College Life: You're Not Alone

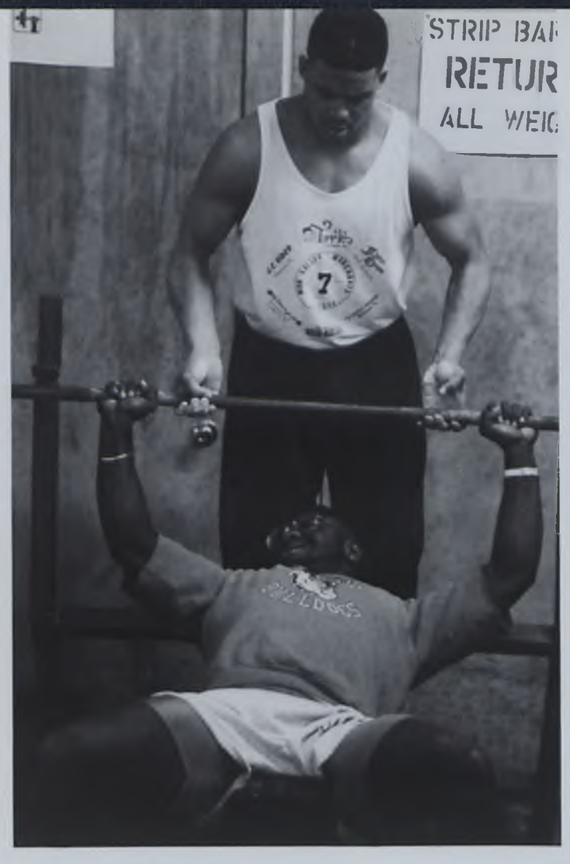

People who go away to college are incredible.
We live away from home,
We go to classes, we read and absorb and are comprehensively tested on heavy amounts of various materials.
We sleep very little,
We drink ourselves into oblivion,
We kill ourselves with several types of smoke,
We cough and keep on smoking.
Someone is always sick,
Someone is always complaining.
We become attached to close friends,
We smother each other ....

We learn too much,
We think too much,
We think often of the past and want to go back there.
We know we cannot go back.
We all have our own separate lives, families, backgrounds and pasts.
We live totally different from how we used to live.
We are frustrated and although sometimes we want to give up, we never stop trying.
We disregard health,
We eat awful food,
We are forced to think about our futures ....

We are scared and confused,
We reach out for things, but we do not find them.
We try to sort out our minds, which are filled with studies, worries, problems, memories, emotions, powerful feelings.
We wander the halls looking for happiness,
We wonder where we fit in,
We fall and GET BACK UP.
We keep on going, because above all else, we never stop learning, growing, changing, and most importantly DREAMING.
Dreams keep us going,
And they always will.
All we can do is thank god that we have something to hold on to.

Homecoming

Homecoming 1992 came and went but the memories will last a lifetime. Old friends from classes past were reunited and, undoubtedly, good times were had by everyone. The Crofut Ensemble kicked off the big weekend with a performance in Shafer Auditorium Friday night, while many fraternities and sororities rushed to put the last (or first) touches on their Homecoming floats.

Saturday morning arrived and festivities began with the Homecoming Parade down North Main and Brooks Drive. Competition for the best float was stiff but FIJIs and Alpha Gams swept first place!

As the temperature dropped, hundreds of dedicated fans cheered our Gators on to a 41-14 win over the Kenyon Lords — another game won in true Allegheny fashion. Later, during halftime festivities, Steve Burke and China McHold were officially honored as this year's Senior Class Homecoming King and Queen.

Postgame activities were continued at Delta Tau Delta with their First Annual Pig Roast, and later at the Sports Garden, Meadville's newest dance club craze. A great weekend, not soon forgotten!

Late in August, Hurricane Andrew brutalized the southern tip of Florida and the coast of Louisiana with winds of up to 164 mph, leaving more than 30 dead and thousands homeless. The most destructive hurricane in U.S. history caused an excess of $27 billion in damage in the two states. In Florida, citizens and government officials called for an investigation into shoddy construction practices and building code violations which they claimed contributed to the enormous devastation.

As the number of refugees in war-torn Bosnia increased, the U.N. struggled to end the decimation of Sarajevo and the starvation of its residents. A war crimes commission was created to investigate atrocities.

Despite having to run a news-media obstacle course, U.S. military personnel secured Mogadishu, Somalia with relative ease and Operation Restore Hope began. Lacking the military muscle to end the turf battles between warlords, the U.N. authorized American intervention to restore order to a country whose collapse into anarchy had all but halted efforts to stop the starvation of its people.

It was not a typical presidential election—people voted. Motivated by concerns about a weak economy, unemployment and rising health care costs, Americans stood in lines for hours to say no to President George Bush's bid for a second term, and halted a 30-year decline in the voting rate. Bill Clinton, the governor of Arkansas, and Al Gore, a U.S. senator from Tennessee, were sent to the White House on an electoral-vote landslide. Candidates worked hard to stimulate the interest of the electorate, appearing on morning-news television programs and late-night talk shows, introducing the infocommercial, and campaigning on cross-country bus tours. But, nothing injected more excitement into presidential politics than the billionaire from Texas, third-party candidate Ross Perot—not even Murphy Brown.

Never mind that the sequel was virtually the same story told in a new city, Home Alone 2 captured the hearts and the dollars of the holiday-season moviegoers anyway, earning more than $31 million opening weekend. Macaulay Culkin delighted viewers as he was once again left alone, this time in New York City, to fend off the loveable bad guys from the first movie, Joe Pesci and Daniel Stern.

After months of build-up and controversy, Spike Lee treated the country to one of the finest movies of the season, Malcolm X. The film, starring Denzel Washington, struggled throughout its production because of inadequate financial backing and criticism from black nationalists. In the end, the 3-hr. 21-min. epic was viewed by the critics and the public as a success.

It was difficult to believe, but Earth's number-one super hero, Superman, died. He met his match during a battle with Doomsday in DC Comics' January issue of Superman.

Athletes from 172 nations traveled to Barcelona to compete in the XXV Summer Olympiad. The former Soviet republics were represented by The Unified Team and went home with the most medals, 112. The competition was the last time that members from the former Soviet Union would compete as a team. The U.S. won 108 medals, including a gold medal captured by The Dream Team, rightly named because it consisted of some of the best players from the ranks of the NBA.

After the Summer Games, Larry Bird, who had spent much of the 1991-92 season sidelined because of injuries, decided that his body could take no more and retired from the NBA. Magic Johnson announced that he would end his retirement and rejoin the LA Lakers. On Nov. 2, however, pressures resulting from being HIV-positive forced him to once again take himself out of the game.

It was not a good year for the British royal family. Princess Anne divorced and remarried. Prince Andrew and the Duchess of York, Sarah Ferguson, separated after the Windsor family tired of her public frolics. Prince Charles and Princess Diana ended the fairy tale when it was announced that they had also separated. To top it all off, a spectacular fire in Windsor Castle destroyed the 14th Century St. George's Hall.

Dave Winfield's two-run hit in the top of the eleventh inning clinched the Toronto Blue Jays' 4-3 victory over the Atlanta Braves in the sixth and final game of the 1992 World Series. Toronto's win was the first time that a team outside of the U.S. captured the title.

Our Life At Allegheny

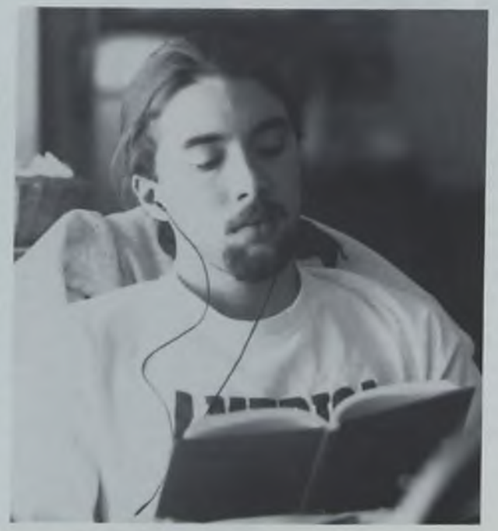

If you're so far lost in some happy little dream world that you can't function in the real one, then your dreaming really does little good for you or others. But I'd like to suggest that a lot of the optimists out there, maybe even the majority of them, might be more appropriately considered "realistic optimists," and that each, in some way however small, does something very important and very positive for this world ... Take the situation in Bosnia: At this point it seems highly unlikely that the violence there will be ended without further destruction. But there are people in the world saying, "This is not the way things should be." People who say, "We know we are not yet living in one, but we can envision, we can hope for, a world where conflicts can be resolved without killing." People who believe that someday we will come to respect and appreciate the incredible diversity of life on earth, not to just use and destroy it ... But ... I think ... what more realistic optimists recognize, is that it is very unlikely that that sort of world is going to come about unless we work awfully hard to make it that way. That's why we have people who volunteer in homeless shelters, others who join the Peace Corps. That's why some of them teach environmental science. As contradictory as it may sound, that's what can make idealism realistic, and that is what can make it powerful. That's how realistic optimists benefit human society as a whole, by providing us not with vague, rose-colored dreams, but with far-reaching yet still tangible visions. That's why, when last fall Professor Frank said, "Don't be cynical about those cynics," I thought to myself, "Hey, don't knock the optimists either."

Congratulations to the Class of 1993! Best wishes to all in our new lives!
I'd like to thank the following people for all their help with this yearbook:
- Glenn Holland for the leo drawings
- Shawn MacLaren and the Public Affairs Office for photos, encouragement and advice
- Anne Stetler for the wonderful photography
- Dick Stewart and Alumni Affairs for their support
- Jim Rainey and DaVor Photography
- Ken Brayer and Walsworth Publishing
For those of you who don't already know, our class is the last who will receive a Kaldron. Remember this when you look through your yearbook and as you remember Allegheny College.
