OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT,

New Haven May 24, 1895.
ST. PAUL, MINN.,

Dear Miss Tarbell:—

Next Wednesday a.m.

I shall reach New York City—Waldorf Hotel. It occurred to me that you might have business in New York and if so, I might hope to have the pleasure of seeing you. It would be a great pleasure.

Senator C. K. Lewis of Minnesota who is one of the best Napoleonic scholars in America said to me that your work in McClure ranked among the very best of the year. What do you say to that? I met Mr. McClure in New York yesterday and told him about it—and what do you think of that? If you can't come, write to me—

Yours friend

Samuel G. Smith
