, a special congregational meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, October 31, at which time it will be decided by the church whether or not to concur in the pastor's request to the Presbytery of Erie to dissolve the pastoral relationship.

"Rev. Sherwin's resignation came as a complete surprise to his congregation. Church affairs have been flourishing and the relationship between pastor and congregation extremely cordial. It is planned to terminate the pastoral relationship December 31, 1928.

"At the conclusion of the present semester in the public schools, Dr. and Mrs. Sherwin, their daughter Ada, 15, a junior in high school and recently elected class secretary, and their daughter, Virginia, who observes her seventh birthday anniversary today, and is in the second grade of the Innis Street school, plan to leave Oil City and to sail for England the latter part of January.

"They will locate at Oxford, England where Dr. Sherwin will enroll as a special graduate student at Mansfield college. The children will be placed in school there. The family hopes to remain in Oxford a year or probably longer.

"Dr. Sherwin, who was born in Braddock on September 7, 1883, has been an orphan since a small boy. At the time of the death of his father 10 years later, the family lived in Homestead; the mother, who returned to Braddock with her children to live with her parents, died four years later. Having been "on his own" for so many years, in attending Oxford university, Dr. Sherwin is realizing a long cherished ambition to have some freedom for study.

"In 1900 Rev. Sherwin graduated from Braddock high school and after three years in the mills of the United Steel Corp., entered Allegheny College. He was graduated there in 1908 after earning his letter on the varsity football team and at graduation was awarded membership in the scholarship fraternity of Phi Beta Kappa. He has retained his interest in Allegheny College and for several years was a director in the Alumni Association, two years being president of that body. In 1919 his Alma Mater honored him with the degree of Doctor of Divinity and for several years he was the youngest "D. D." from the college.

"In 1912 he was graduated from Auburn Theological Seminary at Auburn, N. Y., and went from there to be assistant minister of the First Presbyterian church of Indianapolis, Ind., from which city he came to the present pastorate in 1915.

"On October 1, 1912, Rev. Sherwin was married to Miss Lorena Palm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Palm of Meadville, the pastor and his wife having met while students at Allegheny college.

"During their residence of 13 1/2 years in Oil City, both Dr. and Mrs. Sherwin have taken an active part in civic affairs as well as devoting themselves whole heartedly to the work of the church.

"Dr. Sherwin is now vice president of the Oil City Rotary club, a member of the Ministerial association and the Chamber of Commerce. He was for years one of the original directors of the community Fund Association. Mrs. Sherwin is a member of the Belles Lettres, Tuesday Musicales and Schubert clubs and is at present a director and vice president of the Oil City Y. W. C. A.

"Members of the congregation express regret that the Dr. and his family intend leaving Oil City, but rejoice that he is entering a larger field and realizing a long cherished ambition."

Rev. E. S. White, D. D., '76, has been transferred from his pastorate in Pitcairn to one in Dormont, and with his family has moved to 1245 Biltmore Avenue, Dormont, Pittsburgh. Miss Elizabeth White, '24, is convalescing after a long illness but will return to her teaching position in the Aspinwall High School after Thanksgiving.

ALLEGHENY ALUMNA MARRIED OCTOBER 24

A beautiful and impressive wedding ceremony was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. North, Conneautville, at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, October 24th, when their daughter, Miss Florence Sheehan, became the bride of Robert Scott Newton, son of Archibald of Emlenton. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Mr. Williams, pastor of the Emlenton Presbyterian Church, in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends. There were out-of-town guests from Emlenton, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Erie, Titusville, Greenville, Beaver and Coraopolis. Preceding the wedding a rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the bride's parents Tuesday evening.

For the wedding ceremony the North home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, potted ferns, palms, and autumn foliage and blossoms. To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Margaret Haldeman of Emlenton, the bridal couple took their places at the marriage altar, being attended by Miss Ellen Mary Reeve of Coraopolis as bridesmaid, and Mr. George Yates of Emlenton as best man. The ring service was used, and the bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. North.

The bride's gown was of white satin embroidered in silver, and her veil of tulle and point lace garlanded with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and orchids. Miss Reeve wore a beautiful gown of tan lace over peach satin and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Immediately following the ceremony an elaborate dinner was served at the home of the bride's aunts, the Misses Moulthrop on Jefferson Street. Later in the evening the bride and groom left for a motor trip through the Shenandoah Valley to Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, New York City and other eastern cities. After November 6 they will be at home to their many friends at Emlenton, where the groom is affiliated with the Sterling Oil Company of that city.

Mrs. Newton was graduated from Allegheny College with the Class of 1926.

The following announcement was received recently in the Alumni office: "Mrs. Ida Mary Bainter announces the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth Gay, to Dr. Carl Leonard Mulfinger, on Saturday, the twenty-ninth of September, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, Pasadena, California." Dr. and Mrs. Mulfinger are to be at home after the fifteenth of October at 922 South Catalina Street, Los Angeles. Dr. Mulfinger was graduated from Allegheny in the Class of 1915.

Agnes McMahon '15, in her capacity as Supervisor of Foreign Languages, contributed much to the success of Temple University's first summer school course in Practice Teaching, June 25 to August 3. Dr. Joseph S. Butterweck, professor of Education in Teachers' College, Temple University, was director of the experiment and found the session so well attended that the course next summer will be extended in scope. The practice teaching by the thirty-two students was done in Havertown Township High School, Miss McMahon is a teacher in Philadelphia.

CLEVELAND-ALLEGHENY CLUB MEETING HELD

The Cleveland-Allegheny Club held a delightful meeting on Friday noon, October 26, in special honor of the Allegheny teachers who were in attendance at the annual meeting of the North East Ohio Teachers' Association. Forty met in a private dining room of the Chamber of Commerce Club, in the new Union Terminal Tower Building, for luncheon and reunions with old friends and the making of new friends. In the absence of both the president and the vice-president of the Club, John W. Barkley '11, presided informally, extending greetings to the visitors, to which Rev. P. B. Schaffner '09, of New Philadelphia, made a most graceful response. Those attending from out of town included: Eva Beaver '11, of Warren; Sadie Van Hoesen '11, of Youngstown; Mrs. Edgar Kauffman (Bess Emery) '11, of Akron; Jean Frey '95, of Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Schaffner (Mabel McLean) '09 and '10, of New Philadelphia; Lillian House '18, of Conneaut; Katherine Haines '26, of Warren; and R. L. Fox '15, of Jefferson.

B. B. PICKETT, '87, DIED OCTOBER 20

On Saturday evening, October 20, Benjamin B. Pickett passed peacefully away at his home on Diamond Park, Meadville, after a lingering illness covering a period of over six months. Mr. Pickett had not been able to visit his law office on Center Street since early in June. He was the eldest son of the late Benjamin B. and Mary Clendenin Pickett, and was born in Meadville, January 15, 1865. He was graduated from the Meadville High School, and subsequently from Allegheny College in '87, where his father had been graduated in '47. He studied law in the office of his father and was admitted to the Crawford County Bar nearly forty years ago. Besides serving in various offices, Mr. Pickett also practiced in the Supreme, District and Federal Courts and was always known as an able lawyer. He maintained a lively interest in the welfare of his native city, and served as a loyal member of his church and various lodges. The many friends of the man known as Ben Pickett deeply regret his death and unite in extending sympathy to the surviving sisters, the Misses Mary E. and Lucy Pickett.

In the official final program for the Sixty-fifth Annual Session of the Kansas State Teachers Association, which is to be held at Topeka on November 8 and 9, there appears the picture of W. E. Sheffer, '12. He is Vice President Northeast Section of the Kansas State Teachers Association and will preside at most of the general sessions of the conference. His home is in Manhattan, Kansas, where he is superintendent of schools.

Howard H. Hobaugh, '26, is now in Butler, representing the Equitable Life Assurance Company. His office is in the Butler County National Bank Building, having gone there last June.

Mary Peebles '27, is teaching algebra in the Meadville High School.

Daughter of Judge Elops to Erie With Meadville Man

On the evening of October 30, Miss Fay Kent, daughter of Judge O. C. Kent, of this city, became the bride of Mr. John Chisholm, also of Meadville. The marriage was a surprise to even the families of the couple. They were married in town and eloped to Erie without stopping to be congratulated.

Mrs. Chisholm was a member of the class of 1932 and was very popular among the members of the student body. Her absence on the campus will be keenly felt. Mr. Chisholm is an alumnus of Bellefonte Preparatory school and is well known in Meadville circles. The newly married couple has found an apartment on Arch Street and will move in soon.

A very interesting letter from Fitzgerald Millward (Mrs. William Millward) '06, came to the Alumni office recently. Rev. Millward '09 and Mrs. Millward, it will be remembered, spent a number of years in China after their graduation from Allegheny College. Mr. Millward now retains his membership in the Central China Conference and therefore does not preach regularly. His wife is a local preacher in the Carnegie M. E. Church, having received a preaching license for five consecutive years. She often delivers missionary addresses on China. Mr. and Mrs. Millward have five children.

Geneva Will Be Next Opponent of Cross Country Team

Allegheny will face not only a strong football team, but also a powerful cross country team, when they invade Beaver Falls, the home of Geneva College, next Saturday.

All available reports have it that Geneva and Allegheny are very closely matched and that the meet will be a nip-and-tuck affair. Last year Allegheny succeeded in nosing Geneva out by a very close margin. Geneva, however, has made some improvement over last year, and is one of the favorites to take away the district honors this season. Proof of Geneva's strength is to be found in the manner in which they overwhelmed Grove City. Evans of Grove City was the first to finish, but the next five men in order were Geneva men, a condition precisely to that which existed when Allegheny met the Grovers. It will be extremely interesting to find out how Geneva and Allegheny compare. On the basis of this comparison it is impossible to pick a favorite. It appears that the meet will resolve itself into a battle of wits and courage.

SWIMMING TEAM WILL ORGANIZE FRIDAY P. M.

All members of the student body who are interested in the swimming team are called to attend a meeting in the trophy room of the gymnasium on Friday afternoon, November 9, at four o'clock. At this time a captain and a manager will be elected for the coming season.

Five letter men remain from last year's team. They are: B. B. Sankey, George H. Ledger, E. F. Phillips, E. C. Young and R. T. Young. These men earned their letters last year in meets held between Westminster and Allegheny. Although letters have not yet been awarded them, these men are the letter men from last year and will receive their awards during the next week. With this group as a nucleus the team should be one of the strongest in the district, for last year's squad had no difficulty defeating Westminster twice.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

Jess Hawley, Dartmouth football coach, has developed a new type of football helmet for the three members of the Green football squad who wear glasses. The helmets resemble somewhat a deep sea diver's mask and have the player's prescription eye glass lens set into them. A leather covered steel plate, shaped to fit over the nose and providing openings for the unbreakable lens, is attached to the front. The inside of the plate is designed and padded so that the force of any blow on the plate will be taken by the cheek bone plates.

An edict just issued by M. Herriot, Minister of Public Instruction, forbids hazing and practical jokes in all civil and military schools of France. According to the edict, the freshmen must be welcomed and treated as gentlemen.

Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has lately received honorary degrees from two institutions—New York University and the University of Wisconsin. At New York, Colonel Lindbergh received the degree, Master of Aeronautics. After receiving a degree, LL. D., from the University of Wisconsin, he ate waffles with some classmates. Not one of the thirty present had known him when he was a student there.

Marquette University has abolished hazing of freshmen. By imposing severe censorship upon any upperclassman indulging in further adding to the worries of the bewildered freshmen, hazing has now been entirely eliminated. Freshmen voluntarily wear their dinks, because they are proud to let the world know that they are a part of that university.

Penna. Military College bestowed the honorary degree Doctor of Laws on Charles E. Hughes, former Secretary of State last June. Dr. Hughes was an unsuccessful applicant for a teaching position forty-seven years ago at that institution.

Three enterprising co-eds of Northwestern University have applied their knowledge of psychology and English by opening a Letter Shop, where they offer to write for you that difficult letter to Dad, or "Him," or "Her," for a specified amount. Each letter is guaranteed to contain suitable sentiments, and the charge is the trifling amount back strong and unleashed an offense of their own. Thiel's short forwards commenced to function with deadly effect and soon the enemy had the ball deep in Allegheny territory. Berkman mixed the aerial game with the line thrusts and succeeded in going through tackle on one occasion for the prettiest gain of the day, 21 yards. This took the ball to the Allegheny 12-yard stripe, where the first quarter ended. As the second period opened, the ball was advanced to the 4-yard marker through the medium of line plays by Schilling. The Blue and Gold line proved itself capable, however, the Lutherans losing the ball. Eighth's punt carried to the 31-yard line, where Mitchell fumbled and Smith recovered for Allegheny. Another Allegheny punt gave Thiel the ball on their own 35-yard line, and from this point the Greenville outfit opened up with its attack that resulted in a score. Forward passes were the outstanding feature of the offense, with Thiel being aided considerably by the umpire's decision that an Allegheny man had interfered with one of the passes. A fifteen yard pass, Berkman to Framp-ton, ended the attack, the Thiel end going over the line unmolested. The pass from center on the attempt for the extra point was bad and the score was tied.

In the second half Allegheny came back strong and several times had the ball within scoring distance. Once the pigskin rested on the 14-yard line, and another time the offense ended within six yards of the goal. The Blue and Gold team had taken the ball to the 4-yard line and had two plays left to take it over. On the next play there was a hawl up in calling the signals and Smith passed the ball before the team was set. Three yards were lost by this confusion and on the fourth play Eighth hit the line, but only picked up a single yard. Late in the game Thiel attempted another series of passes, but this time they were all wild and no damage resulted.

The work of Beals and Storrer on the line was pleasing, and Smith assumed his job as snapperback in a satisfactory manner. Herb Eighth deserves a lot of credit for his part in the game, the big halfback carrying the ball more often than any of the other backfield men, and always succeeding in gaining. No serious injuries occurred to the team in the game.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN FORMED BY STUDENTS

Announcement comes from the executive committee of the Deutscher Verein, the German Club, about the plans for the year. The club has united with the National Federation of German clubs and will use some of the material sent out by this organization. The aim of the club is to give actual experience in the speaking of German, and anyone who speaks German is invited to become a member. The first program meeting, announced for November 20, is to be a Schubert meeting. A paper on the composer's life and selections from his musical works will make up the program. Miss Anna Schafheitlin and Miss Erika Meyer have done much to organize the club. The following officers have been elected:

President, Ralph Goodrich.
Vice President, Naomi Taylor.
Secretary-Treas., Fred Holmes.
Historian, Phyllis Connell.

Hannah M. Quinn '15, a graduate nurse of Johns Hopkins, is located in Baltimore with headquarters at the Johns Hopkins Nurses Home on North Avenue.

Columbia University has begun its 175th academic year with more than 21,000 students registered, according to an estimate made by the Registrar.

Swathmore College opened its 60th year with 65 faculty members for 545 students. This is an average of one faculty member for each 8.3 students.

Coach Hammett Addresses Rotary Club in Warren

At the regular meeting of the Rotary Club of Warren, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday, October 30, Professor Charles E. Hammett in his interesting address related the experiences that he had gained in his thirty-five years of athletic endeavor, and told many of the episodes that had taken place during the time that he was a physical director in some of the schools in the eastern part of the United States. The fact was brought out strongly that athletic competition is a most valuable part of the training of the American youth for only in this way is he able to grow into the strong and useful man that is in such a demand throughout the world at the present time. The speaker complimented the American sports system, stating that it is one of the most efficient systems in the world today, and is so universally recognized as such that Germany has adopted the same methods as used throughout the great colleges of America.

BAND TRAVELS TO GREENVILLE BY BUS

The Allegheny College band played for the Halloween parade on Chestnut Street last Wednesday and thereby earned enough money to charter a bus to take them to the game in Greenville. The leader, James Meadowcroft, and John Burn, manager, are responsible for this.

The fact that Allegheny had a band to represent them and that Thiel had none is one evidence that the spirit of a newer and bigger Allegheny has reached our band as well as the other members of the student body.

"ON THE BOOKSHELF"

Many new books have recently been added to the Library. Among the outstanding ones are "Columbus" by Marcus Andre. In this book many of the legends concerning Columbus have been proven to be false. The "Skull of Swift" by Shane Leslie and Lawrence, and the "Arabian Adventure" by Robert Graves are two more of the more important novels.

There are in this group of new books two that should especially interest Allegheny students. One of these was written by a minister and the other by a teacher.

"The Land I Live In" is a book of poetry written by Rev. Robert Freeman, pastor of Pasadena Presbyterian Church, Pasadena, California. Rev. Freeman is one of the leading clergymen in America and one of the highest paid on the western coast. While he was attending Allegheny he was very prominent in debate and athletics. In his book Rev. Freeman has written poetry for every occasion. Any lover of poetry should get real pleasure from reading this book.

The other book is "The Story of Chemistry" by Floyd L. Darrow, who is also an alumnus of Allegheny College. Mr. Darrow at the present time is professor of Chemistry at Ashville, New York. He has written several other books on this subject and is an authority. Mr. Darrow is to give a series of discussions on "Keeping Up with Chemical Discoveries" at the Chataqua Institution, Chataqua, New York, this summer. He will discuss his new book at that time.

"The Story of Chemistry" touches all phases of chemistry and is so written that it can be easily read. It touches upon the relation of chemistry to industry, such as agriculture, and shows the part it plays in war.

This and That

A RECORD BREAKER

Tommy Gill stepped into the select class of record breakers last Saturday morning in the cross country meet with Thiel when he crossed the finish line in Greenville ahead of the field. Tommy lowered the course record at the Lutheran school to a little over 27 minutes for the five and a half mile course. Two years ago the winners in the Allegheny-Thiel meet, two Blue and Gold runners, established a course record, and now, Gill cuts the time again. Tommy deserves a lot of credit for he is one of the hardest workers on the team.

ONE TO GO

The cross country team has only one more meet to win and then another championship will be theirs. Geneva is the last stumbling block. If all goes well, the Blue and Gold runners should win this meet and carry off the Tri-state honors for the second time in two years. Something should be done for the team. The boys have established quite a reputation for themselves and the school in the sport and they deserve a good deal of recognition from the students. Why not send them to one of the big meets or at least give them some special emblem of some kind?

THE MUD

Although there had been quite a good deal of rain previous to the game Saturday, the Thiel field was in fairly good condition, except for a stretch of some twenty yards between the forty-yard lines. Throughout the last half it seemed as if Allegheny played most of the time in this soup. The boys would punt from the mud, then hold Thiel and receive the kick back in the mud again, and the process would be repeated.

GENEVA-GROVE CITY

Grove City continued its victorious stride last Saturday at the expense of Geneva. It seems as though the Geneva outfit had as much trouble disposing of the Grovers as Allegheny had. Regardless of pre-game dope, which favored Geneva, the Crimson team upset matters and walked off the field with a victory. Next Monday our boys tackle Geneva at Beaver Falls. A close battle is anticipated and if the Blue and Gold should succeed in winning, it would do a lot to wipe out the memory of several of the heart-breaking games of recent date.
