

New York Tribune

First to Last - the Truth: No Copyright Advertisements.

September 14, 1917

Miss Ida M. Tarbell
Johns Hopkins Hospital
Baltimore, Maryland

My dear Miss Tarbell:

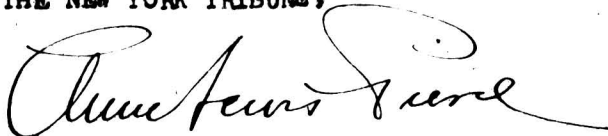

Mrs. MacDonald has showed me your letter to her. May I say how sorry we are that so much has fallen upon you at once and how little we wonder that you need a fortnight's rest. Surely you do not need to apologize. It is a wonder that you are able to tell the tale at all.

I only want to say that the articles were just what we expected them to be and that is saying a great deal. They have sold very well for syndicate material at this time, when there is such a surplus of excellent free articles. Thirteen papers all over the country will carry your three messages with the Hill cartoons, and we feel that we are doing a public service in setting them free. The cartoons are not all our fancy painted, but we think they are fairly good.

Do be good to yourself and take even three weeks if necessary, for there is a long pull before us all, I fear.

Most cordially,

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE,

Director, The Tribune Institute

ALP-JG

P.S. If you have forgotten me, I met you at Miss Evans' Red Cross luncheon at the Army and Navy Club, and also at the Pen and Brush, when you spoke Sunday afternoon two or three months ago.

