Dear Miss Tarbell:—

On Page 16 of your book "In the Footsteps of Lincoln" you mention that at the time of the death of Samuel Lincoln who came from England his son Samuel and grandson Samuel were present. I am taking the liberty to ask you if you know anything about this grandson Samuel.

My great, great, great, great, great, grandfather was named Samuel Lincoln. Our family records show that he was one of the original settlers of Windham. I also know that he married Elizabeth Jacobs of Norwich, Conn. June 2, 1692. I am wondering if this grandparent of mine is the grandson Samuel of the Samuel Lincoln who came from England.

My grandparent Samuel had a son named Samuel who was born Nov. 29, 1693 and later married Ruth Huntington august 23, 1723. If the grandson Samuel of the Samuel who came from England is my grandparent who married Elizabeth Jacobs then there are four Samuels in four generations in my direct lineage any information you can give me to prove or disprove the above will be greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,

Bert H. Lincoln
