Dearest Grace Blackfield: -

I cannot tell you how proud and pleased I am that you should want me to have a copy of your book on my Blackfield's note! I am pleased by Gertrude's name on Will Brewster's - a group of four of the recent people

I have ever known.

I never knew well but one of his great decorations - that in the dome of the Congressional Library. I began working in the big reading room under that dome soon after the Library was open and when I was first I would lie back in my chair and rest myself by studying these splendid figures. I saw then what there

You have made a distinguished and hearty but cold, Dear Sir -

4
I shall always treasure and enjoy it.

Always Affectionately yours
