Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
The National Arts Club,
New York City.

Dear Miss Tarbell:-

No doubt word has already come to you of the disposition of the Magazine.

While the purchasers relieved us of any obligation to produce a January number, I felt a sense of moral obligation as well as of personal satisfaction in producing the January number in order to round out "The Life of Judge Gary".

One net result of our undertaking is that Mr. McClure at least has been put in moderately comfortable circumstances and in consequence his remaining days should be filled with some of the compensations to which the usefulness of his long life entitle him.

Very sincerely yours,

Lem
