ALLEGHENY DEFEATS BUCKNELL

Blue and Gold Team Surprises Class A Aggregation by 10-7 Victory

SCORE 11 FIRST DOWNS TO OPPONENT'S 7

Allegheny's football team ended the greatest season in its history in a blaze of glory on Saturday by handing the crack Bucknell eleven a bitter 10-7 defeat on its own field at Lewisburg.

This win completely upset the figures of the expert dopesters who handed the contest to Bucknell without a struggle. And why not? That team had beaten such teams as Georgetown, had tied Lehigh, winners over Tech, and had met reverses at the hands of but two elvans this season. These two victors were Yale and Pitt, and even against the former, the Lewisburg huskies were able to shove over a pair of six-pointers.

However, Coach McCracken's squad made entirely different arrangements, and from the first minute of play the Blue and Gold scrappers proceeded to carry out these arrangements in such a thorough-going manner as to put grief into the hearts of Bucknell's powerful machine and its supporters, who had come out to witness another Bucknell victory.

Allegheny completely smothered the opposition in the initial quarter and carried off the majority of the honors in the final period. In the third quarter the ball saw-sawed back and forth in the middle of the field, neither team seeming to have any appreciable advantage, and it was only in the second period that Bucknell showed sufficient offensive to gain ground consistently. The vaunted running attack of the Easterners was a complete fizzle because of the sure, savage tackling of the Blue and Gold forwards, who broke through time after time and brought down the runner behind his own scrimmage line. Early in the game Bucknell realized this fact and changed their method of attack, storming the Allegheny bulwarks with continuous passes. Five of these were completed out of the twenty-one attempted and the one which resulted in their lone counter went for eleven yards, the greatest gain which either team was able to make.

As for Allegheny, she relied almost wholly upon line plays and short end runs, steadily plugging away at Bucknell's forwards defense for gains varying from two to nine yards. Less than half a dozen passes were attempted, and of these but one was completed. The McCrackenites were much more successful in this style of play than were their opponents in their aerial attack, as can easily be seen from the fact that they registered a total of eleven first downs while the losers were experiencing considerable difficulty in garnering seven.

Spurred on by the cheers of a little group of Blue and Gold supporters who outyelled the entire Bucknell stands, Allegheny knocked down two attempted passes and forced Buck-

WOMEN GIVE EXHIBIT IN PHYSICAL CULTURE

INTERPRETIVE DANCING AND CORRECTIVE GYMNASTICS FORM PROGRAM AT HALL

In spite of the fact that the girls' physical training classes have been conducted only a few weeks, Miss Elizabeth Ling, instructor, held a demonstration before the faculty ladies Thursday afternoon in the Hulings Hall gymnasium. The first part of the program consisted of several interpretive dances given by the dancing classes. The Sophomores presented a Dutch folk dance, and the Freshmen a dance entitled "Old King Cole." The second part of the program was furnished by the girls taking corrective gymnastics. The typical class marches and exercises were given while Miss Ling explained the particular purposes and values of each exercise. Both these parts were presented for the purpose of showing the guests just what kind of work the physical training classes were doing, and what progress each department was making. To close the hour, an exciting game of baseball was played by the Sophomore and Freshman teams, in which the Freshmen won by a score of 12-4.

DR. R. E. LEE ELECTED TO NEW CITY BOARD

COUNCIL ELECTS FACULTY MEMBER TO NEW CITY PLANNING COMMISSION

Dr. R. E. Lee has been elected by the city council as a member of the new City Planning Commission, a department of the municipal government which has been recently created by an act of the State Legislature. The Commission will regulate and standardize all building programs, will have charge of the laying out of public parks and the erection of public buildings, as well as drafting plans for the future expansion of the city and street construction. The authority vested in the Commission for the advancement of civic welfare is large, and the election of Dr. Lee to this important body is not only a merited tribute to his ability and public-spiritedness, but is also a fine recognition of the importance of Allegheny College to Meadville. Dr. Lee, E. P. Cullum, F. M. Graff, P. H. Utech, and Earl McGill constitute the new board which will be sworn into office within a few days.

COACH MCCRACKEN URGES ALL-AROUND DEVELOPMENT

Y. M. C. A. ENTHUSIAST HOLDS CHRIST AS AN EXAMPLE BEFORE LOCAL ASSOCIATION

Coach Herb McCracken, who has been actively engaged in Association work in past years, addressed the Y. M. C. A. meeting in Cochran Hall last Wednesday evening. Taking the Bible verse, "And the child grew in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man," as his theme, the Coach said that growth along such lines will lead to the development of an all-around broad man. Growing in wisdom is of great interest to us because we have come to Allegheny primarily for an education. The speaker urged that the students ask themselves if they were satisfied with the progress they were making in college. "Are you getting only a fraction of what you should get out of college? Is your goal one that is close at hand, or have you set for yourself a goal which requires effort and time to reach and which is worth having after it has been reached?"

Growth in wisdom and growth in body are closely associated because health and wisdom taken separately are not worth very much. Spiritual growth is too often neglected by college men. Jesus grew not only mentally and physically but also spiritually.

Friendship is essential to social development. We are all aiming for the same goal and are living and learning together; so why not help each other while we are on our way? We are all similar human beings and should think of others and try to help them.

Jesus Christ should be the example for us to follow in moulding our lives. In conclusion Herb declared that "as we mold our own lives, we should think of that verse, 'And the child grew in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man.'"

A special musical number consisted of a solo by Cyril B. Hartman. Dr. C. F. Ross offered a closing prayer.

PROFANITY IS SUBJECT OF SUNDAY DISCUSSION

PRESIDENT FRED W. HIXSON ADDRESSES STUDENT BIBLE CLASSES

Under the leadership of Dr. C. F. Littell, the College Men's Bible Class discussed the question of "Profanity" last Sunday at the Stone Church. Prior to the regular meeting, President Fred W. Hixson addressed the combined men's and women's classes on the subject, "The Missionary Spirit of the Church."

President Hixson declared many people visualize the missionary spirit as being a solitary individual, setting up the Christian teachings in distant lands. No idea could be more false, for the true missionary spirit is revealed, not merely in those who teach Christianity in foreign fields, but in every movement which promotes the welfare of the public. For example, any person, regardless of occupation, may carry out this great spirit through his business or profession. President Hixson closed his address by maintaining that we who are in college are carrying out this missionary spirit if we only promote the good of our fellow students.

Regarding the subject of profanity, Dr. Littell gave several quotations from the Bible prohibiting its use because it is sacrilegious and disrespectful to God. In the study of all primitive people, it has been discovered that the deities were held in such reverence as to prohibit their names being spoken or written in any way.

A profane person is either cased up in himself so that he does not care, or he does not appreciate what God has done for him. Lack of reverence makes fertile soil for the formation of evil habits.

Dr. Littell closed by stating that the reckless use of oaths or the name of God is an index to the condition of the heart and a manifestation of the spirit of disrespect to the Creator.

Because of the Thanksgiving holidays, there will be no meeting of the class next Sunday.

SEND OFF AND RECEPTION FOR TEAM IS CREDIT TO OLD ALLEGHE

Allegheny's gridiron heroes received a rousing send-off as they departed for Lewisburg Thursday, and they were accorded a doubly enthusiastic reception by the students and townspeople when they returned the following Sunday from their notable victory over the Bucknell eleven.

Led in cheers by assistant cheerleader Dicky Davis, the whole student body worked itself into a high pitch of enthusiasm as it begged the team to beat Bucknell, as the train pulled out of Meadville last Thursday night.

The reception accorded the team as it returned Sunday afternoon was still more lively. A crowd of over three hundred students and Meadville rooters thronged the platform of the Erie station as the 3:17 train steamed in. When the returning conquerors stepped from the coaches, their bags were seized by the waiting students, and a mighty cheer went up in praise of Saturday's victory. An impromptu parade was organized under the leadership of Dicky Davis. The line marched through the downtown section, stopping at street corners to give vent to the exuberance of the marchers' spirits.

ALL INDIVIDUAL PICTURES FOR ANNUAL MUST BE READY BY DECEMBER 10

At a class meeting held immediately after chapel exercises, Tuesday, Nov. 20, the Senior Class chose Miss Helen Robinson as its historian for the Kaldron. Miss Grace Hildebrand was elected historian of the Junior Class, at a meeting of that body held in Ford Chapel the following day.

Faculty pictures are coming in slowly, and the staff requests that they be taken as soon as possible. All pictures for the Kaldron must be in by Monday, December 10.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

The President of our Nation, following a time-honored custom, has called us to observe the annual day of thanksgiving. There are special reasons for a grateful thanksgiving in America this year. The lot of our people, in contrast to the turmoil and want which trouble other nations, should give us reverent pause at this time.

Likewise this year our college may find abundant cause for devout thanksgiving. The healthy-mindedness of our community, the good will, spirit of achievement, the loyalty to high standards, the pleasant intercollegiate relations, the increasing interest of generous benefactors of the College, move me to urge that all members of the College shall join in grateful thanks to God on the day of national thanksgiving, and that we shall lend the influence of our example to keep alive this American custom.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 4, SET AS DATE FOR ANNUAL UNDER- CLASS FORENSIC

Inasmuch as many students interested in the annual Sophomore-Freshman debate, including members of the teams, were absent to attend the Bucknell game, the contest, which was scheduled for last Friday, has been postponed until Tuesday, Dec. 4. Considerable interest in the event is shown this year. The second year team is practically the same team that defeated the Sophomores last year, the personnel being as follows: G. M. Fitzpatrick, A. H. Bartlett, and E. J. Schuers. The Freshman team was picked by a series of try-outs in which twenty men competed for places. The following men were finally chosen: C. F. Avey, R. L. Cain, R. C. Corbett, and R. E. Allen, alternate.

Last year's contest was reputed to be the best that had been held between the two lower classes for several years. The coming event promises to be just as good or better. The fact that so many Freshmen evinced interest in the contest indicates good material for coming teams and an increased interest in debating.

An innovation this year will be the intercollegiate debate for the Freshman team with the Freshmen of Penn State. This expansion will do much to further forensic activities in the college.

The subject, which is the same one which the varsity teams will use, is: "Resolved, That the United States Should Enter the League of Nations."

NEW YORK EDUCATOR SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

MR. B. A. HEYDRICK COMMENTS ON AMERICANIZATION PROBLEMS OF METROPOLIS

Mr. Benjamin A. Heydrick, class of '93, spoke at the Chapel services Thursday morning, November 22. His talk concerned the immigration problem in New York City.

Mr. Heydrick is head of the English Department of the High School of Commerce in New York. He is in a position to observe the foreign population of the city because of his connection with the schools. Mr. Heydrick said that in one high school within the Jewish section of the East Side there are four thousand pupils of whom only one has American-born parents. This is not an extreme case, either; a similar situation prevails throughout the city.

The speaker closed his short, informal talk by saying that New York presents a vast field for Americanization and Allegheny graduates are invited to take up this great and useful work.

Mr. Heydrick, who was editor of the Campus thirty years ago, wears the key of Phi Beta Kappa.

Prof. Lee D. McClean, who has been suffering from a physical breakdown since last spring, is recovering and will probably be downstairs for Thanksgiving dinner.

PRESIDENT DECLARES WEDNESDAY HOLIDAY

THANKSGIVING RECESS LENGTH- ENED AS CELEBRATION FOR BUCKNELL VICTORY

In addition to the regular Thanksgiving holidays, extending from Thursday, November 29, until Monday, December 3, there will be an extra day of vacation, tomorrow, November 28, to celebrate the victory of Allegheny's fighting football team over Bucknell last Saturday.

Almost immediately upon hearing of the victory President Fred W. Hixson determined to grant a holiday. At first he thought that Monday, November 25, would be the best time, but upon further consideration, the President fixed Wednesday as a better day inasmuch as having that day free would give an extra day at Thanksgiving and would give students the opportunity to have one day longer at home.

WAKEFIELD CONTEST IS ARRANGED FOR DEC. 6

VARSITY DEBATE TRIALS SCHED- ULED FOR FIRST WEEK IN DECEMBER

With the prospect of five or six contestants, the success of the Wakefield Oratorical Contest to be held on Thursday evening, December 6, is assured. The debate trials to determine the members of this year's varsity team will also be held the first week of December.

The Wakefield Oratorical Contest was instituted at Allegheny fifteen years ago when Mr. James A. Wakefield of Pittsburgh offered the annual prize of fifty dollars in the name of his grandfather, the Reverend Samuel Wakefield, D. D. Two prominent winners of the contest are Robert Freeman and William Stidger. Last year the prize was won by John H. Bozic, speaking on the subject, "Principle Versus Policy." As an added incentive to the competition the winner is given the honor of representing Allegheny in the Intercollegiate Civic League Oratorical Contest which meets this year at Colgate in May.

The semi-final trials for varsity debate are scheduled for the first week of December, and it is expected that nearly twenty-five men will compete. The finals will be held the following week. All the competitors will have an equal chance, for the varsity men of last year will not be reinstated unless they earn their places through competition. Their only advantage will be experience.

If the present plans are followed, Allegheny's forensic activities will be completed before the Easter vacation. Definite word has been received to the effect that Oberlin College will take the place of Washington and Jefferson on this year's schedule.

The subject of the debate is "Resolved, That the United States Should Enter the League of Nations." A limiting clause however, has been imposed on the negative side prohibiting them from offering any counter plan. They are required to limit their arguments to the League itself.

LOYAL ALLEGHENIANS MAKE BUCKNELL TRIP

DARING MOTORISTS AND HIKERS ENDURE HARDSHIPS OF HAZ- ARDOUS JOURNEY

Although a trip to Lewisburg, Pa., to see a football game, entailed a five hundred mile journey, one hundred of Allegheny's most loyal supporters saw the big Bucknell eleven go down to defeat. A full account of the disasters met by the various groups who travelled by automobiles or parts of automobiles would fill a great volume.

Six or eight carloads left Meadville, Friday, and prior to that time several smaller and harder groups had set out in an attempt to get to Lewisburg through the kindness of motorists, or if need be, through the use of man's first methods of locomotion. Some of the hikers were successful; others were forced to turn back.

However the vast majority reached Lewisburg in time for the game. This number reached the lush -stax number was increased by the addition of several alumni from New York and Pittsburgh who made the ties. The tragic part of the entire trip must be inserted here. Several of Allegheny's most noted and respected alumni and students arrived too late for the game.

All of the various parties left the scene of the well-earned victory by early Sunday morning and pursued their weary but triumphant way to Meadville. According to some reports, some of the wayfarers secured transportation home by one of the public utilities through an arrangement in which the coin of the realm and a dark person from the South figured prominently.

Troubles are troubles, and forty dollar Fords are dangerous propositions, but every one that made the journey was of the opinion that the trip was worth it—and much more.

THANKSGIVING RECESS BEGINS TONIGHT

Because Thanksgiving recess begins with the close of classes today, the Campus is being issued a day earlier than usual. The next issue, that of December 5, will be devoted almost entirely to a review and summary of our remarkable football season.

FOOTBALL BANQUET ON DECEMBER 7

Plans are already being made for Allegheny's greatest Football Banquet. The date is set for December 7.

WE BEAT BUCKNELL

Paragraphs could be written in this column concerning our great victory of last Saturday, but paragraphs are unnecessary. To win a game over a Class A outfit is an achievement which needs no words to enhance it. Words would only fail of their purpose. We KNOW why we won. We know the kind of spirit which made the game ours. It is a lesson in clean sportsmanship which will leave a lasting page in collegiate football history. How can we better summarize the wonderful piece of work done by Coach Herb's men than to quote the words of Coach Hammett: "It was the greatest football game I have ever seen an Allegheny team play."

AGAINST SMOKING ON THE CAMPUS

One of Allegheny's long-standing traditions is that there shall be no smoking on the campus. Violation of this tradition is becoming altogether too general. We have pledged ourselves "to strive constantly to uphold it (Allegheny's) traditions and honor." Our great body of alumni have a right to expect us to maintain the tradition which has for so long been a part of the Old College. However, it should not be a matter of duty. We are a part of Allegheny, and her traditions are just as precious to us as to the most loyal Alumnus. Smoking must not be tolerated on any part of our campus.

OUR POLICIES

As the third editorial in the series dealing with our policies, we present: III. Log-Rolling.

Little good can come from a college paper whose interests are compromised, whose freedom of expression is shackled by agreements. A paper thus entangled cannot give its readers the news without bias and without color. The Campus has no reason to ask obligating favors from any faculty member or student in the College. It is an independent paper which is trying its best to be truly representative of Allegheny as a whole. It can state its news impartially without fear or restraint. It has no logs to roll.

But, again, there is nothing more hopeless than a college paper that closes its mind to all suggestions. There are some matters in which the Campus needs the advice of those who are in a position to see a situation as no editor can, regardless of how zealous he may be. It is the height of presumption for anyone in this day to set himself up as a know-all. And so, in order that its news may serve the best interest of the College as a unit, the Campus esteems the advice and co-operation of those who are in a position to give it. There is nothing in common between constructive co-operation and log-rolling. We seek co-operation, but we roll no logs.

THE RETICENT STUDENT

Reticence is at once a virtue and a vice. To be a little backward about voicing an opinion is sometimes commendable. Opinions are arbitrary things at best, and to add one's wall to a chorus of I-think so's is merely wasting time and breath.

Undue modesty robs the student of a social life which is indispensable to a true education. It relegates him to listeners' row in the classroom. It gives him a morosely subjective instead of a happily objective aspect of University life.

The reticent student lives unto himself. He feels infinitesimally unimportant in this young city of 3500 population. The hurrying, indifferent crowds of upperclassmen; the brusque, business-like manner of the professors; the lonesome evenings; all tend to have an undesirable effect on the secretive student.

The solution or the problem devolves upon the student himself, since the Hill is, generally, too busy with its own interests to draw him out of his shell. His success here in making a place for himself among the students may be a gauge of the success he will attain later in life.—The University Daily Kansan.

WHY CRITICIZE?

It's not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the door of deers could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again and again because there is no effort without errors and shortcomings; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.—Theodore Roosevelt.

WEST VIRGINIA HAS NEW METHOD OF CENSURING FRESHMEN

West Virginia University has found a new method of dealing with the conduct of its Freshmen. In place of the "Vigilance Committee," a secret tribunal, which has heretofore directed its attention to Freshmen activities, a Trial Board has been established. The new method provides that all Freshmen charged with violation of campus rules, will have a formal trial and the privilege of asking the Faculty Committee to sit as an Advisory Committee. The Sophs may carry out the decisions of the court, which must be approved by the president of the University.

EARTHQUAKE IN JAPAN CAUSES UNTOLD DAMAGE

FRED D. GEALY, '16, WRITES CONCERNING DEPLORABLE CONDITIONS IN THE ORIENT

Prof. Arthur S. Emig has recently received a letter from the Rev. Fred D. Gealy, '16, who sailed for Japan just before the great earthquake and fire in that country. The Rev. Mr. Gealy tells something of the deplorable conditions now existing. Portions of the letter read as follows.

"We were having such a delightful voyage across the Pacific. It was almost perfect weather and sea. The day at Honolulu was so interesting amid tropical fruits and flowers until the tragic news of the earthquake and fire came. After that, time did not seem to move. There were many Japanese on board our vessel, and many of them had families at Tokyo or Yokohama. We were six days on board, and these people went all that time without knowing whether their families were living or dead. It was nerve-racking. And yet they were marvelously patient and calm. It gave us a new respect and admiration for the Japanese. . . . We arrived in Yokohama harbor September 7. It was impossible for our vessel to dock; so we anchored in the harbor from where we could see the smoking, burning city. During the two days we remained in the harbor, 2800 Japanese refugees were loaded upon our boat. They piled them everywhere, just as thick as they could load them on the decks. Most of them were unloaded at the harbor of Shimizu, a six hour ride from Yokohama."

Mr. Gealy goes on to tell of the trip of the party around the west coast, through the mountains and finally to Tokyo. Of conditions there he says: "Our buildings are largely destroyed. These fine brick buildings are cracked from end to end, and many of them are completely down. Everything is in a distressingly unsettled state. Because of the loss of homes in Yokohama, there will be a crowded compound this year, and we will probably have to live in with some other family."

"The mission has been of untold service in relief. The ladies have charge of sewing and knitting for the refugees, and the compound has been a haven of refuge. We are sharing our clothing and other things with the Japanese pastors who have been completely burned out. There were eleven of our pastors who lost everything they had. With the oncoming winter there will be much suffering. Those who were in the fire suffered such complete loss that they have nothing left to begin on."

"It is estimated that our church lost property to the value of $700,000. It will require $500,000 to rebuild our own institution at Aoyama. Imagine Allegheny with her buildings all cracked and toppling."

"The Japanese have greatly appreciated the aid which America has sent. It has certainly been fine. I am sure that the sympathy will help to destroy the feeling of enmity between the countries."

CAMPUS FILINGS

Collected from the files of the Campus of the younger Allegheny.

January, 1877
Bouncing, or the "up and down process" as President Bugbee terms it, is a favorite pastime among the students at the present time. If a student takes a prize, he has to be bounced, and if he fails to take a prize for which he competes, he is bounced also. On the evening of the Declaration Contest every student who was so unfortunate as to accompany a lady home was bounced on his arrival at the Hall (Old Culver Hall) and, as they kept coming in until early morning, the Hall resounded almost continually with the shouts of nocturnal bouncers. On the way to Pittsburgh at the close of the term, every student on arriving at his point of destination was led out of the car and hoisted up on high, the conductor delaying the train until the process was finished. But bouncing has had its day, and some more diabolic pastime will doubtless spring up to take its place.

Ann Eliza Young, the nineteenth wife of Brigham Young told the story of her life at the Opera House on Monday evening to an audience of sixty-five.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT AT 23

Charles E. Whittle, president of Ogden College, in Kentucky, is but 23 years of age. The "boy president" was thirteen years old before he saw a railroad and at nineteen was a graduate of Yale.

"CHRISTIAN STUDENT" CONTAINS ARTICLE ABOUT FREDERICK PALMER

In the August, 1923, number of the Christian Student appeared the following article concerning one of Allegheny's prominent alumni.

"Lieutenant-Colonel Frederick Palmer, noted war correspondent and writer, has received the Distinguished Service Medal from the War Department, 'in recognition of his outstanding skill as an observed, his untiring energy and devotion to duty, which contributed markedly to the successful operations of the American Expeditionary Forces.'"

"Col. Palmer has been mixed up in some war or other ever since his graduation from Allegheny College in 1893. He was among those present at the Greek war in 1897, and the Philippines in 1900. He covered the Macedonian Insurrection in 1909 and was with the first Japanese army in 1904 and observed the Turkish revolution in 1909, and the Balkan war in 1912."

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS

Interesting and varied books are to be found on the "New Books" table at the left of the librarian's counter.

Two faculty members are represented in the new book list. They are Doctor F. G. Henke's "The Philosophy of Wang Yang-Ming" and "How to Be an Athlete," by Coach C. E. Hammett and Lundgren.

The "Epochs of Chinese and Japanese Art" in two volumes was written by Ernest F. Fenollosa. They have been added to the Library within the past week and are well worth reading by anyone with the slightest interest in art. These volumes give a very comprehensive idea of the art of oriental peoples from the time that their civilization was the highest type to the present time. Over two hundred illustrations, some of which are in color add charm to the books.

The Italian Society of Meadville has generously donated some books printed in the Italian language. These books are especially interesting and useful to those who are studying Italian.

ITINERANT HARMONICA PLAYER VISITS COLLEGE DURING PAST WEEK

Alleghenians at Cochran Hill, Hulings Hall, and the different fraternity houses were entertained on Wednesday and Thursday of last week by Alfred Snell of New York State, a traveling harmonica player.

Professor Snell, as he calls himself, appeared to be quite an accomplished artist with the mouth organ, and the tunes he played were well received by the College students. According to Professor Snell he gains his livelihood from his playing and has appeared before students at Allegheny, Penn State, Bucknell, Grove City, Thiel, and many other colleges.

MARGARET MORRISON DECIDES AGAINST SORORITIES

There will be no sororities in Margaret Morrison. The question as to whether Margaret Morrison should have sororities caused much agitation last spring and was finally decided in the negative at a meeting of the senate.

It will be remembered that part of the votes that were taken last June were burned as waste paper by the janitor, but it was found that the number lost in this manner could not materially influence the decision. There were about fifteen more votes cast against sororities than were cast for sororities, and the senate decided that a new vote would be unnecessary, inasmuch as sororities could not receive the proper support in a school where opinion was almost evenly divided.

STUDENTS' CHEER TEAM

son, as well as at Hulings Hall. As a response to repeated calls of "Speech," Dr. Lee paid a tribute both to the victorious team and to the student spirit. Coach Hammett, when called upon to make a few remarks, told of the first part of the game when Allegheny made her winning points.

When the parade halted at the home of President Hixson, he announced that there would be a holiday on Wednesday to celebrate Allegheny's football achievements of the season. As the line started across the campus, a halt was made at Hulings Hall. When Miss Spalding made her appearance, she too was called upon for a speech. She expressed her intense delight in the victory and commented most favorably on the fine spirit shown by the students. At Bentley Hall the parade broke ranks, and the marchers gathered about the main steps to give a few last cheers and to hear speeches from Captain Hubert Morley and Manager R. P. Eaton. After a grand "Yea, team," the students dispersed.

SON OF FORMER ENGLISH ASSISTANT RECEIVES HARVARD SCHOLARSHIP

It is of interest to the friends of Professor and Mrs. Lemuel C. Brown, 11810 Kelton avenue N. E., to know that their son, Charles, has been chosen by the Cleveland Harvard Club to receive a scholarship for Harvard University. Professor Brown, who was formerly an assistant in the department of English of Allegheny College, is now professor of English at the Cleveland School of Education.

UNIVERSITY HAS FLUNK INSURANCE FOR STUDENTS

A student "insurance" company has made its appearance on the campus of the University of Kansas, issuing a policy which insures a student from "financial loss and mental anguish caused when a student falls short along the highway of precedent or sinks in the mire of procedure or loses his way in the labyrinth of pleading."

W. H. Arant, Dean of the Law School, received a special letter, telling him of the insurance project; he finally made out that the company's terms were something like this:

Each student who accepts a "policy" will pay $3 for every month that he sits at the feet of the teachers in the school of law. If a flunk compels him to withdraw at the end of the semester he will receive a scholastic death benefit of $250. If he fails to pass the bar examination, after receiving his LL.B., he will receive $200 as balm for his wounds.

THE CHEAT

The student comes to the Hill for an education. He is sincere; he is anxious to make the best of his opportunities. He is often idealistic, fired with ambition. He enters Hill life. Work piles up; he looks about for relief.

Notebooks, themes, quiz books, saved meticulously for years, are obtainable for the use of the harassed student, and are offered by his sophisticated friends. The tempter is at hand.

He falls. It is so easy to use someone else's notes to "get by." He probably does not realize for a number of years just the harm he has done to himself in taking the easiest way out of his difficulty.

COACH HERB MCCRACKEN HAS LED THE BLUE AND GOLD TO CONSISTENT TRIUMPHS

SPORTLETS

Notre Dame walked right through Carnegie Tech and scored a 26-0 victory over the plucky Plaid. Pittsburgh sport writers pronounced the South Bend combination one of the most perfect football machines ever produced.

The sons of Harvard fought their hardest against their formidable rivals from New Haven, and forced the latter to extend themselves to the limit to eke out a 13-0 win. Harvard fumbles were twice turned into touchdowns by the Bulldogs.

Syracuse sprung a surprise in handling Nebraska, the conquerors of Notre Dame, a 7-0 setback. Pete McCrae, all-American possibility, won the game when he caught a forward pass in the last few minutes of play.

Westminster did nobly when it held the strong Geneva eleven to 19-0 score. Wilde and Hamilton starred.

Grove City defeated West Virginia by a similar count. The versatile attack of the Crimson backfield was too much for the Methodists.

Thiel, who did not play Saturday, tackled Grove City on Thanksgiving Day at Greenville in the season's finale.

In the United States there are 618 universities, colleges, and professional schools. Fifty of them are in New York State, 48 in Pennsylvania, and 40 in Ohio. Texas, the largest State, has 20.

BUCKNELL GAME

nell to kick. (These passes had been worked successfully for a touchdown against Lehigh). The Blue and Gold made a first down, but were soon forced to punt. A moment later they kicked to Allegheny and the march down the field began. With Art Dahl carrying the ball about three-fourths of the time, and Smith and Hanlon turning in several pretty gains, the ball finally rested on the two yard line. Dahl crashed through right tackle for the score and a moment later booted a clean placement for the extra point. After several short gains by Bucknell, Allegheny recovered a fumble on Bucknell's 20, and advanced to the 5. Here three tries produced a little gain, and Dahl kicked a pretty placement from the 15.

In the second quarter Bucknell seemingly woke up, and the Allegheny backs were unable to gain. A freak punt which was recovered by the Easterners gave them their only opportunity to score, and Henning received a pass and went 10 yards for Bucknell's only touchdown. Foster kicked goal.

In the third quarter the two elevens were about evenly matched, with the ball frequently changing hands in midfield. However, in the final period Allegheny cut loose with another vicious drive which carried the oval to the one-yard line; three line plunges did not put it over, and Logan's valiant drive on the fourth down missed by inches.

Dahl was the outstanding figure of the battle, scoring all of Allegheny's points and ripping the heavy Bucknell line to shreds with his vicious drives. But there were no individual performers—every man who played was in there giving every ounce of skill that he possessed, and this raging, tearing, fighting spirit is the secret of the great victory over one of the best Class A elevens in the East. The defensive work of Fuller, Parnell, and Myford was especially brilliant, while Judd's punting was the best that he has done this year. Parnell electrified the throng upon three separate occasions when he threw passes of sixty yards each over the goal-line.

Capt. Morley, Shultz, and Wright, playing their last game for Allegheny, were towers of strength on both the offense and defense.

Coach McCracken's crack Class B championship team, in winning this game from Bucknell, has won more than a mere football game. They have paved the way to greater athletic relationships than ever before. Their season has been phenomenally successful, losing but one of the eight games played, and to the team and to the directors of its policies and play must go the credit for such a showing.

ALFRED IS NOT AN ADVENTIST UNIVERSITY

"Flat Lux," the weekly publication of Alfred University, has called to the attention of the Campus that the University is not Adventist. The following excerpt of the letter is self-explanatory:

"I have several times noticed in the exchanges which we have received from Allegheny College that students here are referred to as Adventists and that the impression seems to prevail that Alfred University is an Adventist school.

As a matter of fact, that is an entirely erroneous idea. The college was founded by Seventh Day Baptists and has been maintained as such since its birth with practically no students of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination in attendance. Although it is now considered strictly non-sectarian, it is true that a large proportion of the student body are Seventh Day Baptists who have asked me to endeavor to correct this false impression."

The error has been made by the Campus, as well as by other college weeklies, in the sports section. The Campus is printing the above excerpt in its effort to correct the impression.
